Taxes Become Delinquent Jan. 31; Drewry Urges Prompt Payment

City, School, State and County taxes will become delinquent on January 31, three weeks from this date. Local tax offices are becoming overcrowded and F. A. Drewry, deputy, urged that people begin paying these taxes now in order to avoid the last minute rush.

City and School taxes are payable at the City Hall and Drewry has the tax rolls for those who own property in the Slaton area. He is accepting tax payments for poll taxes and for property taxes; and also will have automobile license plates soon after February 1st when the new plates are scheduled for delivery. Although cars are not legally required to bear the new license until April 1st, they should be purchased early in the year.

According to Mr. Drewry, more automobile licenses were issued for the Slaton area during 1949 than have been in previous years. He estimated that approximately 2,000 licenses were issued for passenger cars, 500 commercial licenses, and 150 farm. This is a large increase over 1948, and Mr. Drewry said that a 1950 increase over last year's is anticipated.

The local office is maintained so that people in Slaton and this territory will not have to travel to Lubbock and stand in line for many hours to get their taxes paid. It is a convenience both for the local people and takes a great amount of work off of the office in Lubbock.

Forrest Lumber Co. Opens This Week

Since the first of this year the Plains Lumber Company has become known as the Forrest Lumber Company following the sale of the yard by C. A. Porter, former co-owner and operator. The Forrest Lumber yard is an entirely different establishment operating out of Lubbock where the home office is located.

Don Britt, new manager of the Slaton Forrest Company, was for two years employed at the yard in Lubbock. "We are extremely anxious to get acquainted with everyone here," Mr. Britt said, "and we will do all in our power to continue the fine service extended to Slaton by the Plains Lumber Company."

Mr. Britt, his wife, and family live at 930 West Lynn in Slaton. The Britt's have two sons, Glenn and Wendall Akin. Mrs. Britt will also be working with the Forrest yard as bookkeeper.

Purchase of the Slaton Plains Company and the one in Post brings the total Forrest Lumber yards up to ten retail yards, all in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Shirm of Clovis, N. M., spent New Years with Mr. and Mrs. John Ecker.

The Question Of The Week . . .

"What do the men think about women's styles?" This is always a good debatable question, and one which is never satisfactorily settled by any amount of thought or discussion. However, some men like women's clothes; but they include such people as designers, tailor shop owners, and clothing salesmen. Let's take a look at what Slaton men have to say on the subject.

Melvin Abernathy, co-owner of the Slaton Steam Laundry, would naturally look at the matter from a business stand. He says, "All I have to say is they change too often. Take men's clothes for example, twenty years ago you cleaned a man's suit on the same equipment that we use today; but not the women's dresses. If we changed cleaning equipment with styles, we'd go broke, so we just have to struggle with what we have." So according to Mr. Abernathy, he would have all the women looking alike—as do the men.

Mr. B. D. Hickman, asked if he would answer the question of the week, refused to promise anything until after he was told what he was to give his opinion about. (These insurance men learn to be careful.) But finally he condescended to give a few words in behalf of the ladies fashions, and we quote Mr. Hickman as saying, "Well, I'll say this much about the women's new hat fashions. I can't stand these feathered hats when they happen to be sitting in

Churches Unite In Extensive Appeal For World Relief

NEW YORK — More than 100,000 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches of 19 major denominations with a total membership of 24,479,953 are uniting in a concerted campaign for world relief, reconstruction, and inter-church aid. The program, "One Great Hour of Sharing", certain phases of which began January 4, and will come to a climax on Sunday, March 12, Harper Sibley, prominent business man of Rochester, N. Y. and campaign chairman, announced here.

The appeal is sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, the American Committee of the World Council of Churches, and the United Council of Church Women through Church World Service, Inc., official relief agency of the Protestant and Orthodox churches.

Characterizing the project as a new development in practical church unity, Mr. Sibley stated that the people of Europe and Asia need continued material, financial, and spiritual assistance. In addition to extensive denominational programs, minimum requests for the coming year made to American churches through Church World Service by field workers handling relief and reconstruction projects amount to 36,000,000 pounds of clothing, food, vitamin, medicine and other contributed supplies, and $4,000,000 for education and rehabilitation projects and other forms of reconstruction, he said.

