YOUNG BLACK ORATOR TO SPEAK AT SEMINAR HERE

Michael Wayne Walker

One of the speakers for the first annual "Black Consumer & Business Market Seminar" in June at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center will be one of America's most accomplished young Black orators.

Michael Wayne Walker, 21, a native of Dallas and an award-winning orator as well as an ordained minister, will address the afternoon session of this day long seminar.

The son of Margaret and Johnny Walker, Michael is a junior at Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine where he is majoring in psychology and government. As a part of the college's exchange program, he attended Amherst (Mass.) College, and spent a semester at sea - a tour around the world combined with study abroad.

Michael attended Paul Lawrence Dunbar School until he transferred to St. Mark's School of Texas where he was an honor graduate. He won two consecutive first places in competitive speaking for the Park Cities Rotary Club and first place in oratory for Southern Methodist University at the National Forensic Institute. "If You Can Take It, Since that time, he has won a series of trophies and plaques in debating and public speaking at Bowdoin where he serves on the admissions committee.

Michael's extra-curricular activities include co-founding Juvenile Student Rehabilitation, tutoring at Passamaquoddy Indian Reservation in Perry, Maine, and directing public relations for Afro-American Society.

Aside from this, he was licensed at a Baptist church to preach at the age of 15, and was licensed four years later by the Universal Spiritualist Church. He has been a delegate to the National Sunday

LOIC WILL SPONSOR "JUBILEE WEEK" HERE

"This will be our greatest program ever put on by the Lubbock Opportunity Industrialization Center (LOIC)," says the Rev. A.L. Davis, chairman of the board of directors of this self-help program. Rev. Davis is referring to the upcoming LOIC Jubilee Week which will be held May 1st through 7th.

According to Rev. Davis, the week-long program will involve an open house at the center, 2200 East Broadway; a "Trainee and Alumni Day," a "Key Awards Banquet," and a Church Day on Sunday, May 7.

"We are looking forward for all our trainees and alumni to be present at these activities," says the pastor of the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church.

Don Hardy, regional director, will be on hand for the "Key Awards Banquet."

A kick-off luncheon was held last week to promote this project. "We have a goal of $15,000 to reach during this week, and we know we can reach this goal if the citizens of Lubbock would get involved with this program," said Rev. Davis.

Persons interested in working with this program may contact Ms. Diana Henderson, executive director, at

DEMOCRATIC PARTY SPONSORS SEMINAR

The Democratic Party will hold a voters participation seminar Sunday afternoon, April 23, at 5 in fellowship hall of New Hope Baptist Church.

This program is being held to advise the members of Voting 763-8077 for further information.

In a two-hour closed-door session Tuesday morning, the Lubbock School Board of Trustees voted unanimously to approve an amendment which would involve two more Lubbock elementary public schools and about 650 more students. This amendment is a part of the school district's desegregation plan to help integrate first and second grades in the five elementary schools found to be unlawfully desegregated.

According to the amended plan, fifth graders at Dupree and first and third graders at Hodges will be transported to Martin and Wheatley, respectively for the 1978-79 school year. These grades, however, will be absorbed for the proposed elementaries southwest of Loop 289 at the beginning of the 1979-80 school year, according to Superintendent Ed Irons.

Eighteen elementaries, 16 of which have an overwhelmingly white enrollment, now will be used to integrate Guadalupe, Mahon, Martin, Posey, and Wheatley elementaries. According to school officials, Hodges and Dupree have a relatively balanced number of white and minority students.

School trustees followed three concepts in approving the amendment which is expected to be presented to the court no later than today, Thursday.

First, schools sending first grade students to a minority school will send only that grade. First graders from Overton will attend one semester at Guadalupe; Stewart first graders will spend a semester at Martin; first grade students at Brown will be bused to Posey; and Hodges first graders will go to Wheatley. School officials noted in the amendment that Hodges first graders will be participating in the amendment for one year since the proposed elementaries in southwest Lubbock will be constructed by 1979-80 school year.

The second concept of the amended plan is that schools receiving minority students also will send one grade, between grades two and six. Stubbs, Maedgen, Harwick and Duoree elementaries, under this plan, will just send one grade to a minority school.

With this in mind, seven of the 18 schools involved in the elementary proposal will be busing only one grade level next fall.

Finally, the third concept will involve the 10 elementaries not receiving any minority students, including Hodges for 1978-79 school term, will bus two grades to the five segregat-

APPRECIATION PROGRAM ON TAP FOR ELDER B.A. RUSSELL SUNDAY, APRIL 30

It is about time for us to get into the business of letting people know what is going on in the economic arena. "THIS 'N THAT" will agree that there are social problems in Lubbock and the rest of the world, but there is never one answer to the problems. This newspaper, however, will attempt to bring a "BLACK CONSUMER & MARKET SEMINAR" to our community during the month of June. This newspaper has taken the responsibility of getting this needed project off the ground so this can become an annual affair of the local National Business League (NBL) chapter's project as their project.

