High Plains Cotton Market Outlook Improving

Frenship FFA Exhibits at South Plains Fair

The purpose of the exhibit is to tell a story in a detailed manner, yet use the simplest methods possible and present an educational message. The exhibit shows that crossbreeding will yield more income at weaning due to calves being larger at birth and heavier at 180 days of growth as compared to purebreds. Hereford and Angus cross were compared with the purebred Angus.

The Frenship FFA Ag Mechanics class exhibited two woodworking projects which placed 5th at the South Plains Fair. The project is to display skill in using woodworking tools. Each measurement is to be as precise as possible.

Frenship Freshmen Football Team Marks Up Win No. 3

Frenship's freshman Tigers earned their third straight victory

Morton Victorious Over Tigers

Frenship scored early in the first quarter as the Tigers recovered a fumbled kickoff return by Morton. Frenship drove in from the 21 yard line in only 5 plays with Monte Booher sweeping right end for the final 5 yards, and the TD. Brent Drennan was successful on the extra point kick making the score 7-0 in favor of the Tigers.

Frenship held Morton for a while but fumbled on their own 35 yard line and Morton took advantage of the mistake and scored. After the kickoff, Frenship fumbled on the first play on their own 20 yard line and with only 3 seconds gone in the second quarter, Morton was leading 14-7.

Morton then capped another drive late in the second quarter with a 30 yard run around their left end. At the half Morton was sitting on a comfortable 22-7 lead.

Frenship held Morton scoreless in the second half. The Tigers, led by Rickey Williams 50 yard run in the third quarter, fought back and scored with 47 seconds left in the third quarter. Monte Booher scored his second TD of the evening on a quarterback sneak. Drennan's kick was good, making the score Morton 22 and Frenship 14.

The fourth quarter was a scoreless dual as both teams threatened but neither was able to cross the goal line.

Frenship battles the Roosevelt Eagles Friday night at 7:30 p.m. at Tiger Stadium. This will be the first district game for both teams. Roosevelt enters the contest with 2 wins and 1 loss. They were open last week. Frenship has 1 win and 3 losses.

Thursday with a convincing 34-0 win over Littlefield.

The Tigers scored on their first possession with Ricky Soto picking up the last 27 yards on a sweep around the right side. Then with just 17 seconds left in the first period, Mark Turner scored from the 1 to put Frenship ahead 12-0. Todd McKee added the extra points to move the score to 14-0.

There was no more scoring until the third period when Ralph Gonzales went 33 yards around the left side to up the score to 20-0. On their next possession, Gonzales scored again, this time from the seven and with Ricky Soto adding the extra points, the score stood 28-0.

Following the insuing kickoff, it took the Tigers just 17 seconds to regain possession and score the final points of the game on a 56 yard touchdown strike from Roger Allen to Ralph Gonzales and seal the score at 34-0.

The Tiger defense played well holding Littlefield to a total net offense of 13 yards. The freshmen were led by Eddie Willard and Leslie Davis who combined for 15 tackles against Littlefield's offense.

This week the Tigers open the district campaign at Roosevelt beginning at 5:30 Thursday, October 2.

Junior High Football

The Frenship 7th grade team opened up their district season with a 30-8 win over Roosevelt. The ball game was also the first home game for the Tigers. The scoring was done by several different people. The first score came on a pass from Pat Gaston to Nicky Schmidt. Gaston scored the Texas consumers may see an improved textile situation for cotton during 1975-76, Marlene Odle, a clothing specialist, reports.

While Texas produces about one-third of the nation's cotton, it only processes about one-fifth of the national total. Now a relatively new development—open end spinning—makes Texas cotton more useful for clothing.

"This system can use short staple, low micronaire cotton to spin high quality yarns and do it three to five times faster than the conventional ring spinning method.

"The spinner works more efficiently and saves seven to eight cents a pound on raw material costs. New open-end spinning mills in West Texas will increase the percentage of cotton processed in Texas," she said.

Miss Odle is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Highlights of the 1975-76 world cotton outlook are prospects for near-record beginning stocks, smaller production, and larger consumption. Market analysts expect U.S. cotton exports to increase because of improved foreign relations and anticipated foreign purchasing."

However, with current low cotton prices and increased competition from food crops, the global output of cotton may drop moderately below 1974-75.

