Cleanup Days Set For Yellowhouse Canyon

Two Saturday cleanup days are scheduled for the 307 acre area of Yellowhouse Canyon that has been designated at the Lubbock Landman State Historical Park.

Ron Ralph, archaeologist for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, issues an invitation to any individuals or groups interested in helping clear debris from the area thereby hastening the park's opening for visitors. The landmark cleanup days will take place July 11 and July 18 beginning at 9 a. m.

Volunteers may help either or both days. The gathering spot will be across from the Bert Huffman Complex where a city truck will accept trash collections from individuals working on nearby canyon slopes and from pickups hauling from further away.

There will be no facilities for food so volunteers should bring their lunch and drinking water as well as gloves and hats.

Those interested in joining the cleanup effort may call 742-2479 or 762-9773 for more information.

Happy 4th of July!

RUBY JAY'S CORNER

The New Hope Baptist Church is the Church where the people care. Rev. S. C. Nash is pastor.

Radio announcer for the Morning Services last Sunday morning was Mrs. Ida Johnson. Church announcements were made by Sister Thelma Brown. Altar call prayer was offered by Rev. Melvin Burleson.

Let us advise you that the New Hope Baptist Church has a "hugging ministry". Hug the one next to you.

Singing was very good last Sunday although they sang accapella. Some of the older members knows what accapella singing really is. Don't forget where you come from.

Pastor S. C. Nash preached a very good message. His subject was "Peter Is Us." His scriptures were 1 John 1:42-43.

The W. M. S., with Sister R. B. Thompson as president, surprised Mr. Swain's mother with a dinner last Friday night in the fellowship hall of New Hope Baptist Church. She will be leaving shortly for her home in Alabama.

Mr. & Mrs. Almo Sedberry attended her sister's funeral last Saturday in Austin, Texas. While there, they got word that Almo's niece passed last Friday in Denver, Colorado. She is Amelia Sedberry. Our prayers are with you all.

Mr. Paul Henry Kelly was killed by a train. His body was cut in half. He is Deacon U. Kelly's nephew. Services were held Monday at South Plains Funeral Home. We are praying for this bereaved family.

View from Capitol Hill: Getting Elected Is Only the Beginning

by U.S. Rep. Gus Savage

In an earlier column, I explained that, as long as our people are underrepresented in our nation's political offices, we have no grounds for complacency. To this day, I stand behind this conclusion. However, I should add the following point of clarification: Even if we do succeed in rectifying the imbalance of black representation in our nation's political offices, we absolutely cannot afford to be complacent. For the obstacles to political empowerment do not end at the ballot box; they merely take other forms. Some of these forms are obvious, such as the opposition of certain congressmen in the early 1980's to extending the 1965 Voting Rights Act. However, I don't worry as much about the obvious obstacles as I do about those which are less obvious.

One such obstacle arose in Washington last week in an amendment to the 1982 Airport and Airways Improvement Act. The amendment, concerning airport noise, seemed hardly controversial. It proposed to take ten percent of an airport's trust funds and distribute it to nearby suburbs for small noise abatement projects if the U.S. Secretary of Transportation decided that the airport authority had not made "reasonable progress" in developing an effective noise abatement project of its own. Yet upon close scrutiny, the bill went to the heart of the friction between the urban and suburban communities of Chicago and many other American cities. Black-white friction.

As it stood, the noise-reduction amendment would have given America's suburban communities a potent tool in gumming the legislative machinery of the cities which they surround. For in its essence, the amendment enabled people in the suburbs to hold governments in the cities accountable for aircraft noise. According to Chicago's Airport Authority, most of the noise at airports is the result of circumstances beyond the government's control. Jet engines will always scream when they run, and jets will always roar when they fly. Thus, the amendment placed America's cities in a no-win situation. In cities such as Chicago — with Blacks on the inside, whites on the outside, and Black mayors thereabove — the amendment would have given the suburban communities the potential to make demands of the city which it could not possibly meet — and sue the city for non-compliance.

As the senior Illinois member of the Public Works and Transportation Committee of the House, I challenged this provision and proposed an amendment of my own. My amendment stipulated that, before giving away the much needed funds of big city airport authorities to nearby suburbs, the U.S. Secretary of Transportation would have to establish that these nearby suburbs and other entities involved were "fully cooperating" in the airport authorities' noise abatement efforts. Thus, my amendment had the purpose of nullifying the one-sidedness of the committee's bill.