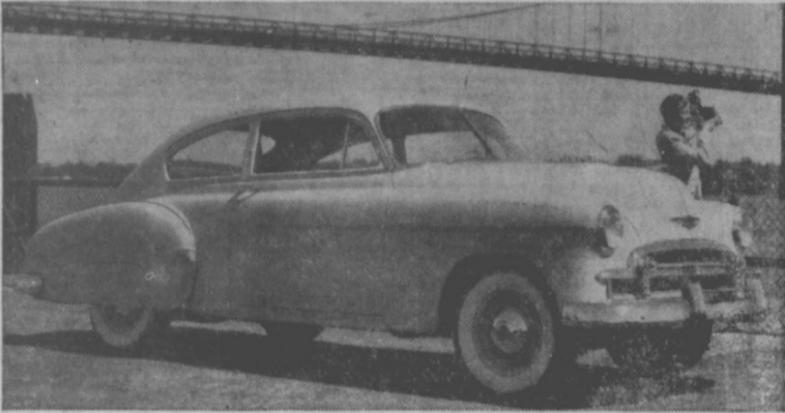

Slaton P. O. Resumes Pre-Rush Schedule

Since October 1 and the beginning of the postal rush resulting from the large cotton harvest, the Slaton Post Office has remained open on Saturdays until 6:00 p. m. However, now that both the majority of the cotton laborers have left and the holiday mailing rush is over, the post office will resume its original schedule of remaining open until 6:00 p. m. Monday through Friday and 1:00 p. m. Saturday. This schedule will be maintained until next fall. Postmaster Scudder announced this week.

Mrs. Bruce Pember and daughter Joyce spent New Years week end in Dallas.

Mrs. B. B. Jones and children are visiting Mrs. Tommy Ruth Lutz in Middleton, Pa.

1950 Chevrolet To Be Shown Here Saturday . . .

As in 1949, Chevrolet's newest line of passenger cars offers two individually designed sedans. This is the Fleetline, so described because the curvature of the rear quarters follows body roof lines. Fresh beauty in exterior and interior treatment is visible to the eye with increased power and comfort highspotting chassis improvements. In addition, the company offers an automatic shift in the optional Powerglide transmission.

New Olds Shown By Davis Motor

Three new series of the 1950 Oldsmobile, the "76", the "88", and the "98", are now on display this week at the Davis Motor Company on South 9th Street.

The new Oldsmobiles feature a new "Whirlaway" hydra-matic drive that pairs with the high compression "Rocket" engine to give better and smoother performance. A husky new frame provides a sound and solid basis for Air-Borne drive. Scientific distribution of weight and low center of gravity give more stability and roadability than ever.

Luxurious new upholstery highlights the interiors of the new Oldsmobiles. Seats are broader, roomier, more comfortable—windows are wider, offering a new range of visibility. The inside trim is marked by a new and ultra-modern instrument cluster and a new steering wheel.

Baptists To Have State Conference

Texas Baptists will gather in Dallas again next week for their annual statewide evangelistic conference. Approximately 5,000 pastors and laymen are expected for the meeting which begins Monday, January 9 and ends Wednesday, January 11.

This will be the second large Baptist meeting in Dallas in two weeks. Over 4,100 members of the denomination from 25 different states attended the Southern Baptist Sunday School conference there December 27-30.

Serving as a springboard from which to launch an extensive simultaneous revival crusade, the conference will study all phases of revival work and will hear speakers from six states. The evangelistic campaign is scheduled for April 9-23, at which time every Baptist church west of the Mississippi River is asked to hold revival services.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Edwards from Susanville, Calif., former Slaton residents, visited over the holidays with Mr. Edwards' mother, Mrs. H. M. Edwards and other relatives.

First Slaton Trades Day Drawing of the New Year will be held next Monday, January 9 at the City Hall. The January special feature on the program will be entirely different from the others. Besides the three $25.00 Government Savings Bonds and the many gifts that will be awarded by the merchants taking part in the program, three cash awards will be made—all selected from the bond box. One of the cash prizes will be for $50.00 and the other two for $10.00 and the other two for $5.00 each. If the weather permits, the drawing will take place on the City Hall lawn as previously, but if the weather is inclement the program will be held in the City Hall auditorium.

