The following poem appeared in the Louisville Courier Journal in October 1885. It was lately given us by a friend with a request to publish:

THE LEVEL AND THE SQUARE

By Dr. Robt. Morris

We meet upon the level and we part upon the Square;

What words of precious meaning those words Masonic are!

Come, let us contemplate them, they are worthy of a thought

In the very soul of Masonary those precious words are wrought

We meet upon the Level, tho' from every station brought;

The Monarch from his palace, the Laborer from his cot;

For the King must drop his dignity when knocking at our door,

And the poorest is equal as he walks the checker'd floor.

We act upon the Plumb; 'tis our Master's great command.

We walk upright in virtue's way and lean to neither hand;

The All-seeing Eye that reads our hearts will bear us witness true.

That we will try to honor God and give each man his due.

We part upon the Square; for the world must have its due,

We mingle with the multitude, but keep our secrets true;

But the influence of our meetings in memory is green,

And we long upon the Level to renew the happy scene.

There's a world where all are equal, we are hurrying to it fast;

We shall meet upon the Level there when the gates of death are past.

We shall stand before the Orient, and our Master will be there,

Our works to try, our lives to prove, with God's unerring square.

We shall meet upon the Level there, but never thence depart.

There's a mansion bright and glorious set for the pure in heart.

There's an everlasting welcome from the host rejoicing there.

We have met upon the Level and been tried upon the square.

Let us meet upon the Level then while labor patient here;

Let us meet and let us labor, tho' the labor be severe.

Already in the Western sky the signs bid us prepare

To gather up our working tools and part upon the Square.

Hands round then, Brother Masons, gather in the Golden Chain;

We part upon the Square below to meet in Heaven again.

Each tie that has been broken here shall be cemented there,

And none be lost around God's throne who parted on the Square

Will Leave Camp Bowie Soon Says Odell Soldier Boy

Camp Bowie
June 16 1918

Mr. Chas. Ross and Friends:

Just wrote you a letter last week, but thought I would write another one for the last time this side of the pond. We are getting out of here at once. I don't believe we are here 10 days longer and the quicker the better for we are all soldiers now, and want to see what we can do with the brutes.

Guess you people have some good crops up there now since last rains. All the boys from Odell are able to be up and are drilling every day. Crain and I have been on the Range since the last week and these rifles certainly get hot these warm days when firing.

Our Company got 51 of the selective men yesterday and it seems funny to see them get around in the lines. But they are just like we were when we started at Vernon. One of them asked the old boys if the commander had any objections to the boys writing letters home in their tents. Someone had made army life look bad to him. Of course it is not the life, but it is for the present, and we are all "raring" to step on.

Give Ice Cream Supper

Twenty dollars and eighty-five cents was the sum realized from an ice cream supper given on the Methodist church lawn Tuesday night.

The supper was arranged by members of the church and its proceeds will be applied to a fund that is being used to pay for a piano.

Popular Young Couple Married Yesterday Eve

Yesterday evening at 6 o'clock, at the home of the bride, Rev. Leslie Robeson was the officiating minister that united in wedlock, Mr. Herbert Newsom and Miss Dollie Williams. Only home-folks of the bride, and a few of her intimate friends witnessed the ceremony.

Miss Dollie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Williams of Odell and is fully accomplished in such domestic affairs as to make her husband a suitable help-mate.

Mr. Newsom is well known in Odell from reason of the fact, he made Odell and community his home for several years. He is an honest and industrious young man and he and his young bride seemingly are suited in dispositions to sail out on the matrimonial sea together. Mr. Newsom is now employed in a garage at Vernon and immediately after the ceremony him and his bride left for that city.

The Reporter desires to join the numerous friends of this married couple in extending to them best wishes for a happy and contented life.

Griffin Sells Merchantile Stock to Oklahoma Man

F. M. Griffin, who lately bought the I. D. Crain stock of merchandise in Odell, sold the stock of goods this week to H. F. Lafferty of near Eldorado, Oklahoma.

In the transaction, Mr. Griffin took over Mr. Lafferty's crop, stock, and farm implements in Oklahoma.

Mr. Lafferty is well known to a number of people in Odell, as for several years he made his home just across the river from Odell and has done considerable trading at this place. He is a man of a family and is preparing to move them to Odell.

Tin's Part in Woman's Finery.

Few women who are proud of the fact that they wear hoisery, underwear and dresses made of silk, realize that old tin cans contribute from 20 to 300 per cent in weight to the glossy silks worn by them. The price of silk has increased enormously and to enable them to sell heavy silks at a price that will yield a reasonable profit and yet be within the means of the average purchasers, the manufacturers resort to the practice of weighting the silk with tin tetrachloride, derived from old tin cans. Five thousand tons of tin were used for that purpose in 1917. Don't throw away the empty tomato cans!—Popular Science Monthly.

