Haulk Farmers Making Effort To Clay Road

Giving Their Time At Work On The Road—Some Money Donated As Road Fund

About two weeks ago the Reporter made mention of a good road movement the farmers of the Maple Hill vicinity had started, in the way of claying a sandy stretch of road in that community; since that time a number of the farmers of the Haulk country have decided to make the same effort and are now putting in a great deal of their idle time, at work on a road, raising money, and taking advantage of every possible showing to clay a mile or two of the most dreaded sand the Reporter knows of in the country.

This particular road is the one leading out by the W. A. White and W. T. Flowers homes, and one over which a big portion of Odell's trade travels.

Behind this last movement for a better roads to travel, are such farmers as R. A. January, A. T. Flowers and other prominent planters of that country. Mr. January informs us that they have succeeded already in raising some money as a road fund, and have the promise of a nice sum to be contributed by the business men of Odell, and with some assistance from the county, they believe they can get the most of their road in good shape.

A Letter From Public Weigher To The Voters

W. W. Matthews Wants To Renew Contract As Weigher of Odell, Precinct No. 10

Odell, Tex. Feb. 12, 1914.
Mr. Voter, Precinct No. 10.

Dear Sir:—I take this method of notifying you that your contract in which I aged by your consent to serve you as Public Weigher of Precinct No. 10, has just about expired and soon will be time to renew.

The point I wish to impress on your mind is to be careful and not get the names mixed, as there is liable to be more contracts out.

You will find on the Democratic ballot next July, the name of "W. W. Matthews as a candidate for reelection to Public Weigher's office of Precinct No. 10." And I feel safe in saying that your life will be better and longer, and fewer drouths if you will allow it to pass in without being marked.

Now I wish to thank all for the support given me in the previous election. Hoping to serve you two more years,

I am yours,
adv W. W. Matthews.

Picnic Grounds Gone

We imagine it will be with regret for a number of the people of the country, who are familiar with the Odell Picnic grounds, to learn that spot has recently been plowed under by Mr. Crownover, in whose pasture the grounds lies. Mr. Crownover has broke his pasture up and we learn will plant the new ground in corn.

Orient to Sell April or May 1 Says The Court

Judge Pollock Fixer a Time For Final Disposition Of The Railroad

The Orient will be sold at a receiver's sale in Wichita in the latter part of April or the first of May; says the Wichita Beacon. Saturday Judge Pollock of the Federal Court will determine the plan of disposing of the road and will fix a minimum sum which the bids must exceed to be considered. Claims against the road were heard before Judge Pollock in Kansas City last week.

It is believed that the reorganization committee will have the largest bid. The Sante Fe and Southern Pacific have been mentioned as possible bidders. The sale of the road will discharge the receivership and straighten the road. J. O. Davidson, Kansas receiver, and Chester I. Long receivership attorney; are in Kansas City.

The reorganization committee is composed of English capitalists who have raised six millions of the fifteen millions necessary to take the road out of receivership. These capitalists represent the bondholders who should have the first chance at making the road a paying carrier; say the receivers. Wichita is the northern terminus of the road and will be the construction base for the Kansas City extension.

Next Singing Convention at Doans Chapel

Re-elect President, New Secretary And Voted in Contest Singing

Doans Chapel was determined by a vote of the Convention during their last session at Maple Hill, Saturday and Sunday, as the next meeting place for the singers to congregate. Their last session was attended by a large representation from the various neighborhoods, which the Convention's territory includes, with a good number from Odell.

As previously stated, the Convention's business in regard to electing president and secretary was attended to at their last meeting, and Prof. J. M. Reynolds was re-elected President, Miss Clara McDougal, Secretary, succeeding Miss Pearl Reynolds.

It was also unanimously agreed, during their meeting, that contest singing would hereafter be allowed in their future gatherings, however, no premiums will be offered for the best classes of singers.

business that has competition ought to advertise.

A good advertiser is worth as much to a town as its good roads.

Next to the east and west Vernon boxes, Odell comes next with the largest number of poll tax receipts. 236 poll tax receipts were issued for Odell. Fargo box comes next with 136.

In a town without a Commercial organization every fellow waits for the other one to go ahead.

What doth it profit a man if he has the best merchandise in the world and no one but himself knows it? Moral—advertise.

If everybody in town were like those here who refuse to pay their sanitary bills, what would the town come to? The Reporter has learned the names of some of these citizens and could mention them for the gratification of those whose curiosity this little article will arouse, but to tell the truth about the matter it is really ashamed of them.

Since President Wilson has lifted the embargo off of arms and ammunition, with the sole purpose of permitting the Mexico revolutionists to settle their own trouble, he has been the subject of much villification by the Federal newspapers of that country. In scary head lines they pronounce the President as an ally to the Rebels bandits, and predict the next move made by the American government will be to intervene.