"Consumers apparently have rediscovered cotton. It's making market gains at the expense of manmade fabrics. For instance, 100 per cent cotton flame retardant uniforms recently replaced polyester-cotton blends in the New York City Fire Department.

"In addition, cotton recently was selected as the best fabric for industrial canvas used in connection with the building of the Alaska Pipeline.

"And the largest U.S. slack manufacturer has introduced a 100 per cent cotton fabric into its line of products for the first time since the advent of manmade fibers."

New fabric finishes promise to make cotton more versatile, the specialist reported.

"Researchers at the Southern Regional Research Laboratory are testing a new germicidal finish for cottons. It will kill and inhibit the growth of unwanted bacteria, with potential uses for bandages, hospital gowns, sheets and pillowcases," she said.

"No smell" underwear with its own 'build-in deodorant' is now available in men's socks, T-shirts, athletic shirts and briefs.

"A new dyeing technique for cotton that ads new dimensions to denim and twill allows one side of the fabric to be dyed one color and the other side another color.

"Cottons blended in different amounts with other fibers are constantly researched to produce fabrics that combine performance characteristics with comfort and easy care. One of the most recent blends is 60 per cent cotton with 40 per cent polyester. Other blends are with spandex, wool, mohair and rayon," she said.

National 4-H Week to Be Observed October 5-11th

4-H boys and girls throughout Texas and the nation will join in a salute to America's Bicentennial celebration during National 4-H Week, October 5-11.

The annual observance, with this year's theme of "4-H—76 ... Spirit of Tomorrow", is designed to accent the history, ideals and goals of the 4-H program, points out Dr. Don Stormer, state 4-H and youth leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Many county groups are planning special events, service projects and recruitment drives during National 4-H Week," notes Stormer. "It's a special time when 4-H is recognized for its contributions to the growth and development of youth."

The 4-H program is active in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands as well as in more than 80 countries. It is administered by the Cooperative Extension Service, and Extension professionals play an active role in recruiting, training and assisting volunteer leaders who help with local 4-H activities.

According to Stormer, some 7.2 million youth between the ages of 9 and 19 are currently enrolled in 4-H, with more than 215,000 of these in Texas. More than 21,000 volunteer adult and youth leaders assist with local 4-H programs in the state.

"Although the majority of 4-H members still live on farms and in rural communities, 24 per cent now come from larger urban and suburban areas," notes the 4-H leader. "Well over half the Texas 4-H'ers live on farms or in towns of under 10,000 population."

Texas 4-H'ers participate in more than 60 educational project areas, with the most popular being food and nutrition, clothing and textiles, and horses and ponies.

"Since its beginning around the turn of the century, 4-H has offered practical learning and citizenship experiences to millions of young people," Stormer points out.

Casey PTA Meeting Held

The Casey PTA of Wolfforth met Monday evening for their first meeting of the school year. The executive committee made the following recommendation. That the PTA sponsor and pay for the paving of two areas on the playground at Casey Elementary School. These areas will be approximately 20 yards long and 20 yards wide. The areas will be filled with 6 inches of caliche and 1 1/2 inches of hot mix. The approximate cost is $1,400 for each area or a total of $2,800.

The PTA proposes to pay for these two areas by using all of the carnival money that we will receive this year, 1975, and next year, 1976. The first payment will be made on October 30th of this year. Money covering the expense will be borrowed from the American Bank of Commerce in Wolfforth at 7 1/2% simple interest.

It was understood that all the king and queen money raised by each room at Casey will be retained by that room, and all of the money raised the night of the carnival will be used to pay for the paved play area. The project was approved unanimously (131 for and 2 against). Completion of the

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin—Two hundred and fifty Texas liberals met here recently to talk 1976 presidential political strategy and threatened to challenge the new presidential primary bill.

The group, led by Democratic National Committeewoman Billie Carr, said winner-take-all provisions of the primary law—designed to help presidential aspirations of U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen—may tend to deprive minorities of delegate strength.

Ms. Carr indicated the primary act would be challenged under the Federal Voting Rights Act, designed to protect minorities.

Liberals, determined to make things tough for Bentsen and Alabama Gov. George Wallace in the 1976 primary, remained undecided what course of action to follow.

They will meet again October 25 and November 22.

Ms. Carr urges filing of uncommitted delegate slates for national nominating convention seats from all 31 senatorial districts.

Others prefer lining up behind one of the serious liberal presidential contenders, and still others want to file delegates for a "favorite person" like former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough or Ms. Carr.

