It now seems that Hitler has decided that he has taken on a much harder job in conquering the world than he at first anticipated.

Much restlessness and hatred of Hitler is reported among the nations already conquered by him and in some places extreme measures have been taken by Hitler's subordinates to hold them in check.

Here in our own country the strike situation remains serious. Some of our Senators on their recent visits home made speeches over the state concerning the strikes in the uncertain tones.

A sweet potato curing plant is scheduled to be built in Brownwood by the Brownwood Farmer and Homemakers market.

The plans call for a small plant that will be built so that it can be enlarged, according to the president of the organization, H. G. Lucas of Brownwood.

According to a recent ruling of the attorney general it is a violation of the law for Texas theaters to show moving pictures of prize fights.

This is another good law that Texas has and we hope it will never be repealed. There is positively no good to be found in viewing these fights and in our humble opinion they are debasing to human morale.

Health Inspector For School Will Be In Putnam Soon

The daily inspection of school children and the removal and isolation of those found with scabies (itch) or head lice is the most important factor in the control of conditions, said Dr. Cox, state health officer.

All children who are scratching or have an irritation on the skin should be examined for the itchmite. These parasites are usually contracted by direct personal contact, although they are sometimes conveyed by animals.

ice hockey rink!"

And there you have the story of how Texas is to have a new sport this coming Winter, ice hockey, said to be the fastest game known. For Buron took a 10-year lease on the Coliseum and is spending thousands of dollars to install the machinery for an ice rink—60,000 feet or almost 12 miles of pipe, and other equipment in proportion.

The story of Sam Buron's career to date—he's only 31—is a Horatio Alger success story. Born in St. Paul, he sold papers on the street after school; then worked his way through high school by getting up at 3:30 p.m., to carry a newspaper route. When he married at 21, he was a grain accountant at a salary of $90 a month and at night after work he built a home with his own hands. Then he started to build a four-family flat and before he knew it almost, he was in the construction business. And, of course, if you're going to build, it's nice to have a lumber yard, so he acquired one. Then he went into the storage and warehouse business, too, and not long ago he became also the owner of the South St. Paul Terminal warehouse building, which has even more floor space than the huge Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

And with all those business activities, Sam Buron has had time for civic work too. He is the major factor behind the unique Hook Em Cows, a fun organization of the men of the South St. Paul stock-yards, which has a uniformed drum and bugle corps and a troop of 40 horse-men, both units being much in evidence in all parades. Then Buron had charge of the banquet that was given honoring Governor Stasson when the Minnesota chief executive was acclaimed the outstanding young man of the nation. And only a week or so ago, Buron retired as president of the Minnesota Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He has a ready smile, a pleasant voice, a hearty laugh, tells a story well, is in demand as a speaker and has moved to Texas. That he is a real Southwesterner already is shown by the fact that he says, "You all". And that's Sam Buron, who is going to give the Lone Star State a new and exciting sport, ice hockey.

Here and there: Sign in a cross-roads store, "If you must spit, be original; spit on the ceiling." Menu writers are "going Hollywood", as witness: "Prawns with crisp croutons swimming in piquant penguin sauce." General Pinky Francis, one of the best story-tellers in the Capitol City, makes this comment when someone relates an especially ancient joke, "Columbus told that one to the Indians".

If you do go to Mexico and if you go by automobile (as this columnist suggests), when you arrive in Mexico City, put the car in a garage and leave it there. The many one-way streets and the swift current of traffic are likely to prove bewildering and, though you probably won't have a collision, you will not enjoy driving in the business district.

Taxicabs are innumerable—and the fare is very low. All you have to do is look as though you want a cab and one will pull up to the curb. But if not, then when you spot a car approaching with a sign, "Libra", signal to the driver. Most of the taxis are new cars and some are of the higher price makes, too. For a short trip, six or eight blocks, the charge is only one peso (about 20 cents) and three persons pay no more than one. Longer trips are in proportion. How a man can drive a fine car, buy gasoline and make enough at such a rate to pay for the auto and his own living expenses,—well, you figure it out.

