

From The Editor's Window BY MRS. J. S. YEAGER

There are many things and places of beauty and wonderment here in our own United States that would be well worth the money and time spent in visiting them.

We are told of one of these, which seems to be a freak of nature, in Kentucky which is also the home of the wonderful mammoth caves. Near Jenkins there is an isolated mountain which attracts many vacationists and sightseers every year. An opening between two giant boulders near the top of Pine Mountain has attracted much attention because of a very swift current of air passing through it which is intensely cool in summer and exactly the opposite in winter. The air is hot.

Scientists, so far, according to the report have not attempted an explanation of the change from hot to cold as the seasons change from year to year.

The vicinity of London, England recently experienced a very severe winter storm which caused much destruction throughout the area. A 70-mile wind forced channel boats into port and a 200-foot radio tower collapsed besides other minor damages.

The Karachi-Bombay area in India recently suffered a severe tidal wave in which 4,000 persons were believed to have been killed and about 40,000 made homeless.

It was said that relief workers returning from the scene reported seven towns along the coastal area were completely washed away.

It is reported that obsolete and excess property valued at more than $1,250,000 has been donated to Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas educational institutions by the Army.

Another $175,000 in surplus goods, previously requested by various institutions, has now been declared available.

More women were convicted for murder last year than during any previous year in the entire history of the United States according to figures released by Homer L. Garrison, director of the Texas State Department of Public Safety, and crime of all kinds is still on the increase all over the country.

Teacher.—Why does a giraffe have such a long neck?

Smart pupil.—Well, his head is so far from his body a long neck is absolutely necessary.

Wife: "So your client was acquitted of murder. On what ground?"

Lawyer: "Insanity. We proved that his father spent five years in an insane asylum."

Wife: "But he didn't, did he?"

Lawyer: "Yes. He was a doctor there but we had no time to bring that fact out."

Wife: "I want some money."

Tight-fisted Hubby: "Say, now, what did you do with that last dollar I gave you?"

Wife: "I spent 37 cents of it in 1936, 40 cents in 1937, and 23 cents this year."

It is said that Mr. and Mrs. John Boettinger have purchased the Phoenix Shopping News as "the first step in the establishment of a new daily newspaper" in Phoenix, Arizona.

Mrs. Boettinger is the former Anna Roosevelt, only daughter of the F. D. Roosevelts.

Mr. Boettinger was formerly the publisher of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Dr. Charles M. Sheldon, noted Congregational minister and author of In His Steps, died February 24 following one week's illness. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage on Monday preceding his death.

Rev. Sheldon would have celebrated his 89th birthday on February 26.

Eastland Recruiting District Meets 77.4% Of Assigned Quota

Lt. Jay H. Mehaffey, Commanding Headquarters of Eastland U. S. Army recruiting district, which includes Eastland, Stephens, Callahan, and Shackelford counties, announced this week that the Eastland area had made 77.4% of its quota of enlistments as assigned by the Dallas U. S. Army recruiting district headquarters.

Although the Eastland station surpassed its assigned quota during the month of January, the number of enlistments which totaled 24 for the month of February, did not vary greatly from the total amount enlisted during the month of January. The total number enlisted in January was 31 men. Consequently, the Eastland area quota was raised proportionately.

Original enlistments by draft age boys still outweigh the number of reenlistments made by ex-service men. Many of these enlistments were made by men who had just reached their 18th birthday and who enlisted for the educational benefits to be gained. Under the armed forces recruitment act, it is the Army's policy to offer all enlistees at this time the full benefit of the GI Bill of Rights, which includes four years of college at government expense and the $300.00 muster-out pay depending on length of service at the expiration of their term of enlistment. "This means," Lt. Mehaffey stated, "that young men who are now enlisting are earning the same veteran's rights and privileges that were earned by the combat men who did the fighting during the war; and in a country where we have 17,000,000 veterans, this status will serve them well in years to come."

Spare Stamp Good For Canning Sugar

The nation's housewives welcomed the news release this week which said the OPA had made a stamp available for canning sugar, with validation date set for next Monday. The sweets loving Americans are not even obligated to sign any statement that they will use the special stamp for canning sugar, but they are asked to use the sugar only for the purpose for which it has been issued.

Spare stamp No. 9 in War Ration Book 4 was designated by the OPA Wednesday as a home canning sugar stamp.