This project is on tap for June 28, Wednesday, beginning at 8:30 a. m. at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center. We hope many employers will get involved and let their employees have this day to grow in a positive way.

Media Reviews:

(For Seekers Of An Exciting Past)
A FIGHTING BATTALION
A review of Eleanor Roosevelt's Niggers by David J. Williams (Neptune Books, New York) 223 pages—Paperback $1.75.

Here is an exciting piece of true black history told through the creative use of some fictional components to add to the excitement of the true story.

History buffs especially will find delight in this action-packed drama of the 761st Tank Battalion, which was one of two pioneering tank battalions for black soldiers activated in 1942.

Because of Eleanor Roosevelt's strong insistence that blacks be given every opportunity to prove themselves in the military establishment during World War II, this unit came to be dubbed "Eleanor Roosevelt's Niggers."

Here is a book which ought to be the subject of a film; and we hope it will be since "one picture is worth a thousand words."

We recommend this book highly for its accurate sense of history and for its skillful weaving of fact with artistic imagination. We commend the author for bringing this important subject to light and wish to thank Neptune Books for making this fine book available at a bargain price.

Across The Nation

News From Home Folks

This feature is a news compilation from more than 100 black-owned and oriented newspapers across the nation. It deals with what blacks, who are all-too-often little recognized, are doing to promote full participation in American life by black Americans. It is thus a salute from all of our readers to unsung heroes... and is designed to be a challenge for all of us to keep on doing our very best.

The Rochester, New York, Communicator tells of a Rochester resident who has "made it against the odds." The Job Corps may have much to atone for, in the minds of many black Americans; but the story told of Marion Walker certainly is not one. The Communicator reports:

A former Rochesterian whose life once followed a pattern of school dropout, odd jobs, and juvenile crime, has been inducted into the Job Corps Hall of Fame.

Marion Walker, a 1967 graduate of the Breckenridge, Kentucky, Job Corps Center, was selected for his outstanding academic achievements and for having co-authored a book, "Making It In College." The book is a step-by-step guide for a minority student who wishes to get a college degree.

He was inducted along with another black grad, Yvonne Epps Berry, in ceremonies in the office of Secretary of Labor Ray Marshall in Washington, D.C. The Job Corps is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Labor.

As a member of the Job Corps, Walker became an exemplary worker, was elected president of the student council, and graduated in the radio/TV electronics field. Upon graduation he obtained a job at the University of Rochester and was instructed in getting several other Job Corps trainees placed in jobs at that university.

APPROVE AMENDMENT

Those schools, who will send two grades to a minority school on the original semester basis, are: Bowie second and sixth grades to Guadalupe; Wilson third and fifth to Guadalupe; Rush second and fifth to Mahon; Wheelock second and sixth to Martin; Parsons third and fourth to Martin; Bayless second and fourth to Posey; Western third and fifth to Posey;

mental in getting several other Job Corps trainees placed in jobs at that university.

Walker received his B.A. in psychology at Rochester in 1973, and later earned his M.A., in the same field. He then enrolled in American University, Washington, D.C., and has completed course work for a doctorate in psychology.

His book was published in 1976 and has won wide acclaim in the field of counseling for minorities. Walker has recently accepted a position as assistant director of nonacademic activities at Cornell University, in Ithaca, N.Y.

He is the husband of singer Esther Satterfield.

A black "Lion's International" president? Black Siamese twins? The Long Island Courier tells of both in an impressive and praiseworthy way.

The Courier tells of Louis Squires, president of the Roosevelt, Long Island, chapter, Lion's International, District 20K-2, meeting with the Arthur and Glenda McCall family of Roosevelt, parents of Siamese twins Linda and Brenda.

The twins were recently separated, and the Roosevelt Lion's Club has set up a trust fund for the infants who were joined at the breastbone.

Congratulations to the Courier, a fine interracial paper, to the McCalls and to the Roosevelt, Long Island, Lion's International... from our readers across the nation.

The Charleston, South Carolina, Chronicle's Nathaniel Clay writes excitingly and challengingly of black excellence in sports. Our readers should reflect... and perhaps much deliciously... upon his insightful words:

Dealing with the obvious superiority of Black athletes, a Time magazine sportswriter in last week's issue dove head-on into the whys and wherefores of the "phenomenon" is any observable fact in nature; an odd or notable thing.

Regarding sports, both major and minor, the 65 per cent in the National Football League, and the 19 per cent in major league baseball are not only "observable facts" but also truly "odd and notable" things.

Especially so in view of the fact that Blacks number only about 11 per cent of the total population. But, what explains this disproportionate number of Black superjocks?

As a young man in the Navy, many of the physiological differences became quite apparent to me during my many covert shower-stall and latrine observations. I noticed that, on the average, Black sailors possessed skinnier calves and wrists, longer arms and legs, fleshier buttocks and less body hair.

Factors such as limited access to other professions, education and prior living conditions, undoubtedly, do partly explain why so many Blacks gravitate to sports and entertainment as their avenues of escape from the "Ghetto to Glory."

