Road Bond Vote Monday

Balloting Will Determine $1,750,000.00 Issue

MONDAY, MAY 15TH, SLATON RESIDENTS WILL VOTE ON A BOND ISSUE, CALLING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF $1,750,000.00 TO PURCHASE RIGHT-OF-WAY FOR CONSTRUCTION OF FOUR LANE HIGHWAYS IN LUBBOCK COUNTY.

THE COUNTY-WIDE ELECTION CALLS FOR THE BUILDING OF FOUR LANE PASSAGE ON HIGHWAY 54 FROM THE COUNTY LINE SOUTH OF SLATON TO THE POINT WHERE FOUR LANES BEGIN NORTH OF SLATON, AND FROM LUBBOCK NORTHWEST THROUGH SHALLOWATER, AND ON HIGHWAY 87 NORTH AND SOUTH OF LUBBOCK TO THE COUNTY LINES.

Balloting will be in the City Hall, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Only property owners with paid poll taxes are eligible to vote.

By virtue of legal issues, a two-to-one majority must be recorded for the successful passage of the issue.

If the issue passes, the State Highway Department will match the amount voted by the county, making a $3,500,000.00 combined project.

According to officials, it was stipulated that if the election passed, the first construction would be in Slaton. It would call for a four-lane highway around the west edge of the city limits, tying into the Posthighway just south of town.

In making the decision to back the bond election, the fact was taken into consideration by the Chamber of Commerce that the job will be done in the next few years regardless. By undertaking the project now, Slaton can be assured of having the by-pass built on the edge of the city. If the election fails and the construction is undertaken later, the cost of right-of-way will be to a point so as to necessitate the building of the road from four to eight miles from the city limit.

Since the last election, the cost of the work has risen $400,000.00 over the last estimate due to the growing price of purchasing right-of-way.

Also pointed out was the fact that the State Highway Department will pay for half of the purchase of right-of-way, so twice the amount of the bond election will be used to provide the highways.

Noted additionally was the fact that the bonds will not necessarily increase the tax rate. If taxes are increased, it will be due to some factor unforeseen at this time. The bonds will not increase county indebtedness enough to demand any increase. Presently the Lubbock county tax rate is one of the lowest in the state.

The taxes of car registration and gasoline tax is used for highway construction, and the funds will be applied to road construction regardless of where it is designated.

Primary issues, according to the CoC are the facts that the first construction will begin in Slaton, thus giving a needed highway accessibility, and secondly, if the issue does not pass this time, then Slaton will stand the likelihood of being by-passed by a crippling distance.

Plans call for the route around town to provide for underpasses for all traffic coming into Slaton from the west.

Other groups are carrying on the campaign for the passage of the bond election in the other sections of Lubbock County.

"In spite of what you hear, what we have been going through is not a recession. It's just a boom and somebody lowered it."—Edgar R. Apking, Onaway (Mich.) News.

City Council Meets

Bids were accepted on two vehicles at the Slaton City Commission's meeting Monday night.

The group accepted the bid of $3,920 from Slaton Implement Company on the purchase of an International Tractor and High Lift; and took the bid of Davis Motor Company on an HIC Scout pickup for $1,464.10 and the City's 1952 model Ford pickup. The tractor will be used in the street department and the pickup in the water department.

George Green, county commissioner for this precinct, appeared before the commission at the invitation of Mayor L. O. Lemon to discuss voting places for Boxes 26, 27 and 28. It was pointed out that the City has to lose a day of business every time a county and state election is held in the City office. Green advised that the problem would be worked out in August, at the annual session on such matters.

George Willis, water and sewer department superintendent, appeared before the commission and reported that on three occasions in the past two weeks he had been called late at night because someone had opened fire hydrants. This was discussed and decided by mutual consent to advise the public that anyone caught doing this could be fined in any amount up to $200.00.

In other business, the group voted to provide sanitary sewer service to the first three blocks in Block 128, East Park Addition, provided that the tapping charges on water and sewer be paid on all three lots and that no other building permits be issued on this block unless the lots were raised.

E. D. Duncan was hired to fill a vacancy in the street department, succeeding W. A. Elder, who resigned.

New miniaturized inertial guidance systems providing pin-point accuracy, and free from all outside interference, are being developed for Air Force ICBMs like TITAN (lower right). This new lightweight inertial system allows ballistic missiles to carry larger payloads to greater distances.

The guidance system for THOR, America's first operational intermediate range ballistic missile, weighs approximately one thousand pounds. It is compared with the new TITAN inertial guidance system, complete airborne package, weighing less than one-third of THOR.

