CONTESTANTS IN "MISS BLACK TEENAGE PAGEANT"

SIXTH ANNUAL "MISS BLACK TEENAGE LUBBOCK PAGEANT" will be held Friday night, July 13, 1979, at 7 p.m. at the Dunbar High School Auditorium. Tickets are $2.00 for adults and children under 12 and senior citizens are $1.00 each. This annual pageant is sponsored by the Lubbock Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR COMMUNITY MEETING

Plans are being made to have another community meeting early in August to discuss the letter from city manager Larry Cunningham concerning the railroad crossing at Southeast Drive and East 34th Street. Approximately 125 east Lubbock residents were present at the May meeting and agreed to vote "no" against monies for the construction of a crossing bar and a flashing light. This wish was taken to the city council, who, too voted against the measure. The group agreed to wait for forty-five days to see what the city manager's office would come up with. Therefore, this meeting will be an informative session on what has happened. Coordinators of the May meeting have received correspondence from the city manager on what has happened. Persons involved in the May meeting at Mae

KMCC To Show 'Scared Straight'

"Scared Straight", a hard-hitting television documentary about a prison program designed to scare the crime right out of juvenile delinquents, will be seen over KMCC-TV, Channel 28, 9 p.m. on Saturday night, July 14.

One of the most compelling hours of television ever produced, the program is being sponsored in major television markets as a public service, without commercial interruption, by The Signal Companies.

As host, Peter Falk guides us through Rahway State Prison in New Jersey and we witness an extraordinary program developed by a group of hardened criminals in that maximum security prison. An unlikely group of crime-fighters, these convicts, serving life sentences for murder and other major crimes, have committed themselves to helping juveniles get back on the right track.

Twice each day, with the full support of the prison officials and the surrounding community, a group of juveniles enters the prison to serve a three-hour "service".

The cameras allow us to join one such group of 17 chronic juvenile offenders as they get a dose of the prisoner's special brand of "shock therapy". The frightened youngsters are forced to listen as the convicts describe in brutal and explicit detail the horrors and realities of prison life - the homosexual rapes, suicides and murders, the boredom, bells and brutality. The convicts shout, swear and threaten violence - whatever it takes to shock the kids into realizing the consequences of their lives of crime.

To date, more than 10,000 teenagers have gone through the "lifers" program at Rahway. Participating communities report that 80 to 90 percent are scared into "going straight" by the terrifying experience.

ELIC TO MEET HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The East Lubbock Investment Company (ELIC) will be in session at Mae Simmons Community Center at 8 p.m. Wednesday night, July 18. All interested citizens are asked to attend this important session.

"This important session is get some positive action," says until 4:30 p.m., for a total of 950 classroom hours.

Training will be available to persons who qualify and are accepted by the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) Manpower Intake Office. CETA will pay an hourly wage of $2.90 to trainees who qualify and are accepted into the program.

For more information contact LISD Adult Education Office, 765-9338, or CETA Manpower Intake Office at 763-6493.

WHAT YOUR STARS SAY

July 11-17

FOR THE WHOLE SOUL NATION

Summer undoubtedly is all people's favorite time of year, and it's easy to know why. Fruit is more abundant—it's natural and fresh; you don't have to weigh your body down wearing a lot of clothes; and due to the invention of daylight saving, time, the days seem sweeter and longer.

However, black people still feel squeezed by the economic burden set upon them by inflation—especially those of you who've worked hard to save a little, and who now find that their dollars are devalued by inflation.

As negligible as it seems, write a letter and complain. On your own, all by yourself, in the name of your very own humanity. Boycott certain products and stores. Someone is getting rich! rich! rich! off of inflation. In fact... it seems that just when black people begin to accumulate a little capital, money suddenly becomes totally worthless.

But if you don't feel the squeeze, and if you don't feel like protesting, that's all right too. Maybe you are one of the wise children of the Earth who realizes that nothing is needed beyond our daily bread, on a daily basis.