But the hesitancy on the part of many observers to concede that physiological differences may have stamped Blacks with a natural superiority in the world of fun and games, goes deeper than the "limited access" explanation; it goes, at bottom, to those strange little things reputed to be responsible for the transmission of hereditary traits.

These transmitted hereditary traits include not only physical, but mental characteristics as well. Thus any discussion of physiological racial differences inevitably evokes mention of alleged mental differences, as well. And this is where the Black cocktail intellectual loses his cool—and becomes discomfited. His disclosure, however, is quite unnecessary, for in every field of endeavor where Blacks have been given an equal chance—and even when they haven't, many have performed with distinction.

The Portland, Oregon, Skanner tells of the exemplary work of an area notable who should be seen for what he truly is, a bright shining light to our younger people throughout the nation.

The Skanner tells of a benefit concert for the North East Coalition, Inc., which Mr. Assemar Glenn, award-winning performer in Seattle. His brief story is inspiring.

Mr. Glenn studied at Pacific University where he received a bachelor's degree in Fine Arts in 1973. He was the recipient of the 1973 State Award for Composition From the Oregon Music Teacher's Association, and among other accomplishments, has been the Assistant Choir Director for the nationally known Oregon Boys Choir, which was founded by Joseph L. Correa.

Mr. Glenn is currently the Choir Director for Hughes Memorial United Methodist Church.

Prayer Poem

The hymn, "Joy To The World" is a hymn for all seasons. It was written by Isaac Watts in 1719 as a part of a long poetic piece entitled "The Messiah's Coming and Kingdom." The hymn reminds us well of the daily need and rewards of rejoicing.

*Joy to the world! The Lord is come:
Let earth receive her King;
Let every heart prepare him room,
And heaven and nature sing.*

*Joy to the world! The Savior reigns:
Let men their songs employ,
While fields and floods,
Rocks, hills and plains,
Repeat the sounding joy.*

*No more let sings and sorrows grow,
Nor thorns infest the ground;
He comes to make his blessings flow
Far as the curse is found.*

*He rules the world with truth and grace,
And makes the nations prove
The glories of his righteousness,
And wonders of his love.*

Not written originally as a Christmas hymn, these words were designed as a reminder of the joy of God's continual re-entry into our lives. We are to receive the "Good News" and the fact of Christ's coming into His world... and into our lives... to reign in righteousness. Hence we rejoice saying, Joy to the world!

School and Baptist Training Union Congress for three consecutive years, and has filmed numerous short, inspirational television programs.

Although he considers himself a "fundamental" Baptist for most of his life, he admits that going to college and being exposed to many new ideas has significantly altered some of his religious views. He no longer reads the Bible literally; instead, Rev. Walker interprets the truths in the New Testament "as Jesus saw them" and applies them to everyday living. "Life isn't black and white," he said, adding, "Think in color. Try to be non-judgemental and totally accepting of others."

He recently returned from a speaking tour of Toronto, Buffalo, and Chicago.

He has traveled and lectured with civil rights leader Rev. Jesse Jackson and his PUSH program at the Pylon National Business League Convention in Dallas with Judge Leon Higginbotham and Mayor Robert Folsom. Later this year, he will be the keynote speaker at the National Baptist Convention in Miami, Florida.

After he graduates, he plans to expand to an international scale. He feels called to the task of spreading the word that "the kingdom of God is at hand," transcending all religious and racial barriers in the process. "I see myself as having a message that has to be shared with the rest of the world. I'm not trying to gain fame. It is a gift that has been given to me, and I feel a great deal of humility, gratitude, and responsibility. Absalom said: 'Live all of eternity one moment at a time.' Most people look to eternal life, but I try to teach that it doesn't begin some day in the future. You will never find yourself in heaven until you find heaven in you."

Great Britain — Polarization has lasted for weeks now following a criminal court judge's ruling some weeks ago that right wing white nationalists had a right to air their racial views. The defendant in the case had used such words as "niggers, wogs and coons." The judge admonished the defendant to use moderate language in the future.

Britain has become an increasing center of racial unrest, as a sharp increase of migrants of both whites and blacks from throughout the Commonwealth has intensified Britain's employment and housing competition.

His goal is eloquently expressed in the maxim: "A mind expanded to the dimensions of a greater idea can never return to its original size." Although Mike is unsure of the exact way in which this mission will come about, he is nonetheless confident of its eventual success. "My job is what," Michael said. "God is how."

Our Black in the news this week, Michael Wayne Walker. He has something to say, and we hope many young Black people will be on hand to hear this dynamic young man speak on the subject: "What Young Blacks Can Expect from Business and Society" in June at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center.

SINGLE MEMBER DISTRICTS NEEDED HERE

As we look around the area, especially the local situation, one can see some gains have been made. On the other hand, we can see losses and more to come in the future. There are so many adults who are so apathetic, and so many young people who are negative. There are both groups who could care less about what happens in our county, state or city. Bringing it a little close to them, they could care less about what is going on in their neighborhood or own block. Some of them may care if it personally involves them. This kind of an attitude is setting us back as a people fifty or sixty years. We are on our fault in some cases. It appears as though we (Black people) are on our way back to the back of the bus again. Remember those days? If we don't get something done, we'll be back there.