Millions of man-hours were spent developing uses for new materials, new circuitry, new designs, more sophisticated components, and greater performance and reliability so as to assure the Air Force of incomparable deterrents for our nation's defense arsenal.

Pineapple-Strawberry Cheesecake

Here's an exciting party dessert.

Cheese cake has the well-earned reputation of being a classic in many lands. Elegant cheese cakes are also the specialties in many famous restaurants.

Here's a home-made version combining cottage cheese and cream cheese in a graham-cracker crust, topped with a luscious glaze of golden pineapple tidbits and ruby red strawberries.

PINEAPPLE-STRAWBERRY CHEESE CAKE

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups pineapple juice or syrup
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
- 1 cup fine-curd cottage cheese
- 1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 cup whipping cream
- 1 #211 can (1 1/2 cups) pineapple tidbits

Graham-cracker crust: Mix 1 1/2 cups fine graham-cracker crumbs with 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine. Press into bottom and around sides 2-inches deep in 8-inch spring form. Bake 10 minutes at 350° F. Cool.

Mix gelatin, sugar, salt, pineapple juice and lemon rind in saucepan. Stir over low heat until gelatin is melted. Cool slightly. Force cottage cheese through sieve and mix with cream cheese. Work with a fork until soft then blend in a little of the melted gelatin. Gradually blend in all the gelatin and lemon juice, a small portion at a time. Beat until it is smooth and creamy. Set in freezer or refrigerator to quick-chill till it will mound but is not set. Whip cream until stiff but not dry. Drain pineapple and fold half the pineapple and whipped cream into gelatin. Spoon carefully into crumb crust. Chill several hours.

Pineapple-Strawberry Glaze: Slice 1 cup strawberries, sprinkle with 2 tablespoons sugar. Crush 1 cup strawberries and force through sieve. Blend 2 teaspoons gelatin and 1/2 cup sugar with lemon juice. Cool till syrupy. Arrange sliced berries and rest of pineapple tidbits on top of cheese cake in an attractive pattern. Spoon glaze over to cover. Chill till glaze sets. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Electrical charges were used recently to anesthetize patients for two recent major operations. Doctors say the results were "most gratifying." More tests are planned.

A Big Drop
Since 1900 the U.S. mortality rate has dropped 45 percent, largely because medical science has brought contagious diseases under greater control. DIRT IS FOE OF RUGS

No housewife is a stranger to dust and dirt — an enemy that confronts her every time she empties a vacuum cleaner bag. But it took a recent year of research study to give this stubborn foe the proper dimension. It weighs approximately 108 pounds in the six room house and 80 percent of this 87 pounds — ends up on floor coverings. Not all of it can be dislodged with the vacuum cleaner and what remains — the gritty stuff — shortens the life of rugs and carpets.

Wilbur Gage, president of Magikist, developers of a highly specialized rug and carpet cleaning system, is authority for the above figures. Professional cleaning, he believes, is the only possible guarantee that rug life can be extended to a maximum and colors maintained year in and year out.

Regular carpet sweeping and vacuum cleaner application is essential, he says, but cleaning in a professional manner is what removes the tiny bits of stone, coal, clay and pumice, whose razor sharp edges destroy finest fibres and delicate colors which originally attracted the rug buyer's attention.

Your Beauty

By Lady Esther

If youth is on the march, Ina Balin is its standard bearer, as evidenced by her honest ambition, inborn talent and natural beauty. Following her Broadway debut in "Compulsion" and later the movie, "From the Terrace," she now takes a leading role in the latest United Artist release, "The Young Doctors," starring such "greats" as Fredric March and Aline MacMahon. In her part as a student nurse, she plays opposite Ben Gazzara. Ina Balin is preparing to play the nurse, studied scripts, analyzed characters and projected herself into situations. She also took the most realistic step in preparing herself — she observed the actual life of student nurses by researching at St. Luke's Hospital in New York.

What could she tell Lady Esther about this experience that would have to do with beauty? "Just the most important aspect of face and body care — cleanliness and lubrication," Miss Balin answered, smiling ruefully. "I've never been just a soap-and-water gal, but 'understudying' a nurse really taught me what too much soap can do. You never touch anything without immediately washing up, and body oil can certainly be depleted fast."

Prominently propped on her portable dressing table, we were pleased to see a large size bottle of Hand and Body Lotion. A tantalizingly fragrant turquoise lotion which has rich, luxurious emollients that drench and lubricate roughened, sore tissue. It has a silicone content serving to protect the skin from further irritation.

