Sickness, Died Tuesday Morning

M. E. Carter, a well known and prominent citizen of this community, after a seige of sickness extending over many weeks died Tuesday morning near four o'clock at his home a few miles south of here. Burial took place Wednesday morning at the Pleasant Valley Cemetery, witnessed by a large concourse of sorrowful relatives and friends.

Mr. Carter was a man thirty years of age was a faithful member of the Christian Church, and reckoned as one of the community's good men and good citizens. His influence and assistance in the upbuilding of the neighborhood will be missed. He was a son-in-law of W. M. Phillips and wife, a well known family in our neighborhood.

Maple Hill Gets The Next Ses- sion of Singers

Singers Convention that ended Here Sunday Was Attended By Large Crowd

Judging from statements made by different parties who were visitors at the North Wilbarger County Singing Convention that closed here Sunday evening, this last session of the singers was one of the most successful from a standpoint of attendance and good singing, the North Wilbarger County people has ever held.

The Convention was held at the school auditorium and Sunday evening, at which time, the attendance was the largest, the crowd was estimated by some to have been between four and five hundred people. A number were here from different places in Oklahoma, several from Vernon, Medicine Mound and different vicinities south of here. The seating capacity of the auditorium was not enough to accommodate the crowd and a standing room on the inside at times was a premium.

The time of Saturday evening and Sunday morning session of the Convention was given to general class singing, quartettes, duets and solos. Rev. W. W. Adams, delivering a short, but appropriate welcome address Sunday morning, in behalf of the Odell people. At the noon hour a long table was arranged in the school yard and the convention folks fed. A number of the visitors going into the homes of different ones in the city for their dinner.

In the evening two hours or more of the Convention time, was devoted to Sacred Harp singing, in which song service the old folks took the lead and made the room ring with the old time sacred melodies.

J. S. Archer was reelected as President of Convention and Miss Frankie Crawford of Tolbert, was elected Secretary. Maple Hill school house was selected as the next meeting place of the singers.

The closing song of the Convention was, "Nearer My God to Thee", which was sung at the request of W. C. Lundy, a noble old Christian patriot, who has been a disciple of the teachings of the Lowly Nazarene, many years. He also made a short but interesting talk to the Convention visitors, urging them to ever let the words of the beautiful old hymn referred to, be a reminder that they should live nearer to God in their every day life.

E. S. McNairy returned Monday from Goodnight, where he attended a Buffalo Barbecue at that place Friday and Saturday. Mr. McNairy in the early days of the plains country was a ranch hand on the Colonel Goodnight ranch. The buffalo barbecue was a celebration of Mr. Goodnight's 82nd birthday and an invitation was given everybody to attend the barbecue the first day. Mr. McNairy says there were 1500 autos on the ground and each averaged 5 passengers.

Odell Folks Will Go With Vernon Boosters to Fair

Special Train Bearing Wil-barger Crowd Will Leave Vernon 19th.

The State Fair at Dallas, will open the 14th of this month and close on the 29th. Managers of the Fair Association are advertising that the Fair entertainment will be better this year than ever. And we have no reason to doubt their statements as the Association is spending thousands of dollars every year to make the Dallas Fair bigger and better and put it on a higher plane.

Friday the 20th. will be recognized as Wilbarger County Day at the State Fair. And if plans are carried out according to arrangements of the Young Men's League at Vernon, a special train will leave there on the 19th loaded with Wilbarger County citizens for Dallas.

R. H. Nichols and R. H. Coffee two of Vernon's prominent business men were in Odell Monday morning seeking to interest citizens in this part of the County in riding the special train to Dallas as members of the Wilbarger County Boosters. Tickets on the special train were left by Messrs Nichols and Coffee at The Bank of Odell and no doubt a number of them will be purchased by people in this locality of the County, who contemplate attending the Fair. In this connection we wish to state, that all who desire a ride on the Special, should make arrangements for their tickets before the 15th, as all tickets sold here must be reported to Vernon by that date.

Messrs. Nichols and Coffee also stated that arrangements were being made to carry three of the County's Bands along with the Wilbarger Booster Bunch. The Bands to be the Vernon Band Odell Band and the Striet Band Stops will be made by the boosters, at Wichita Falls, and at Fort Worth before their arrival at Dallas.

Mineral Wells Minister In The City This Week

Rev. R. H. Simmans, of Mineral Wells, a Christian minister and Superintendent of West Texas Missions, is in Odell this week to deliver a series of sermons. Use of the Methodist church has been granted Rev. Simmans, and fair size crowds have been meeting him there each night.

A great many in Odell remember Rev. Simmans' visit to Odell early in the spring, at which time he preached to quite a number one evening at the Methodist church. He is interested in coming here in the organization of a Church of the Christian faith at this place and will keep in touch with this field from now on.

J. A. Pressley was called to Kirkland Friday night to attend the burial the following day of a fourteen months old grandchild of his, which was accidentally killed Friday evening by falling from wagon and 1 of the wheels passing over the back of its neck

Market your cotton at Odell

Farmers in this section of the country who have been marketing their cotton here during the last two weeks or more, should feel indebted in a way to some of the cotton buyers in Odell for the good price they have been receiving for the staple. For had some of the buyers here believed in holding the price down, like buyers who are located at one or two neighboring towns we know of, they would not have been receiving the top price for their cotton. Odell can always be counted on for paying the market price for cotton.