Citizens in the Slaton area have shown a decided interest in the program by both increased number attending the drawings and by the number registering at the various business establishments included in the plan. The feature page on one of the inside pages of the Slatonite gives full details on how every one who wishes may enter into the trades day plan by registering for the bonds, money and other gifts. There are no bounds to the program, and you need buy anything. All participants need do is to visit the places of business listed below who are taking part and write your name on a prepared slip of paper and drop it in the boxes that are placed there for that purpose. Each person may register once every day at each of the businesses.

If you, as a home town citizen or as a visitor to Slaton would like to see the program continued you should tell the operators of the firms who have promoted the idea so that they will know and perhaps will want to continue the Trades Day.

The name of the Plains Lumber Company, listed in this paper as one of the merchants participating in Trades Day, has been changed to Forrest Lumber Company; however, the promoters and operators of the new company will continue to take part in the program, and you can still register at the same place for their prizes.

Story of Oleomargarine
Napoleon III, who offered a prize in 1870 for the best butter substitute that could be produced in France, was in large part responsible for the first extensive manufacture of the product. Originally made from beef fat, margarine now is derived principally from the fats and oils of plants. The buttery flavor is obtained from oil which is treated with lactic acid bacteria — the same bacteria which gives butter its distinctive taste. Margarine today is custom-built to keep up with nutritional progress and available supplies.

Petroleum Shortages
Our export of petroleum products to Europe in 1946 constituted about 3 per cent of our total production of petroleum. The real drain on our petroleum resources at the present is our own high level of consumption, which exceeds our 1938 consumption by 70 per cent, according to the National Planning association. Certain special items, however, such as lubricating oil — on which there is no great pressure in this country — may continue to be exported from the United States.

Chatterboxing

with Marie Guhl

Speaking of weather and I believe last week in my column I was—this morning, Wednesday, it's seven degrees above zero. Take it from one who suffers—that's cold. But then I suppose there is some consolation in living in Slaton than in Montana. If we lived there the mercury would be registering forty below and the Army Air Force would be throwing hay down to us; and pardon the pun, but for me that would be the last straw. But I shall always say that Texas cold is the coldest cold in the world, and apparently there must be others who agree with me as so many jokes along that line have been originated. For example take the joke about the two Eskimos standing on the North Pole one morning. They were trodding through snow up to their waists and the thermometer didn't go low enough to register the temperature. Then one of them turned to the other and said, "Boy I'll bet it's cold in Amarillo this morning." And I'll bet it was.

Isn't it funny how almost every after-dinner speaker ends up talking about the mess the world economy is in, no matter what topic he says he is going to discuss. The other evening we were guests at the Knife and Fork Club in Lubbock with Judge Harold C. Kessinger, noted humorist, orator, and philosopher from Ridgeway, N. J., as club speaker. He went into the usual spiel about how history repeats itself and how we'll have another depression in 1954 if it continues to repeat, and all about how the very foundation of our economy is in danger if we don't learn how to live the peace after the war. He went on like that for a while until he finally managed to get everyone so worried about Russia that we were ready to take on anyone in another battle—then he said, "But I'm no pessimist, merely a discontented optimist." The Judge was a very brilliant man and an excellent interest-holding speaker; but it did, nonetheless, strike me as being a bit amusing that his speech topic had been "Man's Inventions." The closest he came to the subject was in his recitation of a very lengthy chronological list of the American inventions, and he gave this so fast that the only ones I got were the automobile, air plane and the cotton gin—and I missed the dates on them. But even though he didn't stick too close to inventions, it was the best talk I have heard in years—and the food was the best since Christmas.

Athenians Elect New Club Leaders

Members of the Athenian Study Club met Tuesday evening, Jan. 3 at the home of Mrs. Milton Fields for a business meeting and the election of officers. New officers for the club include Mrs. George Hodges as president, Mrs. Sam Phillips, Jr., vice president; Mrs. Bob Fondy, secretary; and Mrs. George Harlan, treasurer. The regular term of the officers will begin at the adjournment of the last meeting in May. Three new members have been added to the Athenian group. They are Mrs. M. G. Davis, Mrs. Jack Dickson, and Mrs. George Harlan. The previous two meetings of the club held in December were conducted along the Christmas theme, December 19 the group met at the home of Miss Martha Cudd for their Christmas party, with their husbands as special guests. The toy gifts which were exchanged were later distributed to needy children in town. Another meeting held December 20 was designated mainly for a personal gift exchange and a caroling tour about town.