The changes that El Paso has undergone—and the picture is true in general of Texas cities and towns—is graphically set forth by William Moran, able editor of the El Paso Labor Advocate, who wrote this during prohibition days:

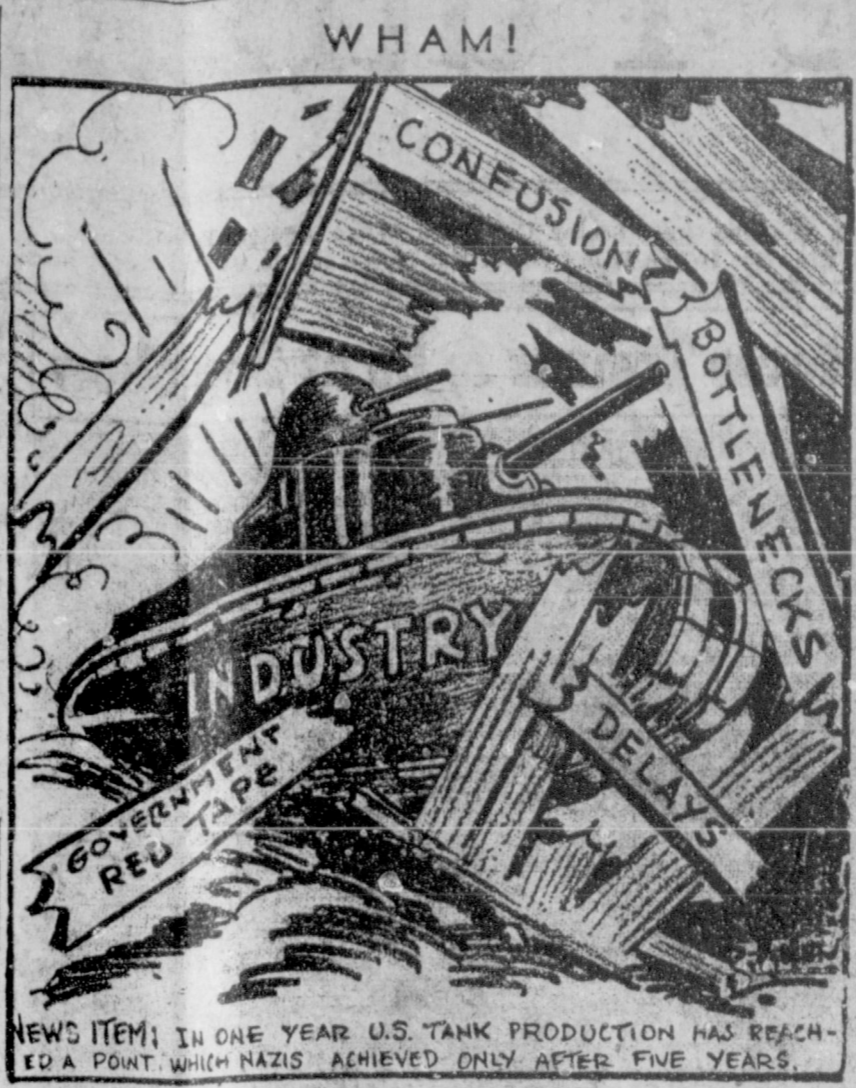

When I first came to El Paso it had ten banks and sixty-five saloons. Eggs were twenty cents a dozen. Texas street was an unpaved country road. Home buyers insisted on close-in locations. The valley struggled with Johnson grass, and dust storms made miserable the lives of the people. Road-houses were infamous.

The bungalow craze was just beginning. Beauty parlors, tourist camps, chain stores, auto laundries, bungalow courts, closed cars, home brew and bare-legged women were all unknown. Golf was at a minimum and bridge only understood in limited circles. Petting was done in the parlor and drinking was left to the men. Ash trays had achieved no gift popularity. The luncheon clubs were yet unborn. Self-expression was found in the kitchen and workshop. Daylight hours were filled with labor and night-time was undisturbed by the moan of the saxophone.

Horses were still to be seen on downtown streets, and people carried packages unashamed. Installment buying was but faintly developed. Homes were furnished in tearful taupes and mournful mauves; jazz decoration, rich colorings and rococo styles were evidences of crudeness and barbarity. The bathroom was unholy unless in white.

Gin had not yet become a household word. The cocktail shaker never appeared except at stag suppers, and people quit dancing after forty. Divorces were spoken of in whispers. The speed limit was fifteen miles an hour.

