LAMPASAS MAKES A CLEAN SWEEP

Brady Simply Outclassed; Lee Pitches Steller Ball for Losers, but Costly Bobbles Cause Defeat

By winning Thursday and Friday, Lampasas made a clean sweep of the fair series of four games. The boys from Brady were outclassed in every department, and failed to show the speed and pep that won for their opponents.

Lee pitched league ball for the losers, and should have copped both his games. Errors and bone-head plays by his teammates at critical times threw the contests away. Jack Ashton, former Texas Leaguer, won two games for Lampasas by twirling heady baseball and keeping hits scattered.

LAMPASAS 4; BRADY 3
In the third game Falk and Lee, who staged a pitcher's battle on Tuesday, were sent to the firing line again. Falk did not fare so well on this occasion, and when in the fifth inning he became unable to locate the pan he was jerked in favor of Connelly.

Lampasas started the scoring in the third, taking three this round. Brady came back in the next session and tallied two times, on hits by B. Tipton and Ransom. No further scoring was done until the last of the eighth, when Pier annexed another on a passed ball by Montague. Brady fought hard in their last stand, but fell one short of tying up the game.

Lee with his spitball working good, held Lampasas to five hits, two of which were scratch, struck out eleven, and allowed only one earned run. The seven errors made by his support tells the tale. Falk, the left hander, started for Lampasas, but after filling the bases in the fifth by issuing three straight passes he was sent to right field and Connelly put in his place. The latter came out the hole he was in by striking out the first two men who faced him, thus killing Brady's hopes as one man was already down.

A feature of the game was a barehanded catch by L. Tipton, playing left field for Brady. On a hard line drive which was difficult to judge on account of the curve he started to run up, then, seeing it was going over him, turned and running back grabbed it with his bare hand.

LAMPASAS 6; BRADY 2.

Brady entered the last contest with determination to win, but woe to her hopes! Ransom pitched good baseball, but, taking into consideration his teammates errors, it was not quite good enough. Ashton, hurling for Lampasas, did not seem to have much on the ball, but flies and pop ups were all that could be knocked off his delivery.

Lampasas started scoring right off the bat, getting one run in on the first inning. Brady went them one better in the next two, and up to the fourth inning prospects looked bright. In that session Lampasas tallied twice, and, as Brady took an ascension, her hopes came crashing downward.

Yeager, playing third, seemed intent on seeing how many errors he could make. He failed to pick up both rollers knocked him, dropped a throw which came right into his hands, and in the sixth he thought three men were out, while there were only two, and rushed toward the bench while another score counted. With a man on second, a Lampasas batter grounded out to short. On the throw to first the runner on second started to third, and Roberts whipped the ball across the diamond in plenty of time to catch him. Yeager, thinking that three men were down, threw his glove to the ground and was in a trot for the bench. The ball rolled past third and the runner scored.

Pier, with a brace of two baggers, broke up the pastime at critical periods. He scored Harris in the first inning with a double, and brought in a couple more runs in the eighth. Connelly redeemed himself for his lack of hitting the first three days by getting two singles, a base on balls, a sacrifice fly, scoring one run, and stealing a base.

Improvements at School Building

S. Z. Park has had a force at work for the past ten days, and the improvements on the school building are rapidly nearing completion. Everything will be in readiness for the opening on September 11 of a most successful term.

The sidewalk, which reached from the gate to the main entrance has been extended around the building. Three of the basement rooms are being put in finished condition, and these will be used to hold some of the grades. The number of pupils last year was so great, and as no arrangements had been made to take care of them, a very crowded condition resulted. To prevent a recurrence of this, the basement will now be able to care for the overflow in the rooms. The sewerage system, which has never been completed, will be connected up.

An order for a number of new desks has been placed, and these will be put in the second, third, fourth and fifth grades. These rooms have been using the ancient double desks taken from the old building.

With a $50,000 school building, steam heated and equipped with all other modern conveniences, together with these new improvements, and a strong corps of teachers, San Saba can justly boast of the best public school in a town of this size in the state.

Farmers Gin Sold To R. S. Crain

Through lack of time on account of pressure of extra Fair business the Star failed to mention last week the sale of the Farmers Gin by R. W. Bursleson, administrator of the R. G. Corryell estate, to R. S. Crain.