Meanwhile, the liberals heard sales talks from representatives of six potential presidential candidates.

Trial Postponed

Impeachment trial of District Judge O.P. Carrillo by the Senate has been postponed until October 6—perhaps later.

The trial had been scheduled to resume Sept. 29, but Carrillo's trial in Corpus Christi on income tax charges lasted longer than expected.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said he consulted with attorneys for all parties and the Senate's legal counsel and concluded that the "wisest course of action" is to put off the impeachment hearing for at least another week.

Courts Speak

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals reversed conviction of three for the murder of a Houston service station attendant because their statements to police incriminated each other.

The same Court affirmed the life sentence of a Lewisville former airline pilot for killing an aged woman cousin from whom he was due to inherit $400,000 worth of land.

Galvestonian Shearn Moody Jr. lost an appeal to the State Supreme Court to get back money from a trust fund he signed over to an insurance firm.

A longer sentence cannot be given on retrial than on initial trial even where the second is probated, the Court of Criminal Appeals held in throwing out a five-year probated sentence of a Terry County man retried on check fraud charges.

The Supreme Court said a life insurance firm cannot deny benefits due to misrepresentation after it has required a physical examination.

Fall And Winter Fishing

During the colder weather, one trick used by Texas bass fishermen to get old "bucket mouth" in the boat is put a silver spoon in his mouth. Wintertime is one of the best times of the year to put a big braggin' size bass on your stringer. Fewer fish are caught, but veteran anglers argue that fall and winter bass are usually bigger. Jigging in deeper water will produce good results. Guides on lakes in East Texas report the time from Thanksgiving to Christmas as a "hot" time for spoonin' up bass. A stiff worm rod, heavy line, and a good supply of silver finished spoons do the trick. Lower the spoon to the bottom, give it a good jerk, and let it settle. No strike? Reel up a couple of turns, and try again. Brush and tree tops are the best bets, in the deeper water.

SPAG Receives Grant for Law Enforcement

Governor Dolph Briscoe announced his approval today of a $30,000 grant to the South Plains Association of Governments for the regional law enforcement training program.

The money comes from the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office. CJD administers the state's block grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration under the Crime Control Act of 1973.

Utilizing the resources of South Plains College, Wayland Baptist College, the Department of Public Safety, and personnel from local agencies, the program will offer basic and advanced training courses. The courses are developed within the guidelines of minimum standards as outlined by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

The grants were among 38, approved by Governor Briscoe, totaling $2,682,210 for improvements in law enforcement and criminal justice at state, regional, and local levels.

REMEMBERING...

By BILL D. BROOKS

FIRST GRADE

My mom took me to my room the first day. Good thing, too, I probably couldn't have found it by myself. The school was big, a maze of hallways, big rooms and dusty trophy cases. A friend of mine a year older than me had told me there were over seventy-five students in that school in the twelve grades and I believed it when I saw the building. My teacher seemed nice enough that day. She smiled at my mom and asked me if I had all my supplies. I held out my big chief tablet and cigar box of used-up crayons but she didn't take them. She told me to take the desk in the third row, four seats back.

The desks were made of heavy black cast iron and had wooden tops and seats, complete with carved initials, ink stains and scratches. There was a groove in the top for pencils and a big round hole. I learned later the hole was for an ink bottle, though we weren't allowed to have one. Traditionally, the bottles were used to dip pigtails into and our teacher wasn't going to have any of that. The desks were all hooked together with wooden runners and the front of my desk was the back of the next one. Joel sat in front of me. He seemed nice enough. One day I looked down and discovered my shoes were wet. Joel didn't think about going to the toilet soon enough.

None of us liked to go to the toilet. It was the outdoor type and was very dirty and smelly. Older kids sometimes gave little ones trouble out there. They would threaten to drop you into the hole or throw your books or lunch down there or other things just as bad. There was never any toilet paper in the toilets and that made matters worse. One kid's mother made him carry some with him all the time in his hip pocket. We kidded him about it but we used to borrow from him when there was a real emergency.

Our room had big high windows but they were too high off the floor for us to see outside. Kids might be distracted from the learning process if they could see outside. The teacher furnished our pencils. They were big fat ones with no eraser. We weren't allowed to sharpen them, she took care of that for us.