It will become good Monday for five pounds of canning sugar and will remain in effect until Oct. 31. Another stamp may be validated in May or June for canning sugar purposes if the supply of sugar in the country permits.

Validation of the stamp marks a departure from last year's method of requiring canning sugar users to make special application to local ration boards. The stamp system means that every ration book holder can get the same amount of canning sugar.

The stamp validation applies both to the regular No. 4 ration book and to the new sugar ration book now being issued.

SOLDIER LOSES $1340 IN ABILENE SATURDAY NIGHT

A sailor has a bad day in Abilene. Ralph King of Grosvenor, Texas had the misfortune to wake up Sunday morning to find $1340 cash missing from his pockets.

King stopped over in Abilene Saturday night enroute from Naval discharge center in Norman, Oklahoma. Somehow during the night his money disappeared, being all of his mustering out pay, plus most of his back pay and savings which accumulated while he was overseas.

The money is said to consist of three $100 bills, three $50 bills and forty-four $20 bills.

Anyone having any knowledge of the money, or of anyone else finding a large sum of money, notify the Abilene police.

This was too much money to be carrying around and is warning to everyone if they have any money, place it in the bank.

City Completes Channel Turning More Water in Lake

The city has just completed a channel about 1000 feet, turning more water in the city lake. This channel turns in all of the south end of the Harwell mountain with an additional area of about 100 acres, which will furnish the city with all the water that is necessary for the population of the town at present. The lake has never been more than half full, and we have been pumping from it since August. When the lake is full it will give us a water supply for more than a year without any rain.

We have plenty of water at the present time, but it may not rain enough to catch any water before May, therefore, we are asking the water users to use a minimum until the spring rains come and then we will have plenty of water for everyone. If the users do not conserve the present supply, the City Council might have to raise the price on all water used over the minimum of 2000 gallons to check the use until we get a better supply.

Selective Service Board Calling for Men Ages 18 to 25

Selective Service boards throughout this area this week are calling up for induction men between 18 and 25 who previously have been deferred for reasons of physical disability.

Reason for lowering physical standards is to make up shortages in manpower accumulated against calls in the months since V-J Day, according to a War Department announcement in Washington, D. C.

The nation's draft boards have been asked to furnish 50,000 men in April, plus 75,000 who have been deferred for physical reasons. It is hoped by this means to bring inductions up to the full 250,000 inductees needed by the Army during the first five months of this year.

This number, it was pointed out, is required in addition to enlistments to fulfill demobilization commitments by providing replacements for men eligible for discharge and meet important world-wide responsibilities of the nation.

The Army's planning estimates based on data from Selective Service indicate that approximately 35,000 men are being accepted from Selective Service each month under present physical standards. This is 15,000 men per month short of requirements.

GI Families Get Scenic Homes in Berchtesgaden

Frankfurt, Germany.—Berchtesgaden, scenic mountain retreat once favored by Hitler, will become the homesite for American families after April 1 when the wives and children of GIs begin arriving overseas.

Soldiers' homes are being constructed in an area beneath Hitler's shattered eyrie. Berchtesgaden is one of 56 cities and towns selected by officials in Germany and Austria to house thousands of American families.

$741,700,000 Food Distributed to Foreign Nations

Washington.—Shipments of foodstuffs amounting to $741,700,000 have been distributed to hungry civilians of other nations through the Allied Military Government, the War Department announced today.

Over a 29-month period between July, 1943 and November, 1945, these shipments went to Italy, the Balkans, Philippines, Netherlands East Indies, and that portion of Northwest Europe under United States and British control.

Wheat and flour made up 48 per cent of the entire shipments.

BAIRD BAPTIST TO BUILD NEW BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. A. A. Davis, pastor of the Baptist church at Baird, announces the church will build a new modern church and the plans are now going forward. The estimated cost of the church is $30,000. The decision to build the new building came in response to a recommendation from the deacons of the church, and the vote was unanimous.

The present plan is to tear down the present building, going away with the basement, and erect a new structure of brick and tile. Lumber in the present building will be used in constructing a tile veneered educational building under one roof.

Rev. Davis is now serving his 8th year as pastor. He came to Baird from Carbon in 1938 where he served for seven years. He is the author of the widely read book "The Trail of Blood," which was published by the local church.

Army Air Forces Seeing 338,000 Goal by July

Washington, D. C.—The Army Air Forces are only 36 per cent short of the 338,000 goal for enlisted men set for July 1, the War Department revealed today.