Mr. Crain has only recently sold his interest in the Crain Mercantile Co., and his friends will be glad to note in the acquisition of this property evidence of his purpose to continue a citizen of San Saba. Mr. Crain is also owner of gins at Harkeyville and Algerita, and his experience in the business insures the successful operation of the San Saba plant. The gin will be overhauled throughout, new equipment installed, and everything put in first class condition by the opening of the cotton season.

J. F. Buttery and daughter, Miss Mary Nash, Miss Pauline Haynie, and W. B. Collins, all of Llano, were in San Saba for a short time Monday afternoon. Mr. Collins was formerly editor of the Llano News, and is at present head of the Department of Mechanics in the State University School of Journalism.

B. Boudinot Suicides at Brady

The lifeless body of M. B. Boudinot was discovered suspended from a rafter in the barn in the rear of the residence of Mrs. H. B. Yeager on South Blackburn street about 10 o'clock this morning. G. W. Henderson, who has the barn rented, discovered the body when he went to see after his stock. Sheriff Wall was immediately notified and hurried to the scene. Upon his arrival life was found to be extinct, although the body was still warm. The body was immediately taken down by Sheriff Wall and turned over to an undertaker for burial.

From evidence at hand it seems that the act of self destruction was carefully planned. A sack containing a large rope had been carried to the barn, but was discarded for a smaller one belonging to Mr. Henderson. Stepping onto a bale of hay, one end of the rope had evidently been thrown over the rafter and the other tied about the neck, and then stepping off the bale of hay death soon resulted from strangulation. The throat was badly lacerated by the small rope cutting into the flesh, but beyond this no bruises or abrasions were found upon the body.

Mr. Boudinot, although in ill health for many years, was a man of unusually cheerful disposition and never seemed to brood over his condition. Always in a happy mood—so far as the world knew—he was truly an evangel of good cheer, with a smile and cheery greeting for all, never giving the slightest hint to even his closest friend of the suffering he must have endured the past several years. Brady Stand ard.

John Canipe has resigned his position with Watson & White at Rockdale and returned last week to again make his home in San Saba, having accepted a position in the dry goods establishment of A. R. Mosley. John says Rockdale is a good town, and he regretted to leave the firm with which he had been so agreeably associated for many years past, but the lure of the San Saba country proved irresistible and he had to return. His many friends gladly welcome him back.

Change in Pastorate
Rev. R. W. Reese, who has had charge of the mission in which the Shaw Bend Lutheran Church located since last October, is arranging to leave in the near future for St. Louis, Mo., where he will resume his studies in the Concordia Seminary.

He will be succeeded by Rev. L. Karcher, of Vernon, Texas, who will conduct regular monthly services at the Shaw Bend Church, beginning next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.
Mr. Reese made many friends in San Saba and neighboring counties during his stay here, and their best wishes accompany him in his future work.

De Wayne Beasley, of San Marcos, is visiting his friends, L. C. Cooper and W. L. Ellison.

Riley-McCoy

David Riley and Miss Belle McCoy were married Monday morning in Lampasas at the home of the bride's brother. They returned to San Saba on Tuesday's train. Their marriage came as a complete surprise to friends and acquaintances as no one had been previously informed of their intention.

Mr. Riley is one of San Saba's young business men. He is a member of the firm of Riley Brothers, Grocers. He came here from Bertram about a year ago, and in this time has made many friends and is well and favorably known to everyone.

The bride's home is at Richland Springs, but is familiarly known to San Saba people. She is a charming young lady, and makes friends wherever she goes.

The Star extends congratulations.

Big Dance Given on First Night of Fair

One of the greatest events of San Saba's social history was the dance held at the club rooms on Tuesday night, of the opening day of the fair. This annual ball always proves to be the most enjoyable of the year, and last week's was far ahead of all in the past. The largest number of dancers which have ever been on the floor attended.

Guests from Llano, Brady, Goldthwaite, Lampasas, Brownwood, and other surrounding towns came in force. All showered congratulations upon the San Saba Club members, who had charge of the arrangements, for the manner in which the dance was conducted. Without a doubt this was one of the most delightful social affairs ever held in this section.

