Miss Jo Ann Reissig To Be Installed This Afternoon As F.H.A. President

MISS JO ANN REISSIG

In an installation service Friday, September 29, Miss Jo Ann Reissig will be installed president of the Future Homemakers of America. The ceremony will take place at 2:45 p. m. at the High School auditorium.

Seven other new officers will be installed also. They are Joyce Voight, vice-president; Jerry Short secretary; Patsy McCormick, treasurer; Maybelle Pember, reporter; Patsy Hickman, song leader; Barbara Brooks, historian; and Joyce Mann, parliamentarian.

Pansy Sloan, F.H.A. outgoing president will install the new officers. The outgoing and incoming officers will be seated in a semi-circle behind a table laid with a white cloth and centered with red and white candles, and red roses, the club flower. Fifty members of the club are expected to attend the meeting.

Special guests at the installation will be last year's club mothers, Mrs. Lee Vardy and Mrs. A. E. Clack. The new club sponsor is Miss Caffey, the Slaton Homemaking teacher.

Brassell Selected Director Of WTCC By Local Chamber

George W. Brassell, Jr., manager of the Western Cotton Oil Company of Slaton, was nominated as the director from this city on the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Directorate with headquarters in Abilene, and his name submitted to the executive committee for placement on the official ballot, at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, according to P. G. Meading, local chamber manager.

Brassell's nomination will be confirmed at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, which this year is being held in Mineral Wells on October 19 and 20, and to which he was elected one of three delegates. Others elected as representatives of the city are Lewis Hollingsworth, chamber president and the present WTCC director, and P. G. Meading.

Heart Attack Kills Former Slatonite

Mrs. R. D. Griffin, formerly of Slaton and now of Centralia, Ill., died week before last of a heart attack. The news of her death was received here last week in a letter from Troy Bickerstaff, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Bickerstaff, who is now working in Illinois.

She died when she rushed to her husband's side after he had suffered a heart attack. He had been suffering from a weak heart, but it was not known that Mrs. Griffin also had heart trouble.

Funeral services were held for her last week in Illinois. Mr. Griffin is reported to be improving from his attack.

Slaton Gardens And Flowers Are At Their Best At This Time Of Year

Flower lovers and folks interested in the many different varieties of flowers, shrubs and garden plants can find a number of places in Slaton where many unusual plants are being cultivated. A few of these places have their plants growing where they can be easily seen from the street and one of the outstanding examples of this kind of how many varieties of plants can be cultivated here is the C. W. Wilks place at 800 So. 10th Street where Mr. and Mrs. Wilks have over 150 kinds of flowers, shrubs and plants.

The Wilks front yard is particularly outstanding due to the unusually large brilliant red coxcombs that are almost beyond belief as to size. To attempt to name all of the other flowers and shrubs would take the knowledge of a plantist, but one other unusual plant at the Wilks home is the smooth California squash. The California squash is not considered out of the ordinary in California, but out here in West Texas it is. The seed were brought from California by Mrs. Wilks. The fruit is usually larger than the average watermelon and one squash would serve several families. In California they are sold in the vegetable markets very much as parts of watermelons are sold here.

Mrs. Wilks is a retired railroad worker and Mrs. Wilks is one of the finest little women in Slaton. Mrs. Wilks spends most of the summer and fall days working with her plants and she is most gracious about showing them. Mr. Wilks takes care of the lawn, suffers from hay fever and takes as much credit as possible for the flowers and for the landscaping.

Another home in Slaton that, in addition to being one of the newest and most attractive in Slaton has surroundings that make it a show place at this time of the year, is the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Church. Mr. and Mrs. Church have gone in for dahlias, roses and ruffled and double petunias and if you want to see extra large, extra fancy flowers in these varieties you should inspect the Church back yard garden.

There are tree roses, climbing roses and roses of most every color and size, and in dahlias there are some that are very unusual including one that is almost black in the center and dark red on the outer petals. The arrangements of beds for the flowers and the cement walks makes the Church gardens most attractive.

Mr. Church takes most of the credit for taking care of the flowers, but Mrs. Church says he has not done it all by a jug full.

Mr. and Mrs. Church moved to Slaton from Merkel about two years ago and they say that Slaton is a most pleasant place to live. They have extensive farming interests.

There are many other most unusual and attractive, but these are two that have been inspected by a Slatonite reporter.

Rev. Geo. Hodges Resigns Pastorate In Slaton Church

REV. GEORGE HODGES

Rev. George Hodges has announced his resignation as pastor of the Presbyterian church in Slaton, effective Sunday, September 24. He and his wife will move to Fentress, 40 miles southeast of Austin, where he will work in Hochheim Larger Parish. The parish takes in three counties, and Rev. Hodges will work with another minister from Hochheim. There are six rural churches in the parish.

Rev. Hodges came to Slaton in June of 1947, from McCormick Seminary in Chicago. He had previously attended school at Austin College in Sherman, Texas. He is a native Texan.

Bids Received For More Classrooms At West Ward

Bids have been received from four contracting firms for the building of six new classrooms to be added to the West Ward school. Purpose of the new rooms will be to alleviate the crowded conditions now existing at the school. The addition will be made to the east end of the school. Also in the project will be a book room, a heater room, and a teachers' lounge.