Latest figures show a total of 217,000 men enlisted for regular service. Of this number 113,028 have signed up for a period of three years.

Greatest single factor for the increase in enlistments was believed to be the policy of permitting personnel to retain their rank on a permanent basis upon reenlistment in the Regular Army.

Men leaving the service may reenlist in grade within three months of discharge from active duty. Many other benefits are also offered to men choosing the Regular Army as a career.

Peanut Business Brings in More Income Than Cotton

According to reports the peanut business in the Cross Plains and Rising Star district equals an oil well. Bank deposits jumped in the Cross Plains bank more than one-half million dollars the past season, which was largely from the sale of peanuts. Giving the Cross Plains bank deposits of $1,625,175 as by their statement of December 31, 1945.

The peanut outlook for another good crop was never better than it is at this time of the year.

V. W. Tunnell, vice president of the Cross Plains bank thinks the acreage will be increased over last year.

All of that territory south of Putnam, including Cross Plains, Rising Star, Cottonwood, Atwell and Nimrod, was at one time a heavy producer of cotton, producing many thousand bales of cotton. One year Putnam buyers purchased 150 cars of cottonseed from the points mentioned above. The writer and the late F. P. Shackelford handled the seed, about 75 cars each through the cotton ginning season. At the present time it is doubtful if the entire territory produced as many as 50 tons of seed in 1945.

Man Lives to 100 Years and Kept His Ideals & Enthusiasm

In this day and age when speed and money and big government seem to be controlling factors in the average life, it is refreshing to read about a man who has lived to be 100 years old and kept his ideals and enthusiasm about helping others.

Such a man is Henry C. Lyton, Chicago merchant, and the last one of the original fourteen founders of Chicago's State Street. Lyton's life, from before the gold rush to the Atomic age, is typically American. He was floor sweeper, clerk, bankrupt, millionaire, patron of the arts, philanthropist, scholar, sage and wit.

He provided coal in the winter, ice in the summer for the needy, he stopped the construction of a new store building during a hard winter, and made it a shelter for the homeless. He gave scholarships to worthy students. In his success he did not forget how it felt to be at the bottom. He did not depend on the government to solve his problems.

Will man have the individual opportunities in the Atomic age Lyton had? Only time will tell. Lyton is a product of private enterprise during a period when government did not dominate every phase of life.—Exchange.

John N. Simpson, a native of Weatherford, Texas, has been appointed General Livestock Agent for the Texas and Pacific Railway Company, with headquarters at Fort Worth, Texas, and assumed his new duties January 1.

Announcement of Mr. Simpson's appointment was made by A. P. Smirl, freight traffic manager for the company, Dallas, Texas.

Mr. Simpson is well qualified for his new duties by a wide range of experience. Educated in the public schools of Weatherford and Aledo, Texas, and a graduate of Texas A. and M. college with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1914, Mr. Simpson gained his first experience in the livestock field following his graduation from college when he was employed as a cattle buyer by a San Antonio, Texas packing concern.

This position he held until May 1917, when he entered the U. S. Army during World War I and subsequently served 14 months overseas as a captain in infantry. Discharged during July 1919, he returned to his original employment, but left a few months later to engage in ranching in Wheeler county, Texas.

Since that time Mr. Simpson has spent two years in the service of the United States Department of Agriculture in the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. college, and has engaged in the cattle industry and farming in Hemphill county, Texas.

Mr. Simpson came to the Texas and Pacific Railroad on February 15, 1930, when he was employed as assistant agricultural agent at Fort Worth, Texas, a position he held at the time of his recent advancement.

Mr. Simpson, a brother of famed Lieutenant General W. H. Simpson of the United States Army, lives with his wife and family at 5533 Ebers Street in Fort Worth, Texas.

According to Reports To be no Shortage In Petroleum

There have been numerous gloomy predictions that very shortly the United States will have exhausted its petroleum resources. Such unqualified gloom is not justified, a new book entitled and edited by Leonard M. Fanning. "Our oil resources," holds the opinion and analysis of 18 outstanding authorities and oil company executives. Among other things, it states that "there will be no sudden failure of our supply of petroleum. Too large a proportion of our producing oil fields are already in the settled production stage, where their remaining reserves can be recovered only at a very slow declining rate over a score of years. We shall have timely warning. The new industry of making liquid fuels from other raw materials will establish itself as rapidly as the petroleum supply fails. Under these circumstances, it is hardly conceivable (unless wars are to continue unnecessarily) that the United States will suffer a critical shortage of liquid fuels within the foreseeable future."