Ina Balin has more than her share of youth's beauty dew, but she realizes the importance of face and body lubrication. Thanks to her faithful use of the set and at home, of Hand and Body Lotion for minute massages, she can look forward

In the past decade or two it does seem that the phrase "spring cleaning" has become a little old-fashioned. There really is no specific season for cleaning any longer. But Spring does suggest change and that's about all a do-it-yourself nation needs.

This is a season of papering and painting, refurbishing the floor covering, refinishing some of the older furniture and shampooing the sofas and divans.

In short the energetic housekeeper has the impulse in Spring to do indoors what nature does out of doors in a much more lavish fashion. And it is easier than it seems if a little foresight is used.

Bissell Home Service Institute experts have come up with many valuable suggestions.

Before you paint walls apply a first coat of shellac to form an even base and prevent uneven absorption of the paint. Skip the flaps at the end of the brush stroke to reduce joint spatter and if you are using a roller do not plunge the roller too deeply in the paint, roll slowly and evenly. When painting steps, first

So this is HOMEMAKING

Of all the homely chores a woman must perform, none speaks as loudly in behalf of her skill as a homemaker as dusting. There are others more important, more demanding and, certainly, more physically wearing. But dust suggests careless housekeeping and guests rarely miss seeing it.

And, when you do, there is something new to speed the task, make it simpler to perform and much less a nuisance. COTTON CONGRESS:

Omnibus Farm Bill Assailed Here

...man for the cotton strong criticism... Tuesday, declaring... secretary of agri-ermental control, not more."
 He asserted that High Plains farmers "could not profit under such a program" and added that it might lead to reductions in cotton acreages.
 Luncheon Speaker
 Jackson called for support "for any move toward a competitive one-price system which would return marketing functions to normal trade channels."
 In the concluding address at the congress, Edwin Martin, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, said many of the less developed countries of the world must export manufactured products if they are ever to become economically independent.
 Speaking at a joint luncheon with the Lubbock Lions Club in the Caprock Hotel, he said these nations should expand mineral and agricultural production.
 But, he added, they should "begin to manufacture simpler products which they need for themselves or products for which they have particular aptitudes or raw materials."
 Expansion Could Follow
 Then as their skills develop, Martin said, the underdeveloped nations can take "the natural course of development"—expand output and find a place for the products in the world market.
 The congress Tuesday also heard a warning that "the relentless upward movement in imports" of manufactured cotton along with several other factors can bring "a substantial contraction in the physical size of the American textile industry."
 Threat To Textiles
 Robert W. Smith, president, Lowenstein Cotton & Storage Corp., Anderson, S.C., added that this situation poses a threat to the textile industry's position as the top purchaser of up to 75 percent of the annual American cotton crop.
 Other speakers Tuesday were Dan Davis, manager of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Assn. here, who discussed mechanization in cotton marketing, and Ray Arthur, manager of Sears Roebuck & Co. here, who described retail potentials for cotton goods and fabrics.
 The two-day congress, which drew a registration of approximately 350 persons from throughout the Cotton Belt, ended with a tour of the area cotton industry.
 "Too many of us are disposed to seek aid and comfort from the government (which is given us by the expenditure of our own tax money) instead of solving our own problems, as was the habit in days of yore," S. Lloyd Frisbie, Polk County (Fla.) Democrat.

Call Issued For Adventurous Men

BOSTON (UPI)—"Wanted: Adventurous men between the ages of 20 and 45 to work in a treasure house of fabulous riches... must be U. S. citizens and in perfect physical health... Temperature of surroundings may dip to 110 degrees below zero."
 This was the offer today of the U. S. Weather Bureau seeking candidates interested in working as meteorologists in Antarctica.
 The tour of duty will be for 18 to 24 months. Approximately one year actually will be spent in Antarctica. Those selected usually are hired in July or August and head south between October and December.
 Positions range from meteorologists-in-charge to technicians. Salaries vary from $10,635 to $6,435 with a $2,800 bonus for each year served in the Antarctic.
 Explorers have found evidence that deposits of oil, coal, copper, silver, gold and even uranium lie beneath Antarctic ice, lending weight to a belief that the continent is a "treasure house of fabulous riches."
 Once having embarked on this project, the weather bureau said, no one should expect to change his mind and go home. A total cost of over $100,000 per year is spent on each person taking part in the program.
 Interested candidates may apply for a position by writing to Chier, Personnel Management Division, U. S. Weather Bureau, Washington 25, D. C.

 The New York Daily News reports the International Ladies Garment Workers Union maintains a practice scarcely in harmony with its philosophy of "job security."