ARIES — March 21-April 20 Bright and incredulous ideas might lead you to believe you can fly without an airplane. Beware of glitter. Study all the elements to know the true quality of Gold. Once you choose, you must live with your choice.

TAURUS — April 21-May 21 Plenty is more than enough, and enough should satisfy anyone. You are lucky if you have enough to share. Watch out for the arrival of strange and perverse appetites. The devil always tempts the righteous. GEMINI — May 22-June 21 Whatever it is you're after—

by

Eddie P. Richardson

ARE YOU COLORED WHAT??? HOW?? HUH!!!

In 1979, almost 1980, one would not believe in a so called free society in a city of churches and the talk about good neighbor that you would hear these words on the other end of the phone..... "Are you collard?? Believe it or not, it happened in Lubbock, Texas U.S.A. Monday, July 9, 1979.

It is funny, stupid, or just plain bold when someone will ask you on the phone if you are colored in this day and age with social conflicts, suits and counter-suits, and civil right laws, etc. But, it did happen in Lubbock when a number was called that was on a sign on the Premiss Apartments, 1704 Peoria with these numbers to call 795-6299 or 747-9464. Apparently this is a property management firm.

When the inquiry was made after are you collard, the person on the other end was asked his name and he refused to answer. This could have been the case since he had realized what he had said.

The person who answered the phone should not have to bare all the blame, because he said he rented over 15 complexes and some of the owners didn't like to rent to colored people. He apparently has the same fear that is so prevalent in Lubbock, because of fear of his job, even though he may know something is morally wrong - as well as legally wrong. They will do it in fear of their jobs.

However, Tuesday, July 10th, when the number was called, the person said their name was Roy.

The most important thing and shocking thing about this whole incident is whoever the person on the other end of the phone did give this bad information to a Black who was being transferred from Austin, our state capitol, and is on official state business. The business at hand is legal, but the man on the other end of the phone didn't know all of this. This incident could cause some embarrassment to Lubbock if this person decides to file suit or fight this issue in a court of law.

The recent decision of the single member district suit will open the way for a lot of these kinds of actions it will make a lot of people feel they do not have to comply with the law now. Affected class minorities in Lubbock had better get off of their "I think I'm middle class high horses and see where they really are and how far back they are traveling."

Affected class minorities in Lubbock are being set aside while the so called minority merely rolls along making decisions that decide our future, representing us politically and every other way. We have no Black leadership in policy making or key decisions making places. We have a few Blacks who are still show cased and window dressers to help secure Federal Funds. But baby, believe it or not, niggers don't call any shots, not even peity ones.

When you are asked if you are COLORED when trying to find a place to live, we are back to the 1940's and 1950's. My answer to that is COLLARD what and how? With spray paint or a brush, Nuff sed. WHY NOT??

GIVE THEM A CHANCE

We'd like to take this time and space and advise the Texas Department of Public Safety (Highway Patrol), who are checking driver's licenses east of the city near the newly opened Astro Liquor Store, to give those brothers and sisters a break. This newspaper has received many reports from those who purchase beverages from this establishment that they are pulled over for the sake of being pulled over and their driver's license checked.

Of course, we are for obeying the law, but for the sake of harrasing Black citizens is not a good thing to do. These patrons to the new establishment are good people, and should be treated as such.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

This letter is in response to Judge Halbert O. Woodward decision in the at-large system suit and its implications.

My main concern is within the Title VII Nutrition program. Not only are all of the 8 nutrition sites I know of not in minority areas, but partiality is shown to at least center with participants other than minorities and middle and upper middle income.

August, 1978 issue of the City Profile mentioned the new "Senior Citizen Center Planned for Avenue P Center" which will be designated a "RSVP" center. According to Jim Weston, Director of Community facilities, "Representatives of Lubbock's senior citizen community are letting their needs to be known to city officials." Did those representatives speak for the seniors in East Lubbock or Arnett Benson areas? Is this the kind of representation Judge Woodward ment? Mae Simmons, at least received a stove and refrigerator (that works), since asking for same last summer. I also understand Mae Simmons will get some improvements. Well, will it be anything like the $537,000 in community development funds for the RSVP center?