Today, where the horse-wrangler lately piled his trade, we have city-planning and zoning, stop streets, through streets, one-way streets and loading zones, with electric traffic. Movies, talkies, cooperative apartments, tabulated public endeavors and card indexed charities are the rule of the day. Payon has displaced cotton, and ice comes by wire. Few are too poor to ride and all too proud to walk. Potatoes are peeled by electricity and furnaces fired by a robot. Business men are whisked fifteen floors upward for a four-hour day in a five day week. Surely civilization, on the border, has delighted, if not enriched the lives of the people.

"Cattle" will be the central theme of the 1941 State Fair of Texas, which isn't very far away—Oct. 4 to 19. Two national beef cattle shows will be the feature of the $150,000 livestock division. In the National Hereford Show (the third consecutive year it has been held at the State Fair), $30,000 in prizes are offered and awards in the National Aberdeen-Angus Show total $10,000. The Hereford prizes represent the biggest amount ever offered by any fair in a single classification of livestock, it is declared by this columnist's old friend, E. Paul Jones, publicity director.

At least 400 head of Aberdeen-Angus are expected in Dallas for what will be the first national show ever held for the breed of black cattle.

But of course cattle are by no means all. When closely questioned, the officials will admit that the 1941 State Fair will be the biggest and best yet—and they point to $17,500 in prize money for "the largest farm show ever housed under a single roof"; $7,500 for poultry besides the hobby show, culinary, textiles, flowers, pigeons and others—the grand total of prizes reaching the breath-taking figure of $150,000.

An Independent Midway, made up of the cream of the attractions of many exhibitors and not of just one, including the popular Harley Sadler with two shows; Press Day when the editors of the State will be guests of honor; the Queen's Pageant; University Harry Seay and Secretary Roy Rupard have good grounds for hoping to see a new attendance record set for the third straight year, the 1940 mark being 1,116,487, with 215,000 children on hand for Children's Day.

Sign in a cross-roads store: "If you spit on the floor at home, spit on the floor here. We want you feel at home."

It'll soon be that time o' year when the following lines will be true:

"The naked hills lie wanton to the breeze;

The fields are nude, the groves unfrocked;

Bare are the shivering limbs of shameless trees—

What wonder is it that the corn is shocked?"

Conversational English in one lesson:

The first hundred years are the hardest.

Is it hot enough for you?

Don't take any wooden nickels.

Don't do anything I wouldn't do. Okey doke.

I just consider the course

So what?

Oh, yeah—you and who else?

Public Notice

This article is written to only a few of our good, but thoughtless citizens and their conduct during a fire.

It seems that some of our townsmen, when the fire whistle blows, get in the streets ahead of the fire truck, park cars so near the burning building that they are a hindrance to the fire boys in their work.

Suppose your house was on fire? Would you want anyone to do anything that would impede the work in putting out the fire? Only a minute or two means quite a lot. All should keep at least two hundred feet from the fire unless you are called upon by the fire chief.

Let us think of this, and also keep in mind about running over the fire hose with cars. Hereafter all will be fined who drive over fire hose, no one excused.

CROSS PLAINS WILL MEET BAIRD BEARS THERE FRIDAY NITE

Dope Favors Bruins But No Quarter Being Conceded By The Tundering Herd

Cross Plains high school Buffaloes go to Baird Friday night for a non-conference clash with the powerful Baird Bears.

The team, pep squad and band will leave here Friday afternoon shortly before six o'clock and arrive in Baird to join the Baird band and pep squad in an elaborate street parade. The parade will form on the court house lawn and proceed to the South end of Market street.

The game will be the second this season for both teams. Cross Plains, having downed De Leon 12 to six last week, while Baird with the shock-troops playing most of the time upset Putnam 21 to nothing. Those who viewed the contest report that coach Bill White's boys were never extended.

Baird has eight lettermen from which this year's team has been formed, while Cross Plains has but four hold-overs from the 1940 season. From the standpoint of weight—although neither coach has given out official figures—Baird is believed to have about an eight pound to the man advantage.

A large company of fans and supporters is expected to follow the team to Baird for the game, which is to start at eight o'clock.

Officials are to be: Johnny Brookshire, R. L. Galdreath, and another arbiter also of Abilene as are the first two.

Dressy And Cross Plains Vote School Consolidation 37 To 0

Cross Plains and Dressy school districts were consolidated Saturday by a unanimous vote. The count was 37 for and none against. Nine votes were polled at Dressy and 28 in Cross Plains.

The Cross Plains district is now the largest in the county, comprising 115 square miles, as compared with 110 for the Baird district and 103 for the Bayou district.