Fortunately, my amendment passed by a majority vote of the committee.

By itself, my amendment is not the millennium. Its details must first be resolved in the Aviation Subcommittee's Report on the bill. Should any problems remain, I will likely have another opportunity to improve this provision when the bill is presented to the full House next month.

While I am pleased with the passage of my amendment and its prospects for retention, I find somewhat disheartening the need for such an amendment. For in an era when America, her regions, and her municipalities are threatened by forces of fatal diseases, nuclear wars, and economic destabilization from the outside, our leaders can ill afford to work at cross purposes. In the words of Benjamin Franklin, I fear that if we do not all hang together, we could well hang separately.

Antislavery Letters of Negroes

These antislavery letters of Negroes are of unusual significance for the reason that although many of these persons herein reported were editors and orators of consequence during the crisis, they failed to keep complete files of their newspapers, or to record their orations for the benefit of generations unborn. In these letters, therefore, the investigator will find the only valuable source to determine what the free Negro was actually thinking and feeling during this period.

This letter from Thomas Cole gives information about the Negro in general.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 7, 1840

Bro. Johnson:

Presuming that some of my friends would like to hear from me occasionally during my absence from the city, I take the liberty to request the insertion of a few words in the Liberator.

Saturday afternoon, Aug. 1, I took the cars at Boston for Providence, and arrived at the latter place in less than two and a half hours. The accommodations upon this route for persons of color are tolerably good—much better than they formerly were. The proprietors have appropriated seats for colored people in the first class of cars. The accommodations, in themselves, are good enough—for the seats are as well cushioned as any in the whole train; but my objection lies against the exclusive principle which prevails—the principle which colonizes us without our consent, as if we were not fit to ride in company with others on terms of equality. This is not as it should be. The day is coming, I trust, when these paltry distinctions will be done away. The wrongs which we as a people suffer, are enough to make even the angels bow their heads and weep. We are hunted and despised, and like the Son of Man, have not where to lay our heads. Our condition reminds me of the exiled Israelites, who sat and wept on the banks of their lovely stream. The iron heel of oppression is crushing the hearts of many colored Americans to the earth. Our spirits, however, can never be subdued, if we are only united and true to our interests. Our souls, like the mountain's crest, will yet tower high above our surrounding difficulties.

The first of August, the anniversary of British emancipation, was observed in Providence in a very appropriate manner. An address was delivered at Masonic Hall by James Richardson, Jr., a young man of fine talents. I had the pleasure of hearing part of his discourse. He depicted the horrors of American slavery in glowing colors. I hope his address will be published, for it would prove one of the choicest specimens of anti-slavery literature. An address was also delivered by a young man of color in one of the churches of the colored people. Of this address, also, I heard only a part, but what I did hear was deeply interesting.

August 2d, I left Providence for Newport at 8 o'clock, A.M. This is one of the most beautiful places in the whole Union. It has a noble harbor studded with beautiful islands and lined with shipping. A whale ship arrived on Wednesday last, which brought 2,500 bbls. of oil—a cargo valued at $80,000. What is called the old town of Newport is situated on a gentle acclivity sloping down to the water in the form of a semi-circle. The population is 8000. The colored inhabitants number about 350 or 400. They have a very neat little church, where the great body of them worship. A few, however, have seceded and set up worship by themselves. The people of both sexes to whom I have been introduced are very intelligent and affable, and display a becoming taste in their dress.

On Sunday I had the pleasure of listening to two sermons from Rev. Peter Williams of New York. He preached in the church where the colored people mostly worship. He, as well as myself, is staying at the house of friend Remond, the father of C. L. Remond, now in England. Friend Remond has a very pleasant location, and an interesting family.

Your readers are doubtless aware that Newport was settled in 1639 by William Coddington, a Quaker, and seventeen others. Mr. Coddington was afterwards governor. It has been the scene of many a bloody war. The British held possession of the island during three years of the Revolution. The remains of old forts and entrenchments are yet to be seen. Fort Adams has been seventeen years in building, and will not be completed in less than five more. It is a stupendous work. There are several places here of fashionable resort—among them a 'Purgatory,' a 'Paradise,' and the 'Spouting Rock.' Many strangers resort here to spend the summer in a quiet and healthy retreat.