Economy Wardrobe

This chic-tailored redingote, of cotton and rayon, is only one-fifth of a $45 spring wardrobe. The redingote alone, available in char-treuse, navy, gray or red, sells for about $9. Completing the wardrobe, which is pictured in the January Good Housekeeping, are a polka-dot print dress, a frieze print, and a dress-and-jacket team, the dress of sheer rayon crepe and the jacket of cotton and rayon. All are Marsha Manning fashions and carry the magazine's Guar-anty Seal.

Land of Cotton
With a population three times that of the United States, every in-dividual in India is clad in cotton fabrics. India is the world's only important producer of jute — on which the world relies for almost all its sacks, its containers for wheat, corn, rice, sugar, etc. Sev-enty-five per cent of the jute is grown in Pakistan as is also much of the cotton of the Indian Union and Pakistan. Most of the mills, however are within the Union of India.

Second Quarter Of Baptist Hour Is Begun January 1

CHARLES WELLBORN

With a special New Year's pro-gram on January first, the Baptist Hour began its second quarter of Year-Round network broadcasting.

The Baptist Hour speaker for the first three months of 1950 will be Reverend Charles Wellborn, of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas. Widely known as an evangelist and speaker on college campuses, Mr. Wellborn has quite a colorful background. On two separate occasions he has won national awards for oratory and debating.

An honor graduate of Baylor University, Waco, Texas, Mr. Wellborn later served as a professor of Economics at that school. In fact, that was his position when he was called to the Ministry.

Mr. Wellborn was in the Arm-ed Forces during the war. He served in the U. S. Ski-Troops, and saw many months of combat in Europe. He received several de-cretions for bravery in action.

The theme of Mr. Wellborn's thirteen messages on the Baptist Hour will be "Time for Decision."

The Baptist Hour is presented weekly by The Radio Commission of The Southern Baptist Con-vention as a contribution to the religious life of America, and is broadcast from Baptist Radio Cen-ter, Atlanta, Georgia.

The Baptist Hour may be heard at 2:30 p. m. on Sunday over Radio Station KFYO, Lubbock. The local Baptist pastor, J. T. Bolding, and his congregation invite you to list-en.

Mrs. L. T. Arthur left Thursday night to visit her daughter in Los Angeles, California.

EDITORS TELL . . .

(Note: The following is the closing paragraph of the longest editorial ever written by Frank Grimes, who completed his 35th year with the Abilene Reporter-News Sunday, Dec. 4. The editorial was titled "35 Years and 15,000,000 Words Later.")

We haven't got rich writing editorials. We haven't got rich period. By and large, newspaper people get a bang out of their work and stay with it for life. Unless they get into the publishing or selling end of the business, or become outstanding stars in their line of work, they never get rich. We do not at all feel traitorous to our kind by advising the hundreds of young people who have talked their vocational problems over with us to seek some other line of work, if they expect to accumulate material wealth. Good writing is neither a craft nor a trade, but an art, and you seldom see wealthy artists, unless they happen to be geniuses—and in that case fame and fortune overtakes them after they're dead.

But we wouldn't trade our job for any other on earth. We have no regrets. We always wanted to be a newspaperman, and we have tried our best to be one.

With what success God only knows.

Report On A Mile Of Death . . .

Curtis C. Dumm, manager of a service station on U. S. 23, about 30 miles south of Columbus, Ohio, has also a self-appointed role as rescuer of traffic-accident victims—that is, those who are not beyond rescue—on the mile or so of nearby highway. The road is smooth and the curves sweeping, Dumm says in the January Reader's Digest, but he calls this inviting highway the "Mile of Death."

In 21 recent months Dumm has towed in from Highway 23 and its tributary roads the wreckage of 142 accidents. He has helped remove the bodies of 11 men and women who died in those crashes. Thanks to his knowledge of first aid, he has saved the lives of many more.