An election on the merging of the Caddo Peak and Cross Plains district is to be held the twenty seventh of this month.

It was pointed out that the Dressy school building will remain in that community to become the property of the citizens thereof, to use for whatever purpose they desire. If the Caddo Peak consolidation carries, the building there will likewise remain in that community and become the property of Caddo Peak residents.

No opposition to the proposed Cross Plains-Caddo Peak consolidation has been manifested and proponents of the plan predict a unanimous carriage in both districts.

DEFENSE WORK SHOP TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

Boys who wish to enroll for instruction in metal working and automotive mechanics, under the national defense program, are reminded to contact either Superintendent Leo Varner of the local school system, or the instructor for the particular course which they desire to take. Owen Renfro is the auto mechanics teacher and Herbert Freeman the metal working teacher.

Freeman and Varner will make a trip to Fort Worth the first of next week to purchase power tools and are welding equipment to be used.

The courses are for boys between the ages of 17 and 25. Classes will likely begin Wednesday, September 24. The schedule of classes will be arranged to suit the convenience of the majority of students.

Each course will continue for 10 weeks and at the culmination of each course a certificate of graduation will be awarded the students successfully finishing the work. Graduates will also be enrolled in the Texas State Employment Service an agency designed to assist workmen in the securing of gainful employment.

Funeral services for J. S. Cox, father of W. T. Cox of this city, were held in Sidney Tuesday afternoon, September 16, at five o'clock, in the Cox home, with the pastor of the Methodist church, of Baags, officiating.

Interment was made in the Cox Cemetery near Sidney.

Mr. Cox, who had been in failing health for about two years, passed away Monday night at eleven o'clock.

Survivors include the widow and five sons and four daughters. They are Orville, Howard, Bidge and Otis Cox, of Sidney, and W. T. Cox of Cross Plains. Mrs. Carl Houck of Cleburne, Mrs. Oldham Ferrell and Mrs. Armon Ferrell of Sidney. Another daughter, Sally, lives in Oklahoma.

Those attending the funeral from Cross Plains were: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dunlap and daughter, Jo Nell, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Thate, H. B. Edington, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Freeman, Doc Tennison and Winifred Brigner.

J. L. Moore, formerly of Brownwood, has accepted a position at Barr's Bakery here replacing Clyde Kelley who has gone to Coleman. Mr. Moore, son of John Moore of Cottonwood, is well known in Cross Plains having operated a baking concern here a number of years ago, and having been cited a several times as one of the most skilled bakers in this section of Texas.

For the time being Mr. and Mrs. Moore and daughter are making their home in a trailer house, located on the lots just back of the D. C. Lee Service Station.

Between 35 and 40 Cross Plains boys and girls left this week to enter universities, colleges and business colleges, the Review learned in a check-up yesterday.

Students and the institutions they plan to attend are as follows: Jane Rae Lowe, Daniel Baker College at Brownwood; Maxine Hise, Abilene Christian College, Abilene; Katherine Hall, North Texas Business College, at Sherman; Tom Arrowood, Daniel Baker College, Brownwood; Elois Lane, North Texas State Teachers College, Denton; Jim Will Wilson, John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville; Bill Cowan, San Marcos College; Edwin Neeb, Jr., John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville; Leo McDermott, Draughon's Business College, Abilene; Kent Davis, John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville; Mary Souder, Draughon's Business College, Abilene; Hoyt Byrd, North Texas State Teachers College, Denton; Hasseltine Kimbrough, John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville; Pattie Sue Coburn, Sul Ross, Alpine; Earline Siffix, North Texas State Teachers College, Denton; Madeline McAnally, John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville; D. C. Hargrove, Howard Payne, Brownwood; Margaret Browning, John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville; Louise Hayes, Cisco Junior College, Cisco; Jack and Fred J. Tunnell, John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville; Annette Erwin, North Texas Business College, Sherman; Patsy McNeel, North Texas State Teachers College, Denton; Robert Anderson, John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville; Billie Ruth Loving, North Texas State Teachers College, Denton; Mildred Browning, Texas State College for Women, Denton; Teddy Walker, North Texas State Teachers College, Denton; Garland Smith, Machinist School, Dallas; B. W. Huntington, University of Texas, Austin; Ida Nell Williams, C.I.A. Denton; J. L. King, Cisco Junior College.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Granthum, of McCamey, and formerly of this place, announce the birth of a seven pound baby boy, born August 9.