War Is Informal Affair.

That the number of full dress suits purchased in America since Uncle Sam threw down the gauntlet has fallen off 90 per cent is an indication of a realization on the part of the nation that war is no dress affair.

In the trenches the guests from across the street don't stand on ceremony or wait for an invitation. They are real neighbors, and likely to drop in unexpectedly any time. In fact war is an infernally informal business.

It has its humorous side, too. Every day many things occur that are perfectly killing.

Patriotism.

A College avenue woman was entertaining her card club. One of the woman members of the club brought her son John, about four years old, along. John got unruly, and his mother put him upstairs and told him to sit there until he could behave, while she proceeded to play bridge. John was quiet about 15 minutes, when he burst forth singing "America." Immediately it broke up the card game and the women stood up until John finished singing.—Indianapolis News.

BODY MAKES ITS OWN HEAT

Comes as Natural Result of Chemical Changes Which Are Constantly Taking Place.

The heat of our bodies is the direct result of the chemical changes which take place in all the tissues and organs of the body. Brubacker's Physiology says that "each contraction of a muscle, each act of secretion, each exhibition of nerve force is accompanied by the evolution of heat.

"The chemical changes," it continues, "are for the most part of the nature of oxidations, the union of oxygen with the elements, carbon and hydrogen, of the food principles either before or after they have become constituents of the tissues.

"The ultimate source of the body heat is the latent or potential energy in the food principles, which was absorbed from the sun's energy and stored up during the growth of the vegetable world." When the food—whether this be directly vegetable or vegetable that has been transformed into meat by being eaten by an animal—is digested in our bodies it is "reduced by oxidation to relatively simple bodies, such as urea, carbon dioxide and water, with a liberation of a large portion of their contained energy, which manifests itself as heat and mechanical motion."

English Hereditary Offices.

Conventional epithets have once more been used in the English newspapers about the late Lord Londeshborough's hereditary office as vice admiral of the Yorkshire coast. In reality there are many similar appointments in force elsewhere. The lord mayor of Bristol is vice admiral of the channel as far down as Holmes and possesses an ancient silver oar, which he is entitled to have borne before him in virtue of his office. By a fiction of medieval law all dead persons washed up by the tide were considered to belong to the parish in which the Merchant Venturers stand, and births at sea were registered there. Before the organization of the royal navy had been fully developed it was convenient to intrust the interests of the crown in regard to the duties of the admiralty to local gentlemen, like the Denisons of Scarborough, from which the earls of Lonsdale derive, of sufficient standing to be immune from sympathy with smuggling, which was the chief difficulty in early times. For handling maritime questions special qualifications were necessary, which the lord lieutenant, if he were seated inland, might not possess.

FORTS HOUSE MACHINE GUNS

How the Greatly Dreaded "Pill Boxes," First Devised by Germans, Are Managed.

It used to be thought that the Belgian forts of armored steel and concrete, almost completely buried in the ground, would hold out against any artillery. But when the Germans brought up their great howitzers and hurled undreamed of quantities of high explosives on these forts, they broke and crumbled to pieces, writes A. Russel Bond in St. Nicholas. Then it was predicted that the day of the fort was over. But the machine gun has developed a new type of warfare. Instead of great forts mounting huge guns, we now have little machine-gun forts, and they are far more troublesome than the big fellows. To the Germans belong the credit for this type of fort, which consists of a small concrete structure, hidden from view as far as possible, but commanding some important part of the front. "Pill boxes" the British call them, because the first ones they ran across were round in shape and something like a pill box in appearance.

These pill boxes are just large enough to house a few men and a couple of machine guns. Concealment is of the utmost importance; their safety depends upon it. Airplanes are particularly feared, because a machine gun emplacement is recognized to be so important that a whole battery of artillery would be turned upon a suspected pill box. It is claimed that some pill boxes are built with turrets that rise out of the ground. Normally, they are completely buried and covered with turf so that no one would expect their existence. During the bombardment preceding a charge they would remain hidden and only a chance shot could put them out of business. When the charge took place the elevating mechanism would be operated, and out of the ground would rise the miniature fort, ready to halt the advancing soldiers.

DAY OF WASTE IS ENDED

Every Sort of Refuse Now Being Made Use Of in Some Way in Britain.

How to avoid waste is to be one of the lessons of the economy campaign, and at the ministry of food plans are being elaborated. In one department the visitor may see samples of oils from fish-waste, potash from banana-stalks, fats from slaughter-house refuse, dried house swill for pig and poultry food, fish meal and grit for poultry from unsound fish, metals from old tins and scraps, and disinfectant powder from flue-dust.