With the apathy and the what's the use attitude my vote or my opinion will not help any way. At this time, we need the single member district if our minorities are to be a true reflective part of the city of Lubbock.

The minority people need a motivating factor and the single member district is an answer. At least it would be a beginning. In order for Lubbock to totally reflect input of all its citizens, there has to be single member district representation. More people of all ethnic groups must be seen in the policy making body of all political subdivisions. This is true for all major boards and commissions. We are not concerned about a few show case, window dressing positions.

It is a must for Lubbock to get smart and see that this is a problem. People from all races, religious groups and backgrounds must begin working together. This must be done in harmony. The single member district would be a great beginning.

The present system of a few representing and speaking for many has not and will not work. It has been proven, over and over many times before. For us to make it as a nation, a state, a city or community, it takes all of us. We make it together or we hang alone. The future belongs to us. What we do today determines what happens to the generations who come after us.

It is going to take a lot of motivating, a lot of action, and a lot of hard work for us to get out of this mess we are in.

We hope the powers that be will begin to look into the need for single member district representation. We have a new administration at City Hall now. Let's hope they will look into this matter and do something positive for the entire city of Lubbock.

Don't let the present system, however, keep you from the polls on Tuesday, April 25. There is a run-off election, and we still need to vote so people will know that Black people are still living in Lubbock.

If we would vote, loud and clear, there may be an opportunity for something to be done about this lack of representation. We are outnumbered, but we still can let the world know that we are in favor of single member district representation in our city.

"We Need To Vote In Lubbock"

The political motivations of Black America in West Texas and Lubbock mainly amazes me. I seem to remember the day when we (Blacks) were upset over the fact that there was a question of our rights to vote. Now that the question has been settled, and we legally have the privilege that should have been ours to begin with, there are some of us who will find every excuse that we can dig up to

REPRESENTATIVE SHIRLEY CHISHOLM WORKS FOR BETTER HEALTH CARE

In the 95th Session of Congress, Representative Shirley Chisholm has taken an active role in proposing legislation and amendments to improve access to health care for the disadvantaged.

Recently, Mrs. Chisholm authored an amendment which resulted in a major $32 million increase in the appropriations for the Community Health Center program. As Mrs. Chisholm explained, "The inadequate funding for this important program came to my attention last year, when I saw that several excellent groups in this community were competing for funding which would barely be enough to operate a single center. It was then that I decided to do some research to support an increase in the monies appropriated to Community Health Centers."

The prime responsibility of Health Care Centers is the delivery of comprehensive health services to medically underserved areas. Through her research, Congresswoman Chisholm learned that, according to HEW's statistics, over 44 million people do not have adequate access to health care. Over-crowded outpatient departments and public hospitals often refuse to see patients, especially those without Medicaid. Many of these are hardworking Americans who make low wages and often have grossly inadequate insurance. There can be no question as to the need of the many who are unemployed for these services.

You may write to your Congressmen and Senators at: Congressional Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515 or Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510. Please congratulate them for their important work and let them know where Black America stands on crucial issues.

WORDS OF LIFE

Biblical Inspiration For The Week

1. We are all free. Is it not long since past the time for blacks to cease claiming they are "unfree?" Freedom is a state of the mind. When the blinders of our sight are removed, and we see ourselves as we truly are, every man, woman and child must say with earnest command to all, "I'm free!"

2. Freedom commands. There's a difference between "demanding" something and "commanding" it. To demand suggests calling loudly for someone to give us something which they have.

To command, by contrast, suggests our simple appropriations of what we may calmly and securely know is ours.

We must graciously command and enter into our freedom. Don't demand, that demeans us. Christ would have us simply enter into the inheritance which He has given us.

3. Christ frees us. "I am the way, the truth, the life." "You shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Keep your life in God's life. Let God's mind and majesty be your own.

Let heaven's condescension fall graciously upon those who blindly do not

As PUBLISHERS of this weekly newspaper, we owe to YOU, the reading public, to be factual and fair. You may be critical of some things that are written, but at least you will have the satisfaction of knowing they are truthful and to the point.

People will react to that which is precise, and we will publish these articles as precisely and factually as is humanly possible; and we will also give credit and respect to those who are doing good things for the Lubbock Area and the people. WHY ARGUE? THE FACTS ARE HERE!

BLACK EMPOWERMENT

By Dr. Nathaniel Wright, Jr.

"FAIR PLAY" OR "REVERSE DISCRIMINATION"

A number of cases brought to the federal courts in the past few years have challenged the validity of federal actions to bring about a greater measure of fair play, especially for blacks and for women. The plea that such cases have sought to argue is generally spoken of as "reverse discrimination."

The discussions about "reverse discrimination" as being the obverse side of the "affirmative action" coin are destined to go on for quite some time. The trend of the times, nonetheless, would suggest that, "in the end," whenever that may come to pass—the advocates of affirmative action will win out.