The very best of music was furnished by a special orchestra composed of the following: Fred Townsend, San Saba, drums; Brook Smith, Brownwood, cornet; Prof. Gherkie, Brownwood, violin; and P. H. Phifer, Goldthwaite, piano.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Murray and little son, Tom Jr., have left for Colorado Springs, Col.

Norman B. Taylor was here last week advertising and boosting the San Angelo Fair, Carnival and Race Meet, which will be held October 31 to November 4. This fair has the reputation of being one of the best in West Texas, and judging from what is forecasted in the catalog the events and entertainment outlined for this year promises to eclipse any ever heretofore held. A special feature of the racing program will be the automobile and motorcycle races, for which $1000 has been turned over to the committee in charge to distribute as purses. A section of general interest which Mr. Taylor strongly emphasized is the baby beef, and the hog department of the stock exhibit. The premiums in this department are open only to boys and girls under 18 years of age. C. A. Broome is president of the Association and Mr. Taylor secretary.

FIRST BALE BROUGHT IN

Z. T. Sullivan Brings to Town Monday Sold for 15 1-4 cents; Business Men Raise Premium of $21.75

About nine o'clock Monday night, Z. T. Sullivan came into San Saba with the first bale of cotton raised in the county this year. It was ginned the next morning at the Farmers' Union Gin. The bale weighed 536 pounds, and was purchased by W. R. Harris at 15 1-4 cents. This is a big advance over last year's prices, the first bale then bringing only 9 cents.

This bale also had the 1915 first bale beaten in weight and time. Last year's was brought in August 17 by Rube Senterfitt, and weighed only 450 pounds.

Mr. Sullivan grew the cotton on A. Behrens' place, about eight miles west of San Saba, in the Wallace Creek section. The business men raised a premium of $21.75. This, with purchase price of bale and free gin fees of $4.80, totals $112.79.

Fair Directors File Damage Suit

At their meeting Tuesday morning, the fair directors ordered Attorney N. C. Walker to file suit immediately against Stanford Steele and Charles Theodore for failure to make aero plane flights here during the fair as agreed in the terms of the contract. Steele, as manager of the aviation company, and Theodore, as aviator, signed an agreement with the association to make at least one flight each day on August 9, 10 and 11. The aeroplane was looked for in vain, and early Thursday morning Judge Seiders, secretary of the fair association, received a telegram from Theodore saying he was stranded at Amarillo, his partner having left with all the money. He asked for funds to pay his expenses, and if sent he would try to get to San Saba and make the three flights. Knowing it was then too late for him to get here and put his machine up in time to make even one flight, Judge Seiders replied he could do nothing for him.

The directors realize the great damage done to this past fair by not having this feature, which had been extensively advertised, and was a big drawing card. They did all in their power to have the flights, and the people fully understand they cannot be blamed in the least for the failure.

J. D. Wilkins, has resigned his position with the Chocolate Shop and left Monday for Waco. J. W. Turner who has been working there during the fair, accompanied him as far as Bartlett.

He may guess, and guess right—but guessing isn't safe; and in this day and time it doesn't go.

The modern Abstract Company, aside from the personal skill and qualifications of its employees, is further equipped with marvelous indexes which the public offices do not afford. To illustrate: A sells to B lot number 2. The deed is promptly indexed by the abstractor on his private books, under "A," under "B," and also under "Lot 2," the tract itself. Thus the "tract-index" becomes a drag-net, as it were, which no deed, mortgage, decree, tax sale or court order affecting the title can escape.

New Milliner In San Saba

Miss Della Willis will formally open a new millinery store in San Saba next Saturday. She is located upstairs above the Famous Bargain Store. Miss Willis came here from Brady, and is highly recommended as a first class milliner of wide experience. She returned the latter part of last week from market, bringing the very latest styles and shapes of ladies' head dress. Her sister, Miss Ella Willis, will be here to assist her.

There is a child born every four minutes in Texas, seven homes are built every working hour. 14 per cent of the population is in the cradle, 221,000 young women between the ages of 15 and 24 are unmarried, 466,562 men have never braved the matrimonial seas and there are 20,000 spinsters. The average size of a Texas family is four and nine-tenths.

