Slaton Needs A History Of Its Establishment And Its Growth.....

Instructors in the Junior High have given a class in English the task of writing a history of Slaton. This brings up the question of how could one secure the information concerning the establishment of the town and as to what has occurred since it became a town.

There are still a lot of folks who were living in this area at the time Slaton was blocked out.

There are a great many more who came to Slaton soon after it was started, and the history of Slaton with many very interesting details could be written easier now than it would be later on.

A year by year record could be made so that the development of Slaton could be available for the folks of the future. It might be that some organization could sponsor such a task. There are many things about Slaton that should be put down in a permanent record that are only tales that middle aged and older people remember. All of it is interesting. Such a record should be kept by some public service organization so that people who are interested in the Slaton area as a future home could know what has been done to make Slaton such a wonderful home town and one where a lot of folks want to come back to after they move away.

The illustration above is a reproduction of an early day celebration in Slaton. The Slatonite would like to have some one identify it. Public gatherings, big barbecues, sales of lots and Fourth of July celebrations were quite popular in the early days of Slaton, and the one illustrated was typical of 1911.

Drive For Boy Scout Funds To Be Made

Tuesday, February 13th will be a lucky day for the Boy Scouts in Slaton, that is if the business firms and individual citizens of Slaton respond to the men who will make a drive for funds for the Boy Scouts on that day.

Travis Reynolds, chairman of the drive has appointed the following men as captains: Don Crow, Bud England, Charles Marriott, Lee Vardy, Leroy Holt, J. S. Edwards, C. L. Hatch, Jack Shepard, Ed Haddock and Milton Davis. The captains will meet with the chairman at a Dutch Treat breakfast to be served at the First Christian Church beginning at 7:00 a. m. on the morning of the drive. The breakfast is to be served by the Ladies Missionary Society of the church. Mrs. J. D. Norris is the president of the Society.

Drive Chairman Reynolds said that it requires $12.00 per year for each boy in Scouting and he predicts that the drive next Tuesday will be one of the best ever held in Slaton.

According to the Drive Chairman arrangements have been made at the Citizens State Bank for those who desire to do so to pay $1.00 per month to the Scout organization without the trouble of writing checks. Those who use this method of contributing to the Boy Scouts are known as sustaining members and as such will not be asked for any other contribution during the year for the Boy Scouts. There are thirty Boy Scouts sustaining members in Slaton.

The solicitations will be made in the business district only. Any one who wishes to make a contribution to the Boy Scouts can do so by leaving the money at the Citizens Bank or by calling Mr. Reynolds.

Election Of School Board Will Be Held

The School Board Election will be held the first Saturday in April (April 7). Trustees whose terms expire this year are Wayne Liles and T. C. Reynolds. We were unable to contact Mr. Liles, but Mr. Reynolds hasn't decided whether or not he will run for re-election.

Others now serving on the school board are Robert Hall Davis, J. T. Kendrick, Curtis Dowell, and J. C. Smith.

Joe Walker, Jr., was appointed, and has accepted, to complete the unexpired term of Dr. J. E. Lovelless, who resigned last month.

OFFICIALS TO ARRIVE SOON
P. G. Meading, Secretary-Manager of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, reported that the officials of the California Chemical Spray Co. who were to come to Slaton to inspect this, as a location for one of their plants, have not arrived, but are expected to do so some time this month.

Cecil Scott, E. T. Hillan, Henry Jarman, C. C. Wicker, Quinten Wicker, Boyce Wicker, and Earl Reasoner went fishing at Don Martine this week.

SHIVERS GREETES ECONOMY COMMISSION DIRECTOR

MacCorkle (left), head of the University of Texas Institute of Public Affairs, is congratulated by Governor Allan Shivers on his selection as executive director of the Texas Economy Commission. World Day Of Prayer Will Be Held By Slaton Church Women

Student Talent Show Scheduled Here Tonight

Tonight the Junior-Senior P-TA presents the local Talent Show at 8 o'clock in the High School Auditorium. Stunts will be presented by students from the seventh grade through the high school classes. Cash prizes of $15, $10, and $5 will be presented to the three winners. Admission is ten cents for grade school children, 25c for high school students, and 40c for adults.

Money raised at the show will be used to help purchase an electric score board for the new gym. The score board will cost about $450.00. Electrically operated, the timer has a time out horn which blows at the end of each period of play and for time out. It is operated from the side lines at the center of the court. It will have numerals to designate quarters.

It will be 6 feet long and 3 1/2 feet high, with a 27 inch face and numerals 8 1/2 inches. The numerals will be made from a bank of lights that light up to give the score.

Ads Are Printed For Your Benefit

Beginning in next week's Slatonite there will be a series of Supreme Salad Wafers advertisements. Most all of the food stores in Slaton and surrounding communities carry the Bowman Biscuit Company products and the company values the patronage that they receive to the extent that they spend a considerable amount of money to keep their products before the public.