An Error --- And Answer

The COUNTRY EDITOR By H. M. BAGGARLY

AN ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE thing happened last week. Editor Charles Cullin, whom we identified as "an arch enemy of the REA" because of his charges that electric cooperatives are socialistic and unAmerican, recently wrote concerning us, "Those who are interested in socialism for our nation and ultimately communism, can scratch Swisher County off the list. They already have a good man working for them."
 Because of this accusation, we wrote, "We don't have to defend our patriotism . . . we have never written or uttered a pro-communist word. Over and over by word and implication we have condemned Communism and everything it stands for . . . As for socialism, all one has to do to qualify is to read a newspaper by light supplied by an electric cooperative . . ."
 Somebody pulled one sentence out of the context not only of the above paragraph but of our total writings through the years and used it to charge that we said electric cooperatives are socialistic! Oh, well . . .
 —COUNTRY EDITOR—
 extraction of paragraphs where he had quoted me.
 In doing so, the sentence he referred to was evidently mangled. It was, however, an accident, as I obviously do not have to resort to such as this to justify the things I have stated, nor to put his position in any different light than it actually is. In fact, a little more editing from some of his outpourings might do it justice

Bowling Becomes You

"Bowling Becomes You" according to Dodger star Gil Hodges as he checks the latest in ladies' Spring bowling fashions at his new bowling center in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Los Angeles Dodger star Gil Hodges is a man of many interests. Baseball, of course, is his first love; but he also owns a sparkling new bowling center in the Dodger's former home, Brooklyn. Recently, Gil was given a preview of the latest Spring and Summer bowling fashions, when a "Bowling Becomes You" collection, inspired by the Brunswick Corp., was shown at his lanes.

Gil was properly amazed at the innovations in the clothes, which were both lady-like and functional, particularly this two-toned bowling outfit by Suburbia, modeled by Marcia Metzger. Designed for wear on and off the lanes, the skirt has high-placed kick pleats for freedom of movement in the game and a svelt look when not in action.

Since he is in the bowling business, Gil pays particular attention to lady bowlers, who number 12 million in this country. As the Dodger star says, "The gals know that bowling is fun and is good exercise — it's good for muscle coordination and circulation — and it's fashionable!"

IT'S A BLOODY MESS

The Sounding Board

Sarcasm directed toward our government, in a light way, comes from Ben Peeler's "Column 1" in the Fort Stockton Pioneer:

"IN SPITE of the large population of this planet, men and women remain today, the most inaccessible things on it,"—Frank Moore Colby.

The only reason that was included is because it's true. THEN THERE'S this little jewel, also true, that came in the mail from a friend who must have been whacked an unusual amount this year.

It paraphrases the words of one of our great presidents: "TWO SCORE and some years ago, our fathers brought forth upon this nation a new tax, conceived in desperation and dedicated to the proposition that all men are fair game.

"Now we are engaged in a great mass of calculations, testing whether that taxpayer, or any taxpayer, so confused and so impoverished can long endure.

"WE ARE met on Form 1040. We have come to dedicate a large portion of our income to a final resting place with those who here spend their lives that they may spend our money.

"It is altogether anguish and torture that we should do this, but in a legal sense we cannot evade, we cannot delay, we cannot underestimate this tax. The collectors, here, have gone far beyond our power to add and subtract.

"OUR CREDITORS will little

We were informed by at least one banker and one lawyer that we had a spelling error on the front page of last week's paper. Although this one was a rather glaring error, it is nice to know that some people read the paper closely enough to catch them. It tends to keep us on our toes.

We are not alibing, for we know it is our job to spell things right, just as a doctor is expected to make the right incision or a mechanic is expected to adjust a carburetor so that the gasoline will flow properly into the engine, but for the bene-making a major step in the continuing life of a community always a difficult thing to do. For those involved in making a big step, it means a tedious decision including careful consideration of all the aspects involved.

The bond election next Monday, May 15th, is one such decision. If passed, the authorization will be given for a $6,000.00 expenditure to be made in the purchase of 500 feet of ways for construction of four lane highways in each County. The proposed construction includes making both passage north of Slaton to the adjoining stretch of Highway 87 north of Lubbock to the county line, and south of Lubbock to the Lynn County line. Construction through Shallowater to the county northwest of Lubbock.

The only issue involved had to do with replacing of two highways with four lane construction, there would be no doubt as to its worth. Citizens all realize that the safety factor alone would be enough to merit this. The question of only such accident as has occurred during the last months would be worth the effort.

The election Monday deals with another factor that is crucial to Slaton and all those who live within its limits. This is the proposed by-pass around the west edge of the city limit that will be included in the bond expenditure.