The hum of the gins and the tang of autumn in the air remind us that the halcyon days are fast approaching. What a blessing that the Lord in His wisdom set poles of the earth slantwise, thus relieving the great majority of its inhabitants from the tedium and sameness of an unchangeable climate. Just when we be-

An Industrial Opportunity for San Saba County.

"Twenty years ago," says the Houston Post, "there were a number of leather tanning establishments in the cedar brakes of Texas where the bark from the tree was used to tan the leather. The product was of splendid grade and sold both in the state and in the shoe and harness factories of the North. The German chemists developed a process of using acids for tanning. The new process was much quicker and cheaper than the old so that, although the product was not so good, it speedily took the place of the other. The cedar bark tanneries went out of existence. But the shutting in of the products of the German chemists has cut off our supply of acids and the bark tannery is coming into existence again. Canada is shipping to the United States large quantities of hemlock bark to be used in this way. She is also importing hides from the United States, tanning them with hemlock bark and reshipping them to this country. It is high time that the small tannery were reappearing in the cedar belt of Texas. The investment required is small and the profit at present relative prices of hides and leather is large. Here is an old, yet new, industry which will yield dividends, and San Saba county, with its great resources in both cedar and hides, is in position to reap the benefits.

Up at Fort Worth there has recently been discovered a gravelly beach on the north shore of Lake Worth, and the Star-Telegram estimates that more than 1000 people went out last Sunday to avail themselves of this delightful bathing beach. The same paper enthusiastically adds: "Galveston hasn't a thing that has it beaten. If bath houses were erected at that place, either by the city or private parties, it would give Fort Worth as the Fair Park, with flower-bordered walks, grassy lawns, and boating and bathing houses convenient. Truly, Galveston or any other seaside resort has nothing to offer comparable to this, for there is more real enjoyment to be had in one hour spent on the shady banks of the San Saba river than a month under the blistering sun of those barren beaches. But the most amazing thing to a visitor from the sand-roughs is to find that the San Saba people have themselves taken no steps to derive the fullest enjoyment from these natural advantages—not a row boat, motor boat or bath house to be found on their incomparable river. Put the facilities here and San Saba would become the Mecca for summer tourists from a distance of hundreds of miles.

Liver Trouble

"I am bothered with liver trouble about twice a year," writes Joe Dingman, Webster City, Iowa. "I have pains in my side and back and an awful soreness in my stomach. I heard of Chamberlain's Tablets and tried them. By the time I had used half a bottle of them I was feeling fine and had no signs of pain." Obtainable every where.

The Star's Linotype Club

The Star's Linotype Club is gaining in interest and growing in numbers every week. Subscribers have been quick to realize the double profit to be gained by taking advantage of this proposition. Not only do they secure the paper at a considerable reduction at a time when the cost of production is greater than ever before in the history of the newspaper business, but through their generous response are making it possible for us to install this wonderful type setting machine and thereby greatly increase the news service and enhance the value of the paper to every reader. In this connection we wish to add that after September 1st the dates to which all subscriptions are paid will be printed on the label. It is our purpose to adopt the strictly cash-in-advance plan, and every subscription will be promptly discontinued at the expiration of the time to which it is paid. We realize that there has been some confusion in giving proper credit to many names listed in the Sloan contest, and that some subscriptions appear in arrears which should have credits of from one to ten dollars. If your label does not show the proper credit, come in to see us or drop us a card to that effect. Tell us just how you think you stand and we will take your word for it without question or argument. In adopting the new plan a start must be made somewhere. We do not want to do anyone an injustice, but, after allowing a reasonable time to notify us, we do not hear from you, we will take it for granted that you do not want the Star continued to your address and your name will be dropped from the list.

Up to the present time the largest individual contribution to the Linotype Club is that of Miles J. Byrne, who sends a check for $5.00, which wipes out an arrearage of five years and

With a check for $2.00, J. T. Hardy of Chadwick enters the Linotype Club. Mr. Hardy is another of the Star's good friends and well-wishers, and, although his subscription was paid until next year, like Mr. Startz, he wants to have active part in a good cause and help supply means to install the linotype. This now extends his subscription to March, 1920.