Supreme Salad Wafers are rated as one of the best crackers produced. For many years it has been on the shopping lists of thousands of housewives.

Considerable time and energy is spent by newspapers in preparing and assembling advertising news for the public, their merchants, and manufacturers spend a lot of money to tell of these things. Advertising, proved through past experience, is of great value to both the public and to the concerns who use advertising to tell the truth about what they have to offer.

When you visit the firms in Slaton, you can rest assured that if you call for the items you have seen advertised in the Slatonite, you will profit. You will find that any firm who spends money to tell you of the things they sell feel that such items are what you are looking for and that the price is better than average. They are not afraid to let their customers know that they are putting out a specific effort to please them. Read the advertisements in the Slatonite and visit your home town merchants for the things you need.

LONG WELL DRY HOLE

The wild cat on the Long Ranch at the Long place north of Slaton has been closed down, the derrick has not been moved, but it is reported that it will soon be taken down.

Darwood Hilbers, City Cab Owner, Killed In Tragic Car-Train Wreck

Services were held Tuesday, February 6, for Darwood G. Hilbers, 26, owner of the City Cab Company, who was killed in a car-train collision early Sunday morning in North Slaton.

Hilbers' 1950 Plymouth convertible collided with the rear of a freight train which was being switched off to a cotton compress siding. Mrs. Hilbers and Edward Leon (Pete) Phillips were treated for head injuries at Mercy Hospital. The car turned over several times. The two other passengers in the car, Elliott Foster and Isabel Hanrion, both of Slaton, were released after examinations. However, Miss Hanrion was readmitted to the hospital late Sunday.

The accident occurred one block off U. S. Highway 84 on Railroad Avenue. The car caught on the rear of the boxcar which was being switched into the siding and rolled over down the street for about 50 feet. The car was almost completely demolished. The steering wheel and windshield support to the top was broken off and pushed down into the front seat area.

Hilbers was a veteran of World War II having served 19 months overseas with the Army. Services were held in St. Joseph's Church, Tuesday, February 6, at 9 o'clock a. m. with Rev. T. D. O'Brien officiating. Burial was in Englewood Cemetery.

Survivors besides his wife are a daughter, Terrie Dale, 1; a brother, Clifford of Lorenzo; a sister, Mrs. H. O. Herring of Hurley, New Mexico; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hilbers of Route 1, Slaton.

The thermometer at the West Texas Gas Co. climbed from a low of 3 degrees below zero on Thursday of last week to a high of 76 degrees Monday.

Week's Question.....

If Financially Able Slatonites Would Fullfill Heart's Desire

There are very few of us who have not wished at one time or another in our life to have enough money to get anything our heart desires. Recently a nationally known magazine interviewed various people over the nation to find out what some people would do if they suddenly should become possessor of enough money to do anything they wanted to. Through some error no doubt, Slaton was not included in the interviews so this week we conducted a small survey of our own and asked some of our local dreamers what they would want if they inherited enough money to fulfill their heart's desire. Following are their answers:

Mrs. L. B. Hagerman, would take an extended trip to Hawaii. Then she would endow an orphanage for homeless children, install organs in a lot of small churches,

Governor Shivers Appoints Meading To Organization

AUSTIN, Jan. 31—Special—Governor Allan Shivers announced the appointment of P. G. Meading, Slaton, to the Ten Year Pasture Improvement Committee now being put into effect under the leadership of C. W. Voyles of Austin.

The state wide membership of Texas' ten-year Pasture Improvement Committee determined at its meeting last September that the county, district and state committees could best function through the formation of "Better Texas Pastures, Inc." which is the official name of the organization whose business it will be to assist in the preparation of information for the general improvement of pasture grasses throughout Texas.

Meading is Chamber of Commerce Manager at Slaton and has been a resident of that area for many years and has an excellent knowledge of range grasses and its cultivation and improvement.

Survey of Wage Rates To Be Made By Army and AF

During the period of January 15 through February 12, Reese Air Force Base is participating in a survey conducted by the Department of the Army and Air Force for the purpose of determining the prevailing wage rates for skilled and unskilled manual jobs in the Lubbock area which will include the cities of Lubbock, Plainview, Amarillo, Snyder, Sundown, Levelland, Brownfield, and Slaton.

It is the policy of the Department of the Army and Air Force to contribute to the stability of the local wage structure by paying our employees wages that approximate the going rates in the Community.

A sampling of the rates paid for certain key jobs by firms in Slaton will be taken by Mr. Roark, from Lubbock, and will be taken during the survey, and the results tabulated to determine the local going rates of pay.

Styles Attractive Says Slaton Buyer

Mrs. Clay Oates returned this week from Dallas where she made extensive purchases of women's spring and summer apparel for the Oates Department Store.

"Better apparel in variety is difficult to find," said Mrs. Oates, "but that which is available has been designed with great care and the new styles are extremely attractive, even the hats have real beauty and charm and the men are going to have a hard time poking fun at the women's new Easter hats this season."