Sending in bids were John T. Glover and Sons, Haynes and Seash Co., Joe Telford Co., and Carl E. Maxey Co.

Football Ducats To Advance In Price

The adult price for next Friday's football game and all future games will be $1.00, announces superintendent Lee Vardy. Previously it has been only 75c.

Mr. Vardy says the change in price was requested last week by the district committee. The committee had voted before the football season started to charge $1.00 for game admission, and Mr. Vardy wants Slaton High School to cooperate with the rest of the district, so the advance in price is being made.

The admission charge helps support the football team, so Slatonites should not mind spending an extra quarter to see the boys play.

OCT. 2 IS OPENING DATE FOR FARM LABOR CAMP

The labor camp located just southeast of Slaton on highway 87 will be open on October 2. Mr. Tom Camp, farm representative for the Texas Employment Commission will be located here to direct cotton pickers to jobs in this area.

A mild shortage of pickers now exists in central Texas and will last for about two weeks. If, after October 2, any farmer in this area needs hands, he should contact Mr. Camp at the labor camp.

THIS WEEK'S SMILES

Seven sailors and a lady, shipwrecked on a desert island, were rescued after five long years.

One of the sailors, upon his return home, was relating his experiences to a very strait-laced and pious old aunt. Finally, after much hemming and hawing, the old lady asked, "And, my boy, was the lady chaste?"

"Auntie, and how," he replied, "from one end of the island to the other."

More Slaton Men Entering Services

There is an increasing number of Slaton young men who are being called back into the service, or being called to the service for the first time.

Shirley (Shug) Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Butler, has already reported to the Army Air Corp. and is now stationed in Florida.

Cpl. William Thomas Cherry, Jr., has been called to active duty by the Army reserves. He reported to Fort Hood, Tuesday, September 26.

Harold Culver, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Culver, left Wednesday for Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Six Slaton boys will leave for the Marines Monday. They are Tipton Culver, Joe Tucker, Max Huddins, Jerry Lovelady, Bobby Cooke, and Alton Kenney.

The Navy captured two young men from here: Marvin T. Heinrich and Harry Nash volunteered for the Navy and left Tuesday.

Since the Korean conflict, there have been approximately twenty Slaton men who have gone into one of the armed services. This is an admirable record for the city.

Pedestrian Lanes, Stop Signs Placed At 3 Crossings

In connection with Slaton's new traffic ordinance which was passed about a month ago, the city is installing new safety measures. Pedestrian lanes have been marked off at three intersections close to town. The intersections are 10th and Lubbock, 10th and Lynn, and 10th and Garza. Stop signs have been placed at these intersections, too. This means that traffic on Garza, Lubbock, and Crosby has precedence over traffic on 10th Street.

The stop signs and pedestrian crossings were put down Tuesday afternoon, September 26, by the city Water Department. Other such safety measures will be established later.

Special Train To Bring Tahoka Fans To Slaton Tonight

Some three hundred Tahoka football fans are expected to arrive in Slaton tonight at 7:30 by special train for the Slaton-Tahoka tussle which will get under way at 8:00 o'clock.

Many vehicles will be needed to carry these visiting fans from the depot to the stadium and back again. Those who will be able to furnish transportation should contact P. G. Meading at the Chamber of Commerce office in City Hall, or be at the depot before 7:30.

Tommy Linn, of Amarillo, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Houston. He will be in Slaton several days.

Robert Huser returned Tuesday from Bryan, where he attended a Hy-Line sales meeting on Monday.

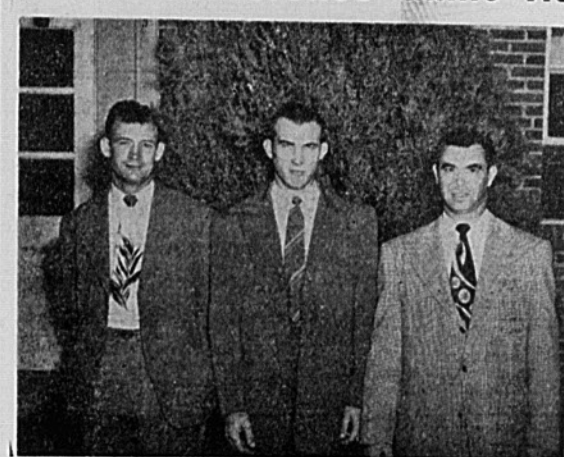

Bill Layne, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Layne, enrolled last Saturday at Spartan School of Aeronautics in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

EDIBLE MASCOT—Where Cpl. Andrew Slayter goes, so goes his pet rabbit "Doretta." Ration-tired G.I.'s have offered Slayter a pretty price for his pet but the 25th Division jeep driver from Slatonville, Ky., says "Doretta will stay by his side."

Slaton's Tigers, defeated last week by Muleshoe, 14-6, in their first conference game of the 1950 season, meet highly regarded Tahoka tonight at 8:00 o'clock in Tiger Stadium.

The Bulldogs continued blazing the comeback trail last Friday night, blanking Morton's Indians, 13-0. Without victory in the 1949 season and since their opening loss to Muleshoe this year, they have scored two victories, one over Morton and the other an 18-0 upset win over a strong Brownfield eleven.