By day and night, "like a fireman always listening for the alarm," Dumm is summoned not by a bell, however, but by a report like an explosion, followed by the grinding noise of clashing metal. "When I hear those sounds I roll out of bed before I am fully awake, jump into my clothes, grab a wrecker and am off. Meanwhile my wife telephones for the state police and calls an ambulance."

Dumm wonders—as he works with blowtorch and crowbar to untangle twisted steel and shattered arms and legs, and to remove from the wreckage human skulls split as if by an axe—"why the brains spilled all about weren't used to prevent such useless smashups."

The article's record of deaths is confirmed by a representative of the National Safety Council who checked with highway officials, the local newspaper and the sheriff. "In very few of these accidents," Dumm states, "have I found the cause to be mechanical defects; 90 percent of the trouble lies with the drivers. I refer not only to those under the influence of liquor but to those who become intoxicated with the sense of power the moment they get behind the steering wheel, those who get so cocky they believe they are immune to accidents, those who feel they have the right-of-way over everybody, those who think it's adventure to flirt with death by wild driving."

The fact that 90 humans die daily—one every 16 minutes—in U. S. motor accidents, means that good roads, good lights and efficient traffic control are not enough, Dumm emphasizes. The one thing most desperately needed is the will to drive carefully. If we can popularize highway safety, we shall have gone a long way toward keeping hospitals and graveyards empty of motorcar victims.

"Why not a one-man campaign by each of us," he suggests, "to make good driving, starting with our own, the smart thing to do?" — Taken from Reader's Digest.

Can The Nation Stand It? . . .

While there are still a good many people in this country who work long, hard hours to keep the wheels of industry turning there is a fast slowing down to a pace that allows much more leisure time than has ever been known by the average citizen. This slower tempo is beneficial in some ways, but there are also some aspects of such conditions that could mean catastrophe for the nation just as such short hours and high prices caused when France was caught short of all kinds of material when the World War Two avalanched upon them.

After years of short work hours and lethargy among the people they become unable to speed up and should this nation become embroiled in another way it is very doubtful that our workers could ever reach the height of production that they did at the peak of the last conflict.

Perhaps there will some day be a time when most every tiresome task can be done by machinery but we have not reached that peak of perfection yet and the time we cut from productions we cut in volume produced.

The more leisure time we have the more destructive we become, there are no good fishing places left in the United States except in the waters near the coast lines, there is little good hunting ground left and about all that most folks can find to do these days is to play golf or whoop things up at honky tonks. Before long we'll have to go to work or provide better amusements for all of the folks who have nothing to do or the whole population will be so bored with leisure time that a lot of them will be wanting to go to work in order to keep from going nuts.

New Railroad Ballaster

A mechanically operated, power track ballaster has been developed for railroad use. It is capable of covering up to one mile a day, compared with 1,500 feet a day by use of conventional power hand tampers and a double crew. The ballaster is self-propelled. A gasoline motor lifts a cross-head member which spans the length of railroad tie and carries 32 tamping shoes. These shoes are dropped on the ballast with a pile-driver action, at the same time working the ballast under the ties.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Since we have had so few recipes for fancy breads, this week Mrs. John L. Fertig has given us a very unusual recipe for Banana Nut Bread. Mrs. Fertig says there is almost no possibility to have a failure with this bread as the ingredients are simply mixed together and baked.

- Ingredients call for:
- 1/4 cup shortening
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1 beaten egg
 - 1 cup all-bran
 - 2 tablespoons water
 - 1 1/2 cups mashed bananas
 - 1 1/2 cups flour
 - 2 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon soda
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1 tea spoon vanilla
 - 1/2 cup chopped nuts.

Cream shortening and sugar, add egg and bran and mix thoroughly. Mix water with banana and add alternately with dry ingredients. Add vanilla and nuts to above mixture and mix all together evenly. Place in one pound loaf pan and let stand for thirty minutes; then bake in moderate oven about an hour.

Mrs. Fertig said she was given the fine recipe years ago by her husband's sister and that she has been making the bread herself for about twenty years now. "And in that time I can't remember having a failure." As long as your ingredients are all fresh, there is nothing to worry about, since the recipe is so easy to make.