The Slaton Federation of Church Women will meet at the Presbyterian Church at 3 p. m., February 9 for the World Day of Prayer. The 1951 theme for the meeting is "Perfect love casts out fear". I John 4:18.

The regular annual observance of the World Day of Prayer began in 1887 when Mrs. Darwin R. James, president of the Women's Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., called on all Presbyterian women in the United States to gather in their own communities on a specified date to pray for home missions. The response was so great that a day was set apart annually. In the early nineties, under the leadership of two outstanding Baptist women, Mrs. Henry W. Peabody and Mrs. Helen Barrett Montgomery, a day was designated for united prayer for foreign missions. For many years home and foreign mission groups observed days of prayer separately, but in 1919 they came together. In 1920 the women of Canada joined them. The first Friday in Lent was chosen as the day of prayer for missions, home and foreign.

Missionaries spread the idea of a day of prayer and at the request of many friends in other lands, it became a World Day of Prayer in 1927. Today the program is sent by request in advance to ninety-two countries.

There has been uninterrupted growth in the movement from its inception, and there are now approximately 15,000 observances in the United States alone. Services begin in New Zealand and the Fiji Islands, west of the date line, and continue throughout the day, closing with the observances in Alaska, and on the Tonga Islands, where Queen Salote leads her devout subjects in prayer.

The purpose of the Day is to unite Christians around the world in prayer. Each year the World Day of Prayer Committee of the United Council of Church Women invites one or more women from a chosen country to write the services.

One half of the offerings in the United States is given to the Home Missions Council of North America and is used in Christian education in government Indian Schools in the U. S. and Alaska; training of native Indian Christian leaders; literacy work on the Navajo Reservation, where 65,000 Indians are 80 per cent illiterate; training pastors and church women leaders among Negroes in the rural south, in techniques of church-centered community development and Christian family life; developing rural church department in Negro colleges and theological seminaries; and Religious and social ministry to agricultural migrant families in twenty-three states, now reaching one-tenth of the total number; stimulation of employers, public agencies, and local communities to bring essential health and educational services and a sense of Christian community to those two and a half million workers. The other half is given to the Foreign Missions Conference of North America to be allocated for interdenominational work here and abroad. These projects are: Christian literature for women and children in India, Burma, China, Japan, Egypt, Africa, and Latin America. The Committee on Friendly Relations among Foreign Students here in America; and the Education of Christian leaders in interdenominational Christian colleges in India, Japan and China.

Nothing Better Than Good Food, Says Ohio Man

If a man isn't able to eat the foods he likes he's in mighty sorry shape—imagine going through life without being able to enjoy a fine big platter of bacon and eggs. That is the way Joseph N. Damillot, 3414 E. 5th Street, Dayton, Ohio, used to be, but since he has been taking HADACOL, he says he feels just fine and is able to enjoy lots and lots of fine foods. Mr. Damillot found that taking HADACOL helped his system overcome a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. Here is Mr. Damillot's statement: "My first bottle of HADACOL convinced me that HADACOL was what I needed for the gas on my stomach at nights. I could not keep food on my stomach, but after the first bottle I was going great. Now I eat bacon and eggs, and other foods that never would stay with me. I also can sleep well at nights. Thanks to HADACOL, I will never be without it, and can recommend it to all who suffer with the above ailments that I had. I know because I have suffered for quite some time."

Strickingly Speaking

In the past few weeks, one glaring case of trying to farm "according to law," has been brought to the force up in Lubbock county. A farmer had either accidentally or on purpose over-planted his quota, and was ordered to plow up a portion of the cotton in order to comply and be qualified for any parity. Now since the limit was lifted and farmers advised to raise a bumper crop this year, some one has figured the dollar value of the plowed up cotton at prevailing prices, and based on what the land left yielded. It amounted to a cool $1000. A valuable lot of much needed cotton.—The Terry County Herald.

The Passing Parade

The March of Dimes campaign has been changed to the "March of Dollars" in McCulloch County, and the drive is gaining momentum. Well it should, for this city was hit hard by polio last fall. A dime does not go far in fighting polio—but a dollar will. Let's dig deep into our pockets and double our quota of $2,900.—The Brady Standard.

Drifting Sands

We ran into a young lady yesterday carrying out an arm load of envelopes from the Post Office that Uncle Sam had printed for her.

We just got through sending in our income tax, and all thru the year we have been sending Uncle a sizable sum of withholding taxes for his help.

Yet our dear Uncle uses our tax money and yours to print envelopes in competition to the boys that pay the tax.

In other words he uses our tax money to subsidize his printing plant and pay the help so that he can lose money and still not go out of business.

The printing industry is not the only business that the Federal Government is a competitor.

You will pardon us for this slight deviation, but the above is just one of our pet peeves. No wonder this printing business cost the tax payers nearly a billion dollars last year.—The Andrews County News.

We were gratified at the response of the young people of this community to the recreation program held last Saturday evening.