"Affirmative action" practices, in employment and school admissions, are based upon a long-standing principle in Anglo-Saxon law, inherited from the Greek and Roman legal theory (and set forth also in Old Testament Hebrew thought). It is known as "equity and restitution."

Simply put, it means that if there has been a practice of taking something from a person (or a group of persons), not only must the practice of taking cease but also some compensation must be made (or paid) for past damages which have been created.

Whether all white males in America (or as a class or group) are willing to admit that they have wrongfully benefited, for centuries now, at the specific expense of blacks and women is beside the central point. The essential element is that it not only is a self-evident fact but is also the considered judgment of our courts of law.

The remaining issue—and that which is the proper subject of debate—is the manner in which some semblance of equity and restitution may be achieved.

On the human side of the problem—beyond personal feelings of accountability or non-accountability for benefits or advantages derived from the past—there are several important considerations. One is the recognition that both blacks and women, formerly excluded from the nation's highest benefit levels, must somehow be brought inside.

It is like the classic case of the pie having been divided before the majority of the guests have arrived. There simply has to be some "give."

Further, there has been a clear change in perception as to the character of the nation's life. Formerly, there was a conviction that women and blacks were, in some sense, "outsiders" among us. It has been less than two decades, for example, that women—in over one half of the Christian churches—could enter a church building without wearing a hat or some form of head covering. This was a symbolic carry-over from quite ancient days when women had to appear in public veiled; and its only recent demise is suggestive of the relatively short period in which no less than a revolution has taken place with regard to the recognition of women as being full-fledged "persons."

So far as blacks were concerned, our Constitution (before being amended) took care of that by defining blacks as being "three-fifths of a man." As late as the Presidency of William Howard Taft, we had a national chief executive who could blithely dismiss blacks as simply "belonging more properly to Africa." Woodrow Wilson was much closer to the modern view when he accepted the presence of blacks in America but saw to it that, in all federal departments, screens were placed between whites and any nearby blacks working. Wilson, the only South-born President of the present century before Carter, saw blacks as being both contaminants and pariahs.

It has been less than two decades now that blacks and women have forced themselves upon the national consciousness as being "persons," and worthy of being treated as such. The controversy regarding the status of women still rages largely around the question of the Equal Rights Amendment. So far as blacks are concerned, their intellectual recognition seems to be settled but the "feelings" and action patterns of the past remain.

The practical result has been an odd one, with white women (whose status is still debated) being afforded proportionately more affirmative action benefits in terms of jobs and school admissions than are blacks, whose status, however reluctantly, has been admitted in law and in the general view to be that of "full equality" with that of the hitherto preferred status of white males.

One rather obvious explanation of this seeming oddity is that the white women involved (who are the major beneficiaries of affirmative action adjustments) are the relatives and household companions of those who were formerly preferred. Any fresh benefits to the white portion of America's female population either directly or indirectly tends to be of some benefit to white males.

But the thorny problem of equity for blacks remains; and some statesmanlike voices are being raised to suggest some possibly positive solutions which will bring prolonged litigation to a halt and assure our desired fair play for all.

President Derek Bok of Harvard University has indicated: "For a court to say race is of no relevance is unwise." Specifically in reference to college admissions Dr. Bok notes that while grades and test scores are helpful in making admissions decisions, "they are by no means the only factor..."

We're interested in educating students who will make a distinct contribution. And in a country where there are so few minority persons in leading businesses, law firms, hospitals and government agencies, we feel a minority student may make a distinctive contribution, especially in a country which suffers from the racial tensions which we've experienced.

The Dean of John Hopkins Medical School affirms a similar public purpose and suggests that, so far as government action is concerned, rewards or special benefits should be given to those institutions which fulfill an acknowledged public good by affording equitable treatment to minorities.

"LOVES WORKING WITH PEOPLE: REGARDLESS OF THEIR RACE"

Barbara Mitchell

Our Career Woman this week is Barbara Mitchell who has been an employee for Stenocall for approximately one year. A native of San Gabriel, a small community a few miles from the city of Austin, she was reared in Lubbock and attended public schools here.

While in high school, she was involved in drama, band and worked in publications, along with carrying her regular classroom activities. Her goal in life is to become a computer programmer technician and to open up a successful business. In talking about Stenocall, she says: "I feel Stenocall is a good place to work, especially if you are interested in talking with different people and even though you may not ever meet the clients, you feel you have known them for a long time by the impression they leave over the telephone."

Barbara will tell you that everyday is a new experience for her. "I have talked to people from many cities and states. I've even had an experience of talking to people from Chihuahua, Mexico. I feel like the right arm of medical doctors and other professional people," she says.

She says her co-workers are very friendly and courteous and "as far as a field for Black women, I think it is a rewarding career to become a member of the communications team such as at Stenocall."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Willie Dorris) Shepard.

The management of Stenocall is proud of Barbara and her contributions to those whom she works.

Barbara is a happy, smiling, concerned young lady. She is our Career Woman.