Mr. and Mrs. Fertig live in Slaton at 325 South 10th Street. They have one son, John L., Jr., more commonly referred to as "Jack", who is married and lives in Portland, Oregon.

Life in the Country

Hadacol Helps Textile Worker Stay On Job

The great textile mills of the Carolinas are booming again with shifts working day and night to turn out the nation's finest materials, and HADACOL is doing its part to keep folks on the job. Many textile workers have reported the wonderful relief which HADACOL with its five B vitamins and four important minerals. This worker, a young father employed by the great Cannon Mills at Kannapolis, N. C.

Jay W. Barnhardt, Route 3, Box 343, Kannapolis, N. C., is 30 years old and the proud father of two children. His work in the Cannon Mills calls for a great deal of standing up.

"I had been ill for several years," said Mr. Barnhardt as he explained how close he came to having to give up his work. "I suffered with a weak stomach. It became worse and worse with gastric disturbances. I just could not hold food and no food agreed with me. I could not sleep and finally I became so sick that my legs got weak as I worked in the mill each day."

Mr. Barnhardt, like so many sufferers, had tried many preparations without relief, when he heard about HADACOL.

"After the second bottle of HADACOL I began to feel better and to regain the weight I had lost," said Mr. Barnhardt. "My digestion became normal again and today I am as well as ever. My legs no longer bother me. I eat and enjoy my food. I sleep well and have plenty of energy."

Mr. Barnhardt has taken several bottles of HADACOL and now takes the famous vitamin and mineral preparation to help stay well. He has had his wife take it with wonderful results and has recommended it to his friends in the mill.

Mr. Barnhardt suffered from a lack of B vitamins and the minerals which HADACOL contains. HADACOL comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away.

A lack of only a small amount of B vitamins and certain minerals will cause digestive disturbances. Your food will not agree with you. You will have an upset stomach. You will suffer from heartburn, gas pains and your food will sour on your stomach and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the signs of lack of B vitamins and minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a deficiency disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the vitamins and mineral, which your system lacks.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL.

Use of Brewers' Yeast
Brewers' yeast usually occurs in the breweries in the form of a thick, brown soup. Some of it is utilized in the actual brewing, but the surplus is used, in dried condition, as animal feed, and medicinally. It is also an excellent raw material for making soup extracts.

JUST TALK
by
A.M.J.

It is said that the man who invented the ditch digging machine got $50.00 for the complicated conglomeration of buckets, chains, etc., and that Burrous, the man who invented the adding machine, and Mergenthaler, who cooked up the linotype, both went crazy, while the man who designed the safety pin and the one who invented shoe hooks on the old fashioned men's high top shoes, got rich.

It seems to me that all of inventive powers and incentive for financial gain seems to be beamed on making life easier for women, many of whom have so much time on their hands that they do not know what to do.

This week I saw a half page advertisement on ready mixed hot chocolate. "Ain't that something?" Next thing we know some guy will spend thousands of dollars on some kind of invention that will provide hot buttered toast. Of course we now have electric toasters but it may be that women are getting too weak to butter it after the strain of having to put the bread into the electric flip-flopper and buttering it might bring on some kind of physical breakdown.

I have often wondered how the American women could have stood the starin of mixing chocolate with milk in order to make hot chocolate and I am greatly pleased that some one has found a way to have the stuff mixed before hand so that all the women will have to do from now on will be to pour the stuff out in a cup and burn their tongues without having to go to all the previous hard work.

In a country like West Texas where one has to go from two to four hundred miles to find a fishing place and where there are few outdoor amusements one needs more hobbies than folks who live in sections where more time can be spent pleasantly outside.

There are a few women who I know of who are saving up pitchers, bottles and baskets but the only man I know who has a hobby of any kind is M. A. Pember, who is a stamp collector. He must get quite a thrill out of his hobby for several times he has come into our office and the first thing he did was to take a gander at the trash cans, twice he went after a rat and came up with some stamps that must have been pretty good stuff, at least he seemed very pleased with them and once went away and forgot to present us with the bill he came over to discourage us with.

