With Polly

I recall having heard that a good big snow was beneficial in freezing out germs in the soil...
Now to arrive at the process of eliminating germs, I was taught to scald them out...
Speaking of the latter, the scalding process for eliminating germs... with the present heat wave, the germs will without a doubt be defeated, surely nothing can survive this hot, hot weather.
What would we people do without air conditioners today? It's a sure thing, we are weaker and sicker today... and hotter also...

Eldon Trotter, (Our Boy Friday), frequently comes up with some unusual ideas and remedies for various unpleasanties.
Quite recently he came up with a great remedy for keeping birds out of his car port. The remedy was to tie little bags of mothballs all around inside the car port... This he did with enthusiasm, and the first few days he thought he really had succeeded... but shortly thereafter, he walked home from work one afternoon to find the carport full of sparrows and his car below a testimony of positive proof that his car port was the number one hideout for sparrows in the area... However, in one sense of the word it was a success, there probably wasn't a moth left within miles of his residence, as the potent odor was beyond a doubt noticeable on Main Street when the wind was blowing in a northeasterly direction... But the sparrows had somehow become immune to the scent.
His current remedy is designed to frighten the daylight out of the birds... As he now has little rubber snakes lying around on the rafters, and thumbtacked to the house... This remedy, he declares, is working.
It might serve as a two-fold purpose if he mistook a real live snake for one of those imitation snakes, and it suddenly struck out its forked tongue at him... But those sparrows in flight would seem as if they were sitting still, compared to the speed he would be traveling as he passed them by...

I realize we are all pretty medically minded today. But doctors and scientists have failed to produce anything today more miraculous and with more instant healing power than a mother's kiss on a small lad's forehead for curing the bee sting on his little toe.
Neither has any beautician been able to come up with a cosmetic lotion designed to transform a typical ugly duckling into a beauty queen like the magic, instant beauty which comes from falling in love.
Why then do we underestimate the power of love... Love is what makes the world go around... Love is what makes life's troubles and trials more easy to bear... Love has the magic to turn a dark hour of defeat into a golden moment of triumph.
It has the magic to make a poor man feel like a king in a palace, or a scrub-woman beam as though she were a princess in a rose garden.
The whole world is looking for love... But first to receive and feel the wonderful power of love, we must be capable of giving love in return...

Remember, it is well to count your blessings, and dwell on their amount. In these days, after taxes, what else is there to count.

It seems, some folks are a success overnight, based on their own personal inventory.

City Bond Election Set For Saturday

A proposed bond election for the City of Earth has been set for Saturday, July 30 in the Community Room. Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.
The election calls for a total of $153,000 in bonds. This includes a $35,000 tax bond, for paving and improving the streets, and $120,000 in Revenue Bonds. Of the Revenue Bonds, $100,000 is to be used for waterworks improvements and $20,000 for sewer improvements.
The proposals will appear on the ballot as three separate proposals, allowing eligible city voters to vote on any or all these proposals as they see fit.

The city council has agreed that it will not be necessary to raise city taxes to pay off the tax bond, and likewise will not be necessary, they say, to increase local water and sewer rates, as present rates are sufficient to pay for these Revenue Bonds out of the Revenue from the water and sewer system.
The water improvement proposed, if passed, will provide an adequate water supply and distribution system to 1970, based on the normal projected growth of our city, and according to council, is the minimum requirements necessary to provide an adequate supply and distribution system residents are entitled to.
Improvements which the mayor and council are proposing for the water system included additional ground and overhead storage facilities as well as the proposed improvement to distribution mains now serving the users.

We are presently being penalized by the Fire Insurance Commission because of deficiencies that exist in storage facilities and our water main distribution system. The planned improvements could result in a lower fire insurance rate saving as well as more adequately providing a water supply for ever increasing demand.
In discussing the sewer proposal, the council agrees it is adequate in most instances, except the area South of highway 70 and East of the Amherst Highway, which cannot be served with present sewage facilities. This situation can be remedied with proceeds from the Bond. A study of the disposal facilities indicate some

RESERVED SEATS GO ON SALE TO PUBLIC AUGUST 15

Football fans who wish to keep their reserved seats for the coming season are reminded to contact the Superintendent's office of Springlake-Earth Schools, no later than August 15.

On that date, if confirmation of reserve seats has not been received by the school, the seats will become available to the public.

The initial $10 cost includes both reserved seating and general admission to all Wolverine games.

needed improvements to prevent a deterioration of the system.