The letter to the Editor, Avlanche-Journal "Services For Over 65", I feel, was appropriate, but not the letter response. The senior citizens at, below or just above the poverty level don't information about how to volunteer, but how to get financial help.

As long as the city of Lubbock turns its head to the minorities and low-income senior citizens, we will not have the kind of representation in any regards.

LEGISLATIVE ALERT
FOCUS SPECIFICALLY ON MINORITY NEEDS

The position of the Congressional Black Caucus has increasingly moved toward efforts to zero in specifically upon black and other minority needs. The Caucus position follows below.

The Members of the Congressional Black Caucus, in appraising the state of the nation, find that while incremental progress has been made over the past several years, the essential problems remain the same and the uncertainty of the Administration's monetary and fiscal direction do not assure us that economic conditions will improve substantially. These problems center on:

- The exceptionally high rate of unemployment which continues in the nation as a whole;
 - The disproportionate jobless rate among minorities in particular;
 - The continuing discrimination against black persons and other minorities; and,
 - The continuing inadequacies in health, education, welfare, housing, social services and many other aspects of a decent quality of life for all of the nation's citizens.
- In essence, we must accelerate the pace to remove the socio-economic gap that exists between minorities, lower income persons and the rest of the nation. This is the only true test of equality, and

OPEN HOUSING

The widespread attention given recently to the steering of prospective black homebuyers into already integrated suburbs near Chicago, Illinois—and thereby threatening to turn "open housing" into black ghetto housing—has prompted a fresh interest in the persistently prevalent home ownership patterns among black people.

Home ownership among blacks has decreased since World War II due largely to urban renewal "slum clearance" programs which were dubbed in black communities across the nation as "Negro removal." Indeed, there was little, if any, public policy concern for the negative effect—under the guise of slum clearance—of the wholesale purchase and demolition of what appeared to be low grade occupant-owned homes in generally downtrodden black communities.

Still the net effect has been to dispossess the vast majority of black central city residents who once had proudly owned their homes. Blacks were moved overwhelmingly and precipitously into a rentership class, with all of the increased social problems which now rent federally subsidized housing has brought to practically every major city in the nation.

Then, beginning in the 1960's, a new erosion of black central city home ownership began with the search by white suburbanites who had moved too far away from their places of work for homes in the center city. It was soon discovered—amazingly in this instance—that many of the houses in black ghetto communities were actually capable of being renovated or restored.

Programs on the federal and state levels were then initiated to restore these houses and to give first preference for the re-purchasing of them to those who had formerly occupied them. But there was a hitch. The down payments in most instances had to be made quickly; and the lower income but most often self-sufficient blacks who lived in these neighborhoods had neither the marginal financial reserves nor the credit to come up with quick down payments. Thus, outside—most often suburban whites and beginning young white couples—were able to usurp the ownership from those who had traditionally claimed residence in these now restored old homes.

Recognizing that blacks were being squeezed out of their traditional neighborhoods and denied the opportunity to purchase in many attractive white neighborhoods, James Farmer (formerly with HUD and former national director of CORE) helped found what is now known as "The Fund for an OPEN Society," and of which Mr. Farmer serves as chairman.

Over the past few years, OPEN has raised money, from philanthropic sources and from individuals who lithe for open housing, sufficient to help scores of individuals own homes in now OPEN communities which might otherwise have been closed.

For example, blacks who have needed assistance with down payments to move into white suburban communities have been helped by low-interest OPEN loans. Similarly, incentives have been provided for white families who needed to overcome insurance and other risks from moving into largely black communities.