Last year, Tahoka struggled through a nine-game campaign without winning anything in particular. They can go no place but up this year, and it appears that they are on their way. In District 4-A's set up, it is expected that the Bulldogs will give plenty of competition to previous North and South Hall Zone powers.

They have new leadership for the 1950 campaign in Joe Turner, who turned out consistent winners at Nacona for the last three seasons. A graduate of TWC, Turner was assistant coach at Olney for a year before moving to Nacona.

Tahoka will throw a varied offense at the Tigers tonight, mixing variations of the T with double and single wing maneuvers. Operating the attack will be 130-pound Lynn Halameck, the squad's most dangerous breakaway runner. Halameck also will do the punting, and will share passing chores with Back James Foster.

The 155-pound Foster will provide most of the team's up-middle power, with help from Jim Drager.

Recently, Halameck was named West Texas Player of the Week by the Amarillo Daily News in the Tahoka-Brownfield upset for "his canny play-picking, timely punts, and a couple of pass interceptions that literally wrecked the morale of the Cubs and fanned the competitive flames of his mates."

In the line, Tackle Jackie Slover, Guard Wiley Curry, and Center Wayne Tekell, all lettermen, are expected to be the standouts in tonight's clash. Though lacking in weight and reserves, the Bulldogs have shown a great deal of hustle and spirit in their first three games with conference teams.

The Tigers were without the services last week of Bob Lambert during two quarters of the game. The 140-pound scabback received a leg injury in the second period and had to be sidelined. Jerry Huckabay, first string end, received a back injury during play in the fourth quarter, but has been in light workouts this week. Both players are expected to be in shape for tonight's fracas, however.

Although they outweigh the Bulldogs considerably, the Tigers will have to display plenty of fight for a victory over the visitors from Lynn County.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Leon Austin from Austin, Texas, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Austin in their home east of Slaton. Mr. Austin graduated from Slaton High School in 1928, and served in the Air Corp during World War II. He has recently passed the C.P.A. test and is in business for himself in Austin.

Accidents High On American Farms; 4,400 Die Yearly

This may shock you, but farming is the third most hazardous occupation in America. If you are a farmer and no serious injury has come to you, don't laugh at this statement, consider yourself lucky. According to the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, one farmer in every 15 is temporarily or permanently injured while plowing a field, milking a cow, riding a tractor, or doing any number of other chores.

Last year in America, more than 300,000 farmers suffered disabling injuries on the jobs. There were 4,400 others who were not so lucky—they were killed by falls, machinery, animals, or other "potential hazards."

And this time of the year is considered most dangerous on the farms. Fifty-two percent of disabling injuries on farms occurs between July and January.

Unless care is taken, accidents will kill an average of 48 American farm residents, every day during the next 12 months. These deaths and accidents on our farms cost the nation $75,000,000 each year. Who can measure the added cost in human lives and human suffering?

What can farmers do to cut down on accidents? Of course, the main thing to remember is to always be careful when working around machinery and animals. With more and more farms becoming mechanized, it is very important for farmers to know how to use the machinery properly. Keep all machines in good repair to keep parts from wearing out, thus creating a dangerous weapon in your fields. Keep small children away from areas where machinery is being used, as they may get run over or injured in some way. Do not let children operate machinery unless you are sure they know how.

Be careful when working with animals, especially mules, cattle, and hogs. Keep small children away from animals which you consider dangerous. Many children are drowned each year in stock tanks. Take necessary precautions in safeguarding your child from this potential hazard.

Farmers have always known that their job is a hard one, calling for long hours, careful planning, and a keen understanding of the close relationship between nature and science that are necessary to produce enough food each year to feed 150,000,000 citizens, but let them now be mindful of the hazards of their occupation and be as safety-minded as the owner of a factory or a coal miner.

Spears And Henry Are Transferred

C. B. Kurtz, 45, of La Junta, Colo., has been named trainmaster for the Santa Fe Railway at Pueblo, Colo., succeeding J. P. Spears who has been transferred to Clovis, N. M., as trainmaster.

Warren R. Henry, 34, of Dodge City, Kansas, has been transferred to La Junta as trainmaster, succeeding Kurtz.

Jack R. Lester, Santa Fe's Colorado Division superintendent, of Pueblo, announced both appointments would be effective Sept. 21.

Henry has worked as a trainmaster since May of 1947 when he was appointed to that job at Clovis, N. M. He transferred to Dodge City, January 1, 1949. He was born in December, 1917, at Roby, Tex., and attended Hardin-Simmons College at Abilene, Tex. His Santa Fe service dates from September, 1936, when he began as an apprentice operator at Slaton, Tex.

He advanced through clerk to the trainmaster at San Angelo, to secretary to assistant general manager at Amarillo, dispatcher at Clovis, and transportation inspector at Amarillo and Albuquerque before promotion to trainmaster.

Youngster Receives Serious Eye Injury

Condition of four-year-old Ronald Fitzgerald who received a serious eye injury week before last was improved this week, according to J. E. Fitzgerald, the child's father.