Remember, friends, $2.00 is worth more to us right now than $3.00 will be later on. This offer will be withdrawn September 1st, so do not blame us if you fail to take advantage of it within the next two weeks.

The Star has received notification this week of a still further advance of nearly one cent per pound in the price of print paper. This makes the blank paper alone cost nearly sixty cents on each yearly subscription, not to mention the cost of labor, ink and postage. It is quite evident that the weekly papers are going to be forced either to advance the subscription price or reduce losses to a minimum by cutting off all complimentary copies and adopting the strictly cash-in-advance, stop when-out plan.—San Saba Star.

Not only all weekly papers must do this, but all daily papers. If this continues the price will be continually advanced. The only recourse is that recommended by the paper mills, the American Newspaper Publishers Association and the Credit Bureau of Circulations, and that is, newspapers must quit giving papers away—every copy must be sold.—Temple Telegram.

Owing to the fair committee not yet completing the work of awarding premiums, the Star is forced to delay publication of same until next week.

San Saba people are so accustomed to shady hills, bosky dells, and rippling streams pouring forth perennial floods of crystal water that they forget that all the world is not similarly blessed, and do not take into account what a great source of revenue could be made of these natural resources if properly developed and exploited. Already this section is widely sought by fishermen and pleasure seekers from every portion of the state, but imagine their amazed and rapturous delight if such beauty spots as Barnet Springs, with its waterfalls, limpid pools, ferns and mosses, crags and canyons were open to their inspection; or with what avidity they would seize upon the opportunity to camp in such a natural paradise advances his subscription two and a half years. Mr. Byrne now lives in Dallas, but was formerly a citizen of this place. He has not been here for over four years, but, as he states in his letter, keeps in touch with friends of his old home town through the columns of the Star. The Star strives at all times to typify the spirit of this citizenship—to reflect the enterprise and goahead-ateness for which they are noted—and the following commendatory expression by Mr. Byrne is appreciated: "I think the Star is like the San Saba people—it's there!"

The most loyal subscriber who has responded is L. C. Startz, who owns a fine farm out on route two. Mr. Startz came in Monday and said he wanted to have an interest in the new equipment. On looking up his subscription it was found to be paid to April, 1917, but nevertheless he handed the bookkeeper $2.00 and had his figures advanced to 1920. It is such appreciative readers as this that spurs the management and entire force to give the very best that's in them.

D. F. Moore, a good friend of the Chappell community secures an honorable place in the Linotype Club by advancing his own subscription and also that of Mrs. Mary Morris. Both have been appreciative readers of the Star for a number of years, and we promise to give them much more for their money when the

Gin Statement

I have purchased the Farmers gin, formerly owned by R. G. Coryell, San Saba, Texas, and will thoroughly equip it for fall business. I consider this the best equipped gin in San Saba, and will promise the public, service, in keeping with this statement. I expect to have a competent gin man in charge and in addition, will give the gin my personal supervision. I want all the business I can get by fair dealings and first class work, and will endeavor at all times to deserve the full confidence of the patrons of my gin. I will deem it a pleasure and duty to talk to my customers as freely as I would to a partner in business, and believe we can mutually assist each other.

I believe that a gin which serves best your interest will advance me most, and these plans will be in full force at all my gins—Harkeyville, Algerita and San Saba.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me: I can now walk two miles without its bringing me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist will sell Cardui for years. He knows when it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

Saturday night was such a beautiful moonlight night that several of Cherokee's young people took advantage of the moon light and hiked themselves away to the creek, where they spent many merry hours. The following young people went: Misses Kate Gay, Harrel Kincaid, Florence Lehmeberg, Sue Bettie Gray, Wilma Hillman, Pinkney Green and Messrs Roy Hillman, Olsey Winkler, Willie Moerner, Arthur Lander, Ralph Thompson, William Kuykendall and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Pickens, chaperons.

Mr. E. P. Bickley and family are moving into the Cherokee Hotel. We have not learned whether he bought the hotel or leased it.

Hetty Green's Firmness.

Hetty Green nearly brought Collis P. Huntington to ruin once. She had $1,600,000 deposited in one of his banks and found that he was using the bank's money in investments that she regarded as ticklish. Besides, there had been deals in which she thought she had cause to make Huntington sit up and take particular notice of her. She appeared before an officer of the bank, a Mr. Stewart, and said: "I'd like my money right away—not in checks; in cash, please."