The child has been named Charles Franklin.

Mrs. Granthum is the former, Miss Winnie Ruth Payne, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Payne of this city.

A motorcade of Rising Star boosters visited Cross Plains Tuesday morning, advertising the Free Fall Fair which begins in that city Thursday of this week and continues through Saturday.

Program for the fair includes two big street parades, one Friday morning at 11 and another Saturday morning at 10:30. Football games are to be played each night of the celebration, and the grand finale will be a display of works at 10:30 Saturday night, officially closing the exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrell (Pete) Robbins have returned to Cross Plains after several months in South Texas. They are making their home for the time being in a trailer house in the West part of town. Mr. Robbins told the Review yesterday that he planned to sell the trailer house and purchase a home here.

"You have to get up and leave Cross Plains for a few months to really appreciate what a fine little town we have here", he said.

Herbert Freeman has closed a deal for the old Welcome Service Station building on South Main Street and now has a crew of workmen tearing the structure down. He told the Review Tuesday morning that he would probably rebuild on the site soon.

The Review learned yesterday that Mrs. Griffin planned to repair the building, however, several of the back rooms will likely be removed from the structure making it about a six room house. Workmen are expected to begin on the house within the next few days.

Most of the Jones family furniture and household belongings were removed, however, they were damaged by water and smoke.

None of the loss, either to furniture or building, was covered by insurance.

A well being drilled on contract for San Antonio parties was spudded by E. E. Thate, of Cross Plains, on the Hugh Burns tract, four miles Northwest of Burkett Monday. Contract calls for drilling to a depth of 600 feet unless oil is encountered in commercial quantities at a lesser depth.

The Home Economics Girls of Cross Plains high school were entertained Tuesday night, September 16, with a skating party, sponsored by Mrs. Socrates Walker.

Those attending the party were: Verda Gray, Stella Mae Lee, Madie C. Edington, Patsy Ruth Smith, Merlin Richardson, Wanda Richardson, Lucille Smith, Doris Marie Hall, Alta Mae Horton, Jimmie Kate Howell, Faye Dillard, Billie Jean Cross, Charline Hutson, Nedra Jean Hutson, Dorothy Ripper, Dorothy Lee Wingo and Evelyn McMillan.

Miss Maxine Hise left Tuesday for Abilene Christian College, where she is to attend school this Fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hill and daughters were Fort Worth visitors the past week end.

Invented by members of Lone Star Gas paint crew this boat-swain's chair enables them to paint pipeline suspension bridge rods in less time than they used to require. It was designed primarily for the safety of the painter.

GAS MEN invent CHAIR TO PAINT BRIDGE

Every Lone Star Gas System Employee understands that his first duty is to maintain the dependability of Lone Star Service... for dependability is the prime factor in establishing the value to you of your gas service.

In performing his duty, whether at a desk analyzing maintenance costs or in the field overhauling a piece of machinery, a Lone Star Gas Man meets problems which are a test of his skill, a challenge to his ingenuity. For instance, in keeping pipeline suspension bridges in ship-shape condition, painting the suspender rods has been a problem. Now the job is easy and done twice as fast because of a boat-swain's chair invented by the paint crew which permits the painter to move from rod to rod in complete safety.

This is only one example of how a Lone Star Gas Man goes about the important job of maintaining Lone Star dependability. In improvising special tools for special jobs he increases the organization and operating efficiency which are reflected in Lone Star's low rates.

MEMO to Lone Star Customers:

The past few months have been the busiest season for Lone Star Employees in putting the system in shape to meet the coming winter's demands. Why not take their work as an example and put your own equipment in good operating condition?

Twenty eight men were present at the bi-weekly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce luncheon club in the basement of the Methodist church Tuesday at noon.

George R. Neel was named vice-president of the club and Wilburn Barr secretary to complete the organization which was begun about five weeks ago.

Mrs. C. V. Ramsey was elected to serve as paid secretary for the Chamber of Commerce and will have charge of the collection of the dues, mailing notices of meetings and other duties incidental to the office.

Plans for a county-wide livestock show to be held were discussed and County Agent J. C. Shockey, who was in attendance at the meeting, reported he would like very much to see such a move begun.

Next meeting of the group will be in the basement of the Baptist church Tuesday noon, September 30.

County Judge B. H. Freeland was also present at the meeting and spoke briefly.