Young Ronald was injured while playing with bow and arrows with a group of children. A make-shift arrow pierced the eye making a three-quarter inch cut, and requiring several stitches to close the incision.

It is not known yet whether he will lose sight of the eye.

Week's Question

Women Fulfill Childhood Ambitions; Men Decide On New Occupations

"I'm going to be a fireman when I grow up," is what most little boys say. And most little girls want to be nurses or teachers. To see what Slatonites wanted to be when they were youngsters, the questioner asked, "What was your childhood ambition?" Here is what some of our townspeople wanted to be.

Mrs. J. M. Anthony, 830 E. 10th—"I wanted to be a housekeeper, and that's what I am."

Mr. John Brown, 1105 So. 10th—"I always wanted to be a soldier. I used to play soldier." Mr. Brown works at Vivian's Grocery, and says he has never fulfilled his ambition.

Mrs. H. A. Bryant, 1020 W. Lynn—"Through reading stories of Florence Nightengale and Edith Cavell, I wanted to be a nurse. Through hope and hard work, I became an R. N. in 1941." She devoted her time to nursing until she got married.

Mr. "Skinny" Eaves, Eaves Produce—"I was always interested in airplanes. I wanted to be a pilot." Mr. Eaves laughingly admits that he has not flown in a plane yet.

Mr. O. M. Baxley, Fire Station—"Truck driver. I wanted to drive one of those big transports." We thought maybe Mr. Baxley had wanted to be a fireman and stuck to his ambition, but he fooled us.

Mrs. H. M. Crumbley, 330 S. 11th—"I wanted to have a nice home and children and raise them to be good Christians." Mrs. Crumbley says that most of her ambition has been fulfilled. She has a "comfortable" home and children.

Mrs. W. H. Dawson, 325 S. 12th—"I just wanted to have some children, and I have three grown children and two babies."

Mrs. Helen Champion, Champion's Jewelers—"I wanted to be a C.P.A." Mrs. Champion says her dream was thwarted because her chosen profession required a college education.

The architect for Olton's new primary school building received the brunt of criticism for improper piping of the school lunchroom for gas after a controversy between city and school officials ended in amicable agreement this week.

"X" Disease

Recent observations seem to discount the theory that malnutrition may be a cause of X disease, a livestock health bulletin reports. This malady, which causes thickening of the skin and emaciation, has been spreading among cattle in the United States and is responsible for heavy losses in some herds. Veterinarians are now investigating the disease, but so far they have been unable to determine what causes it or how it spreads.

Animal Disease Control

German attempts to control animal diseases are reported as early as the eighteenth century. At this time, an epizootic of rinderpest was sweeping across western Europe causing heavy losses among cattle. Control measures included destruction. Between 1769 and 1778, 60,000 cattle were lost in this manner in Brandenburg Province alone.

Mules Edge Past Slaton, 14-6, For Conference Win

An unbeaten Muleshoe eleven racked up its third victory of the 1950 schoolboy football campaign here last Friday night by edging past previously unbeaten Slaton, 14-6, in a District 4-A conference tilt played before a capacity crowd at Tiger Field.

Sparked by Ed Nickels, Mule quarterback, the visitors overcame a second-quarter lead racked up by Slaton with two touchdown drives in the second and fourth quarters. It was the second conference win of the season for Muleshoe, after having won a season opener from Tahoka, 19-0.

After controlling play in the first period, the Tigers began their lone touchdown drive the second time they got the ball in the second quarter. In eleven plays Slaton moved the ball from their own 27 to the Mule's goal, with Halfback Bill Butler scoring on an end run from nine yards out. Taylor's conversion attempt was blocked. Minutes later, Muleshoe's Ray Kersey tallied for Coach Durwood Green's team to even the score. A play from scrimmage by Kersey was good for the extra point. The two squads played on an even keel for the remainder of the first half and the third period, but in the fourth, Muleshoe's Aubrey Heathington, notched the final tally from the five yard line after a sustained drive from their own 46. Kersey again carried the extra point over.

The loss threw Slaton into a three-way tie for third place in the District 4-A Seasonal standings along with Tahoka and Post. Brownfield, Levelland, and Morton occupy cellar positions, with Defending State Champion Littlefield and Muleshoe pacing the district race.

Did you know that pure nickel is so malleable that it can be fabricated into tubing finer than the stinger of a mosquito?

THIS and THAT FROM HERE and THERE

OFF THE RECORD—I read in a paper last week where a guy after being retired for several years, has returned to his old desk and job and said that he wasn't ready to retire—that having a job was more important.

It seems that it wasn't a matter of making money, that caused this man to return to work, but rather he was not satisfied without having a job. To him a job only meant the employment of an unsatisfied mind.

Most of us hang on to our job for an entirely different reason.

To us a job is a necessity—something that we must try to keep if we are to pay the groceryman for our food; if we are able to shell out a few shekles now and then to buy something to cover the suit that Mother Nature gave us; if we are to have a shelter where we can assemble our few belongings and call it home.

soda, they don't need soda, but somebody somewhere does. You might be out of soda sometime when you want it. Maybe you send a mile or 10 miles to the bakery and no bread. You might possibly have to whip up a few muffins or a biscuit or something. Mighty bad you'd have to put out all that effort, of course. But, anyway, even if nothing like that occurred, you'd have the soda just in case. Also, soda has gone up. It may go down, but now the signs point another direction. Don't get caught short. Buy a case of soda. Have the comforting thought you have it on hand.