Excuse me for spinning out such a 'long yarn,' and allow me to subscribe myself,

Yours, in behalf of the oppressed,

THOMAS COLE.

A BETTER WORLD

It's time to stop fighting with our sisters and brothers of today—
It's time to try harder to be happy and gay.
It's time to take our anger and frustrations and throw them all away—
It's time to make A BETTER WORLD—Today.

Instead of trying to destroy people, why not stand by their side?
The world would be in better shape
if we stopped stepping on their pride.
Others need that self confidence, as all of us do

So why not give it to them—and to your heart be true

Show them that you care, and if you need me, I'll be there Just hold on or shout, and there's no doubt—I'll be there to pull you out
I'm with you, don't you see, I just want you to be free
From all the pain and misery—so don't leave town and let us down—just pick yourself up, and turn back around
Please say you'll stay so you'll be able to say
I'll help make A BETTER WORLD—Some day!

This, We Will Not Tolerate!

by
Eddie P. Richardson

A lot of positive things are happening in East Lubbock; new first class homes being erected; development and re-development proposals and plans; businesses locating in the area, present businesses expanding. But, on the other hand, we have a thug or thugs creating negative images like breaking into businesses. Two new Black businesses, Airport Burgers and Bob's Bar-B-Que were victims. But one of the most disgusting things of all, the low-lived, lower-than-a-snake's-belly thug or thugs, broke into Brook's Supermarket for the second time in twelve months. Anyone in Lubbock who has any awareness of community activity and participation knows that Brook's has been a friend and supporter of all worthwhile activities in the community for many years. This kind of action, we will not tolerate.

Our suggestion to you for the good of Lubbock, the Southwest Digest, the City of Lubbock, the police chief, sheriff, district attorney and East Lubbock citizens is: We do not want, or need your kind of sleeze, slime and scum. Nuff sed!!!

Did You Know?

by
Robert N. Taylor

DID YOU KNOW ... that according to a study by Dr. Stephen Franzoi of Marquette University women judge a man's sexual appeal by his 1) eyes; 2) face; 3) bodily build and 4) the way he smells. Meanwhile, men rate the sexual appeal of women their 1) face; 2) figure; 3) buttocks; 4) legs and 5) eyes.

DID YOU KNOW ... that despite all the dire predictions, the spread of the deadly disease AIDS is actually slowing down. According to statistics from the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta, in the early 1980's the number of people with AIDS was doubling every 5 months. Now, however, the number of AIDS cases is doubling every 14 months.

DID YOU KNOW ... that for better baking you should substitute milk in just about any recipe which calls for water. The milk will improve the flavor, texture and nutritional value for almost any baked good. For more information send for Useful Facts About Baking, Distribution Center, Cornell University, 7 Research Park, Ithaca, N. Y. 14850. The booklet will cost you 50¢.

DID YOU KNOW ... that research shows that women tend to have more friends than men do. In fact, some experts believe the greater number of friendships is one reason women tend to live longer than men. Various studies suggest that old people enjoy life more and are likely to live longer if they have developed strong friendships over the years.

DID YOU KNOW ... that if you are faced with losing a job because a drug test came back positive, you may want to use a recent study from the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta as part of your defense. The study found that drug tests are often inaccurate. In one case, all 13 laboratories failed to identify the drug in half of the urine samples.

DID YOU KNOW ... that according to a book by Dr. Kevin Leman on the importance of birth order, a man who was the first born in his family should not marry a woman who was the first born in her family. As a result of a lot of parental attention and their work with younger brothers and sisters, first-borns tend to want to control any situation in which they find themselves. The result is that a first-born man and a first-born woman could find themselves locked in an on-going battle for control of the relationship.