"Is there no other way, Mrs. Green?" he asked, beginning to perspire.

"None," said she. "Cash, please." She got it—after a scurrying of many bank messengers—in all kinds of money and in such bulk that four messengers had to carry it for her, while the rumor got out that Huntington was going to smash. As a matter of fact he did have a narrow escape.—New York World.

No Husband is Perfect.

Don't expect all the virtues in one man. If he is good natured he may be lazy; if he is scholarly he may be cold; if he is thrifty he may be stingy; if he is generous he may be wasteful; if he is smooth he may be deceitful. The man who charms you with his immaculate appearance is likely to be something of an old maid; the man who is careful to pick threads off your skirt is prone to pick flaws in you; the man who takes an undue interest in the selection of your hats may take an undue interest in the bill which comes home; the man who before marriage jumps to open the door, lest your fingers be contaminated by the knob, may after marriage allow those same fingers to be contaminated by the washboard.—Woman's Home Companion.

A Valuable Tooth.

There is an amusing story of the economy necessary in the early days of the Norwegian theater at Bergen. It was in 1849, when Ibsen and Bjornson were creating the national drama. A lady had been engaged for the part of "second old woman" when it was discovered that her elocutionary powers were impaired by the fact that she had lost one of her front teeth. Impoverished as she was, the management came to the rescue and bore the expense of the necessary dentistry. When she retired, however, after two seasons, she had to leave the tooth behind her, the example of the dentist's art being the property of the theater. The management was too poor to part with it.

She Was One of Them.

Once a high school principal was having a dispute with one of his teachers, a vivacious young lady. She claimed that the word "man" meant mankind as a whole, while "men" always signified the masculine gender.

The principal maintained that there were exceptions and triumphantly quoted, "Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels."

But the young lady answered demurely, "That won't do, for, you see, both genders are mentioned there."—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Art of Carpentry.

How many common figurative expressions in our language are borrowed from the art of carpentry may be seen from the following sentence: "The lawyer who filed the bill, shaved the note, cut an acquaintance, split a hair, made an entry, got up a case, framed an indictment, impaneled a jury, put them into a box, nailed a witness, hammered a judge and bored a whole court, all in one day, has since laid down law and turned carpenter."

Wasted Labor.

Little Edna, who was watching the men working a pile driver in the lot opposite, said to her mother: "I'm so sorry for those poor men, mamma. They've been trying and trying to lift out that big weight, and every time they get it almost to the top it falls right back again."—Boston Transcript.

Plimsoll's Mark.

Any sailor will tell you that the plimsoll is a conspicuous mark on the hull of a vessel, usually an oval or ellipse of white paint with an arrow drawn through it to indicate the extreme water line when the ship has been loaded. As long as the plimsoll mark shows above the water the burden of freight in the ship's hold is not too great for her carrying capacity. The curious word is the badge of immortality of a philanthropist, Samuel Plimsoll, who was born in Bristol, England, in 1824. When he went into the coal business he learned of the horrible conditions under which the men of the British merchant marine had to work. Owners figured that it was cheaper to lose an occasional ship with all on board than to restrict the load and make the voyage reasonably safe. In order to thwart this rapacity Plimsoll entered parliament in 1868. His persistent work resulted in the passage of the "merchant shipping act" in 1876 to prevent ships from going to sea in an unsafe condition.

Alligators' Eggs.

Alligators often lay from thirty to sixty eggs in a single nest. The eggs are similar in shape to those of a duck and about three inches in length. When they first appear the young alligators are about the same size as lizards and almost as lively.

Ambiguous.

When Bilkins was away from home on a long business trip he got a letter from his wife that still puzzled him. It ended thus:

"Baby is well and lots brighter than she used to be. Hoping that you are the same, I remain, your loving wife."

He Succeeded.

"Is that Eddie Jones, the artist, with an automobile? I never thought he would succeed."

"He succeeded to a million dollars from his grandmother."—Puck.

Decision of Second Primary Election Makes but few Changes in Results of First.