GETTING OUT ON THE LIMB—I have been wanting to expand my business interests but I never have been able to decide just where to invest.

Mr. Babson, the rich philosopher who writes a column for us, keeps wanting somebody to grind up fish and sell it chocolate coated. He claims they taste real good, but I doubt they'll go over as well as olives or oysters or even fritos.

What I have been thinking about is getting the west bound mail contract away from the railroad. With two or three good horses or maybe a pack mule, I figure I could get the morning mail into town about as early as the train does.

Special delivery letters could be brought from Sweetwater by runners and could be delivered along the way. When any speed up of service was needed I might train some carrier pigeons.

Of course that would be a big problem—where to house them and how to take care of them and how to train them to drop the mail off at the appointed spot.

OFF THE KEYBOARD—Will wonders never cease! The State Fair of Texas wants a copy of our newspaper for inclusion in the Time Capsule, which will preserve a permanent record of life in Texas in 1950 for the benefit of people in 2050 A. In all seriousness, we think the Time Capsule idea is a splendid one. Why didn't someone think of it centuries ago? Thad Ricks, publicity manager of the State Fair, says they feel there is no better way to record an era in time than by preserving the newspapers of the day. Along with other important documents, he writes, the WE'D MAKE A MILLION—A bootlegging ring rivaling those of Prohibition days was in the making early this year in the Panhandle—all because of Senator Dudley LeBlanc of Louisiana, patent medicine maker de luxe.

The good Senator, who legislates to remove the social and civic ills of the people of the Pelican state from his office and who removed their physical ills through his Hadacol had moved over into Texas.

The good Senator's plant was unable to take care of the sudden upturn in demand for Hadacol, and a shortage developed. The shortage grew worse as a high-pressure advertising campaign shouted Hadacol's praises from the columns of weekly and daily newspapers.

Soon the shortage got so bad that orders went out to ration Hadacol—no customer might buy more than six bottles of the stuff at a time.

Even under this stringent rationing demand exceeded supply, and the big brass at the good Senator's plant were forced to cut the ration to two bottles at a time.

Things Are Picking Up In Slaton

Real estate men in Slaton report that business is better lately than it has been for a long time. Most of the activity is because there are more people moving into the town due to increases in the railroads activity.

It is hard for people in Slaton to realize that property values have increased as much as they have and a lot of people who sold property one or two years ago say that they made mistakes. Will values continue to increase or will they remain stationary, or perhaps go down. Most folks do not look for Slaton property values to decrease and as for farm property around Slaton there is very little of it for sale. However if this nation gets into a far reaching conflict then most of the men working on farms will be drafted and the owners of farms will be in worse shape than the men in business, so far as help is concerned.

The price of cotton is expected to remain high and even go higher and most farmers look for the acreage controls on cotton to be lifted next year.

It is a good idea not to sell Slaton short, oil may be discovered in the immediate area, but whether it is or not Slaton shows every sign of getting bigger and better and folks who put their faith in Slaton property will likely find it a good investment.

Build Now Or Wait Ten Or Twelve Years

There seems to be a rush in the building industry all over the nation and most folks seem to feel that if building is to be done it should be done before strict regulations are placed on building materials.

Some people seem to think that the turn in the Korean fighting makes the likelihood of a big army and controls of materials and labor less likely, but it is most probable since the United States has gone into the war games that a large armed force will be gathered so that this nation will be in readiness if the Russian bluff is to be called.

It seems that the nation has been mighty slow in gathering an army and the speed has not been greatly accelerated. It is probable that the army chiefs feel that the big reservoir of trained men from the last war could go almost directly into combat without the tedious work that was required in the last war.

However it does not seem that the factories have gone to making munitions as fast as should be done and it is most likely that if this nation gets into a switch it will not be on account of a shortage of trained men, but because they will not have anything to fight with.

It is time for the big factories to slow down on luxuries and go to work on guns.

Oil Boom Not Likely For Slaton

Practically all of the land in the entire South part of Lubbock County has been leased for oil and it is said that prices on leases have gone so high that it is not likely that any further attempts will be made to drill for oil in this area.

Oil talk about town has about died down, but most folks who are buying land demand all, or a part, of the mineral rights with it.

There are many tales about what oil men think about this area and about what all of the seismograph crews have found. It is rumored that several wells will be drilled between Slaton and Lubbock, and others say that oil prospects are better around Southland than they are in the immediate vicinity of Slaton, but there are no definite indications that any deep tests will be made any time soon.

Oil discoveries between Slaton and Lubbock would not likely make business boom in Slaton, but would undoubtedly make business better than it is now. Should a boom come to Slaton it would not likely be of much help unless it should come soon, for materials are now scarce and will probably become more so. A steady growth might be better than a boom for Slaton, and if there is oil in the ground around here it is probable that it will do the community more good if it is left there until after the war conditions subside, than to develop it now.