The Chamber of Commerce voted to endorse and strive to accomplish the passage of the bond issue in Slaton. In so doing, it realized the controversial aspects of the case, and weighing in the perspective of future years, it was decided Slaton needed the construction in this area.

Under the present proposition, the State Highway Department put up an equal amount with the bond issuance, if it is passed. This will go for purchasing right-of-way for the by-pass. Since the first time the issue was discussed, the cost has risen $400,000.00. The Highway Department still in agreement with the by-pass being built within the city limits. However, if the issue fails to be taken up in future years, the Department has stated that should the cost of right-of-way become prohibitive, the state will purchase all the right-of-way, and it will be purchased where it can be found at the cheapest rate.

It is very likely that Slaton will be by-passed in a matter of months. This, irrevocably, would be a crippling blow to the community.

It is necessarily be faced that if the issue Monday passes, some persons and some businesses would be partially cut off financially in varying amounts.

It is also be faced that if the issue fails and at a later date a by-pass is built at a great distance, then many persons would be injured in a far greater proportion.

Because of today's traffic load, the fact that a four lane highway will be built at some time is inevitable. This fact is now ascertained and must be accepted. In view of safety, no other course can be followed.

It is necessary to utilize the opportunity to have the construction of a four lane highway. To insure its own future, and to insure the safety of those who traverse its roadways, Slaton needs to take its part in the passage of the bond issue on Monday.

The Mayor Of Acuff

What's all the hullabaloo about America's first man in space? Man, we've had a man from Acuff in space for a long time. Goob Parchman has been "way out" for years. I think he went all the way to the moon. The only reason he came back was because he couldn't buy those "Botany 500" suits which he's used to wearing. Also he tried to buy the Milky Way but they wouldn't sell it to him on credit. His apparent only ill affect was that he was a little maladjusted. A maladjusted person is a guy that goes through life pushing doors marked pull.

I guess I should add my congratulations to Mr. Shepard. You know he took off from Cape Canaveral, the Mackenzie Park Playground of the east coast. I noticed where it cost each taxpayer $2.25 for Shepard's ride. Well, since I didn't tell him to go I think I should get my money back. However, I'm afraid that would be just like telling Henry Ford to buy a Chevrolet.

Louise Sherman, proven to be a quick thinker in the past, proved it again this week. She came into the Acuff State Bank and Trust Company to cash a check the other day. The bank teller asked her if she could identify herself. She immediately took out her compact and looked in the mirror and said, "Yep! That's me!"

I lose more friends this way but as they say at C.C. "Anything to take up space."

VIEWING:

Your City Government

by J. J. Maxey, City Secretary

J. E. ECKERT JR.

JULIUS EMIL ECKERT, JR., your city commissioner from Ward Four, was born here in Slaton, February 25th, 1923. His parents were considered a pioneer family, having been in Slaton almost from its inception. J. E. received all of his elementary and high school education here in Slaton, graduating in the spring of 1941. While in High School he was a member of the band and took part in the usual activities of the school. Shortly after graduating from High School, J. E. was employed by the P & SF Railway Company and worked as a clerk at Seagraves, Muleshoe and Lubbock.

Like many other young men at that time, J. E.'s life was interrupted by a call to the service. Going in to the Navy in March, 1943, he received his boot training at San Diego and was then sent to Aviation Ordnance School at Norman, Oklahoma for several months. When this training was over, J. E. was sent to the Naval Air Station at Alameda, Calif. From this base he shuttled back and forth from the South Pacific with Air Group #17.

J. E. received an honorable discharge from the Navy December 17, 1945, and returned home again and went to work for the P & SF Railway Company, where he is now employed as Yard Clerk.

J. E. and Miss Cecelia Grabber were married July 5th, 1948, and they now have three children. J. E., III, who is eleven; Joe, nine, and Cecilia, seven.

Being the kind of family man that he is, J. E. has taken a very active part in Little League the last four years, being the manager of a minor league club for the past three years and managing a major league club this year. J. E. also puts in considerable time on his hobbies which are stamp collecting, hunting and fishing.

In April of 1949, J. E. was elected as Commissioner of Ward Four and served until April of 1953. While serving as commissioner he was very active in getting quite a lot of paving done in his Ward. He was again elected to the post in April of this year and is also serving as Mayor Pro-Tem. The citizens of Slaton can be justly proud of this man who is dedicated to public service.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
 The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Mother's Prayer

Dear God . . . help me to live up to the faith I see in my child's eyes. Help me to be the person she thinks I am. I am so very human . . . yet to her I am wise as a sage. I am so very frail . . . yet to her I am a tower of strength.