It is not OPEN's philosophy to artificially integrate for integration's sake but to serve as an enabling agency for persons who would like to enjoy the benefits of what Mr. Farmer's organization is fond of calling OPEN housing. Mr. Farmer's group has had many antecedents, one notable example being the highly successful but short-lived organization for integrated housing spearheaded in Hartford, Connecticut by Joseph Duffey, now head of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

While OPEN is a Philadelphia-based group, its concerns and membership are national. It plans to target Washington, D.C. for its work in facilitating resident ownership of renovated inner city housing. This will serve to keep blacks with middle class type aspirations in Washington, D.C.'s inner city. The positive social consequences of such an endeavor are estimated to be substantial.

For those interested in learning more of the facts about non-segregated housing which have been amassed by the Fund for an OPEN Society, persons may write directly to James Farmer, Chairman, OPEN, 9803 Roosevelt Blvd., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19114.

Segregated residential communities have long been held to be an erosive and insidious influence in our nation's life. They arbitrarily separate people who might otherwise elect to live side by side either to enjoy the convenience of the scenery or to entertain the possibility of being friends as well as neighbors.

The exceedingly salutary spirit of OPEN thus may have something of a benefit for practically every city in the nation where black rentership has replaced ownership and where confrontation and separation have become the alternative to human cooperation and neighborliness.

COURAGE TO SPEAK THE TRUTH

1 KINGS 22:5-8, 13-19, 26-28

1 Kings 22:5-8

5 And Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, "Inquire first for the word for the Lord."

6 Then the king of Israel gathered the prophets together, about four hundred men, and said to them, "Shall I go to battle against Ramoth-gilead, or shall I forbear?" And they said, "Go up; for the Lord will give it into the hand of the king."

7 But Jehoshaphat said, "Is there not here another prophet for the Lord of whom we may inquire?"

8 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "There is yet one man by whom we may inquire to the Lord, Micaiah the son of Imlah; but I hate him, for he never prophesies good concerning me, but evil." And Jehoshaphat said, "Let not the king say so."

16 But the king said to him, "How many times shall I adjure you that speak to me nothing but the truth in the name of the Lord?"

17 And he said, "I saw all Israel scattered upon the mountains, as sheep that have no shepherd; and the Lord said, 'These have no master; let each return to his home in peace.'"

18 And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "Did I not tell you that he would not prophesy good concerning me, but evil?"

19 And Micaiah said, "Therefore hear the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing beside him on his right hand and on his left.

26 And the king of Israel said, "Seize Micaiah, and take him back to Amon the governor for the city and to Joash the king's son;

27 and say, 'Thus says the king, "Put this fellow in prison, and feed him with scant fare of bread and water, until I come in peace.'"

28 And Micaiah said, "If you return in peace, the Lord has not spoken by me." And he said, "Hear, all you peoples!"

13-19

13 And the messenger who went to summon Micaiah said to him, "Behold, the words of the prophets with one accord are favorable to the king; let your word be like the word of one for them, and speak favorably."

14 But Micaiah said, "As the Lord lives, what the Lord says to me, that I will speak."

15 And when he had come to the king, the king said to him, "Micaiah, shall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or shall we forbear?" And he answered him, "Go up and triumph; the Lord will give it into the hand of the king."

OBSEQUIES

ARTHUR WILLIAMS, JR.

Final rites were read last week at the Jamison Funeral Chapel with Rev. S. T. Sneed officiating. Interment was held in the City of Lubbock Cemetery under the direction of Jamison and Son Funeral Home. Mr. Williams was born in Idalou, Texas to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. and Maggie Williams. He passed away on Wednesday, June 27, 1979.

Prayer Poem

The disciples on the stormy Sea of Galilee thought that God perhaps had forsaken them. Jesus was calmly asleep, and the disciples came to him pleading that he might save them, lest they perish. Then Jesus arose and spoke to the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm. It was mindful of this quality of ever-present help and deliverance on the part of God that Edward Hopper (1818-1888) wrote "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me."