We Should Face It Now

There is one thing that could be of great benefit to Slaton now and will in the future govern the growth of the town. That is water.

While there has been an adequate supply of water during the past two or three years there has not been an over supply and it has been nipped and tuck to keep the demand supplied. One or two hundred more families for Slaton would strain the supply to the limit and the question should be faced now.

Of course an unlimited water supply would not help Slaton unless the entire water supply system were overhauled and bigger mains laid. This will have to be done if the town ever increases in population to any extent. Like all other communities such improvements will not likely be made until there is no way to dodge the problem. Lubbock is in just such a predicament now. The cost increases greatly the longer the work is put off as property values increase and the cost of laying mains around obstructions becomes more and more complicated.

To try to solve this problem now would be about as popular as inviting Mr. Malik to Slaton to make a speech, but just the same it should be done. Property owners would scream their heads off and those who would benefit most would likely howl the loudest.

The editor of this newspaper started his gardening during the war years when it was patriotic to do so, when food would "Win the War and Write the Peace." The editor continued his gardening during the early days of peace, when it was still considered the thing to do. The editor continues his gardening in a time when the nation has so much food it doesn't know what to do with it. And the editor will probably go on gardening when things are so cheap they give them away at the market with two hoots and a home gardening becomes illegal.

For the editor has been fatally seized with the most audacious and most compelling of urges: the desire to see things grow, the desire to assist nature in its miracle of transforming seeds into plants and plants into fruit and fruit into food.—Paul F. Doesn't the time ever come, in the life of a conscientious person, when he can become satisfied with himself as he then is, quit trying for improvement, and begin capitalizing and profiting on what he has become? KEEP ACCURATE LAYING RECORDS

Knowing where you stand is an important consideration in any business, but in poultry and egg production it is particularly important, since the trends of a flock frequently influence your profits suddenly—and decidedly.

To help stay on the profitable side of poultry raising, most raisers keep up-to-date feed consumption and egg production records on their birds. This means keeping figures on a flock right from the start, or as soon as they go into the laying house, and continuing them as long as birds remain productive.

Accurate records help you in a number of ways. In the first place, they help you compute your production costs. In addition, they help you spot the weak points in your poultry raising program.

Miscellaneous Costs
Records give you a continuous control over your poultry raising operation. That is, they give you an accurate picture of your profits—or losses—at all times. By maintaining a record of feed costs and all miscellaneous costs, such as investment, labor, lights, heat, fuel, etc., you can control operating costs and keep them at an efficient level.

These figures, together with income data derived from the sale of eggs, enable you to quickly determine your poultry profits.

Daily and monthly records also point out the weak spots in your management program. When there is a sudden shift in egg production, many times records help you find the trouble, pointing out various flock irregularities. This enables you to take immediate steps to improve conditions, thereby heading off what may be a serious disease outbreak or a decided drop in egg production.

Help Egg Quality
Records also help you maintain high egg quality. By noting production records of your birds each day, you can more readily determine the non-layers and poor layers in the flock. By eliminating such birds, you not only increase flock efficiency, but you also insure good quality in your eggs. And quality eggs bring the highest prices.

When you set up your records, be sure you establish a complete record system. Itemize your costs and operating expenses and keep all information up to date. Your record-keeping will then begin to pay!

Looking for honest-to-goodness COMFORT?

Better Buy Buick!

YOU'VE probably heard a lot of talk about comfort in 1950 cars.

But we'd like to offer one suggestion, which is—let a Buick speak for itself.

We'd like to have you settle yourself (your family too, if you have one) on a Buick's soft, deep, comfort-angled cushions, and see how restful they are.

More than this, we'd like you to sample that comfort in motion. Slip your fingers around that slender steering wheel, touch toe to treadle and take off in the smooth, unbroken surge of power that Dynaflo Drive* delivers.

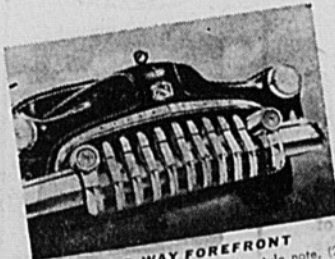

We'd like to have you hunt out some of the less-smooth streets or back roads that never seem to get fixed—and put Buick's soft coil springing and solid underpinning to tough and practical test.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

All the while, be thinking about what such riding and driving ease can mean on long, all-day trips, and compare it with what you've been used to.

This whole experience is bound to make you want a Buick—and when you ask "how much" you'll get a second pleasant surprise in the low delivered prices your dealer is quoting—prices that start at a level that is actually lower than you'd pay for some sixes.

Your Buick dealer is the man to see and this is the best of all times to see him. Drop in, won't you, to see about getting an order signed?

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT
This rugged front end (1) sets the style note. (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable. (3) avoids "locking horns." (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

- There's no unsightly chipping of paint, no loss of shape after long use, simply because Aluminum shades are constructed to withstand years of wear and abuse.
- To wash, just dip blinds in water and let dry, or use moistened cloth.
- Little but important touches of beauty and comfort lend much to the outside and inside appearance of your home. Of such importance is your window treatment.