We did get to dust erasers once, though. The blackboard erasers were clogged with chalk dust and the teacher sent three of us boys out to dust them. We pounded them on big flat rocks out behind the building. But there were so many we got to goofing off and started dusting each other. Covered with chalk dust, we looked up to find the teacher, hands on hips, glaring at us. That was the last time we got to dust erasers but the first of many times we got paddled.

I either learned enough that year to go on to second grade or the teacher just wanted to get rid of me. I was glad, though, because second graders were big kids and they got to do what they wanted. They got to pick the desk they wanted. They could keep a notebook with real notebook paper and they even got to sharpen their own pencils.

Registration Continues for Lubbock Adult Education Classes

Registration continues this week for tuition-free adult education classes in Lubbock and eight area communities. Adults may enroll and begin classes throughout the school year.

Reading, writing, arithmetic, English, and other subjects are taught. Classes are designed to improve a person's ability to secure employment, qualify for a job promotion, achieve a certificate of high school equivalency, and to become a more efficient consumer and more active citizen.

Classes meet on a schedule of two nights per week from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m.:

Mondays and Wednesdays—In Lubbock at Harwell Elementary, Matthews Jr. High, Struggs Jr. High, and the Lubbock State School; in Post and Southland at the high schools.

Mondays and Thursdays: Friendship, Morton, and Muleshoe High Schools.

Tuesdays and Thursdays: In Lubbock at Alderson Jr. High, Martin Elementary, Monterey High, O.L. Slaton Jr. High, and Lubbock State School (day classes); also at the junior high in Slaton and the high schools in Crosbyton and Idalou.

The classes are being offered for the first year at Monterey High School. The program will be taught in rooms 151 and 152, located in the annex at the southeast corner of the building.

Irons Speaker for League of Women Voters Recently

The League of Women Voters will hold their October 2, Thursday, general meeting at Sambo's Restaurant on University. Meeting will begin at 11:45 a.m. and the guest speaker will be Mr. Ed Irons, superintendent of the Lubbock Public schools, who will discuss the text book selections.

Mr. Irons has served as chairperson of the State Text Book Committee for 1973 and 74.

Cost for the luncheon is $2.00 and everyone is invited to attend.

Library Lunch Bunch to Meet

Tuesday, October 7, the Lubbock City-County Library Lunch Bunch program will present the second in its series of programs on Alternative Energy Sources, when Dr. Henry Thomas will speak on Nuclear Energy.

Dr. Thomas holds a PhD from Vanderbilt University, and most of his research efforts have been in nuclear physics. He has done work at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, headquarters of the United States Energy Research and Development Administration, and at the Scientific Laboratory at Los Alamos, New Mexico. From 1958 to 1972, Dr. Thomas served as the head of the physics department at Texas Tech University, and from 1972 until the summer of 1975 as associate dean of the Texas Tech College of Arts and Sciences. He is presently a professor in the Texas Tech physics department, and doing research in solid state physics.

The Lunch Bunch Program

meets each Tuesday from 12:15 p.m. to 12:45 p.m. in the Community Room of the George and Helen Mahon Library.

I can think of more pleasant ways for a new coach to break into the Southwest Conference football championship race than by playing Texas. And Steve Sloan knows it now better than anyone else, unless it be J.T. King and Jim Carlen.

DeWitt Weaver had only on opportunity and, like the others, bit the dust.

Victories over Texas have been about as rare as fresh water in the ocean. Weaver didn't score one in the league, while King succeeded once in six tries and Carlen, once in five.

Except among the most rabid faithful, there was little optimism of a Tech victory Saturday night. The Raiders had not shown in two games the type of muscle needed, let alone the finesse.

Florida State used an attack that put a type of pressure on the defense not usually faced, while New Mexico had little in the way of a ground offensive. Both games were won by Tech, but the Raiders didn't show the type of offense or defense that would bother Texas that much.

There's really not much of anything fancy about the Longhorns. In fact, I wouldn't doubt but what Darrell Royal would be happy to send his play book to any opposing coach. It wouldn't help a bit, because the coaches know what Texas is going to do.

The Longhorns are going to line up, nose to nose, and say here we come, stop us. It's going to be Earl Campbell up the gut, Marty Akins on the keeper or maybe a pitch to a halfback.

It became painfully obvious right after the kick-off that Tech's defensive theory was lacking. Richard Bell is sorely missed, because he was a master of taking material, disguising the defense and coming up with defenses that worked.