Make Laws Equal Only Solution to Strike Situation

By this time it surely is apparent to everyone but those who refuse to recognize the truth, that future industrial peace in our country and protection of the public interests depends upon legislation which will: 1. Make unions equally responsible with management before the law for their acts, including living up to contracts once entered into. 2. Insure the greatest possible efficiency in production by taking managerial functions and supervisory staffs out of the area of legally required collective bargaining; and 3. To promote industrial peace by establishing procedures which will result in the genuine collective bargaining to low levels.

Experience has proven that when labor unions believe Government will support their demands against the employer, the temptation to short circuit orderly collective bargaining procedure is almost irresistible.

Humble enough, they shoot for the greatest amount by traveling the shortest line in the quickest time, their own members and the public as well, must pay the price in the long run.

New Calculating Machine Invented Fastest on Market

Philadelphia.—A new type calculating machine, nicknamed the "Mechanical Einstein" and reported to be the fastest ever invented, was announced today by the War Department. Experts say the robot machine, operated by electronics, may possibly open the mathematical way to better living for every man.

They foresee improved industrial products, better communication and transportation, superior weather forecasting and general advantages in science, and engineering may be possible. The calculator was developed for the Army by the University of Pennsylvania's Moore School of Electrical Engineering.

It was described as being 1,000 times faster than the most advanced types of calculating machines. The electronic mechanism makes possible the quick computation of mathematical problems that ordinarily would take years to solve. Now such answers may be found in a matter of hours.

The machine is called the "Eniac," short for "electronic numerical interrogator and computer." It adds, subtracts, multiplies, divides, computes square roots and does the most complex calculations.

Take Care of Colds

Colds are almost as popular a topic of conversation as the weather. And, as with the weather, few people do anything about them. Many people, of course, have their favorite remedy for colds but even they find that colds keep coming back.

While people do not die just from colds, the common cold often leads to serious illnesses which may cause death. Not only that, colds are a nuisance and very disagreeable things to have. They can make a person miserable and lower his capacity for work and for the enjoyment of leisure.

Medical science does not claim to know all the answers about colds. It does know enough important facts about them, however, to help people avoid catching colds or, once they have them, to indicate how to care for them to prevent colds from leading to more serious illnesses.

It is important to remember that colds are catching. They do not develop spontaneously. We catch colds from someone who has one or we give a cold to someone else.

There would be fewer colds if people always remembered to cover their mouths when sneezing or coughing, if they were careful not to drink from glasses or cups used by another person.

One way to avoid catching colds is to keep away from people who have them. We can't always do this, so we should keep our bodies in such healthy condition that they are able to resist colds. This means getting sufficient rest, eating well-balanced meals, which include fresh fruits and vegetables, and seeing the doctor periodically, even if we think we are perfectly well.

If we do catch a cold we should not neglect it. A cold may lead to influenza, to pneumonia, to ear trouble. It may so weaken the system that we become a ready prey to tuberculosis.

Children are particularly apt to develop ear trouble after a cold. When they have had colds they should be kept away from school until the worst is over. While at home, they should be kept quiet and should not be permitted to play with other children.

It is not always necessary for an adult to stay at home with a cold but it is often the wise thing to do, if the cold is accompanied by fever, both adults and children should by all means stay in bed.

Rest and diet are important factors in curing a cold. Weakened by the cold, the body needs extra rest and easily digested foods. Rich, heavy foods should be avoided. The diet should include plenty of liquids—water, fruit juices and SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO, on March 3, 1871, the first spike was driven to anchor the rails of the Texas and Pacific—rails that were destined to push back the wilderness and open up a new world of opportunity to the nation. In a land where shaggy buffalo roamed the plains... where Indian raids were still a threat and where stage coach and wagon train were the mode of transportation, this was an epoch-making undertaking. For wherever those rails touched, progress followed in their wake. All along the Texas and Pacific towns sprang up, industry thrived and the whole Southwest was sparked to unprecedented development.

The steady, sure growth of the Texas and Pacific has continued throughout the years—drawing cities and towns closer—moving the products of Louisiana and Texas to the markets of the world—bringing in essential goods to further the economic development of the Southwest. Today, as we celebrate our Diamond Jubilee after 75 years of service, the Texas and Pacific dedicates itself to the task of providing you with the finest and safest transportation... to expanding and broadening the industrial, economic and agricultural progress in Louisiana and Texas and throughout the entire Southwest.