New Use For Old Windmills

I drove past Larson's farm last week and saw him perched on top of his 75-year-old windmill. "Still planning on tearing it down?" I shouted up to him.

"Not on your life," says Curly as he climbs down. "I'm getting myself a television set from Buzz Ellis' and he says this windmill is going to come in mighty handy."

"You see," Curly went on, "I'm going to put my TV antenna right on top of it. Since the windmill is higher than the house, I'll get the best reception around here—but if it wasn't for Buzz and his advice, I'd have scrapped it."

From where I sit, Curly's success as a farmer and his popularity in town is due, in a large part, to his open-mindedness and his willingness to listen to people and their opinions. He'll listen to Buzz Ellis over a malted milk or he and I can talk politics—each with a glass of temperate beer. Yes, Curly's as modern as television itself!

JUST TALK

by
A.M.J.

Do you read a lot? One man came into the office not so long ago and spent forty dollars at one whack on newspaper and magazine subscriptions.

There are very few people who read even half of the things that are published in newspapers and magazines, but most of us spend a lot of money on such publications. It has been years since I read a book from cover to cover, and I seldom hear other people comment on books, but most every one quotes magazines and newspapers. So far as I am concerned the newspapers could omit all of the supposed to be comic, except Blondie and Dagwood, they could have a lot of paper too by leaving out the society pages, the biggest part of the sport sections, and the markets, and in the magazines they could leave out most everything except the cartoons, but, like everybody else, I can hardly wait to get the morning paper, nor the latest magazines. Are we all nuts?

Doctor W. E. Payne, who delivered the child for the wife of the Mexican who claimed to be 99 years old, says that he believes the man is telling the truth about being 99 years old. There are fourteen children in the family and the man says he enjoyed having a big family. His present wife is his third. Just how many of the children are able to care for themselves Dr. Payne did not know, but it would be interesting to know how a man 99 years old can make enough money to feed that many folks. I'd like to find out, especially with food prices as high as they are now.

There is a story about some fishermen in Louisiana who once saw an alligator knock a negro child into the water and eat it. Soon afterwards the fishermen came to a small home where a great number of colored children were playing about and one of them told the woman what they had seen. She said, "I told pappy the other day that something was getting some of our children."

Another one I once heard about a man in Tennessee whose wife gave birth to one set of twins, the next year she brought forth another set of twins, but when on the third year she presented her husband with set of triplets, he stole a horse and ran away.

The styles in homes have changed a lot since I was a boy or perhaps out here in West Texas folks go in for the ranch style and flat houses more than they do where I was raised and have not been back in many a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Si Wilson are building a home out on Garza Street that is going to be a whopper, but it is only one story high and I'll bet Mrs. Wilson has her blood pressure up to 137½. Mrs. Wilson is bubbling over at all times with enthusiasm about something even if it is only how many beans are growing in her garden, and I know that when she gets that home finished that it will be different, complete and will be one of the show places of the South Plains. She is going to take some of the glory away from Lubbock Street where Max Arrants has been sitting out on his front porch, even in the winter time when the weather hovers below the freezing point in order to hear people ask "Whose beautiful home is that?"

Living across the street from the Arrants' has been a distinction as I feel that it is somewhat of an honor to be in the vicinity of such a home, but if he is going to keep up with the Wilson's he will have to add another room or two, and maybe a special guest house. My wife and I can hardly wait to see the Wilson house when it is finished.

Met Mrs. S. S. Forrest on the street and she said, after reading my lament about what a weak and undernourishing evening meal I have been having, she is going to come over to my house and fix me up a real South Texas dinner and I've been planning that meal ever since.

How about some real old style lye hominy, not the kind that comes out of a can, but some that is made by soaking corn in lye water! And then I would like some apple fritters, some Louisiana gumbo, some old Southern spoon bread, some real butter beans, not big fat lima beans, but the dark green ones that have a real butter bean flavor, a pork roast, with sweet potatoes cooked around it, some real churned butter milk with little gobs of butter floating around in it, some Spanish rice, a four story fresh coconut cake and a big dose of soda.

Mrs. Forrest has her job cut out for her.

That folks can get along better by keeping their eyes peeled and watching opponents while driving an automobile is proven by the fact that there have been no serious accidents at the corner of 9th and Lubbock Streets. The light at this corner serves more to confuse things than it does to slow the traffic down, and I for one have no idea as to what the rules are concerning this confusing corner. If you hope to go east across Lubbock Street and a car coming north on 9th Street blocks your way when the light turns green what should you do, drive across onto the wrong side of East Garza, twist around so you have to take chances on getting smacked by some car coming north on 9th Street or close your eyes and trust in luck.

If you can drive in Slaton and not get whammed you can drive anywhere in safety, and yet there are fewer accidents in Slaton than in any place I know of. Look out here I come.

What will the well dressed young man wear this winter? If it will be anything like what most of them wore this summer it will be flaming red coat, green slacks and cowboy boots that turn up at the toe and are run over at the heels, or perhaps he will wear a sausage tight pair of blue jeans, a dirty shirt and a pair of shoes that are run over at the soles and turned up at the toes.

It seems that overcoats, a full suit of clothes and hats are just for the middle aged old duffers who are still fighting World War No. 1. It is probable that by 1975 the only place you will be able to find a man's tie or hat will be in a museum.