A provincial mayor has collected a box of tinfoil saved from a year's buttonholes, to be converted into tin. Liverpool has plant for extracting poultry and pig foods, as well as fertilizers, from waste.

Sheffield and Nottingham specialize in getting iron out of unconsidered trifles, and Nottingham has also during the present year recovered 400 tons of manure from refuse.

Glasgow is systematically salvaging the by-products of waste. Other towns are introducing "digesters," the type of machine in which a dead horse can be tipped, with the result that fats and oils are secured, in addition to dried and prepared animal foods.

It is reckoned that the metals found in dustbins total one ton per 1,000 of the population per annum and that annually 250,000 tons of paper are wasted.

Nearly everything thrown into the dustbin has a commercial or chemical value. Not a scrap of metal should be cast aside, but all should be sold in ordinary trade channels or handed to any collecting organization which may be operating in a district.—London Tit-Bits.

EX-KING DOES USEFUL WORK

Manuel of Portugal Now Director of School for the Re-education of Maimed Soldiers.

Royalty has suffered much in the present war, even at the hands of its friends. When the interallied conference in the interest of permanently disabled soldiers was concluded in Paris, a party of delegates journeyed to England to inspect the great schools established there for the re-education of men maimed in battle. One of these schools in particular excited the visitors' admiration because of its marvelous equipment and seemingly perfect management. This was all the more remarkable because the director of the school was a very young man. So much impressed were the visitors that before leaving they waited upon the youthful director and fairly showered him with praise.

"It is both a great responsibility and a high honor to you, sir," said their spokesman, a distinguished French scientist. "to have been placed at your age at the head of so important a school."

"I agree with you, Doctor —, but in times past I have had occasion to direct matters even more important than these," replied the young man, who was none other than the ex-King Manuel of Portugal.

Congress of Polish Technicians.

The Polish engineers and technicians now residing in Russia held a congress at Moscow recently, at which 285 persons were present. The program consisted of general discussions concerning the rehabilitation and development of industry in Poland after the war, also the organization of technical education. Special sections dealt with architecture, mechanics, chemistry, electricity, and economics.

It was decided to found a Polish Association of engineers and technicians in Russia, with branches in the principal industrial centers, and also to undertake the publication of a bi-weekly sheet that should become the organ of the society. Among the resolutions adopted was one relating to the future economic development of Poland.

New Hotel for Lima, Peru.

The Congress of Peru by recent legislation has provided for an up to date hotel in Lima, to be constructed under the supervision of the national government of Peru and to cost not less than £200,000 (973,000). The site set aside for the hotel is government property located in the heart of the city and is to be acquired by the company constructing the hotel.

The need of a modern hotel in Lima has been keenly felt by the travelers for some time, says Commerce Reports. During recent years the number of commercial travelers and tourists visiting the west coast of South America has more than doubled, and many of these have found it inconvenient or even impossible to remain longer than a few days in Lima because of the lack of adequate hotel accommodations.

ENLISTED MEN MUST HELP

Portion of Government Allowance Required to Be Allotted for Benefit of Their Dependents.

Every enlisted man in the military or naval forces of the United States must allot for the benefit of a wife or child an amount equal to the government's family allowance, with a maximum, however, of half his pay and a minimum of $15 per month, according to the American Review of Reviews. If he has no wife or child and makes no voluntary allotments for other dependents, or for other purposes, the secretary of war or navy may require him to deposit with the government at 4 per cent compound interest half his pay, or so much of half his pay as he does not allot either for his dependents or for other purposes.

This puts the man with dependents more nearly on a democratic footing of equality with one who has none and the better-paid American soldier with the poorer-paid European with whom he is fighting.

The family allowances are based on a graduated scale depending on the number of dependents, and are conditioned on allotments of equal amounts up to half pay. In no case, however, does the allowance exceed $50 for one family. An ordinary enlisted man receiving $33 per month in foreign service, if his family is large enough, may be required to allot $16.50 per month and secure thereby for his family a total income of $66.50 per month.

Making Life Worth While.

To increase your earning capacity, you must be an energetic, live specimen of humankind. You should be throbbing with surplus power. You should possess a degree of strength that will give you confidence and courage and endurance. Then you can go on day after day, relates a writer, adding to your skill and knowledge and power in your profession. And when you have climbed to the highest point on one sphere of endeavor, you will be ready to look around for other work, and continue to experience the delights that come only with the daily struggle, required for the attainment of the objects one has in view. Do not forget the value of systematic effort. Do not waste your energies. Intelligent direction is all-important. Force, to be of value, must be applied at the proper place. Effort, to be productive of reward, must be directed by superior intelligence.