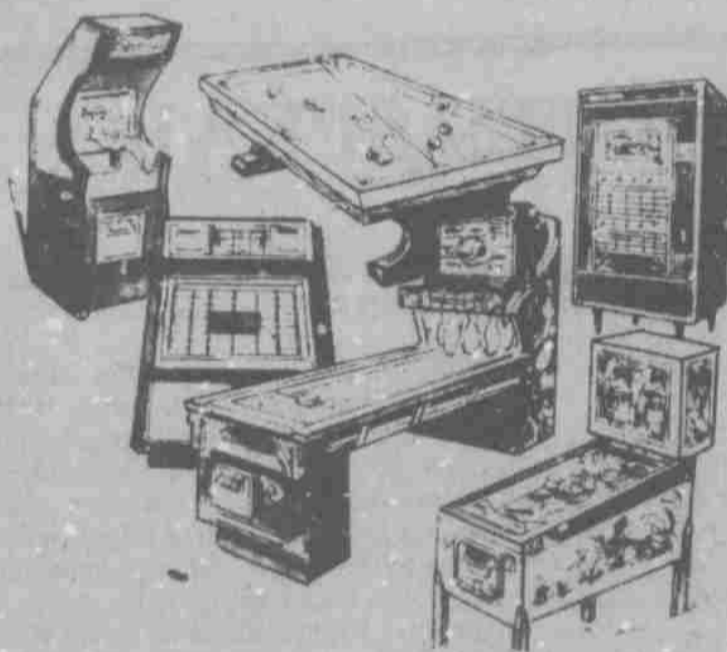

DID YOU KNOW ... that a study from the Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York suggests that daily calcium supplements may help high-risk people avoid colon cancer.

Summer Party Hors D'oeuvres

It's always fun to get together with friends and what better time to celebrate than the first days of summer. Invite the gang to a get-together after aerobics class or throw a Friday night "come-as-you-are" party.

When entertaining space and preparation time are limited, serve satisfying finger foods you can prepare ahead of time and set out on a coffee table or dining room buffet. Pecan Cheese Crock, Molded Salmon Pate and Marinated Carrot and Cucumber Sticks make a perfect menu for a casual summer get-together.

PECAN CHEESE CROCK

- 1 (8 oz.) package cream cheese, room temperature
- 1 (9 oz.) can Frito-Lay's® brand Mild Cheddar Flavored Cheese Dip
- 10 ounces blue cheese, room temperature
- 1 small onion, grated
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 1 teaspoon horseradish
- 1 cup toasted and broken pecans
- 3 tablespoons sherry (optional)
- 1 (8 oz.) bag Fritos® brand King Size Corn Chips
- Red and green apple slices

In a medium bowl, combine three cheeses and mix until fluffy with electric mixer or in food processor. Add onion, garlic, horseradish, nuts, and sherry. Blend well. Place in favorite crock and let ripen in refrigerator for at least 24 hours. Serve on party tray surrounded with corn chips and red and green apple slices.
Makes about 3 cups.

MOLDED SALMON PATE

- 2 ounces cream cheese, softened
- 1 can (7 3/4 oz.) salmon, drained
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon horseradish
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped green onions
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh dill or parsley
- Pinch cayenne pepper
- 1 tablespoon chopped walnuts
- Lettuce leaves
- Dill sprigs (optional)

In medium bowl, beat cream cheese. Blend in salmon, lemon juice, and horseradish. Stir in green onions, chopped dill and cayenne pepper; mix well. Line 1 1/2 cup straight-sided bowl with plastic wrap. Sprinkle nuts over bottom; spoon in salmon mixture and pack firmly. Cover and refrigerate until firm, about four hours or overnight. Remove from mold and place on lettuce leaves. Top with fresh dill sprigs.

MARINATED CARROT AND CUCUMBER STICKS

Serve these tangy vegetables with a rich pate such as Molded Salmon Pate. Raspberry vinegar is available in specialty food shops and some supermarkets or you can make your own. It keeps indefinitely in a cool dry place.

- 3 cucumbers*
- 1 pound carrots (about six)
- 1/3 cup Raspberry Vinegar (recipe follows)
- 1/2 cup olive oil
- Freshly ground pepper

Halve cucumbers lengthwise and remove seeds. Cut in half crosswise; cut each piece into four lengthwise sticks. Place in 13 x 9-inch dish and set aside. Scrub carrots; peel, if desired. Cut in half crosswise, then into four pieces lengthwise. Drop into pot of boiling salted water; cook just until tender-crisp, four to five minutes. Drain; combine with cucumbers. Sprinkle with vinegar; toss to coat. Drizzle with oil. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate for about four hours or overnight, tossing occasionally.