I can bind her cuts and bruises . . . I can soothe her small hurts, both physical and mental . . . I can give her love . . . I can protect and cherish her. Yet I can never be half of all I must be, without You to guide me.

Help me . . . and watch over her. In Your Church, teach her the things that are beyond my power . . . so that she will one day be a better woman than I; and in her turn, a better mother.

fit of those who may not know we'd like to point out a portion of what we have to contend with. IN LAST week's paper, excluding the space occupied by headlines, photos, and ads, we had approximate 692 column inches of news type. We counted the words in an inch of type in several places in the paper and came out with an average of 40 words per inch. Multiply the 40 words times 692 inches of type and it amounts to 27,680 words...that is, twenty seven thousand, six-hundred and eighty...words that were printed in last week's edition. We don't always have to write all these words, but we DO have to proof read them all, and we feel like even if we did make this error, and possibly a few more undiscovered ones, we still have a pretty good average.

BRAND X is discussed in the Marfa News' Column, "Marfa Omnibus": It finally came to pass. We had been guessing on just how long it would take television advertisers to begin referring to BRAND X. Now it has happened. There's just nothing to compare with our brand of pills. They will do anything, cure any ailment. If you've got a bunion, just take good old "Sobidol". If you've got a sore tummy, a bad case of nerves, aches or pains, just take a generous helping of our "Sobidol", it cures anything, from head to toe. BUT don't use BRAND X. That stuff will only handle one job at a time. If you've got a sore toe and tummy ache, it will handle just one of these, you're still left with the tummy ache or the toe. But not AND, what kind of cigarette do you smoke? You don't smoke? Brother, you're missing the time of your life if you haven't tried, "Coffin Nails." They come in the new flip-top box. And, real easy on the draw. You don't even know you are smoking. You'll think you are on fire, buster. And we've got something new to offer you smoker. We've got our cigarette. It's just three filters. It's people who have been not to smoke, won't smoke. So, if you really want back and enjoy your and still not be smoking get good old "Coffin

Day To Hen

There's a white hen in Dallas that has laid some kind of an egg or something. Thirty-three in a row. And no one has been able to identify it.

"She hasn't been eating anything the other chickens haven't," says her owner, Mrs. Eugene Vance.

Mrs. Vance got seven chicks out of a setting of nine recently. "Everybody that sees 'em wants one," Mrs. Vance adds. "I've been keeping chickens for 42 years, but this beats it."

Several years ago Dr. Wilfred Funk, the eminent lexicographer and dictionary publisher, selected the following words as the pleasantest on the ear of English-speaking people. "Dawn," "Hush," "Lullaby," "Luminous," "Murmuring," "Mist," "Chimes," "Tranquil," "Golden," and "Melody."

After years of research, this same expert, in his new book, Thirty Days to a More Powerful Vocabulary, lists the ten most expressive words in the English language: The most bitter word is "Alone"; the most reverent, "Mother"; the most tragic, "Death"; the most beautiful, "Love"; the most cruel, "Revenge"; the most peaceful, "Forgotten"; the warmest, "Friendship"; the coldest, "No"; the one bringing the most comfort, "Faith"—Papyrus.

Something New

A NEW SONGBOOK for children coming out this month will include a "space hymn," honoring the astronauts. It was written by Victoria Johnson, librarian of the Pacific School of Religion at Berkeley, Calif.

The words of the song are new, but the music is far from modern. It is set to a German melody of 1784.

Of course, it was inevitable that the Space Age should produce its quota of songs, but that one of its first should be a hymn seems a little incongruous. Hymn writers always have written about the other world, the realm beyond the stars which the faithful some day would reach, but it's doubtful if any of them ever thought of a person reaching that place in a space ship.

AT COTTON MEET

Flexible Supply Plan Is Urged For Farmers

THE emerging farm policy of the Kennedy administration and its relation to cotton was described in detail here Monday night by Dr. James T. Ralph, assistant secretary of agriculture.

Ralph spoke at a dinner at the Lubbock Country Club which concluded the first-day activities of the 22nd annual meeting of the American Cotton Congress.

Varied Programs Needed
"Farmers need machinery for coming together and developing supply adjustment programs," Ralph, who is assistant secretary for agricultural stabilization, asserted.

"Each commodity requires an individual approach," he said. "Producers of a particular commodity need to have a choice of varied programs to fit the needs of that commodity under prevailing circumstances."

Approximately 320 cotton leaders from throughout the nation registered for the Congress at the Pioneer Hotel. Congress sessions resume at 9 a.m. today and will end with a tour of the area cotton industry this afternoon.