If some one will give me a good suggestion I'd like to have some kind of hobby for I'm getting kinder weary of grinding out this line of baloney every week.

Mrs. Lee Green's brother whose home is in Houston and I asked him how he likes to live in Houston and he said that it is a miserable climate. Our early married life was spent in Beaumont and I have often wondered how folks can stand to live in a country where the sun takes out in September and stays hid until May. That part of the state is very depressing to me and I'd lots rather be out here where we feel live having a celebration every time a cloud comes across the sky, than to live down there where you slosh around in over-shoes two thirds of the year and have to carry an umbrella with you go across the street to see a neighbor. In fact I'll bet there are not over three umbrellas in Lubbock County.

There are a lot of things to discourage anyone from expanding or taking on more responsibility these days such as shortage of materials, possibility of a recession and of local conditions being extraordinary but there are also many things that should encourage expansions and investments.

The farmers probably have more money than they have had in many, many years although it would be hard to get one of them to admit it. Prices are not likely to go down because there is no over supply of anything, in fact if there are as many strikes and increases in costs in the near future as there have been in the past year prices are most likely to go up and what you buy now will probably be worth more within a year than it is at present. There never was a time when the future looked safe for the investor and there probably never will be.

Pass the aspirin.
When I was a boy folks did not hide all of their pretty flower gardens in the back yard, they were planted out in the open where folks could see them. On my way to school there was a house where two old maids lived and every year they planted their entire front yard in poppies. Perhaps they were not as big and luxuriantly colored as I remember them but to me they were something worth stopping every day to admire. There was another home which was owned by a saloon keeper and he had an immense rose garden in his front yard; roses grew on front fences and most every home had flowers where they could be seen. Of course I would not at that time admit that I admired flowers and when some elder person came along I sneaked away from the gardens as if I thought that raising flowers was foolish, in fact when my mother put me out to planting roses, violets, etc., I would quite often chop one or two plants into because I felt that I was being imposed upon but when the flowers came I often gathered them and sheepishly presented them to her.

It is now the style to hide a flower garden in the rear of the house along with the cabbages, onions and trash barrels but for me I'd like to see the flowers out where their beauty could be enjoyed by everyone who comes along.

Slaton seems like an oasis in a desert in some ways with its many trees, hedges, etc., but our town could be many times more attractive if we could plant our flowers out where folks could see them. Some day I'm going to get up nerve enough to break the rules and plant some flowers in our own front yard, that is, if I can talk my wife into letting me do so.

SLATON STEAM LAUNDRY

Marvin and Melvin Abernathy, owners and operators of the Slaton Steam Laundry, have been in the business since 1926; however they have only been in their present location since the fall of 1943 when they bought the building which they now occupy.

The Slaton Steam Laundry is classified as a commercial laundry; but this classification is somewhat misleading since a "commercial laundry" meant, not too many years ago, that such laundries of this type did only flat work for commercial establishments such as restaurants, hotels, etc. In addition to flat work, the Slaton Steam Laundry renders such services as finished work, rough dry, and semi-finished service. And along the line of customer convenience, the Abernathy brothers furnish free pick-up and delivery—with no limitations.

When they first started their business, it was strictly a laundry; but since an addition in 1939 they have offered a complete dry cleaning service—all done at the same place.

"With the equipment we have and the number of employees working with us, we try to render the very fastest service within our capacity," Mr. Abernathy, Melvin, told us; "However, our business is just like any other, we have rush periods and at times we get behind," he added.

And in order to give complete and thorough service to their customers, the Slaton Steam Laundry has nineteen employees besides the owners. They include Mrs. E. R. Burns, Mrs. Mamie Brake, Mrs. E. A. Gentry, Mrs. Claude Herndon, Mr. R. T. Brookshire, Miss Arvilla Cheak, Mrs. Irene Brown, Miss Dorothy Scott, Mrs. J. R. Thompson, Miss Betty Cheak, Mrs. Eva Horn, Mrs. T. C. Stracner, Mrs. C. E. Barnes, Mrs. Myrtle Echoles, Mrs. C. E. Willis, Mrs. Nell Sortor, Miss June Jolly, Mrs. J. E. Eakin, and Maurice Scott.