Made the Account Even.

"There's nothing like reprisals," said a recruiting officer. "A tobaccoist sent a doctor the other day a $10 box of cigars, saying he knew they hadn't been ordered, but they were so excellent he was sure the doctor would enjoy them. Bill included. Terms strictly cash.

"The doctor wrote back:

"Delighted with the cigars. Though it is true you haven't called me in, I venture to send you herewith two prescriptions for rheumatism and dyspepsia, respectively, that I am sure you will like, as they have given universal satisfaction to my patients. My charges

LITTLE TERRIER IN TRENCH

This Canine Warrior Was Not a "Slacker," but Didn't Care to Go Over Top.

In those long lines of trenches in France and Flanders, where Britisher faces German, it is not all discomfort and misery. During quiet hours we play and joke. And we like nothing better than some little pet—a dog or a cat, perhaps—to care for and look after.

Cats are not uncommon in trenchland, many of them having been born and bred there, says Boys' Life, the boy scouts' magazine. Unless a kitten or cat is actually taken from the trenches, it makes that sector its home, and is fed and cared for by the troops which come in to hold the line at that part. But a dog will follow his unit about and soon becomes the friend of all, and quite an important being in the regiment.

Our little smooth-haired fox terrier had taken up his quarters in a strong redoubt near the front. The little dog would quake with fear on hearing a German shell in the air, but after the explosion would run about as before, realizing that the danger was past. Poor little Warrior stayed in the trenches always. He would not follow the men out, but would settle down with the incoming unit. Many were the jokes made at his expense. "Warrior, old boy," a man would say, "if I was you I would get a transfer to some nonfighting mob wot never comes up, and keep out of it well behind." But Warrior wouldn't desert. Every time the battalion came up to hold the line there was the little terrier.

POINT TO BIBLICAL PROPHECY

Huns Claim That Russia's Collapse Was Foretold in Verse in the Book of Daniel.

Quotations from the Bible and the use of the name of the Deity are favorite methods of the kaiser and his subjects for trying to justify themselves for bringing on the world disaster. Now they have come forward with a verse from the Book of Daniel to prove that a Biblical prophecy has come true in the collapse of the Russian fighting forces. The verse is:

"And for the time that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days."

The Germans point out that the period of 1,290 days corresponds with the period from August 1, 1914, when war began between Germany and Russia, and February 11, 1918, when it was announced that Trotzky had declared the war at an end.

The French Tricolor.

The Tricolor, the French national standard of blue, white and red, divided vertically, originated during the first French revolution. In 1789 the leaf plucked by Camille Desmoulin in the garden of the Palais Royal became a rallying sign, and green was to be adopted as the national color; but, remembering that green was the color of the hated Prince d'Artois, they rejected it on the following day. They at first chose, instead, blue and red, the colors of the city of Paris, and later added the white of royalty, that had been faithfully preserved by the national guard. This new standard was adopted with enthusiasm. A few months after taking of the Bastille, Bailly and Lafayette offered to Louis XVI the three-colored cocard as a badge of reconciliation with the king.

Thus the Tricolor originated as the symbol of the liberty of the French nation, and it continued as such even when afterward the "reconciliation" with the king ended with his decapitation.

STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. It just seemed to tear my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I heard

RAILROADS USE MUCH COAL

Require Almost Twenty-Five Per Cent of the Total Output of the Country.

Figures compiled by C. E. Leshar of the United States geological survey show that 136,000,000 tons of bituminous coal, 6,735,000 net tons of Pennsylvania anthracite and 22,950 tons of coke were used by the railroads in the United States in 1916. The increase in the quantity of bituminous coal used by the railroads in 1916 was 14,000,000 tons, which was 11.5 per cent more than 1915. The increase in the consumption of anthracite by the railroads was but 535,000 net tons, or 8.5 per cent. There was an increase in railroad consumption of nearly 4,000,000 tons of coal from Illinois, about 2,800,000 from Ohio and of 4,800,000 from West Virginia. The quantity of coal from Pennsylvania used by the railroads decreased nearly 3,000,000 tons.

The quantity of bituminous coal used by the railroads in the eastern district increased from 56,500,000 to 62,700,000, or 11 per cent. The increase in the Southern district was from 22,000,000 to 23,300,000, or 5.1 per cent, and in the Western district, from 43,500,000 to 50,000,000, or 15 per cent.

The total quantity of bituminous coal used by the railroads was about 27 per cent of the total production as against 28 per cent in 1915. The Pennsylvania anthracite used by the railroads in 1916 was 7.7 per cent of the total anthracite produced and the combined bituminous and anthracite used, 142,735,000 tons, was 21 per cent of the output, the same as in 1915.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