There's no doubt that we have a great deal to learn before we can continue with a well-rounded program designed to last into the indefinite future, but we have plenty of adults who seem willing to try.

Director of parks and recreation for Amarillo is expected to be in Plainview Saturday morning to plan a three-day recreation school. We hope to have a representative or two present there so that we may get in on the ground floor, perhaps be included in the school.

Of course the interest of Judge Dent is appreciated and we hope that everyone who is willing to support the program will come out to hear him.—The Oilton Enterprise.

Editorial Comments

Let's pass a law.

The Legislature and Congress are both in session, so let's pass a law and get it over.

We like to see our lawmakers work, passing laws to earn their money. We insist on being regulated by law—but who will observe these laws—provided that we can get away by breaking them?

Washington has announced that voluntary price controls have failed and that now we must resort to law. Yes, and just as soon as prices are regulated by law most of us will be rushing around to the black markets to see what we can get.

Human beings are so constituted that we just naturally like to see laws passed, but very, very few folks like to observe these laws once they are passed.

So why should we pass more laws? —The Canyon News.

Farm-To-Market Road Program Upheld by Senator

AUSTIN—Continuation of the full $15,000,000-a-year farm-to-market road program was put at the head of his list today by Senator Kilmer B. Corbin of Lubbock and Lamesa.

"I am opposed to any schemes aimed at cutting down on the farm-to-market road program, and I am opposed to any schemes for taking road money away from the counties and giving it to the State Highway Department," the senator declared.

Corbin referred particularly to the plan announced last week which would take money now allocated to counties for lateral road construction, amounting to about $8,000,000 next year, and giving it to the Highway Department to replace the present $15,000,000 annual rural road program.

Redistricting Committee Fair To West Texas

AUSTIN — Senator Kilmer B. Corbin agreed today that the 11-county Senatorial District proposed by the Senate Redistricting Committee is fair and equitable for the big West Texas area he represents.

"All in all," he declared, "West Texas got fair treatment. The top of the Panhandle got the district to which it was entitled. The area immediately south of that district became a new district. And the district south of that one, which I now represent, was made still another."

The district would consist of Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Gaines, Dawson, Andrews and Martin counties, under terms of the bill as approved in committee.

The new district would consist of Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, Childress, Bailey, Lamb, Floyd, Hale and Motley counties.

A third district, just to the east of Corbin's district, would consist of Dickens, Garza, Kent, Stone-wall, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Jones, Shackelford, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan and Taylor counties.

Perhaps unique in the history of college construction is the Perkins School of Theology Quadrangle on the campus of Southern Methodist University. School officials believe that it is the first theological seminary plant designed and brought to completion in one continuous operation. Costing approximately $3,500,000 the seven-building quadrangle will be dedicated to the training of ministers and Christian workers on February 8. Shown in the aerial view are, left to right in the foreground of the quadrangle: Kirby Hall, the Perkins Chapel, and the Bridwell Library; rear, left to right: E. B. Hawk Apartments, Paul E. Martin Apartments; S. B. Perkins Dormitory, and A. Frank Smith Dormitory. Insets show Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Perkins of Wichita Falls, for whom the school is named. They are long-time benefactors of SMU and principal donors to the development of its theology school facilities.

"Rocky Mountain blizzards couldn't stop me!"

says JACK W. SEEFELD
3030 Vrain St. Denver 12, Colorado

"The two winters I tested new Conoco Super Motor Oil—as one of a group picked to prove its winter wear-lighting ability—we had the worst weather in years. Blizzards came in on top of blizzards. The temperature went to the bottom and stayed there.

"BUT MY CAR ACTED LIKE IT THOUGHT IT WAS JULY! With new Conoco Super that car performed better than it ever had. At the end of the test, with proper drains and regular care, gasoline mileage was practically as good as at the beginning."

After a total of 386,422 miles, logged by Mr. Seefeld and other winter test drivers, Conoco engineers found no wear of any consequence! Analysis of drains showed this great oil actually stopped the dangerous accumulation of free water and acids, chief causes of winter wear. This test proved that new Conoco Super Motor Oil, with OIL-PLATING, fights off rust, corrosion and sludge. So, change to Conoco Super, now.

Be Careful Of The Squeeze Play!

The New Yorker of January 20 describes an interesting television show:

Sunday afternoons at four-thirty, N.B.C. takes its cameras to the Lincoln Park Zoo, in Chicago, for a highly entertaining and informative half-hour program called "Zoo Parade." Many factors contribute to the success of this presentation, the most obvious one being that the chief participants, the permanent, caged residents of Lincoln Park, don't give a hoot whether they turn out to be whiz-bangs on television or not. Ratings mean nothing to them (what is Hooper to a gorilla or a gorilla to Hooper?), options mean nothing to them, and no one of them is running for public office. As a result, they play their parts with refreshing straightforwardness and a refreshing lack of concern for the on-looker. Another factor is the presence on the program of the Zoo's director, R. Milan Perkins, an articulate and witty man who not only is remarkably at ease with his charges but has the faculty of transmitting to the audience a good deal of natural history within a short period of time. The other Sunday, for example, Mr. Perkins opened his program by displaying a five-foot python (which was entwined around his arm. From where I sat, I would say that although Perkins had a good grip (at the neck) on the python, the python had an equally good grip on Perkins, and I admired the cool, detached manner in which Perkins told us a few general facts about pythons. After several minutes of exposition, he confessed that his hand was beginning to go numb, a condition he blandly ascribed to "lack of circulation." An assistant helped disengage the python, and Mr. Perkins, still quite casual about the matter, informed us that left to itself, the python would have squeezed the life out of him.