In the second Democratic primary election, held in this county on Saturday, August 12, 1560 votes were cast. This lacks nearly 400 of equalling the number voted in the first primary on July 22nd. Elections were held at every box, excepting Cold Creek and Latham. At least, no returns have yet been received from those two.

The election passed off very quietly, and results were known early in the evening. With the exception of Walker, whom Williams defeated for the nomination for Commissioner, Precinct No. 1, all candidates who received a plurality in the first primary gained a majority.

Skelton, with a lead of 569 votes over Urquhart in the race for tax collector, has the largest majority. The closest race was in Precinct No. 4 where Smith received the nomination for public weigher over Ransom by only 5 votes.

Official returns from each box are as follows:

BEND ECHOES

BY GLEANER.

Misses Elsie and Lois Long passed through here Friday from their home on Rough Creek en route to Austin, where they will visit relatives.

Roy Cate returned last week from Bluffton, where he had been instructing a class in singing. He is now teaching in Lometa.

George Scott has gone to Hill county to spend a few days with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lively and their son and three daughters have returned from a visit to relatives at Eldorado. They made the trip in their Ford

Uncle Burley Baxter is going to build a new residence on his farm just west of town which will be occupied by his grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Granville Baxter.

Quite a crowd of Bend folks spent a few days at Post Oak on the Colorado last week. They reported plenty of fish, squirrels and fun. The crowd consisted of E. E. Alexander and wife, Sol Prichard and wife, chaperones, and Misses Kattie Lee White, Annie Laurie Hughes Verda White, Florence Alexander, and Claud Gibson; Messrs. H. W. Alexander, Walter Skipper, W. O. Alexander. Rex Parsons, Herschel Byrd, Ben Gibson, Glenn Hughes, Cody Cates, John Alexander and W. J. Morris.

Prof. Luther Stagner of Comanche began a vocal school at the Christian church last Monday. This is Bro. Stagner's third school at this place and much success is anticipated. It will continue throughout the remainder of August.

Stomach Troubles and Constipation.

"I will cheerfully say that Chamberlain's Tablets are the most satisfactory remedy for stomach troubles and constipation that I have sold in thirty-four years drug service," writes S. H. Murphy, druggist, Wellsburg, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.

Clayton Walters is home from Twin Falls, Idaho, for a short visit with homefolks. He reports that the San Saba boys now living there are getting along fine.

Prof. R. T. Pritchett has shipped all his household goods to Lockhart, where he will have charge of the school next term. He left Thursday morning in his car. Prof. Pritchett has been superintendent of the school here for the past four years, and during this time has brought it into rank of a first class high school and has gained affiliation with the State University. He is an experienced instructor and will undoubtedly make good in his new location.

One View of the Study of Latin.
If one does not study things because they "train the mind," why, then, should one study them? The answer is extraordinarily simple. One studies things because they serve a purpose. I do not say, mark you, a useful purpose, but a purpose—a valid purpose, a genuine purpose, not a make believe purpose.

Mental discipline is not a valid or genuine purpose—it's a make believe. Meanwhile the number of purposes, of genuine, valid purposes, is simply infinite. Learning to read Vergil is, of course, just as valid a purpose as learning to play a symphony or learning to bake a pumpkin pie. The test is, however, not, Did the student get mental discipline? but Can he read and enjoy Vergil? Can he play the symphony? Will some one eat the pie?
And because people rarely care to read Vergil, because almost none of the thousands who study Latin ever can or do read Vergil, therefore, in so far as they are concerned, studying Latin has no purpose and cannot be defended as mental discipline.—Abraham Flexner in Atlantic Monthly.

How Leaves Purify Air.

It has been calculated that a single tree is able through its leaves to purify the air from the carbonic acid arising from the respiration of a considerable number of men, perhaps a dozen or even more. The volume of carbonic acid exhaled by a human being in the course of twenty-four hours is put at about 100 gallons, but by Boussingault's estimate a single yard of leaf surface, counting both the upper and the under side of the leaves, can, in favorable circumstances, decompose at least a gallon of carbonic acid a day. One hundred square yards of leaf surface then would suffice to keep the air pure for one man, but the leaves of a tree of moderate size present a surface of many hundred square yards. All other forms of vegetable life act similarly in abstracting the noxious carbonic acid from the atmosphere.