Ideal Pillow Thickness

The ideal thickness for a pillow is the distance from the shoulder to the neck for support. Consequently individual differences as to both thickness and softness should be considered when selecting pillows in the interest of maximum sleeping comfort.

Colored clothes stay bright longer if they are hung wrong side out on the line and taken indoors when they are just dry enough to iron.

Contending Earnestly for the Truth

From a letter I received I understand that some one believes that the seven churches of Asia (Rev. 1:20) were seven different kinds of churches. However, except the fact that the Bible mentions seven churches, there was no Bible proof offered to sustain such belief. To me it seems that the some one assumes from the statement that they were different kinds of churches. But we remember that faith comes not by assumption but by hearing God's word (Rom. 10:17). Now, does the Bible anywhere say they were different kinds? Let us see.

First, the Bible teaches the Lord adds all the saved to one body (1 Cor. 12:12,13). Here the apostle does not say they—the corinthians only—but "we all"—all baptized scripturally—were baptized into one body. The body is the church (Ephesians 1:22; Colossians 1:18,24). Any idea contrary to the truth that all the saved in the christian dispensation are by the Lord added to but one church is erroneous.

Again, although in the Bible the word church is found in the plural, it never means different kinds of churches. The church of Ephesus was one of the seven (Rev. 1:20) but it was the Lord's church (Acts 20:17,28). They were all churches of Christ (Rom. 16:16). They were not different kinds but the same kind of church, the same kind of people meeting to worship in several different places.

The query was deeply appreciated. May seeking the truth cause us not to be enemies but to be blessed of God.

Yolande scored heavily in the talent section of the contest in which she sang various operatic selections. She didn't do badly in the beauty division either, as can be plainly seen.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

To warm you up on a cool Fall day, here is a Spanish casserole suggested by Mrs. Howard Hoffman. It takes quite a few ingredients, but most really good dishes do. Here are the ingredients you need.

1 package noodles
salt and pepper to taste
Fry the meat in a little butter until done. Add the chopped onions and peppers and cook slowly until tender. Add all the other ingredients except cheese and noodles. In your casserole dish, place one layer of cooked noodles, then a layer of sauce, and finally a layer of cheese; repeat until all the ingredients are used. Top with sauce and put in oven (350) until warm. If some is left over, it may be heated and used for another meal.

1 pound ground steak
2 small onions chopped
1 small green pepper chopped
1 small can whole kernel corn
1 small can tomato sauce
1 can tomato soup
½ lb. grated American cheese
3 tablespoons ketchup

TO: GRADY STEPHENS, BILL DAVIS AND WIFE, LUTTIE DAVIS Defendants, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable 99th District Court of Lubbock County at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 23 day of October A. D. 1950, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 5 day of September A. D. 1950, in this cause, numbered 18367 on the docket of said court and styled J. D. TOWNSEND Plaintiff, vs. GRADY STEPHENS, BILL DAVIS AND WIFE, LUTTIE DAVIS Defendants.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: That this is a suit to try title, as well as for damages. That on June 30, 1950, plaintiff was, and still is the fee simple owner of: The East One-half (E½) of the Northwest One-fourth (NW¼) of Section Sixteen (16) in Block D-6 in Lubbock County, Texas, and afterwards, on the 1st day of July, 1950, the defendants dispossessed plaintiff of such premises.

Plaintiff alleges defendants are guilty of laches for failure to file mineral deed to above described land until June 30, 1950, and that plaintiff herein was innocent purchaser, because of lack of notice of any kind in law or in fact of alleged mineral deed from Bill Davis and wife Luttie Davis to Grady Stephens.

Plaintiff prays that mineral deed mentioned above be declared null and void and that cloud placed on plaintiff's title be removed, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

GOOSE STILL HONKS—When Thomas Bowes bought an estate in Dundee, Ill., he received an unexpected dividend: a 1918 Willis-St. Clair "Grey Goose" roadster. Shown with his wife and two sons, Bowes pumped up the car's tires, boosted the battery and, without bothering to change the auto's original gasoline and oil, stepped on the starter. With a honk of delight, the "Grey Goose" rolled out of the garage for the first time in 22 years.

4400 FARMERS KILLED
300,000 INJURED

DON'T "CULTIVATE" ACCIDENTS ON YOUR FARM

A field half plowed—a furrow left unturned—work stopped by accident!

To the farmer, working against time and weather, delay can mean the difference between a crop and no crop, a good year or a lean one. So accidents have no place in his schedule; they cost money, delay production—and the growing season keeps rolling along.

Yet, farming ranks third most hazardous in eight major industries. Think of it, while the death rate for all industry is 29 per 100,000 workers, in agriculture it is 55 per 100,000! One farmer in every 15 is injured on the job! Total—4400 killed, 300,000 disabled by injury every year.

The wise farmer knows where his hazards are—and avoids them. Falls, machinery and animals account for most accidents down on the farm. Their annual cost—$75,000,000. Yet, they're so easy to prevent. Just a little caution is all it takes.

Don't "cultivate" accidents and losses! Instead, "cultivate" safety and success!
