COURAGE - RESPECT

—Ted Dotts, Jr.

Today's historians are beginning to have a great deal of respect for the first people who settled this Staked Plains—your fathers and mine. It seems that a transition was necessary when the first settlers came upon these plains. In the East men could live in forests where water and game were plentiful; but, on the Staked Plains there were no forests, little game, and about the same amount of water. Thus, the man who settled the Plains had to meet life in a manner different from the way his father had met life. He had to rely upon the horse and the six-gun; whereas, a rifle and a log fort were what his father had placed his reliance upon. We respect the early settlers of the Plains not only for the results they obtained, but because they had the courage to make the changes necessary to exist and to conquer.

And, just as we respect the Plainsman for his willingness to make changes necessary to victory, I think we can accord respect to the Negro on this same account. Hate the Negro or not, we, as sons of Plainsmen who had to face new situations, can respect those Negroes who meet today's changing world with the concept of nonviolence. This new weapon—nonviolence—takes courage. The nonviolent creed has three points to fit: "... to resist without bitterness; to be cursed and not reply; to be beaten and not hit back". (I quote from Martin Luther King, Jr.'s book, WHY WE CAN'T WAIT). It would take, it seems to me, great courage to resist, to be cursed, to be beaten, without being revengeful, without cursing in return and without hitting back. For this kind of courage we can respect our Negro brothers.

But courage and respect do not hold all the answers. Even a stupid man can act courageously and thereby earn respect. The Negro has earned respect by the fact of his courage in the face of great odds at Birmingham, Alabama in 1963. In that city he met curse after curse and beating after beating; yet, he retained, for the most part, the hold on his new found philosophy of nonviolence. But, in Harlem, the Negro is not showing forth his courage. He is allowing his emotions and his passions to guide every move. He is denying that God has given him reason enough to pry loose an answer to his problems. It does not take courage to hurl bricks and bottles down upon officers of the law and people of the street from hiding places on the roofs of the city. That takes only animal depravity and passion. It takes no courage to loot a store that has been torn open by rioters. That takes only selfish desire.

It takes courage to stand up for what you know is right. This is the reason that the Negro won a great victory for freedom in Birmingham. It does not take courage to act as the Negro is acting in Harlem. And that is why what takes place in Harlem will go down as a defeat for the Negro just at the time he needs victory.

The Civil Rights Legislation provides the Negro with an opportunity to enter into the mainstream of American Life. The Law is now on his

Freda Pointer Receives $500 HD Scholarship

LUBBOCK—Freda Pointer, 18-year old Hockley County 4-H Club girl from Ropesville, has been named winner of the annual $500 scholarship given by Home Demonstration Clubs of Extension Service District 2. The scholarship was presented to Freda in ceremonies held Thursday night in conjunction with the Hockley County 4-H Dress Revue, at the Hockley County Fairgrounds.

Freda is the seventeenth winner in the scholarship program. Mrs. Lynn Miller, Home Demonstration Council Chairman from Floyd County, issued the scholarship check.

Freda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pointer of Ropesville, has been in 4-H work for 9 years. She was graduated from high school in May and will enter college in September.

When asked what she likes most about 4-H work, the scholarship winner answered, "Everything." She especially likes to help others, and has been working with younger 4-H members for the past four years as a junior leader. She is a member of the Ropes Starlight Club.

Freda has excelled in leadership work. She has been president of her local club for two years, a 4-H Council delegate for three years, and vice president, secretary, reporter, and program chairman for one year each. She has also been president and secretary of the County Junior Leaders 4-H Club.

Last year, Freda was a 4-H electric award winner, and in 1962 she was Gold Star 4-H girl and a dress revue winner. She received the canning award in 1961, and the home economics award in 1960. She also has been a county winner in dairy foods, food preparation, and clothing programs. The 4-H girl has completed result demonstrations in meat animals, recreation and bedroom improvement. Freda will serve as a delegate to the State 4-H Leadership Lab at Brownwood, August 3-8.

"Freda is an outstanding 4-H member with zeal to help other 4-H members. Her goal is to help 'make the best better,'" according to Beverly Alexander, County Home Demonstration Agent who supervises her program.

The 4-H girl also has been active in school and church events. She has been in the school band for eight years, and has served as featured twirler, band sweetheart and princess. She has been an officer of the Future Homemakers of America Chapter of her school and area, and has been song leader for her church youth department.

Voters in the Ropes Independent School District will vote Saturday, August 15, as to whether or not the schools in Ropesville shall be integrated.

It is stated the school board of trustees will be governed by the vote.

The election will be held in the High School Library.

By law it is not necessary for the Board to call this election, but they want to be governed by the will of the people.

Superintendent O. V. Fuller, speaking for the Board, told the Plainsman there were several things taken into consideration before it was decided on an election.

First—Most of the schools in this section are already integrated, with Levelland integrating the top three grades of their school this year.

Second—This brought out the fact that the Ropes colored high school students have been attending the Levelland Colored High School in the past, which now leaves the Ropes school no place to send them—or we should say, one, for that is all the Ropes schools have in high school.

Third—Actually there are only fourteen colored students in the Ropes School District which would require but one teacher and easily be absorbed into the white school.

Fourth—Integration would mean a saving of $7,000 per year to the tax payers as it would eliminate one bus route. This bus route, which carries the colored pupils back and forth, receives no support from the State. In this $7000 is the salary which would be paid a teacher, which will not be needed under the new setup.

Mr. Fuller stated there had been no pressure brought to bear on the schools to integrate, but pointed out it was only a matter of time until the schools would have to integrate whether they want to or not.

Unlike most towns in the county, Ropes does not have a colored community. The only ones in the district live on farms, employed as farm laborers.

FIRST LOAD OF GRAIN SOLD HERE

The first load of 1964 grain sold in Ropes Tuesday to the Ropes Grain Corp. by James Bartlett, who farms between Ropes and Meadow.

Charles Shannon, manager of the Ropes Grain Corp., told the Plainsman they paid $1.75 a hundred for the grain and also gave Mr. Bartlett a premium.

As far as we know this is the earliest grain has ever been marketed in Ropes.

ATTENTION, ALL 4-H GIRLS

If you would like to can corn, be at the home of Mrs. John Ream at 8:00 a.m. Monday, August 10. Please bring 6 pt. jars with new rings and lids. Also a cutting knife. Pam Ream.

broken. This is to give warning that City Marshal Dub Riney has been instructed to issue tickets to any and every one who makes an illegal turn on this street.

LATIN IS FINED FOR DISTURBING PUBLIC WORSHIP

Three Latin American men were arrested Sunday by City Marshal Dub Riney and turned over to the county. One was charged with disturbing public worship and the other with drunkenness.

Dub stated Saturday night was quiet until about 2 p.m. when a car drove into town with two white boys in it. They did a few turns about main street when he stopped them for investigation.

"We're lost," they told Dub. "We don't know where we are."

"You are not lost," Dub told them. "You just been found," and he arrested the two and let them sober up in the city jail.