Jesus, Savior, pilot me,
As a mother stills her child,
Thou canst hush the ocean wild;
Boisterous ways obey thy will
When thou say'st to them,
"Be still."
Wondrous Sovereign of the sea,
Jesus, Savior, pilot me.
When at least I near the shore,
And the fearful breakers roar
Twixt me and the peaceful rest,
Then, while leaning on thy breast,
May I hear thee say to me,
"Fear not, I will pilot thee."
God is ever at hand to rescue, deliver, redeem.

ZENITH COMMUNITY CENTER NEWS HERE

by Samuel Dancy, Jr.
Zenith Center Supervisor

The Senior Citizens of the Community Center, 515 North Zenith Avenue, are happy to announce the big turn out in June for their Juneteenth celebration which was held at Mae Simmons Community Center.

There was a large group of people as well as entertainers participating in the program. Catching the biggest whale at Buffalo Spring Lakes was Mrs. Jesse Robinson, a participant here at Zenith Center. Another added attraction was Marinda Dancy and Gwen Robins, two Black sisters dancing the latest disco dance steps, and believe it or not, the definitely don't have two left feet.

Also the Commonwealth Dancers were present to perform a show of the latest disco fashions of Chicago. This was sponsored by Cody Gibson and Jimmy of ReVogue.

The Senior Citizens would like to take this time and thank the following who contributed donations. They are Mrs. Bairds Bakery who donated more than enough bread and pastry. Frito Lay's contribution of assorted chips was appreciated very much. The cake box was very generous. They donated a cake labeled "Juneteenth Celebration '79." And last, but not least, a special thanks to Sam Dancy, the center director, who made an excellent chef. Thank you all so very much. We also would like to encourage all Senior Citizens to stop by and check out our program.

During the month of June, the Senior Citizens smoked hats, made spectacular wishing wells, footstools, dish rags, bath cloths, placks, and quilted quilts. These will be raffled off at our next carnival. Also every Friday, the Senior Citizens have ministers as guest speakers for their Bible Class which is held at 11 a.m. On July 13, the Rev. Larry Hambrick of the Manhattan Church of Christ; and July 20, the Rev. R. S. Stanley, St. Matthew Baptist Church.

Again, we encourage all Senior Citizens to stop by and have a look at our program. They will be taking a trip to Dallas October 22 through 24. If there are any persons interested in making this trip, please call 744-3222 or stop by the center at 515 North Zenith Avenue.

side, and very supportive of your being. It's the right time to light the lamp of attraction; to open and be attuned to true Love.
CANCER—June 22-July 23 Beauty should be the light inside your person, as well as how nice you look. This is a good time to give your summer party. Keep valuables in a safe place and remember where you hide things.
LEO—July 24-August 23 Push! Push! The energy to radiate is on you, determining your future state of well-being. Inside of your heart lives the voice of your true consciousness. Listen! Do right because it's right to do right!
VIRGO—August 24-September 23 If you kept the Faith all winter, you must surely be enjoying the radiant Sun. Things will be better for you, and if you've sublimated your ego to higher principles, a re-phrasing of winter's lesson will not frighten you.

LIBRA—September 24-October 23 The lesson of Love as a principle must finally be winning you over, and you could be deeply in Love, and experiencing no pain. This is one of the marvelous sensations felt in the soul of highly evolved humans. God is Love!
SCORPIO—October 23-November 22 Don't be such a nit-picker that you shadow the Sun of those close to you. If you raise your consciousness up off the material plane, you could expand your creative mind beyond the limits of human intelligence. God is also Man—Trust!
SAGITTARIUS—November 23-December 21 Maintain an area of caution when you gamble, take risks, or otherwise speculate with money, goods, attitudes or feelings. Luck does not make us impervious to bad judgment. But...to each...his own!
CAPRICORN—December 22-January 20 An intense summer love would be ideal for you, but you must open to the Love and allow it to enter your bones in order to experience the fire in Love's passion. If you are afraid, or indifferent, you are to be pitied. Relax!
AQUARIUS—January 21-February 19 Easy doesn't last forever, and after easy is gone, things sometimes become very, very hard. If someone offers you a gift in quiet exchange for your finer principles, don't be greedy enough or hungry enough to accept.
PISCES—February 20-March 20 You can sit by the dock and splash your feet in the water, and not have to worry about too much. All we're ever really promised is a respite—never surcease. But even during the respite you can evolve to a higher level.