The Black Press: Its Importance In The Elevation Of Blacks

It was in the full swing of that chaotic period, 1806-1820, when Neptune was transiting Sagittarius that, in this writer's estimation, the greatest black leader of the nineteenth century was born. The year was 1817; the leader's name was Frederick Douglass. In 1847 he launched a newspaper called The North Star. This literary giant and his newspaper were instrumental in influencing many people to take up the cause of abolition.

No reliable record has been kept of the many black newspapers that sprang up following the launching of The North Star... but a great number did begin publishing, especially after the Emancipation Proclamation in 1863. In most cases these newspapers had a brief life span. The majority were printed at a financial loss. Many factors contributed to the failure of these black newspapers. They failed in part because of the general illiteracy and poverty of blacks at that time. They also failed in part because blacks who had some means and education were not as dedicated to the cause of elevating blacks as a people as their means, political interests and racial pride would have suggested.

In fairness let's look at both sides of the picture. Financial means and a press are not all that are required to make a newspaper successful, just as education is not all that is required to make an editor. A news journal must arouse interest and support; for, it is quality and not quantity that makes news print sell. It is also true that not all pioneer newsmen were of Frederick Douglass's caliber. One needs to have great courage and the capacity for great sacrifice in order to follow the path of the genius who published The North Star and left his race a rich heritage of the ideals for which he had fought and had risked his life.

Editor's Note: The preceding, "The Black Press: Its Importance In The Elevation Of Blacks," was written by Sylvia Hairston. The following horoscope on the signs was written by astrologer-consultant James Tramble who is guest writer for Sylvia Hairston while she is on vacation.

FOCUS ON BUSINESS AND FINANCE

ARIES — March 21-April 19 Focus on your resources. This is a time to evaluate ways of conserving and to direct your energies towards earning additional monies. Good time to communicate your ideas to the mate and to your business partners.
TAURUS — April 20-May 20 The accent is on self-expression now. But even though you may be concerned with your own personal desires, take care to be objective where the feelings of others are concerned. It's a good time for short trips to visit friends and people who think as you do; talking over creative ideas can lead to positive business ventures.
GEMINI — May 21-June 21 Use good judgment regarding finances now. Continue to be patient and accepting of changes occurring in your day-to-day activities. You'll soon clearly understand the need for this advice.

CANCER — June 22-July 22 Your resources have been rather limited during the past two years. Now, though, you have thoughts of changing your job or devising additional ways to make money. Heed those thoughts, for this period should usher in increased activity moneywise. But the pressure is not off yet, so avoid making major purchases until after July, 1978.
LEO — July 23-August 22 Career and public standing are emphasized. Handle all business affairs practically. You will understand what is going on careerwise in relation to your whole life after the 25th.
VIRGO — August 22-September 22 Accent on legal aspects, philosophical ideas, distant traveling, writing and publishing. Read all contracts thoroughly and with comprehension, as misinterpretations could be costly. Group involvements and friendly gatherings take a lid of seriousness.
LIBRA — September 23-October 23 Emphasis on business luncheons and communication with friends of prominent social standing who are beneficial to you. That long awaited promotion can increase your financial earnings at this time.
SCORPIO — October 24-November 22 The drudgery you have experienced should see new energy activating your career now. Favorable partnerships can be formed in business as well as in love. Putting forth innovative ideas at this time could put you in the spotlight with those in authority.

SAGITTARIUS — November 23-December 21 Focus on creativity in your day-to-day dealings. It's a good time for those with artistic inclinations to make their work tangible and lay plans for promoting themselves.
CAPRICORN — December 22-January 19 Businesswise things are moving rather slowly, but there is a bright side to look at—love. This is a time to get out socially as there is a strong possibility of a sudden attraction. If you can take a vacation at this time, do it.
AQUARIUS — January 20-February 18 Home and family are your concern. There may be thoughts of selling and acquiring property; if you do venture in this direction, do take care to "detail" all legal matters. An insightful investigation of all preventative health techniques could prove beneficial.
PISCES — February 20-March 20 Emphasis is on joint resources, be they those of friends, neighbors or business associates. Any money-making projects that you wish to promote should be carefully thought out; there should be ease and confidence in promoting your ideas and increasing the acceptability thereof. You should note increased movement in your day-to-day activities with co-workers and superiors.

OUR GIANTS SPEAK

A LOOK AT ELIZABETH TAYLOR GREENFIELD

"Elizabeth Taylor Greenfield, better known perhaps by her musical sobriquet, the 'Black Swan,' was born in Natchez, Miss., in the year 1809. When but a year old she was brought to Philadelphia by an exemplary Quaker lady, by whom she was carefully reared. Between these two persons there ever existed the warm affection that is felt by mother and daughter. In the year 1844 this good lady died. In her will the subject of this sketch was remembered by a substantial legacy. The will, however, formed the subject of a long legal contest; and I believe Miss Greenfield never received the bequest.

Her family name was Taylor; but, in honor of her guardian, she took the latter's name.—Greenfield.