The moral is you can get into a lot of trouble in a lot of different ways.

Call For More Patent Medicine!

Present conditions are hard on both the consumer, the folks who render services and the merchants who are endeavoring to do business.

It quite frequently happens that plumbers, electricians and carpenters cannot come running when the pipe bursts and sends water cascading all over the carpeting, or the light fuse burns out in the middle of some entertainment in the home.

Does the frantic calls for help get immediate results? Not likely. The plumber, the electrician or the carpenter is out trying to get some one else out of trouble and you have to wait your turn or try to get some one else.

From past experiences most people know that someone else is not going to come any sooner than the first one so the situation gets complicated.

A high spirited customer starts out by getting sarcastic with the workmen, who in turn gets even more sarcastic with the folks who are constantly needing him.

The results are quite often botched up work, hard feelings between customers and workmen and the constant changing of customers from one outfit to the next.

Not only is this condition true in Slaton, but it troubles practically every other town in the nation. Add to this the difficulties that the tradesmen and artisans have in securing supplies and you have the causes of more indigestion, heart trouble and nervous breakdowns than any other group of causes put together.

The workmen are wild-eyed trying to secure competent help, the customers are beating the air trying to get services and merchandise. The doctors are over-run treating them all for every kind of nervous disorder that the human system is prey to. These are the reasons why patent medicines and sleeping pills are taking the place of candy and soda pop.

No More Frontiers!

Condensed from Life

Jack Kapp, president of Decca Records before his death in 1948, was interested in talking to college students. On every campus, said Mr. Kapp, he was asked, "What chance have I got in this system?" The students added such wistful remarks as, "Everything is in the hands of a few people."

Well, college students have always been skeptical before diving into the somewhat disconcerting whirlpool of that first job hunt. But today the disbelief is part of a world weariness that afflicts even those who have good jobs and secure riches in adult society. Undergraduates can hardly be blamed for reflecting a philosophical attitude that is cultivated not merely by the young but by practically everybody, even some of the professors.

There was a peculiar irony, however, when disbelieving questions were addressed to Jack Kapp, of all people; For Mr. Kapp was proof that no man in America is destined by circumstances to spend his life behind a large and immovable eight ball. Mr. Kapp was born in Chicago in 1901, the son of a house-to-house canvasser for the old Columbia Phonograph Co. He worked his way through high school as an errand boy. In 1926 he was in charge of the Brunswick Co.'s "race record division"—meaning that his business was to go around the country making recordings by Negro talent.

In 1934 Mr. Kapp decided the time had come to strike out on his own. "What chance did he have?" The record business was near the all-time low. Radio had forced the bankruptcy of hundreds of record companies; only two remained. "Everything was in the hands of a few people."

Mr. Kapp proceeded to prove that a "closed" field is the softest of touches. As he himself put it, any company which casts itself in the role of "custodian of the status quo" is destined to die. With the record business on the rocks because of status quo custodians, Mr. Kapp hived up in the public library for a week to study old record catalogues. He discovered that the business was oriented toward Europe; there were 1200 recordings of Chopin to few of Irving Berlin. You could get plenty of foreign voice, but U. S. singers such as Bing Crosby were considered infra dig.

All of this gave Mr. Kapp an idea. Bucking the rest of the industry, which considered it foolish to put entire musical-comedy scores into album form. Mr. Kapp made thousands of dollars by selling Gershwin scores complete. He made Bing Crosby a rich man.

Mr. Kapp liked to repeat the words from Emerson's The American Scholar: "We will walk on our own feet; we will work with our own hands; we will speak our own minds." Emerson isn't much favored these days, and the modern American scholar might insist that Mr. Kapp had a monopoly in four-leaf clovers.

But the college student who has spent winter weekends riding up a few of America's 1000 ski tows might reflect on the fact that in 1932 there wasn't a single ski tow in the whole United States. Maybe it is impossible to start a new automobile company today, but General Motors is going to need a new president in a few years, and it is certainly going to need new production men. According to a recent survey this country needs to train 15,000 new doctors; indeed, if present trends continue, we may be faced with a doctor shortage of 30,000 to 50,000 by 1960.

"What chance have I got?" In the light of the world's hunger for services and moving ideas, the chances would seem to be as manifold as the inside of the human skull can make them.