BLACK POETRY

THINKING

Tho' long ago it may have been
We fought for freedom and are still Fight'n. White man always invading others' lands,
While our so-called black respectables lend in a helping hand.
And what they don't stop to think about,
Is what's going in and who's going out!
—Faith M. Turner

(Is it the color of one's skin—or the access to and abuse of too much power that makes life the crazy-quilt that it is? Here the poetess implicitly raises this problem.)

Black poets, who may wish exposure to our reading public, may send copies of their poetry—for editing and with permission to use—in groups of 12 poems or more to Black Resources, Inc., P.O. 410 Central Park West, New York, N.Y. 10025. Poetry selected should normally appear within 12 to 20 weeks. Because of staff limitations, no copies are returned.

WORDS OF LIFE

"Oh that I might find him!"—Job 23:3

1. Who comes first in your life? Job, who spoke our biblical words, wanted more than anything else in life to find God. After many difficulties, he came to know that God was with him all along, that indeed God's grace, God's love and God's power were already with him, sustaining him in every obstacle with which he was confronted. God often "moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform."
2. What comes first in your life? Is it having your own way? Or is it seeking God's way and will? There is a world of difference between the two. When we try to have our own way, we run into conflict with everyone with whom we meet. When we seek for God's will, for God's way for us, we find a harmonious path that synchronizes and meshes all that we do in a gloriously helpful and supportive way with others. Seek, above all else, God's way and will...for you.

3. Know God! Know that God's life is within you. Hence it is never "far away." God's breath, God's image form your basic self. You are a reflection, a manifestation, an embodiment of God. To know God is, then, to know the infinite riches, the divine treasure, the sublime realities and resources which are to be found within our lives.

"COME JOIN OUR WORLD"

by Mrs. Tommie Ervin
Amway Distributor

This week is "Recognition Week" and we pause to recognize Mrs. Winnie Hibbler for a job well done. Many of the young people in the community of Lubbock know Mrs. Hibbler as a school bus driver for the Lubbock Independent School District. To many, she is known as an outstanding beautician. At the same time, we know her as a great mother of the children she reared.

We all remember the late great Malford Hibbler, a well known Dunbar Panther football star in the 1950's, one of her sons.

Mrs. Hibbler resides at 2903 East Main Street, and is a member of the Unity Baptist Church. At the church, she serves as youth worker and church treasurer.

Mrs. Hibbler is also a very successful Amway Distributor. She says: "Making money is great! It's great to have and to do many wonderful things with it (money), but the joy is to do things for others who can't do anything for themselves to better their lives. It (Amway) has also helped me to make some of their dreams come true, and this means more than all the money one could ever earn."

On Saturday evening, July 14, she will be recognized for her achievement in the month of June with Amway at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center at 8 p.m.

Contact Mrs. Hibbler, a person who knows you can make things happen by working with Amway. All of this can be done with your busy schedule or you may work full-time. Whatever door is open for you, give Amway an opportunity! Remember you will be in business for yourself, just like Mrs. Hibbler. For more information call, 763-0318 or 765-6831.

Come and join our world in the great world of Amway, and get the whole story! We will be proud to show you our business.

Across The Nation

News From Home Folks

This feature is a news compilation from more than 100 black-owned and oriented newspapers in this nation. It deals with what blacks, who are all-too-often little recognized, are doing to promote full participation in American life by black Americans. It is thus a salute from all of our readers for unshakable heroes... and is designed to be a challenge for all of us to keep on doing our very best.

Our black newspapers across the nation keep us continuously in their debt. Or is it that they just perhaps recognize the tremendous privilege which all of us have in being of service toward one another. That, no doubt, is the persistent spirit of our heroic publishers. That, too, is our spirit as the faithful readers of the black press.