To several gentlemen in Buffalo belongs the credit of having first brought out Miss Greenfield in the concert-room. The Buffalo papers took the matter in hand, and assured the public they had much to expect from a concert from this vocalist. The deep interest her first public efforts elicited from them gave occasion to the following certificate:—

Buffalo, Oct. 30, 1851
Mr. H. E. Howard.
Dear Sir,—At your suggestion, for the purpose of enabling Miss Elizabeth T. Greenfield to show her Philadelphia friends the popularity she has acquired in this city, I cheerfully certify as follows:—

The concert got up for her was unsolicited on her part, and entirely the result of admiration of her vocal powers by a number of our most respectable citizens, who had heard her at the residence of Gen. Potter, with whose family she had become somewhat familiar. The concert was attended by an audience not second in point of numbers to any given here before, except by Jenny Lind; and not second to any point of respectability and fashion. The performance of Miss Greenfield was received with great applause; and the expression since, among our citizens generally, is a strong desire to hear her again.

Respectfully yours, &c.,
G. Reed Wilson.

A trip to London and its attendant circumstances resulted in much benefit to Miss Greenfield in an intrinsic, artistic sense, adding decided eclat to her professional reputation. 'The New York Herald,' a journal which in those days was generally quite averse to bestowing even well-merited praise upon persons of her race, was, however, so much moved upon by her exhibition of an increased technical knowledge of the lyric art as to speak of Miss Greenfield as follows: 'The Swan sings now in true artistic style, and the wonderful powers of her voice have been developed by good training.' This was but echoing the general verdict.

During the years that intervened between Miss Greenfield's return from England and her death,—the latter event occurring at Philadelphia in the month of April, 1876,—she was engaged in singing occasionally at concerts, and in giving lessons in vocal music.

Remembering her own hard contests as she ascended the hill of fame, Miss Greenfield ever held out a helping hand to all whom she found struggling to obtain a knowledge of the noble art of music. Possessing, on account of her great vocal abilities, the high esteem of the general public, from a rare amiability of disposition enjoying the warm love of many friends in those private circles where she was always an ornament and a blessing, this wonderfully gifted lady at the age of sixty-eight years died, deeply mourned by all."

3. How many words did you look up in the dictionary? (If we do not use a dictionary daily and for every word whose FULL meaning we may not know, we cannot grow individually and assure the best use of our resources for group freedom and a better America.)

HELP NEEDED!

The Concerned Neighbors and Friends of Mrs. Willie Mae Reed, 1824 East 1st Place, are setting up a trust fund to help aid her. Mrs. Reed was in a car accident last October, and still remains in the intensive care unit of Methodist Hospital. She is paralyzed from the neck down to her feet.

The ICU can only keep patients for a certain period of time which means that Mrs. Reed will be moved to a private convalescent home until recovery.

Most homes do not have the equipment that the hospital has and it is necessary for Mrs. Reed to have this life-supporting machine which requires at least $12,000 before she has use of it.

Donations are being made from neighbors, friends, churches, and others.

Before the accident, Mrs. Reed was an active member of the Church of the Living God in which she was the president of the Mission, the Sunday School teacher, and a choir member. She has a husband and three children, and many friends and relatives who appreciate any donations.

For information, about donations, please contact Mr. C. Taylor at 762-2735 or make donations to the American State Bank in care of Mrs. Willie Mae Reed.

Acts 8:4-8

4 Now those who were scattered went about preaching the word.

5 Philip went down to a city of Samaria, and proclaimed to them the Christ.

6 And the multitudes with one accord gave heed to what was said by Philip, when they heard him and saw the signs which he did.

7 For unclean spirits came out of many who were possessed, crying with a loud voice; and many who were paralyzed or lame were healed.
8 So there was much joy in that city.

14 Now when the apostles at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent to them Peter and John.

15 who came down and prayed for them that they might receive the Holy Spirit;

16 for it had not yet fallen on any of them, but they had only been baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

17 Then they laid their hands on them and they received the Holy Spirit.

18 Now when Simon saw that the Spirit was given through the laying on of the apostles' hands, he offered them money.

19 saying, "Give me also this power, that any one on whom I lay my hands may receive the Holy Spirit."

20 But Peter said to him, "Your silver perish with you, because you thought you could obtain the gift of God with money!

21 You have neither part nor lot in this matter, for your heart is not right before God.

22 Repent therefore of this wickedness of yours, and pray that the Lord that, if possible, the intent of your heart may be forgiven you.

23 For I see that you are in the gall of bitterness and in the bond of iniquity!"

24 And he returned to Jerusalem, and went about preaching the word.

Religion

Roxie Reed, Dolly Howard and Ellen Tillman are ill this week.

Lyons Chapel Baptist

The trip to Dallas, Texas to Mt. Horeb Baptist Church was reported as being a safe and very enjoyable to those persons who went. They spent the evening at the luxurious Holiday Inn. Dr. Floyd Perry, Jr. was the guest speaker for the morning, and our Miss Choir sang several selections. The group was served a scrumptious dinner after service.