The Art of Optimism.

Live in the active voice, intent on what you can do rather than on what happens to you; in the indicative mood, concerned with facts as they are rather than as they might be; in the present tense, concentrated on the duty in hand without regard for the past or worry about the future; in the first person, criticising yourself rather than condemning others; in the singular number, seeking the approval of your own conscience rather than popularity with the many. Whoever lives the life of such unselfish devotion to the good of others and of all and lives it in the active voice, indicative mood, present tense, first person, singular number, is bound to find his life full and rich and glad and free—is bound, in other words, to be an optimist.—William De Witt Hyde.

Feat of a Baseball Pitcher.

Just one pitcher in the history of baseball—that is, a hurler who was working in a league of recognized standing and class—is credited with pitching two complete games in succession wherein the opposing batsmen failed to register a base hit. A big pitcher sailing under the name of Gene Wright, who hurled for the Dayton club of the Western association back in 1901, on Sept. 1 of that season pitched a no hit, no run game against Columbus. He followed up this feat by turning the same trick against the Grand Rapids team on Sept. 4.—New York Sun.

Tibet.

Tibet is all mountains and valleys. There is scarcely a plain worthy of the name. The mountain passes are at a high altitude and crossed only with great difficulty. The valleys are well populated, but the cities are small and the houses crude buildings of mud walls. The streets are narrow and dirty. Northern Tibet is peopled largely by nomad tribes, while in the south there is a more settled population.

Bright Child.

"How long has your daughter been studying art?"
"Five years, and she has made great progress. She can talk about motifs and atmosphere and such things in such a way as to make you think she knows perfectly what she means."—Chicago Tribune.

The Kitchen Closet.

Glass is an ideal shelving for a kitchen closet, as it can be kept clean so easily. If this is too costly paint the shelves white and give a coat of enamel. This is easily scrubbed and does away with the necessity of germ catching papers.

Wycliffe's Bible.

John Wycliffe completed the translation of the whole Bible for the first time into the language of the English people. He was born near Richmond, in Yorkshire, England, about 1324.

His Advantage.

"How many miles can you go on a gallon?"
"How many can you?"
"I asked you first."—Life.

Making It Easy.

Join The Star's Linotype Club

Special Inducements to Subscribers who Pay up Before September 1st.

The Model 5 Linotype

Herewith appears a cut of the Model 5 Linotype which the Star expects to install within the next few weeks.

A contract has been closed, conditioned upon the payment of a considerable sum of money by a certain date, and we are counting on a prompt and liberal response on the part of our subscribers to assist us in raising this amount.

As a special inducement to subscribers who pay between now and September 1st, we are going to make the following proposition: Pay us $1.00 and we will give you credit for one year and a half. This applies, whether you are in arrears or paid in advance. To illustrate: If your subscription is one year in arrears $1.00 will pay you up to date and six months in advance. If you are already paid ahead, for every dollar paid now your subscription will be advanced one year and a half from its present date.

While the Star is already recognized as one of the best weekly papers in this section of the state it is our purpose to add other features and improvements until it is excelled by none in the state. It is impossible to attain this ideal while confined to the obsolete method of "hand-pegging" the type that go to make up its news columns. The linotype way is the modern way, and San Saba is a linotype town—that is, the push and enterprise of its business men and the progressiveness of its farmers and stockmen deserve to be represented by the very best in the printing line. Every week we are forced to curtail or omit columns of interesting reading matter simply because we have not time to handle it. The capacity of a linotype is equivalent to the output of five or more fast compositors, and with this machine we will be enabled to issue a twice-a-week paper and print every item of news that may occur in San Saba county, as well as the more important events of the State and Nation.

This wonderful time saving machine is going to be installed in the Star office in the near future—just how soon depends upon the heartiness with which our friends and subscribers respond. If you are interested in the advancement of San Saba and want to help make the Star a better and newsier paper, send in your dollar now while this special offer is open. The quicker we collect the money for the initial payment the sooner the linotype will be installed.

The Star's Linotype Club is now open for membership. Who will be the first to enroll?

The rapidly advancing price of print paper may force us to increase the subscription price to $1.50 per year, but you can safeguard yourself against a possible advance by subscribing now. Remember you get