CHICK CHATS

Presented By Dr. Salsbury's Laboratories

LAYERS NEED A MID-WINTER BOOST!

With a productive laying flock in the hen house and sizable egg checks rolling in each week, poultrymen sometimes overlook the needs of their birds, believing (erroneously) that a good flock, once given adequate feed and water, will practically take care of itself. Such lax thinking may frequently lead to sudden drops in production and sickness among valuable layers.

To keep your layers healthy and productive, you should constantly be alert for flock irregularities, taking care to correct any faulty management as soon as it's noticed.

Give Birds A Lift

It is of special importance this time of year to watch for weak, run-down layers. Mid-winter often brings reduction in egg output, mainly because layers begin to feel the strain of heavy egg production. Birds in heavy production for several months will usually benefit considerably from a little special care, extra attention, or some additional disease control measures.

Since feeding is all-important, you can do a great deal for your laying flock by concentrating on feed consumption. See to it that your birds get plenty of green, succulent feeds. Trimmings from vegetable stores, cabbage, carrots, raw apples, silage and mangel beets are excellent because they help perk up sluggish appetites. Alfalfa hay is a valuable protein and vitamin source, so feed it when possible.

Fresh Water Supply

In addition to a good feeding program, you should also pay particular attention to birds' drinking water. During the remaining cold days there is the danger that water vessels may freeze over. If this happens, throats of your layers may get pretty dry. And when birds stop drinking, they soon stop laying. So provide your layers with plenty of fresh drinking water—and keep it warm. Well insulated heating cable coiled and bound against water pipes is good protection against frozen drinking water.

Also help your layers do better by giving them a longer laying day. Artificial lighting, used to give the laying flock a 14-hour day, can greatly increase total egg production. Light bulbs in the laying house also help furnish a degree of heat, a factor which is important during chilly winter weather.

Several changes in business ownership are being considered by several firms in Slaton and expansion of others will be made if materials for construction and for stocks can be secured.

It is believed that an ample supply of water could be secured for Slaton if the present system could take care of the delivery to the customers, but due to the fact that the town has about overgrown the present delivery capacity the future does not look so good so far as water is concerned.

The Long Wild Cat Oil Well, North of Slaton, at last reports, was at a stand still. There were rumors that it would be decided soon whether to drill deeper or plug the well. Several showings of oil were said to have been found in the well but none good enough to make it a paying producer.

Just what is being done to keep stray dogs off the streets of Slaton might not be a good question to ask, but something is being done about it, for there are fewer dogs around than usual.

Vows Exchanged In Cooper Church

Miss Doris Dell Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Allen of Route 4, became the bride of Douglas Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Jones of Route 1, Slaton, in a 7 o'clock ceremony Saturday night at Cooper Methodist church. Rev. J. T. Clinton read a double ring service.

The altar was banked with baskets of white gladioli, jade and emerald foliage and white tapers. Miss Mary F. Wilke, pianist, and Miss Mary H. Bruce, soloist, offered traditional wedding music.

Mr. Allen gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a wedding gown of white duchess satin, fashioned with sheer yoke, outlined with scallops of sequins. The long tight sleeves ended in petal points over the hands, and the long bodice ended in a scalloped line below the waistline. A full skirt fell into a graceful train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a tiara-type cap, embroidered in iridescent sequins and pearls. White carnations surrounding a white orchid was the bridal bouquet.

Maid of honor was Miss Mary Lou Wylie, and bridesmaid was Miss Jan Allen, sister of the bride, who wore aqua dresses and carried white carnation bouquets.

Flower girls were pieces of the bridegroom, Joyce Sedgwick and Pat Patterson, wearing identical dresses of aqua and carrying white baskets of rose petals. Ring bearers were Jerry Buxkemper and Danny Lee Miller, cousins of the bride.

Bobby Jones attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Wayne Peterson, nephew of the bridegroom, Donald Jones, brother of the bridegroom and Bobby Joplin.

A reception was held at the church. The bridal table was laid with a white cloth and centered by a white wedding cake.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Slaton. The bride's traveling outfit was a navy blue dress with short jacket and navy accessories.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Cooper High School, and Mrs. Jones is a senior student in Cooper High School.

Guests at the wedding were relatives and the senior class of Cooper High School.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Say, you'd better take a look in that cookie jar! Is it getting low? Fine... then here's your chance to try a delicious recipe submitted to your reporter by Mrs. J. T. Bolding, wife of the local Baptist minister. This recipe is for Sugar Cookies and has been the favorite of her children for many years. Ingredients needed are:

3 c. flour
 2 c. sugar
 3 tsp. baking powder
 1 tsp. salt
 3/4 c. shortening
 3 eggs, unbeat
 1 tsp. vanilla
 3 tbs. sweet milk

Sift the dry ingredients together in the mixing bowl. Mix the shortening with it until there is the consistency of meal. Add the unbeat eggs, the vanilla, and milk. Mix together thoroughly and roll out on the doughboard. Cut into cookies and bake. For an added attraction Mrs. Bolding sometimes tops the cookies with icing made of powdered sugar.

