It made no difference with Bryan at Baltimore if Clark's dog was a hound; he just kept kicking the old pup around.

Most faces we behold now are wreathed with smiles over the fine prospects the country has for a good corn and cotton crop.

WHO ARE "THE INTEREST?"

There are two quite prevalent views of the situation in the United States. According to one, the only trouble with the country is politics. According to the other, nothing ails us as a nation except "the interest." What caused the panic in 1907? Why didn't business expand in 1911 as in some former years? Why has money been scandalously cheap in New York for a long while? Why was winter unusually severe? The reason—if you ask Wall Street—is just politics.

On the other hand, why is cotton lower than for several years? Why are many people poor? Why does government in the United States run like an automobile with cracked cylinder heads, which is driven by a cross-eyed man who is intoxicated? The answer—if you will take it from a large number of more or less eminent publicists—is just "the interest."

Possible, if we could get politics and "the interests" trussed up together, tow them out to sea and sink them, the country's troubles would be over. The impossibility of doing that in the case of politics is generally recognized, for a tremendous number of us—from Mr. Taft down to the village marshal—are in politics. It is not so generally recognized that a tremendous number of us are in "the interests" too—from Mr. Morgan down to the village shaver of notes. If you have any doubt about the dispersedness of "the interests" drop off at the first town you come to and ask the president of a local public service company what he did to defeat the bill for a public-utilities commission. This explanation seems necessary because a good many uniformed or disingenuous persons are fostering a delusive hope that they will get "the interests" located and chase them out of the country. There would be a staggering slump in the population if they did. If "the interests" means anything it means organized greed. Whoever talks about that as though it could be cured by squelching a few opulent persons talks nonsense.

Don't fail to attend the I. O. O. F. picnic in the Crownover pasture near town, Saturday the 13th, the three link brothers will do all in their utmost power to make the day enjoyable for you.

Odell and surrounding country was visited by another good rain Friday night, crops were not suffering from the want of rain but still it helped wonderfully towards assuring a bumper corn and cotton crop this fall.

In physical strength and scientific boxing Johnson was far the superior of his opponent for the belt, but as to their mental capacity the majority of higher minds who loathe these prize fights, regard the two knockers mentality about on an equality.

Once more the burly beast Jack Johnson has been proclaimed champion of the world at fist cuffing, and the white man's only hope, Jimmy Flynn is a whipped man today, beat into the world's acknowledgement of it, by the hand of an African Ape, who made Flynn show the white feather at the end of the ninth round in their recent fight at Las Vegas, N. M. Now the boasting, bullying African protrudes his thick lips forward and crows the world over for another fight.

Conceding that Colonel Roosevelt is honest and sincere in his convictions, that he was defrauded of delegates in Chicago, and that because of this he lost the nomination, the question arises as to whether or not wrong of this kind justifies either himself or those who stood with him in breaking away from their party, and forming, or attempting to form, a new organization, made up, as they hope it will be, of progressive elements of two great parties.

In some ways we administer national, state, county and municipal affairs in a generous, if not an extravagant and wasteful manner, but we do not always do this in paying those who serve us, what the service is really worthy, particularly when the position is filled either by appointment or election, calls for administrative and executive of a high order. The wide spread result of this is that many men in public service regard public office as a private snap instead of a public trust.

Burying Mistakes

The doctors are said to be the only class of people who bury their mistakes, but our law makers have frequently given us legislation that sent industry to the cemetery and paralyzed growth and progress.

Since the day when Moses gave us the commandments written by a divine hand, legislation had been a powerful force in human affairs. Our legislators can build a magnificent civilization or become the pallbearers to prosperity according to their inclination or ability and our coming legislature faces an opportunity of making Texas a world power in commerce and