But Tech doesn't have Richard Bell, unfortunately, and it was obvious that the Raider defense was incapable of stopping the Horns. Just as obviously, they didn't.

The only glimmer of hope for the rest of the season is that Tech's offense performed pretty well, if you'll close your eyes to four—count 'em—four fumbles and two interceptions. Mistakes like that make it extremely difficult for any team to win.

But when the Raiders took the ball after the first Texas touchdown and marched methodically, there is basis for hope. The fumble, of course, killed the drive and, to all intents and purposes, Raider hopes for a victory.

It reminds me of the time the Chicago Bears beat the Washington Redskins 73-0. Early in the game a Redskin dropped a Sammy Baugh pass in the end zone which would have made it 7-0.

After the game a Washington reporter, I think it was Burt Hawkins, now traveling secretary for the Texas Rangers, asked Baugh if catching that pass would have made a difference.

"You bet!" Sammy snapped back. "If he had caught that pass we'd only have lost by 73-7!" Q.E.D.

I'd say, as a result of that painful lesson in Austin, that the Raiders will have to go back to the drawing board on defense. It's obvious that the philosophy will have to change and a defense developed that will take advantage of what available material can do.

Tech hasn't stopped the end sweep, or pitchout, in three games. The middle, except against New Mexico, has been suspect. The defensive backfield woefully lacking against the pass.

Offensively, the Raiders showed marked improvement in moving the ball against Texas by both running and passing. And the latter was the one department not strong prior to Saturday night.

The problem is that, against teams of equal or superior strength, Tech will have to outscore opponents to win and, although that sounds trite, it isn't strictly from the standpoint that the Tech defense won't be able to stop the opposition.

As stated weeks ago, this is the part of the schedule that will be a major test of what the season holds. Texas has already shown how rough that schedule probably will be. In rapid succession comes Oklahoma State, Texas A&M and Arizona.

If, after those next three games, Tech is 4-3, it's going to be a good season. Right now, though, you'd have to say that Tech is below SMU, maybe Rice, and a step above TCU. And, right now, Sloan must be wondering why Bear Bryant urged him to take this job.

The baseball playoffs begin this week and more than the usual interest should be shown, if for no other reason than that a new face has shown up, the Boston Red Sox.

Oakland should take the Sox, but it could be interesting. The Sox have shown good pitching and strong hitting. In addition, they could have the impetus of challenge and enthusiasm on their side. Still, the A's have pride and should win, even without Catfish Hunter.

As for Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, the Red Machine ought to come out ahead of the Pirates, lest they have lost their momentum. The Red Machine has been awesome this season.

And if it should wind up the A's meeting the Reds in the World Series, I'll go with the Reds this year. The Reds have been helped by the return of Don Gullett and they have Johnny Bench and Joe Morgan. How could you pick against them?

By all means go out to Jones Stadium tonight and see the Picadors and Shoats in action. Both teams have future stars on their rosters and it should be a good game.

Even more important, the battle is in a great cause. It supports the Shrine's burns institutes. And what a wonderful hope it gives to people to know that there is somewhere to turn in case of bad burns, far more common than you'd think.

Get behind this effort and support it tonight.

You Can Be Healed Emotionally

Probably at some point in life, every person has needed an inner healing. This is true because of the hurt and harm that most people have experienced within the heart.

Jesus said, "I have come to heal the brokenhearted and to give deliverance to those who are bound." (Luke 4:18)

Many adults are needlessly suffering from the hurts and memories of the past. Some are still reacting to the things of the past because their hearts are not whole.

"Out of the heart are the issues of life." (Prov. 4:23) Our hearts must be made whole if we are to experience the fullness of life. There are many people who are suffering physical sickness because their heart and hurts need to be mended by God's power.

We must give our painful memories to God and allow Him to shine His healing antiseptic light into the dark corners of our life.

We also need to open the windows of our heart and let the Lord air out the mustiness of buried bitterness, jealousy, and fear.

I have seen many people emotionally healed as they allowed God's Spirit to touch the area of the heart and emotions.

There are also some children that definitely need inner healing. They need a release of the feelings and needs that they have locked within.

If you need prayer for inner peace, you definitely should seek help.

Postal Rates Not Scheduled to Rise Until After Yearly Christmas Season

Postage rates will not increase until after Christmas, Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar announced today. Bailar said that the Postal Service will file with the Postal Rate Commission for the new rates "some time in the next two weeks."

