THE ROPES PLAINSMAN

First Methodist Church News of the Week

Both Circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will resume their regular meetings as we enter the New Year. They dismissed for the holidays.

The first attendance count will be made Sunday in our Attendance Evangelistic campaign. This campaign will continue through Easter Sunday. There will be special events featured throughout the campaign. The "Week of Dedication" will be in February. The emphasis will close with a Pre-Easter meeting and a great day of evangelism to be set later.

The Commission on Membership and Evangelism will meet Wednesday evening, January 7th, at 7:30. This should be an important meeting as we should plan further for the Evangelism effort.

To make plans for the new year, one should review the successes and failures of the year just concluded. We are going to do neither in this little summation but we are hoping we as individuals and as Churches will do just this as we make our New Year's Resolutions. You see, our successes should aid us in achieving greater goals while our failures should enable us to avoid certain pitfalls and alert us to such calamities that surely lie ahead.

Sez We . . .

AS we peek into the New Year, 1959, we also peer backward into the year 1958.

What we see is not a very pleasant picture. Oh sure, we have had a very prosperous year, but we also have had a year whereby human rights have been invaded and the federal government has nullified states' rights.

It might well be termed "The Rape of the South".

The stench of it rises to the high heavens, nauseating fair minded people. The United States Supreme Court has set itself up as a law-making body instead of a body that interprets laws; southern children are being deprived of educational facilities in certain states because of the declaration of the Supreme Court that all schools must be integrated.

We, in this little city of ours—in this splendid community of ours, do not realize just what this means as, because of the limited number of Negroes, do not fully realize what this means where the colored population is equal and even larger than that of the white population.

We have not had armed forces sent into our community; we have not had soldiers to set up machine guns on our school campuses; nor have we had soldiers at our schools with fixed bayonets to guarantee that Negro children be allowed to enter white schools. It is a little hard for us to understand and appreciate the situation which exists in Little Rock and other southern cities in the "old" South.

But this we can understand: The Supreme Court and the Eisenhower administration have set up a dictatorship rather an administration which recognizes the rights of man in different sections of the United States—the rights of people have been and are being trampled under foot. Northern interests, not the northern people as a whole, are attempting to ram integration down the throats of southern people.

they like it or not. The South is offering a passive resistance—this bloodless revolution is closing schools in the older states—closing schools for both the whites and the blacks.

And the South, instead of being treated as a people who have the intelligence and ability to govern themselves, are being treated as rebels; being placed in the category of children of ten, while the federal government sets up a police state which smacks of Hitlerism. The Blackshirts of Italy, nor the Gestapo of Germany, were never more arrogant or overbearing. Can you imagine a president, who had the interest of the people at heart sending a regiment of Negro troops into a Southern troubled spot? Of course, the Negro soldiers were not used, but they were there to be used if it became necessary.

Can you imagine a president telling a southern governor he did not have the right to run and administer the affairs of his state according to the laws and traditions of that state? You don't have to imagine it. It happened in Little Rock and is happening all over the South, with a threat from the President that Federal troops will be sent to any state that fails to obey the mandates of the United States Supreme Court.

That is the working of the mallet fist; that is the working of centralized government which is little less than a dictatorship.

Government of the people and by the people is but a dream. Politics rule the national structure—the welfare of the Southern people is being sacrificed for votes—black votes. Each party, Democrats and Republicans, are making a mad scramble for this block of votes. It makes no difference how many white people, how many white children, and, for that matter, how many black children suffer, they want the votes. They are going to have the votes if they have to put a nigger in every white home as a starboarder. Even Southern conservatives

HARVEST IS ALMOST FINISHED

The harvest of cotton in the Ropes territory is almost finished. Fields that were once white with cotton are now black from freeze and frost, while the cotton has been taken to the gin.

Many of the fields are now being broke and prepared for the crop of 1959.

This brings to a close one of the largest crops in the history of the Ropes territory, with the eight gins in the vicinity ginning better than 40,000 bales. According to records held by the Plainsman the heaviest yield in any one year, until 1958, was some 35,000 bales.

As was remarked by one farmer: "In years past, before we used strippers, I have seen cotton gathered here up in February." It is likely that if this crop had been pulled by hand much of it would have been left in the fields, and the harvest would have gone into March.

so-called Democrats are representing their people. We are certain that the majority of the people of Texas did not send Lyndon Johnson, George Mahon and Ralph Yarborough to congress with instructions to sponsor legislation that strikes at the very heart of the State they represent. We do know that is sponsoring civil rights legislation and failing to fight for state rights and segregated schools, these men have deserted the voters who placed them in office.

They have no voice of their own. The voice we hear in the hallowed halls of congress is the voice of the Northern Democrats, dictated to Southern congressmen, who hop and skip when the voice speaks.

If things continue for the next ten years as they have for the past ten, the rule of Hitler will be put in the shade and the people of this "free" country will be stepping whip of the slave driving whip of the slave driver—we will be as much a slave state as Russia — in fact, we wouldn't be surprised if we don't have blood purges as did Hitler—one false step and Little Rock would have been a blood-purge of Southern people who sought only the rights guaranteed them by the Constitution.

So, we leave this for another time.

BEN STEPHENS' IN LEVELLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stephens were in Levelland during the Christmas holidays visiting their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Diggs.

gressmen don't have the nerve to stand up and fight for the rights of their people. We have an example, or several examples, of this in this State. Has Lyndon Johnson ever opposed the intergration of schools. The answer is, no. Mr. Johnson is presidential timber and to oppose such an order of the Supreme Court would mean the lessening of his chances for the nomination. Has George Mahon, the representative from this district ever openly opposed intergration? The answer again is, no. Just what George would stand to lose we don't know, but he has to go along with the majority. Has Ralph Yarborough ever come out against intergration? No.

them, are slothful in their duty. One Democrat, elected from a Southern State, was not invited to the party meeting recently in Washington because his views were known to be pro-Southern in the matter of intergration. Because he was elected by the people on that platform he is being forced from the ranks of the party and will not be considered a Democrat when he reaches Washington. It is the fact that he has the nerve to express and stand behind his convictions and the convictions of the people who elected him to office that has caused him to be blacklisted. He should have been received with open arms and given the blessings of the entire Southern delegation.