How many country merchants have taken advantage of the parcel post to expand their business? If under the zone system the mail order houses can increase their business, the country merchant can do as well in proportion, and that it has helped at least one mail order house is attested by the report of Sears, Roebuck & Company for the first ten months of 1913. The report gives their sales during that period at $75,998,051, against $65,989,805 for the same period in 1912.—The New West Trade.

Tag The Bachelors

A great many states legislatures have given consideration to bills taxing bachelors and many convincing arguments have been presented why men who escape matrimony should pay a penalty, but why not tag them as a more painless and effective method of extermination. If the bachelors were tagged the widows could easily find them and Cupid would do the rest. The bachelor is naturally timid, but under the encouraging influences of a merry widow he can easily be led to the altar, for there is no more helpless craft afloat than a lovesick swain who has passed the age of discretion, and the little imp that plays ping-pong with human hearts has no more capable ally than a woman who loves at second sight, for experience makes Cupid subtle and bold.

The women have tag days to promote most every other public enterprise and why not a tag day for bachelors. We have in Texas 130,000 bachelors and an equal number of widows. Why not get them together and solve two vexatious problems with one marriage license?—Texas Commercial Secretaries.

Farm Facts

By Peter Radford

The need of the rural communities today is intelligent and consecrated leadership.

The farm is the powerhouse of all progress and the birthplace of all that is noble.

The farm is the nursery of civilization and the parsonage of all religious denominations.

We should construct Christian character in our own community before we fight foreign sins in other lands.

The Garden of Eden was in the country and the man who would get close to God must first get close to nature.

The farmer asks no special privileges. The business of farming only wants the same opportunities afforded other lines of industry.

It is as much a duty of the country pastor to exhort us to own a home while on earth as it is to inspire us to build a mansion in the skies.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst.

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

TEXANS HEAVY TOBACCO USERS

Tobacco raising in Texas is still in an experimental stage. Experts of the Federal Government claim that there are 500,000 acres of land in East Texas suitable for tobacco culture, but according to the latest reports of the United States Department of Agriculture, only 200 acres are planted to this product. The production in 1912 was 140,000 pounds, which had a value of $24,000.

Texans, as a rule, are heavy users of tobacco and last year spent for this weed two and one-half million dollars, practically all of which went outside the State. We consume more than 100 times as much tobacco as we produce, and statistics show that the demand is ever increasing, while the production at the present time is less than that of 10 years ago.

The manufacture of snuff, chewing and smoking tobacco is limited in Texas, although cigarmaking has developed into an important industry. The latest Federal Census Reports show 67 cigar factories operating in this State, employing 500 persons and turning out products valued at $509,000 annually. Nearly a half million dollars is invested in this line of industry and the yearly payroll of the employees amounts to $160,000.

Cigars made in Texas, from Texas raised tobacco have become popular among smokers everywhere, and although the supply is limited, they find a ready market in all parts of the country. Practically all of the tobacco grown in this State is made into cigars of fine quality. Raw material consumed by the Texas factories is grown principally in Cuba, Kentucky, North Carolina and Virginia.

The cultivation and use of tobacco are of such antiquity that authentic history does not record their origin. The claim of certain European and Asiatic countries to an acquaintance with the plant prior to the discovery of America by Columbus is not supported by accepted history nor satisfactorily demonstrated by the researches of the antiquarian. It is generally accepted that tobacco is indigenous to the Western Hemisphere and that the aborigines practiced its cultivation and use from remotest times, and spread their knowledge to the rest of the world. It is not definitely known when the first tobacco was planted in Texas, but its first propagation on a commercial scale was attempted in Nacogdoches county during the past decade.

National Corn Exposition Now In Session At Dallas

Many Helpful Hints Will Be Brought Out—Farmers Are Urged To Bring Note Books

The exhibit of the Texas Industrial Congress at the Sixth National Corn Exposition, now in session at Dallas, is in the east half of the Art Building, just across the drive from the Exposition Building in the State Fair Grounds. It consists of crop products raised by Congress contestants in the 1913 contest, entered in competition with corn, cotton, and other product exhibits from Texas and other states. In addition to the exhibit of crop products, the Congress has a series of charts setting out such farm helps in picture and tablet form as its experience with the Texas farmers shows they need. It is expected that the exhibit to the Congress will be very generally visited, as every citizen of Texas is interested in the showing made by the girls and boys of the State. The farmers, especially, should bring pencils and notebook with them, for the helps set out in the charts will be constantly useful to them in the working of their farms.

The corn Exposition is perhaps the greatest opportunity for the farmers of Texas to get useful helps in notebooks, form that they will have in a generation. In almost every exhibit from the States, the U. S. Government, A. M. College, and the Texas experiment stations, there is a vast fund of information, in chartered form so it can be understood at a glance, that will be of use every month in the year. An extensive program for entertainment of visitors is being carried out, but the farmer will find the biggest returns from his notebook and pencil, for the whole Exposition is a school that he cannot afford to miss.