If the Commission does not act within 90 days of the filing, the Postal Service may increase rates on a "temporary" basis.

The exact amounts of the increases to be requested have not been finally determined, but they are expected to include 13-cents for the first ounce of ordinary first-class mail, with appropriate increases for other classes of mail. They will most likely take effect during the week following Christmas, although the precise date cannot be set until after the filing with the Rate Commission.

The Postal Service ran deficits of over $430 million for fiscal year 1974 and approximately $825 million in ifscal 1975, and estimates current losses at approximately $200 million per month.

Absentee Voting Dates Set for Proposed Revision of Texas Constitution Election

County Clerk, Raymond O. Dennis, announces that absentee voting for the November 4, 1975 proposed revision of the Texas Constitution Election, will begin in his office on Wednesday, October 15th, and will continue through Friday, October 31st.

Voting hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday thru Friday, during the absentee voting period.

Any qualified voter of Hockley County, who expects to be absent from the county on Election Day, November 4, 1975, may vote absentee by personal appearance, in the County Clerk's office, during the above specified time.

If a person, otherwise qualified to vote in this county, is already absent from the County, and will still be absent from the County on election day, they may make a written request, by mail, to the County Clerk, requesting that an absentee ballot be mailed to them. If a person is not ill, or physically disabled, he, or she, has to be (outside) the County, if they request an absentee ballot by mail.

Those persons otherwise qualified to vote, that are confined to their homes, hospital, or nursing home, due to illness, or physical disability, may request an absentee ballot by mail, whether they are inside the county or not. But, those persons do have to be registered voters, and claim permanent residence in Hockley County.

All requests for absentee ballots by mail, must be made to: Raymond O. Dennis, County Clerk, (or) County Clerk, Hockley County, P.O. Box 1209, Levelland, Texas 79336.

The information that the County Clerk needs, is your (official) "registration name", as it is listed on your "Voter Registration Certificate", your "voting precinct" number, (or) location of voting place, and your return address.

All requests for absentee ballots by mail, must be made "separate, signed "separate", in the same signature that is on your voter registration certificate. A husband and wife should make requests for an absentee ballot on a separate application or letter and sign the request in their "registered name". Requests for ballots, by husband and wife, may be mailed in the same envelope. All persons living in Anton, Ropesville, or Sundown, and the surrounding areas of these cities, who are qualified voters, may vote absentee, at the City Hall of their respective cities, subject to the above dates, times, and procedures, that are normally carried out, in the main office of the County Clerk in Levelland.

Persons desiring to vote at the "Temporary branch office absentee voting" locations listed above, may do so by personal appearance only. Applications by mail, must be addressed to the County Clerk's office in Levelland, as above stated.

In order for Hockley County residents to be qualified to vote in the November 4, 1975 Proposed Revision of the Texas Constitution Election, they must have been registered in the office of the Tax Assessor-Collector, by 5:00 p.m., October 3, 1975. (30 days prior to the election).

Note: Due to lack of space, in the main office of the County Clerk, absentee voting, by personal appearance, will be conducted in the County Courtroom, second floor, courthouse, Levelland, Texas.

HAWAIIAN ISLANDS INSPIRE PIE

Say "Aloha" to a very moist and scrumptious dessert, Hawaiian Pineapple Pie. The taste of the tropics comes through in refreshing coconut and tangy pineapple. But there are other good ingredients, too—uncooked quick or old fashioned oats and raisins. Take your taste buds on an Island tour at a price you can easily afford; serve tart-sweet Hawaiian Pineapple Pie!

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLE PIE

Makes 8 servings

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| 3 eggs                                    | 1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked |
| 1/2 cup granulated sugar                  | 1/2 cup shredded or flaked coconut          |
| 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar           | 1/2 cup raisins                             |
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted | One 8-oz. can crushed pineapple, undrained  |
| 1 teaspoon vanilla                        | One 9-inch unbaked pie shell                |

Heat oven to moderate (350°F.). In large mixer bowl, beat eggs at high speed until lemon colored. Gradually blend in sugars, beating well after each addition. Add butter and vanilla; mix well. Stir in oats, coconut, raisins and undrained pineapple; mix well.

Pour mixture into unbaked pie shell. Bake in preheated oven (350°F.) 50 to 55 minutes or until filling is set. Cool on wire rack before serving.