The Boldings have lived in Slaton for 22 months. They have three children. Their son is a freshman in Howard Payne College in Brownwood; one daughter lives in Leesville, La., where her husband is stationed, and the youngest daughter, Rebecca, is a student in Slaton High School.

Mrs. Bolding's hobby is collecting pitchers. She has pitchers from 3 foreign countries and also from several of the states.

She is secretary-treasurer of the WMS of the Baptist Church and also teaches the Dorcas Sunday School class.

In summing up her attitude toward Slaton, Mrs. Bolding said, "I just love it. It's the nicest town on the plains."

Texas Venture In Education • 1876-1951 Our first state college—Texas A. and M. is now in its seventy-fifth year. "If you can't teach old dogs new tricks, I'll try the pups!" TOM M. MARKS

"If you can't teach old dogs new tricks, I'll try the pups," declared pioneering county agent Tom M. Marks in 1907 after the farm demonstrators in Jack County, Texas, had made a disappointing show of their corn grown under demonstration methods. The next year newspapers were full of praises of a group of Jack county farm boys who had made unusual corn yields in Mr. Marks' corn club. Thus the farm youth club work in Texas was born. Today there are 113,514 4-H club boys and girls in Texas working in the 4,505 clubs directed by county agricultural and home demonstration agents. This year-around program is fast developing new leaders for our agriculture of the future. Tom Marks' "pups" are learning new tricks and taking them back home to their parents.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Blue Wins This "Hunt"

Cappy Miller's coon dogs—except for one of them, Old Blue—are about the finest hounds in the county. Blue's too friendly and easy-going to care much about hunting. He doesn't act the way we think a good dog should, so we figured he'd never amount to much.

But a fellow comes around Saturday looking for a good dog to photograph for some advertising. And the dog he picks is Blue! Says Blue's happy, friendly face is just the one to attract people's attention. So Cappy gets more money for that picture than his other dogs will ever take in hunt prizes.

From where I sit, that should teach us not to look down on humans, when they act differently than we think they should. For instance, maybe you think tea goes best with food. O.K.—but don't size up wrong the man who enjoys a bottle of beer at mealtime.

Like Blue, I guess we're all "different" in one way or another—but that doesn't mean we don't have our good points, too!

The number of forest fires in the United States increased approximately 11 per cent during 1949, but the total acreage burned was less than that swept by fire in 1948.

Washing Woolens

If a small amount of glycerine is added to the last washing water, woolens will feel soft and fluffy when used. Glycerine also is good to use when washing pigskin or other leather gloves.

JUMPS INTO JUDO HOLD—Pro basketballer George Senesky of the Philadelphia Warriors appears to be held by the seat of the pants and the scruff of the neck by Nat Clifton (No. 19) of the New York Knickerbockers. Clifton was caught in this bar-room bouncer role when he reached out to block Senesky's attempted field goal. Actually, he is not touching Senesky.

Many a wily female has coaxed her spouse into taking care of the kiddies, but the mamma gaff-topsoil catfish really stretches the point. For about 80 days her mate patiently holds a mouthful of eggs the size of marbles. According to the World Book encyclopedia, he doesn't swallow them, but neither does he get to swallow any food.

Submarine warfare had its beginning during the Revolutionary war, but with an inglorious introduction. In 1777 David Bushnell, inventor of a little round submarine called "The Turtle," tried to drag a box of gunpowder against the British frigate, Cerebus. His mine became fouled and he sank a friendly schooner instead.

Potent in Price Appeal — It's the 1951 BUICK SPECIAL!

HERE is good news for folks with a shrewd eye for what their dollars will buy.

Here is a tidy traveler that defies the upward trend of costs — proudly wears a 1951 price tag like that which zoomed last year's SPECIAL into popularity so great that it put a crimp in "the low-priced three."

Take our word for it, this is every inch and ounce a Buick — Buick-featured, Buick-designed, Buick-built from the ground up — but literally the newest thing on wheels.

The sturdy and ample body is new. The high-strength frame is new. The power is new to the SPECIAL, which now has the

It's a Buick with less weight and more power—and that spells a pair of new thrills for you. There's a performance thrill such as you've never enjoyed in the SPECIAL—plus a handsome gas-saving into the bargain.

We'll make a prediction now as to what title folks will give it, once they get it out on the road.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

That title in three words, will be: "Thriftiest Buick Yet!"

Better hurry around to your Buick dealer's and look this marvel over. We'll give you another prediction—which is:

A.M.J.