Edwin Martin, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, will speak at a joint luncheon with the Lubbock Lions Club today in the Caprock Hotel. He will speak on "Trade and Aid in the '60s."

F. Marion Rhodes, president of the New York Cotton Exchange, will discuss cotton markets and distribution at the general morning session in the Pioneer Hotel.

"Why Our Mills Use Cotton" will be discussed by Robert W. Smith, president, Lowenstein Cotton & Storage Corp., Anderson, S. C.

Messages From Officials
Other speakers will include Dan Davis, manager of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Assn., here, who will discuss mechanization in cotton marketing; and Ray Arthur, manager of Sears Roebuck & Co. here, who will tell of retail potentials for cotton goods and fabrics.

Congress officials Monday received telegrams of "good wishes" from Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson; Sen. William Blakley; Sen. Allen J. Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee; House Speaker Sam Rayburn; Reps. Harold Cooley and Bob Poage, chairman and vice chairman, respectively, of the House Agriculture Committee; the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute and others.

Ralph told the cotton leaders Monday night that the proposed Agricultural Act of 1961 wouldn't mean that programs now in effect on cotton "would automatically go out the window." This is the act which contains the so-called "write your own ticket" provisions.

Adds To Present Law
The assistant secretary said the proposed program "would add to the present law a number of provisions which could be used—if needed—in formulating new programs for cotton."

"For example, a program with different minimum allotment provisions might be approved," he said. "A different method of apportioning allotments among states, counties and farms could be devised. Farm marketing quotas could be established on the basis of production units, such as bales or pounds."

Another important feature of the act, Ralph said, is that it would extend the marketing order concept to all agricultural commodities. Marketing agreements and orders at present are authorized only for milk, certain fruits and vegetables, tobacco, soybeans and a few specialized crops.

Several Support Methods
The act also would broaden authority for price stabilization, Ralph said. He said the price of any commodity could be supported at not more than 90 per cent of parity.

Ralph said the secretary of agriculture would determine the price support level—a level that would result in fair and equitable treatment to producers. He said support could be carried out "through commodity loans, commodity purchases, compensatory payments, diversion payments, incentive payments and other appropriate operations."

Limited Payments
"Incentive payments and diversion payments could not be greater than reasonably necessary to achieve the required production or diversion," he added.

Compensatory payments to producers, as a method of support, would be authorized only for a commodity covered by a marketing order or marketing quota, Ralph said.

Payments would be limited to that part of the production of the farm necessary to maintain and strengthen the family farm system of agriculture," he added.

Leaders Withhold Comment
A number of key cotton leaders here for the meeting declined to comment on the farm program proposal, preferring to wait until they can get a policy statement from their organizations.

Sterling Emens Jr., vice president of the First National Bank here, told the Congress in an afternoon address that "the successful (farm) operation of tomorrow appears to be a well-managed business operation, quite large, which is nearly 100 per cent mechanized."

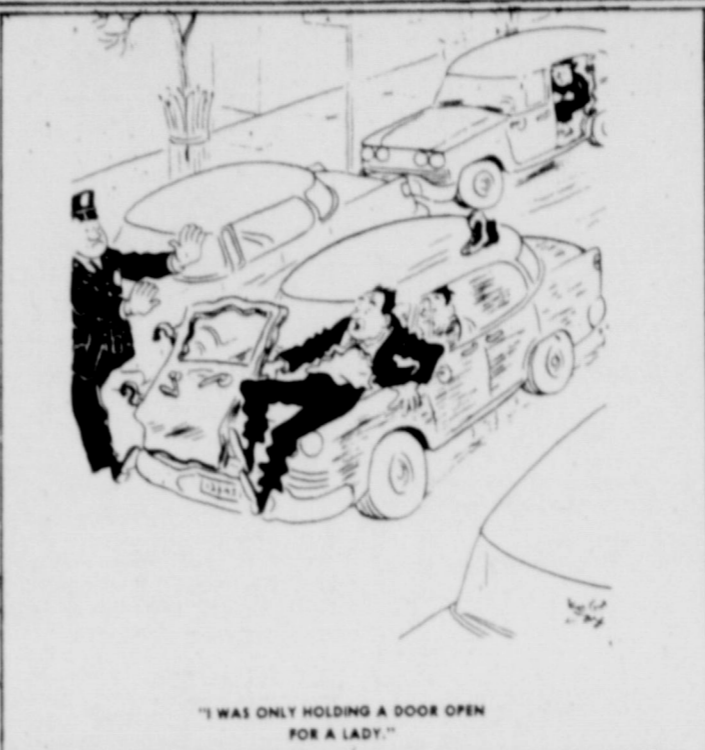

Frank Gray, Lubbock farmer and member of the State Soil Conservation Board, emphasized the importance of soil and water conservation in another address, noting that "it has been said that no nation is stronger than its land."