San Angelo Fair

The management of the San Angelo Fair are sparing no expense to make this year's Fair one of the greatest in the history of the city. Elaborate preparations are made to entertain the visitors. Thrilling aeroplane flights, loop-the-loop, etc., by the "Florida Fool;" goat roping, broncho busting, fancy shooting; five free acts daily in front of the grand stand. Grand parades and pageants. Wortham shows on the streets. Fast horse and motorcycle races, poultry, kennel and all lines of livestock and agricultural exhibits will be on display.

The Fair will be held Oct. 31st, Nov. 1, 2, 3, 4. Railroads offer exceptional low rates on tickets sold on Oct. 30th, with return limit Nov. 5th.

The Secretary will furnish any information desired upon request. Adv.

Expect 20-Cent Cotton

That cotton will reach the high mark of 20 cents is the opinion of the Texas Warehouse and Marketing Department. A statement says:

"Some time since this department gave out an interview stating that on account of the condition of the cotton crop, with no future for a top crop, we believed that cotton would ultimately sell for 18 cents per pound. The condition has not changed, but we have had about 40 days for ginning and marketing our crop, resulting in one of the fastest movements of the staple from the producer to the spinner and speculator that has ever occurred in the history of the South.

"In the face of this heavy selling by the producers, prices have remained practically unchanged. The price to the producer seems to justify the sale. Practically all of the cotton in the state has been brought into sight and sold, which has placed the producer in such a financial position that he can gradually market the balance of his cotton and procure for same its intrinsic value. The producer has been the predominating bear, by selling as fast as gathered, and if the position of the market had not been so strong, his actions would have greatly depressed prices."

Trees at Farm Homes

Much is said concerning the aesthetic value of trees in the yard and around the farmstead. This is well. More could be said with propriety. But there is another value that is seldom mentioned. That is the increased value of the farm as a direct result of the trees.

You often hear the expression, "I would not cut that tree down for $100." In fact, large useful shade trees around the home have a much higher valuation than that. But what did such trees cost? Perhaps two or three dollars would cover the cost of the tree at the time it was transplanted and very little since. And while it takes several years from the time the trees are set till they reach a height when such valuations are placed upon them they are little expense.

Then consider the increased valuation of the farm and the home as a direct result of the trees. Did it pay to plant the trees?

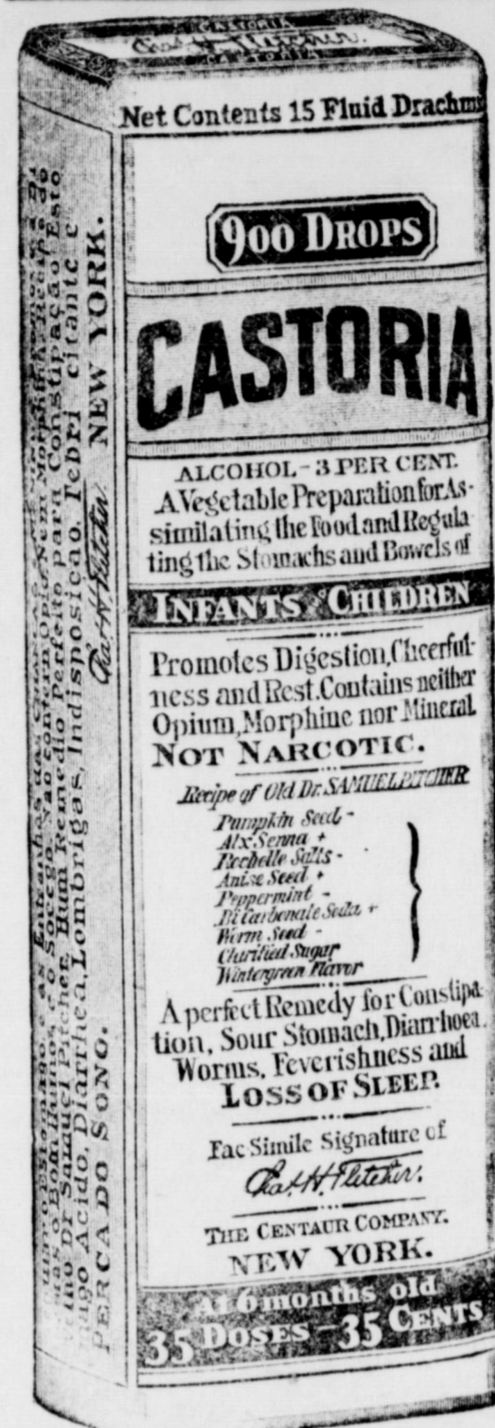

Many examples have been given in cities to show where from two to five per cent of the value of a place, spent on plantings, especially trees, shrubs and flowers, have enhanced values from 40 to 60 per cent and even 100 per cent. These plantings always make a less expensive house look finer than a costlier one.

The farm home that has a few large shade trees about the yard some climbers over the piazza and buildings, dense evergreens to serve as wind breaks and for beauty, with a few broad, dense shade trees in the barn lot, along the lane, boundary, creeks, etc., will also have a higher valuation placed upon it than if these were wanting. Such a farm is really worth more as a place to live.

The influence of trees upon the lives and characters of young people has never fully been appreciated. No better way can be thought of to make a profound impression upon the children and young people than trees, shrubs, flowers, gardens. Our attachments for trees soon become strong. Trees grown about the home—vines and attractive flowers will likely add new charm to the rural home and its environments.—Farm and Ranch.

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.