To serve, drain vegetables and sprinkle generously with pepper.

Makes 20 servings.
*Peel cucumbers only if skins are tough.

Raspberry Vinegar:

- 1 cup raspberries, fresh or frozen unsweetened (thawed)
 - 2 cups white wine vinegar
- Place raspberries in screw-top bottle; pour vinegar over. Cover and store in cool dark place for two weeks. Strain and store flavored vinegar in cool place. Makes 2 cups.

Note: For a delicious salad dressing, blend 1 cup of sour cream and two tablespoons raspberry vinegar.

KLBK Winner Will Be Named

The winner of the KLBK Community Fundraiser, a community awareness project sponsored in part by Woods Communications Group, will be formally announced during a special press conference at 10 a.m. Wednesday, July 1 at the KLBK offices.

The special community project originated at KLBK's corporate office in Springfield, Missouri, and was proposed to KLBK in early January. Because Channel 13 prides itself as "the Spirit of West Texas," the station felt the project was an ideal means of allowing Lubbock and area community, civic and special interest groups an opportunity to raise funds.

Various groups entered and took part in the project, which involved selling advertising time to merchants and businesses, in which they received 50 percent of the revenue made as well as a cash bonus from KLBK and Woods Communications.

The official 1987 KLBK Fundraiser winner is Young-Life. One organizational sponsor, John Sharp, inquired about participating in the event and in the project's period, roughly two weeks, was able to secure enough advertisers interested in purchasing time. The organization will officially be awarded $5,750.00 on Wednesday, July 1, by KLBK General Manager, David Underwood.

offered by Sister Dorothy Nash and Sister Lautina Childers.

Our sick list this week includes: Mr. Jimmy Walker, Rev. Tom Collins, Mr. Harold M. Chatman, Mr. Eugene Roquemore, Mr. Ralph Alexander, Sister Cora Williams, Sister Arene Flemings, Sister Willie M. Nelson, Brother and Sister Bennie Whitfield, Mr. W. H. Britt, and others not mentioned.

To all our bereaved families, i. e. Ester Josey family, God specializes in whatever problem you have. Even things which seem impossible, because God loves you!

Write us. We just would love to pray with you, about any problem. Prayer is the only thing that's working at this time. Write Outreach Prayer Breakfast, P. O. Box 1223, Lubbock, Texas 79408.

"Let's Pray"

Let's pray near with a true heart in full assurance of faith.

Jesus, in the quietness of evening, w come to thee, in intercessory prayer. We join our voices in thanking thee for the blessings of this day, and we ask that these named and others rest this night without worry, without pain, for all who need it, please bring blessed health and healing.

And in the name of Jesus, rise up and walk in health, and give all strength and wisdom for tomorrow. In Jesus' name.

AMEN.

You have a faith filled week, and will see you Saturday at 9 a. m. in the home of Mr. & Mrs. Delbert Hood, 2132 East 30th Street. Call if you would like, or just come by. "You are great!"

Closing prayer was offered by Sister Ardelia Hardrick.

Sister Christine Burleson, president; Sister Ruby Henderson, vice president; Sister Annie M. Johnson, breakfast secretary; Sister Linda McClain, building fund secretary; and Sister Dorothy Hood, reporter.

Some things were confirmed from last week about the Holy Spirit, the Comforter.

This teacher is super good! Come and hear this lady. We just love this kind of teaching. Thanks, Sister Childers. We love you!

Thought: "God is a God of light, and not shifting shadows." Think about it!

God wants us to have peace, in the Church of Jesus Christ, The Total Body; not only your denomination.

Breakfast was served and cooked by a lady who knows how good food should taste. None other than Sister Annie M. Johnson. Come eat with

Our guest last Saturday morning included: Sisters Alexanders, Mittie Wallace, Dorothy Nash, Ardelia Dorothy Nash, and Ardelia Hardrick.

We are happy to have a monthly donator to the Prayer Tower Memorial Building Fund. We thank God for her, and others. We guarantee you, your giving will not be in vain. God truly will bless you, the cheerful giver. Be sure it's given willingly. You will be given back likewise, do according to the scripture. Pray for us that we will keep the Prayer Tower before God.
