

TUESDAY EVENING, DEC. 22, 1835.

(A) denotes the place where the fire originated.

TRADE OF THE CANAL.

Through the politeness of the Canal Collector in this city, we have been enabled to furnish the following abstract from the amount of business done at his office. We have made no minute of any business passing east; but have confined our abstract to that coming from tide water.

Table with columns for State, Quantity, and Value. States listed include Virginia, Missouri, Alabama, Tennessee, Upper Canada, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, and Grand Total.

Letter from Rothschild on the Indemnity Question.

We have been favored says the Philadelphia Gazette, with the following copy of a letter from Rothschild & Co., the Bankers of the American Government at Paris, to their correspondent in this city dated,

Paris, 23d Oct. 1835. Public attention is very much taken up now by note which it is said the American Charge d'affaires had here to deliver to the government, asking for the immediate payment of what is due on the treaty of indemnity, without taking into account the condition which the chambers have thought proper to add in granting the money and which unfortunately the minister is by no means disposed to forego.

1835, and occupied 27 months in its erection.

Having first been occupied in July 1837. The plan was that of the architect, Mr. E. Thompson. The loss of this edifice is a serious inconvenience to the mercantile community, thrown into disorder and confusion as it now is. In it resides several insurance offices, for which the great mass of real estate and merchandise, stores, and houses of brokers; an extensive and complete hall for the congregation of merchants not only of the city, but from all parts of the country and Europe; rooms for the chamber of commerce and board of brokers; an extensive newspaper office; several news offices; several news offices; extensive refreshment rooms, &c. &c.

Plundering from the Fire.

On Wednesday night the Police Department were busy making up a list of the plundering from the fire. The Police Department were busy making up a list of the plundering from the fire. The Police Department were busy making up a list of the plundering from the fire.

Fire and Loss of Life.

On Saturday morning the 12th inst. the house of Christopher Houghton, of La Fayette, was consumed by fire. The fire spread rapidly, and succeeded in burning down the house and the children who were in it. The fire spread rapidly, and succeeded in burning down the house and the children who were in it.

Extract or a letter dated, Richmond, Va. Dec. 14, 1835.

At the meeting held on Saturday night, at the Capitol, in relation to the election of Martin Van Buren, Hugh Lawson White was unanimously nominated for the Presidency. Their reasons for this movement will, in due time, be given to the public, and we are confident will be greatly and decidedly influential with the people South of the Potomac.

To the Editor of the Mercantile Advertiser and Advocate.

Gentlemen—I have just heard (through a friend) of a very gallant and heroic deed, performed by a young gentleman, during the late fire in the city of New York. He was named William E. Hays, and indicated to our fellow citizens, that he would not be deterred by the flames.

From the Commercial Advertiser.

THE MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE. This edifice which was consumed by the flames on Wednesday night, was one of the largest in the city, situated on the south side of Wall street, and embracing 115 feet of the front between William and Hanover streets.

CONFLAGRATION.

We paid another visit to the scene of the recent conflagration last evening, and walked through the ruins—thinking of the magnitude and grandeur of the edifice which had been destroyed, and the loss of property which had been sustained, and the suffering of the laboring population.

Custom House Bonds.

The Editor of the Courier & Enquirer, in an argument in favor of a remission of the duties on foreign goods consumed at the fire in New York, which seems to us conclusive and unanswerable. It is this—

We are aware that Congress have frequently refused to remit the duties on goods destroyed by fire, but it has been the principle, that the importer might have secured himself against loss from fire by insurance. And the principle we take to be correct one, on the part of the Federal Legislature, viz., that when the losing party might have protected himself against loss by any of the precautionary means which merchants usually resort to, when it was in his power so to protect himself—that then they would not interfere to save him from the consequences of his own negligence or neglect.