Wilmer Smith Honored
Dr. Harold Loden, manager of the Paymaster Research Farm near Plainview, reported on variety developments needed to lower cotton production costs and increase income.

Claude L. Welch of the National Cotton Council, Memphis, Tenn., emphasized that "we will never find answers for some of our industry's most costly problems without research... that as we increase the research effort, we increase our chances of finding answers to our problems."

Wilmer Smith, New Home farmer and vice president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., was presented a certificate at the afternoon session in which he was named "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" by Progressive Farmer Magazine.

Cotton Production Noted
Smith, who presided at the afternoon session, also is president of the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill and is vice president of the Texas Cotton Ginners Assn., among numerous other positions he holds in the cotton industry.

In the keynote address, Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro, chairman of the Congress, said that "all the gold that has ever been produced in this country wouldn't equal the value of the cotton crop for the last 10 years."

Jackson pointed out that the cotton industry represents an investment of $22 billion and the cotton crop each year creates new wealth to the extent of $2.5 billion at the farm level alone.

He also pointed out that cotton provides work for millions of people and is "a vitally important export commodity and source of economic strength."

Must Be Competitive
"These are some of the big reasons," he emphasized, "why it's absolutely essential to keep this industry alive and expanding."

"This is another way of saying cotton must be competitive—a theme we've stressed throughout 21 Congresses and one we're going to continue to stress," he added.

Jackson said the customer at the retail counter determines cotton's destiny and buys the product that offers him the best value in price and quality that is promised most effectively.

"How can our industry offer him this value and thus strengthen and expand our markets?" Jackson asked.

"In the long run, there's only one real way," he added. "It's through intelligent and effective research and promotion—research that unlocks the door to lower costs and a competitive price... research that's concentrated on improving the quality of cotton and its products... and promotion that utilizes to the fullest all the tools and techniques that influence people to buy in this competitive age."

3 Million Involved
He said about 3 million people are involved in producing the cotton crop and that this provides jobs for 43,000 workers in 5,400 gins; 12,000 in warehouses and compresses; 11,000 in oil mills;

TELEPHONE TALK
by J. C. Oakley, Manager

TELEPHONES OF THE FUTURE
The other day I was having lunch with some friends and we got to talking about how much the telephone has changed in the last few years. We talked about the development of color phones, wall phones and the latest one—the Princess, the first compact phone.

This conversation reminded me of some of the ideas for new kinds of telephones and communications services we're working on now. Some of these ideas will never leave the drawing board. Others will fall by the wayside during the test stage. And some, of course, will be successful, and will eventually be available for your use.

For instance, there's the dial-in-hand phone. It has the dial in the receiver. You lift the receiver, hold it in your hand, and dial. The dial lights up when you lift the receiver, too.

Or, how about a picturephone? This telephone of the future will transmit pictures as well as sound, so people will be able to see each other as they talk on the phone. The picturephone has been successfully tested, but it will be quite a while before it is available for widespread public use.

But here's a new phone you may have in the not-too-distant future. It's a small new wall phone called the Slimphone. The Slimphone is trim, not much wider than a Princess phone. It should come in handy for the kitchen and other rooms because it doesn't take up much space.

These are just a few—a sampling—of new kinds of telephones and telephone services we're working on for the future. But even today we enjoy telephone services most of us never dreamed possible just 10 years ago.

CAN YOU GUESS WHAT IT IS?
Like to work riddles? Here's one that ought to be easy.

What is it that's found in almost every home, store, business office, church, school and public building? It helps you find things, people and services. It's ready to help you any time—night or day—every day of the week.

I'd be might surprised if you didn't know it was the Yellow Pages of your telephone directory. Studies show that nine out of ten people reach for the Yellow Page directory when they're ready to buy. How about you?

SQUIRRELS LOSE, CUSTOMERS WIN
For some unknown reason, squirrels liketo gnaw on telephone cables. Their chewing puts holes in the cable's outer covering and lets moisture get inside. This, in turn, interferes with your telephone service.

To protect phone cables, we cover them with metal shields or wrap them with steel tape. We are also experimenting with a fiberglass coating which is painted on the cables. The squirrels don't like this, but it keeps our cables from being damaged and helps keep your telephone service dependable.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.