Sunday, April 23, we are to go to Plainview to worship with Rev. W. Griffin and congregation in their afternoon service. If you didn't get an opportunity to travel to Dallas, surely you can make plans to go to Plainview. Let's go in big numbers.

The Missionary Society is counting down the days before April 30 when we will hold our annual Women's Day program. All women are asked to wear white dresses and pay their required money. We are indeed looking forward to a high time in the Lord. Come out and give the ladies your support.

On Wednesday night at 7:30, the Y.W.A. will sing at John Knox Village. We hope to see each member there and on time.

Our church anniversary will be held Sunday, July 9. Plans are underway to make this a very successful program. Let us make plans to make this a great day for Lyons Chapel. Rev. J. Ockletree of Odessa will be our guest speaker.

Many thanks to each and everyone who came out to the musical play on last Friday evening to view "A Journey Into Harlem." All found the play to be very amusing and informative. Perhaps in the near future, we can bring them back again.

Let us continue to pray for our sick and shut in members of the church and community.

Take an active part in your church and attend prayer meeting each week. Remember prayer meeting is on Wednesday night at 6:30 p.m.

"A church that prays together, stays together."

Bethel African Methodist Episcopal

Services were well attended last Sunday morning with our guest revivalist, the Rev. Mrs. L.E. Moore of Dallas, delivering a dynamic message. Her subject was "Do You Love Jesus?" It was a great message, and everyone present enjoyed what she had to say. Youth Choir Number One was responsible for the music of the morning.

Our annual Spring Revival was closed out Sunday afternoon with Sis. Moore delivering her final message.

Among our sick and shut in members this week include our pastor, Rev. A.W. Wilson, Mrs. Ethel Coleman, Mrs. Doris Ragland, Bro. Fred McQuinney, and Prof. E. C. Struggs.

New Hope Baptist

General Mission will be held Monday, April 24, at 7 p.m.

President Ruby Jay is asking all women of the church to attend a complete plan for the fifth Sunday service.

Prayer meeting is held each Wednesday night at 7. All members are asked to attend.

Special services will be held Sunday, May 7th, at 3 p.m. This service is being sponsored by the Ushers. Rev. Tony Williams and members of the Community Baptist Church will be our special guest.

The Angelic and Chancel Choirs are asked to present musical selections.

Prayer meeting is held each Wednesday night at 7. All members are asked to attend.

COOKS' LETTER TO EDITOR

avoid voting. Some apparently fail to realize that the ballot is their voice, and we must express in action what we profess to feel in our heart. To the ear, the quality of a voice is singularly affecting. It's depth is allied to emotions, and even the smallest whisper gives a sincere sense of determination which is born out of a hearten experience. It only takes courage to speak out, and courage, to me, is the element that is considered as the essential of good character. Courage when facing danger is already half of the battle.

Then we have those who insist "my religious conviction will not allow me to take part in political or governmental movement." Well, I don't see you still making your way to the back door. If a man has no principles by which to live, he is not living, but only existing, and cop outs on religious conviction are usually strongest when we (Blacks) want to cop out on something, but on other occasions it isn't so important (religious convictions). You have majored in the minor, and minored in the major. I mean you have sought out what the Bible said, rather than what the Bible teaches.

April 24, at 7 p.m. President Ruby Jay is asking all women of the church to attend a complete plan for the fifth Sunday service.

We are scheduled to appear at the St. John Baptist Church, Lamesa, Texas on Sunday afternoon, April 23, at 3 p.m. Rev. J. H. Nelson is pastor.

We are all looking forward to traveling to Fort Worth, Texas on Sunday, June 4, to be in service with the Rev. B.W. Lockett, pastor, and members of the Ebenezer Baptist Church.

Let us continue to pray for those who are sick and believed in our church and community.

"THINK ABOUT IT!!"

by Evelyn Roberts

REPENT OR PERISH

As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; But that the wicked turn from his way and live: Turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways: for why will ye die. O' House of Israel" Ezekiel 33:11.

God did not want to destroy Israel and scatter them throughout the world. But He did. Because of their sins. Their disobedience, their worship of other gods. God does not want to destroy us. But he is destruction for us just as sure as it was for Israel. Except we repent and turn back to God.

Many Americans feel real comfortable by the thought that other nations are more wicked than we. So we think God will surely not let them triumph over us. Yes, God loves us. Not because of our wealth, pride, and power. Not for our schools and inventions. Our church spires and Sunday worship.

Oh bless His name. But because He had great plans for us. That we were to exalt his name and lift up his word. His son Jesus Christ was to be remembered and honored as the Prince of Peace, King of Kings, and Lord of Lords.

But instead, we, Americans, have become a hiss and a by-word over much of today's troubled world. Jesus is weeping over us. As he once wept over Jerusalem. And when he came near, he beheld the city and wept over it.

Yes, we are great, wicked! We are also doomed if we don't repent and come back in obedience to God. We do not have long. The midnight hour is near. If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked way; Then I will hear from heaven and forgive their sins. And heal their land. (II Chron. 7:14).

Pray for me. I hope you have been encouraged through these topics.