It is therefore, we maintain, but an act of justice which Congress would be rendering us in this case of distressed and injured merchants, with the principles heretofore laid down, to return and remit the duties on goods destroyed at the late fire. The injustice of refusing so to do would be the more striking, because the Federal Treasury would lose nothing by it. If they had not been wanted for the uses of the country, the goods destroyed would have been here; others would be imported to fill their place and the treasury would not have lost anything by it.

The citizens of Buffalo should be the most wealthy, as they are the most liberal in the world. Almost every Buffalo paper furnishes us with new manifestations of liberality and munificence. The last Commercial Advertiser announces the fact that EBERNEZ JOHNSON and LE GRAND MARVIN have each given $7,500 to endow a Professorship in their new College.

The destruction of goods, such as Tea, Spirituous liquors, and other valuable articles of merchandise, has been very great, and will sensibly diminish the stock at market. The banks are to be as liberal as possible, and to issue notes on demand, for the relief of the laboring population.

COMMERCIAL.

NEW-YORK MARKET—Dec. 19. REMARKS.—The conflagration of this city will hereafter be remembered as a calamity in the history of the country, as that of Moscow, in Russia, and the great fire in London. Up to Wednesday night, the public were eager for news from France—since the late Paris Congress, for any other subject has been of the slightest importance.

COFFEE—In the forecastle of the week there were some sales, but nothing since. No change in price. SUGARS—Prices keep up as high as ever, and if the cold weather continues there will be no falling off.

WINTER ASPARAGUS.—Gentlemen who visited the Garden of Gen. VAN RENSSAELER, this morning, saw a bed of Asparagus, 24 feet by 6, in as fine a state of maturity as it could be at this time of the year.

WILLIAM BLACK, an enterprising Traveller, who was delivering Lectures on Palestine, died suddenly of apoplexy, at Troy.

WARREN, Dec. 16, 1835. Dear Sir:—This city is famed, you know, for its magnificence. Its plan is magnificent; so is its site. Its streets are magnificent; so is its architecture. Its buildings are magnificent; so is its population.

THE GREAT LOSS OF THE MERCHANTS. The great loss of the merchants has been very great, and will sensibly diminish the stock at market. The banks are to be as liberal as possible, and to issue notes on demand, for the relief of the laboring population.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

MEETING OF CITIZENS, WITH REFERENCE TO THE NEW-YORK SUPPLIES. At a Meeting of the citizens of the city and county of Philadelphia, convened by a public notice in the morning papers, at the Philadelphia Exchange, on the 18th of December, 1835, in relation to the dreadful calamity experienced and suffered in the city of New York.

RESOLUTIONS. Resolved, That a Committee of Fifty be appointed by the presiding officer of this meeting, to represent the citizens of the city and county of Philadelphia, shall forthwith take measures to the corporation and people of the city of New York.

POSTSCRIPT. THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

CONFLATION.

We paid another visit to the scene of the recent conflagration last evening, and walked through the ruins—thinking of the magnitude and grandeur of the edifice which had been destroyed, and the loss of property which had been sustained, and the suffering of the laboring population.

Custom House Bonds. The Editor of the Courier & Enquirer, in an argument in favor of a remission of the duties on foreign goods consumed at the fire in New York, which seems to us conclusive and unanswerable. It is this—

We are aware that Congress have frequently refused to remit the duties on goods destroyed by fire, but it has been the principle, that the importer might have secured himself against loss from fire by insurance. And the principle we take to be correct one, on the part of the Federal Legislature, viz., that when the losing party might have protected himself against loss by any of the precautionary means which merchants usually resort to, when it was in his power so to protect himself—that then they would not interfere to save him from the consequences of his own negligence or neglect.

It is therefore, we maintain, but an act of justice which Congress would be rendering us in this case of distressed and injured merchants, with the principles heretofore laid down, to return and remit the duties on goods destroyed at the late fire.

The citizens of Buffalo should be the most wealthy, as they are the most liberal in the world. Almost every Buffalo paper furnishes us with new manifestations of liberality and munificence.