Q. Are weed seeds normally long-lived?

A. It is hard to believe, but nevertheless true, that weed seeds may produce plants as long as forty years after the seeds ripened. For this reason, the fight against weeds must be continuous and unrelenting.

Q. What causes some turkeys to develop a crop which is excessively long, flabby, and pendulous?

A. A pendulous crop may be due to heredity, to climatic conditions, or both. Gorging water after going without it during hot, dry periods, or the consumption of coarse dry grass or other high fibrous materials are contributing factors.

Q. How much does it cost the farmer for each pig that dies?

A. Considering the feed cost to be 2 cents per pound, the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that the money-loss for a dead pig is as follows:

- Pig dead at birth.....$2.80
- Pig dead at weaning..... 5.20
- Pig dead 8 weeks after weaning..... 7.20

Adding the cost of labor and overhead, the cost of each dead pig reaches an even higher total. Fortunately, scientific management and sanitation practices have substantially reduced losses from cholera and other preventable diseases.

Q. Does the feeding of wheat germ oil boost the fertility of dairy bulls?

A. No; this conclusion was reached after extensive research at the Research Farm of Purina Mills in 1936, and has since been confirmed by work done at Cornell University.

Q. Does the presence of large and numerous "milk veins" in the udder of a cow indicate that she will be a heavy milk producer?

A. Probably not, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. These external veins assist in carrying blood away from, and not to, the udder. Moreover, the internal veins are apparently large enough to return all the blood from the udder.

Send your questions about any phase of farm management to FARM FACTS, 815 South Eighth Street, St. Louis 2, Mo. Questions will be answered without charge either by mail or in this column as a service of this magazine.

ALL THEY ASKED WAS AN EVEN BREAK

Building a new country was no easy job. But there were men and women willing to tackle it—to turn their backs on the government managed way of life and their face toward new frontiers. All they asked was an even break.

Free enterprise is another way of saying "an even break." It's the basic American principle of vision and private initiative. Just give an American an even break—a chance to get ahead—and he'll go on from there.

But when government goes into business, in competition with its citizens, the American ideal of an even break is destroyed—for government in business enjoys special privileges that are denied the people.

Take the case of government-owned power plants, for example. They pay no taxes; get money from the U. S. Treasury at little or no interest; make up losses out of the pockets of the taxpayers.

On the other hand, America's business-managed power companies—owned and operated by millions of folks like you—are on their own. They pay their full share of taxes, and they pay fair interest on loans.

The same forethought and experience which furnished electric power for a global war will assure America dependable—and cheap—electric service for a post-war world. There are still new frontiers in electric living to be opened. And business men can do the job better than bureaucrats.

THE throaty roar of the sturdy, two-cylinder engines of the John Deere Tractors goes on and on. Weary operators climb down, others take their places. Through dawn, dusk, and midnight—twenty-four hours a day—three shifts keep the tractors lurching down gullies, clinging to slopes, streaking along level terrain.

The scene is the testing grounds for the famous John Deere two-cylinder tractor. Here that tractor will get such continuous gruelling operation as it would never receive in the farmer's possession.

When that test is finished, engine will be torn down, parts disassembled. Was there excessive wear on this part? Did any weaknesses appear? Could any part be improved? The answer to these questions—and many more that engineers ask—are all revealed by these exhaustive tests.

All John Deere farm equipment is subjected to similar searching tests in the field. It is a part of the over-all policy that guides the entire John Deere organization.

SALES SERVICE

OUR POLICY ON New Car Orders

in accordance with fair procedure

We are now accepting orders for earliest possible delivery of new cars. However, as you know, there are not enough new cars for all who want them. Therefore, we want to make a clear statement of our policy . . . so that everyone will know exactly how we are handling orders for and delivery of new cars during the current shortage period.

We intend to fill orders for new cars in the order in which they are received. There are two exceptions to this basic rule—

We will definitely reserve a percentage of our cars for those who have served in the Armed Forces. We feel sure that all our customers will agree with the justice of this exception.

If a definite need for a new car is a factor, we will, in the public interest, determine such cases on the basis of the now abolished, but publicly accepted, OPA priority lists.

This policy is in your interest. We are following it because we want to serve you fairly and well today as in the past. The Ford Motor Company and we ourselves are making every effort to deliver your new car promptly and honestly.