Saturday I went to Lubbock to attend a newspaper men's meeting, and while waiting in the Hotel for the bull session started, a mass of dressed women descended upon the was a school teachers gathering and were they dolled up to hen I was a school kid I used to wonder how the school could have found so many d beamed, putty faced, snarling cats to torture the children. I cannot remember a single man school teacher, who ever I to pound information into who, did not look like the ck of the Hesperus.

erhaps my ideas of good looks e changed and I may not be as icular as I was then, and I ve been biased in my child d because I doubt now that I d have considered anyone very o looking, who undertook to ch me. Last Saturday I noticed te a few women in the group o were above the average in nph, however, there were a few them who would have looked at ne in a school room when I s a boy, and I felt sympathy the children they teach.

Naturally at such a session the k gets entirely out of hand, so as the problem it was called was concerned. We got to apping stories. Charley Guy, maging editor of the Lubbock valanche-Journal, is quite a story ller, and has heard most of the od ones, and I am sure a lot at Nero originated. Charley has en over most of Europe and is ry positive in his opinions. The her men in the group ate two ch thick steaks, but Charley had e noon meal of two fried eggs, a p of black coffee, a half of a rape fruit for dessert. He said he on a diet.

Both eggs and grapefruit are od that I have always associated ith breakfast, and my teeth get ittery when I think of eating rapefruit at any meal, however, t might be a good idea to change he meals around once in a while. Eat the things you eat for break- ast at noon time; the things you usually eat at noon in the even- ing and the usual noon meal at breakfast. There is usually not a great deal of difference between our noon meal and the one at night except that the evening meal is usually warmed over stuff from the noon meal. I'm going to try Charley's scheme some time, but I'm not going to eat any grape- fruit, it's too sour for my dis- position.

Not long ago I asked Miss Joyce Pember what kind of course she is studying at Tech and she said that she is nearly smart enough to be a dietician and would have a diploma to practice the art at the end of this term of instruction.

Whether Joyce was using her knowledge of dieticianing or not when she brought a box of pralines, that she made herself over to our house, I do not know, but I do know that I would appreciate her advising my wife that I need a diet made up mostly of pralines just like the ones she brought us. Being forty-two around the waist and all out of porportion on all other measurements, my wife has been pecking away at me for several years to live mainly on dry toast and tepid water, but so far I have cheated, resisted and bluffed my way, and my diet has mainly been potatoes, steak, bacon, plenty of butter, cake and all the candy I can find. Results? not very encouraging, but I'm going to help take care of every praline if I have to buy a larger belt.

Saw several men who admitted having on long handles last week and a couple of women who I suspected and I finally got out a pair that I have had stored away since 1938. Not having worn such contraptions in such a long time I had forgotten how uncomfortable they can be, especially when they are built for a 1938 figure and not for a model 1951. The sleeves crept up to my arm pits and fitted me like a life preserver, the legs shrunk up over my knees and I felt like I was wading all the time and the front buttons were so tight that I felt like a bad case of asthma had me. The pair I wore finally gave way in a very uncomfortable place and let in considerable ventilation, but if they will hang together I'm going to wear them again the next time the thermometer goes into a tail spin.

One hears a lot of talk these days about drafting eighteen year old boys, and I'm not going to stick my neck out either way, but I do think that a lot of older men could be used.

During the last war a one eyed man who worked on the Slatonite was accepted into the army and was stationed at Lubbock with the induction board. He stuck needles full of typhoid serum into the inductees just as carelessly as a three eyed man could have done. I believe that a man fifty or sixty years old could do a lot of the office work in the armed services and string out just as much red tape as any of them, in fact I believe that men fifty and sixty years of age can string out more red tape and make a bigger showing of buck passing, loud speeches and acting wise than the younger men can and it seems that all civic and army work requires a lot of such work to be done.

There is some commotion about drafting women too, into the armed services which sounds okey dokey to me, but its going to keep the men's minds off their business a lot. The only thing that I think that should not be allowed would be for a woman to go into battle wearing high heel shoes and fancy clothes. It would be most degrad- ing to an enemy to get killed by a woman in such attire.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Tudor visited with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmidt, and grandson, Sonny, last week end.

Duaine Townsend, of Wilson, visited with friends and relatives last week when he was home for a friend's wedding.

LIVING COSTS RISE—Inflation continued to soak the family pocketbook during 1950, as the Bureau of Labor Statistics' cost-of-living index passed an all-time peak in October and kept rising. The Newschart above traces the rise in living costs for the past six years in comparison to 1939 figure of 100.

Littlefield Country Club was the scene of the South Plains Optometric society's annual social gathering and installation of officers Tuesday night, with about 80 persons attending.

Optometrists from throughout the South Plains enjoyed a chicken dinner, a talk by George Campbell of Lawton, Okla., a former victim of blindness; a square dance exhibition by a local group; the officer installation and an evening of dancing. Blind for the first 18 years of his life, Campbell learned to see again after an operation restored his sight, and now devotes his life to making speeches on sight conservation and the promotion of better vision.

Stalin's having his own troubles in Moscow. It seems some guy broke into the Kremlin and stole the results of next year's elections.

Do those insurance salesmen pester you like they do me? I fall for that stuff, though, and I got bunches of it. All kinds. Some day I'm going to get sick and see if it works!