The destruction of goods, such as Tea, Spirituous liquors, and other valuable articles of merchandise, has been very great, and will sensibly diminish the stock at market.

COMMERCIAL.

NEW-YORK MARKET—Dec. 19. REMARKS.—The conflagration of this city will hereafter be remembered as a calamity in the history of the country, as that of Moscow, in Russia, and the great fire in London.

COFFEE—In the forecastle of the week there were some sales, but nothing since. No change in price. SUGARS—Prices keep up as high as ever, and if the cold weather continues there will be no falling off.

WINTER ASPARAGUS.—Gentlemen who visited the Garden of Gen. VAN RENSSAELER, this morning, saw a bed of Asparagus, 24 feet by 6, in as fine a state of maturity as it could be at this time of the year.

WILLIAM BLACK, an enterprising Traveller, who was delivering Lectures on Palestine, died suddenly of apoplexy, at Troy.

WARREN, Dec. 16, 1835. Dear Sir:—This city is famed, you know, for its magnificence. Its plan is magnificent; so is its site. Its streets are magnificent; so is its architecture.

THE GREAT LOSS OF THE MERCHANTS. The great loss of the merchants has been very great, and will sensibly diminish the stock at market.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

MEETING OF CITIZENS, WITH REFERENCE TO THE NEW-YORK SUPPLIES. At a Meeting of the citizens of the city and county of Philadelphia, convened by a public notice in the morning papers, at the Philadelphia Exchange, on the 18th of December, 1835.

RESOLUTIONS. Resolved, That a Committee of Fifty be appointed by the presiding officer of this meeting, to represent the citizens of the city and county of Philadelphia, shall forthwith take measures to the corporation and people of the city of New York.

POSTSCRIPT. THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

CONFLATION.

We paid another visit to the scene of the recent conflagration last evening, and walked through the ruins—thinking of the magnitude and grandeur of the edifice which had been destroyed, and the loss of property which had been sustained, and the suffering of the laboring population.

Custom House Bonds. The Editor of the Courier & Enquirer, in an argument in favor of a remission of the duties on foreign goods consumed at the fire in New York, which seems to us conclusive and unanswerable. It is this—

We are aware that Congress have frequently refused to remit the duties on goods destroyed by fire, but it has been the principle, that the importer might have secured himself against loss from fire by insurance. And the principle we take to be correct one, on the part of the Federal Legislature, viz., that when the losing party might have protected himself against loss by any of the precautionary means which merchants usually resort to, when it was in his power so to protect himself—that then they would not interfere to save him from the consequences of his own negligence or neglect.

It is therefore, we maintain, but an act of justice which Congress would be rendering us in this case of distressed and injured merchants, with the principles heretofore laid down, to return and remit the duties on goods destroyed at the late fire.

The citizens of Buffalo should be the most wealthy, as they are the most liberal in the world. Almost every Buffalo paper furnishes us with new manifestations of liberality and munificence.

The destruction of goods, such as Tea, Spirituous liquors, and other valuable articles of merchandise, has been very great, and will sensibly diminish the stock at market.

COMMERCIAL.

NEW-YORK MARKET—Dec. 19. REMARKS.—The conflagration of this city will hereafter be remembered as a calamity in the history of the country, as that of Moscow, in Russia, and the great fire in London.

COFFEE—In the forecastle of the week there were some sales, but nothing since. No change in price. SUGARS—Prices keep up as high as ever, and if the cold weather continues there will be no falling off.

WINTER ASPARAGUS.—Gentlemen who visited the Garden of Gen. VAN RENSSAELER, this morning, saw a bed of Asparagus, 24 feet by 6, in as fine a state of maturity as it could be at this time of the year.

WILLIAM BLACK, an enterprising Traveller, who was delivering Lectures on Palestine, died suddenly of apoplexy, at Troy.

WARREN, Dec. 16, 1835. Dear Sir:—This city is famed, you know, for its magnificence. Its plan is magnificent; so is its site. Its streets are magnificent; so is its architecture.