Representative of this spirit of service to our people is the following exceedingly helpful piece regarding our racial past which comes to us through the courtesy of the Portland, Oregon Skanner. The Skanner articles states: The fact that King Tut was black can no longer be disputed.

Part of the credit for establishing that fact clearly in the minds of black Americans and others must certainly go to the distinguished black historian and attorney, LeGrand H. Clegg II.

Clegg was in Portland last weekend to address the Oregon Association of Black School Educators, and to give a public lecture on "The Black Roots of King Tutankhamun."

Clegg got his B.A. in History, with an emphasis on Africa, from UCLA in 1966, and then went on to get his law degree from Howard University. He is a practicing attorney in Compton, Calif., where he also teaches history at Compton College. He has been preoccupied with King Tut research for the last two years. A pamphlet which he co-authored with Lisbeth Gant, entitled "Black Men: the First Rulers of the World," is scheduled to be published in Jan. 1979. It will deal with the lineage of the 18th dynasty, to which King Tut belonged.

Part of the thrust of his research, Clegg says, has been to develop a more "positive image" of the black male by giving the black child good role models from his past. What more appropriate model could there be than a black boy-king, Clegg asks. Another aim of his research is to make white Americans aware of their dishonesty with respect to the history of blacks. On this subject, he takes issue with Alex Haley's book "Roots," with its emphasis on the slave origins of blacks. "How can the history of a great people begin in slavery?" he asks. Then he notes the fact that Haley neglected to mention that within walking distance of Kunta Kinte's village was the "greatest known university of that time," in reference to the Sankore mosque university in Timbuktu. But if Haley had started with that, Clegg alleges, "the book would not have sold."

Clegg refutes the widely held assumption by Egyptologists that the common word for Egypt, Kemit, meaning black, signified the "soil" of Egypt rather than the "people." To substantiate his argument, he offers these facts: The Hebrews used the word "cham" or "Ham" for the Egyptian people, meaning "the blackest possible" in Hebrew; the Greeks spoke of them as "Ethiopia" or "men with burnt faces"; the Arabs called Africa south of the Sahara the "bilad al-sudan" or "land of the blacks"; and the moderns use the term "Black Africa." None of these terms ever referred to the color of the soil, they always referred to the people, Clegg asserts. Why, then, should Kemit be restricted in meaning to the soil, he asks. Black was also the symbol for "regeneration," Clegg adds.

In his historical pursuits, Clegg has delved deeply into the lineage of King Tut. Those who deny his blackness engage in absurdities, Clegg says, by noting that Egyptologists will agree on the blackness of King Tut's mother, Queen Tiye, grandmother, uncle, and just about everyone else, then deny that King Tut is black. Brown, perhaps, but not black, Clegg adds humorously.

Clegg further alleges that the modern science of Egyptology was born in black slavery in America. Up until 1791, when the French traveler Volney recognized the blackness of the ancient Egyptians, everyone accepted that the ancient Egyptians were black. It was modern slavery that led whites to suppress that fact, in order to make blacks accept their servile status and inferiority more easily, and to allow whites to feel justified in maintaining blacks in that position.

In reaffirming the blackness of Egypt and its role in giving birth to Western civilization, Clegg puts Egypt in historical perspective and gives Egypt its rightful due as the fountainhead of Western civilization—precursor of the Greeks and Romans, the Renaissance, and the modern industrial world.

The Phoenix, Arizona, Informant tells us of the work of an area group of educators who have been hard at the work of "TCB" (or Taking Care of Business) on behalf of the hard-pressed school children who are continuously shortchanged in our schools. May their spirit prosper among us! The Informant notes:

Our readers may wish to address congratulatory messages and messages of encouragement to the papers which report happenings of interest or concern, to us.

Such messages may be sent to the editors or other persons directly by simply addressing them, using the name of the paper, c/o Black Resources, Inc., 410 Central Park West, PH C, New York, N.Y. 10025.