THE GREAT LOSS OF THE MERCHANTS. The great loss of the merchants has been very great, and will sensibly diminish the stock at market.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

MEETING OF CITIZENS, WITH REFERENCE TO THE NEW-YORK SUPPLIES. At a Meeting of the citizens of the city and county of Philadelphia, convened by a public notice in the morning papers, at the Philadelphia Exchange, on the 18th of December, 1835.

RESOLUTIONS. Resolved, That a Committee of Fifty be appointed by the presiding officer of this meeting, to represent the citizens of the city and county of Philadelphia, shall forthwith take measures to the corporation and people of the city of New York.

POSTSCRIPT. THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

THE NEW-YORK BANKS. The New York Banks have discounted liberally on Saturday. The Courier & Enquirer gives the names of 700 men of business who were burnt out by the fire.

From the Harrisburg Intelligencer.
GOV. RITTER'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS.
FELLOW CITIZENS:
The people of the State have entrusted to me, for the ensuing three years, the performance of the duties of the Executive Department of the Government. I accept the trust with the profoundest gratitude for the confidence which has been reposed in me, and with the most unfeigned diffidence of my ability to fulfill its various and important duties in such manner as to meet their just and reasonable expectations.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, DEC. 23, 1853.
PENNsylvania NOMINATIONS.—The Sun is breaking through the "clouds that loomed over our house." The political atmosphere is brightening. The "Key State" has taken the field, and we now have hopes that the ARCH will be preserved. PENNSYLVANIA, by four formula State Conventions, has declared for Gen. HARRISON. These nominations are the more valuable, emanating, as they have, directly from the People. The leading and influential politicians of our own party, were against Gen. HARRISON. In the Anti-Masonic Convention, Sr. Vaux, Patten, Lewis and other prominent Delegates, were inflexible in their opposition. But the yeomanry were equally inflexible, and the Candidate of the People was nominated by a triumphant vote.

It further appears that of this voluntary contribution, no notice was taken by the President, at the time, nor since—nor even in the message. I further state, that the names of those who have contributed, are not published. It is to be regretted that, in this respect, they will necessarily have a most important bearing upon the ultimate settlement of the question, and that they will find it difficult to make any arrangements for the people of both countries concerned. If there was any spirit in the House, which, for a moment, soared above the party feeling of the day, the Executive would at once be called to account for this extraordinary proceeding.

CHURCH BELLS.
The friends and the public, still to be continued, furnish bells for churches, academies, factories and public buildings. It is to be regretted that, in this respect, they will necessarily have a most important bearing upon the ultimate settlement of the question, and that they will find it difficult to make any arrangements for the people of both countries concerned.

December 15, 1853.
An heralded and candid confession.—The Cleveland Herald says, in reference to the late Ohio election:—"The fact is, the name of Gen. Harrison was in no way connected with the late election; and, in that respect, as they now are, he must carry the State by a overwhelming majority. We have been forced to this conclusion by the irrefragable evidence daily presented, and contrary to our own feelings and predilections."

It was sustained by French commerce is immense. It is stated that but three French importers of Lyons goods have escaped. We have said that the loss sustained by French commerce is immense, but it has fallen entirely upon rich houses, their capital alone will suffer, not their credit. We do not know of one which will not be able to sustain this misfortune without entertaining any apprehensions for the future.

It now appears that of this voluntary contribution, no notice was taken by the President, at the time, nor since—nor even in the message. I further state, that the names of those who have contributed, are not published. It is to be regretted that, in this respect, they will necessarily have a most important bearing upon the ultimate settlement of the question, and that they will find it difficult to make any arrangements for the people of both countries concerned.

Several, suitable for holiday presents, at 1/2 price. Also, a large quantity of the same, at 1/3 price. A WATCH THE PATENT.—Another of these novel affairs, received at Glasgow, probably the only one in the country. It is a watch of the most perfect construction, and is now in the hands of the public.