The paving proposal will include the paving of approximately 30 blocks within the City of Earth. The cost of these improvements will be shared between the City and the property owners. The City has the responsibility of paving intersections, alley crossings, and any relocating of utility lines or obstructions that may be in the way. The $35,000 will be used to finance the city's share of these improvements.

The property owners within the areas of the street improvement program will share in the cost of the paving, curb and gutter. These property owners affected will have the privilege of paying for these improvements in cash or may use a payment plan when the program has been completed and accepted by the City Council and the Engineer.

Every eligible voter within the city limits is expected to vote in this election to improve the City of Earth.

EDITORIAL— Don't Forget to Vote Saturday!

Saturday is Election Day in Earth, with a three-way bond proposal for improvement to the water and sewer systems and to pay the city's part of the paving of approximately 30 blocks in Earth.

City officials have worked tirelessly in their attempt to improve the City of Earth, and have at last figured out a way to accomplish this goal without an increase in city taxes or an increase in the water and sewer rates... What could be better than this???

However, it is the voice of the people who will be heard Saturday... Which way will it go?

Do you want more water storage, better facilities, and more paving streets, or do you like living in a "Has Been" town, and being a partner in holding back its natural growth???

Vote Saturday for a better Earth!

Love... is not provoked... but rejoiceth with the truth. —(1 Cor. 13:4-6)

If working conditions appear strained, a peaceful, soothing word from us may give others assurance. Regardless how irritated or unreasonable someone may appear, we must remember that love is not provoked. Instead of feeling hurt or angry we will bless them into the Father's care and keeping. Let's rejoice in His love.

Orbit of U. S. "Space Cities" By Hitchhiker To Honor President

DeVon Smith, world famous hitch-hiker, whose aunts have taken him through Russia, Latin America, a score of United States crossings has mapped a "surface orbit" of America's "space cities" honoring President Johnson's ventures into outer space.

DeVon will see political leaders in each "space city" area and carry honorary citizenship scrolls on behalf of Lyndon B. Johnson for Mayor's signatures and reams of Birthday greeting wishes for public signatures to be given to the President on his birthday, August 27, at the White House.

He will also collect photos of each "space city" and everything will be collated into a huge album of the unique journey and given to the President on his birthday.

Traveling on foot in a red and white outfit, with a red grip on wheels to attract the attention at night and day, of motorists, DeVon blasted off in Florida and will touchdown in Texas after having made the following rendezvous:

Blastoff: July 1, Jupiter, Florida, 4:15:10 p.m., steps of Post Office, Friday; July 5, Sun, La., 10:31, steps of Post Office, a.m., Tuesday; July 7, Venus, Texas, 10:02 a.m., steps of Post Office, Thursday; July 11, Star, N. C., 10:07 a.m., Post Office, Monday; July 12, Moon, Va., 2:31 p.m.,

The 13,000 mile hike will take DeVon 35 days. He will arrive in New York City for a Press reception on August 23. He has titled the venture Afoot in Space, and will spend August 8 through 22 making personal appearances and exhibiting the huge Johnson Birthday Album and gathering signatures to present at the White House on August 27, the President's birthday, the inspiration of his trip. Hitch-hiking since he was 7, his home is Wampum, Pa., and the trip costs him about $2,500 per day for food and lodging, he never pays for any transportation. Now 40 years old he intends to soon publish a book on his 33 years of hitch-hiking, outlining the pleasures, economy, cautions and techniques of this outdoor American pastime.

Area Crop Outlook Good

As the end of July is nearing, agriculture observers are beginning to make predictions on this year's cotton and grain yields. It is estimated there will be approximately 130,000 bales, or an average of a little over a bale per acre.

Last year, farmers of the county harvested 193,700 bales from an estimated 184,000 planted acres. This year there are 131,535 planted acres in the county.

The dollar figure for this year's cotton crop was predicted to be about $21 million gross and net. Aten said that his office would, this year, pay out a total of $3,646,970 to farmers who had reduced their acreage, all of which would be net income since there is no expense of planting and growing involved, which coupled with the subsidy would swell the total income from cotton production to $21,446,000. To this would be added the grain income, that would pour another $8 million into the area's economy.

Aten said he felt the net income for the farmers will be about equal to that of 1965 but the money will be in fewer hands, since the reduction in acreage has brought about a reduction in the number of hired hands for the farms.

An estimated 90 point mic average loss is expected to hurt some on the average price per pound for cotton, however Aten estimates the price will be about 26 cents per pound which includes a 9.42 cent government payment.

Like Aten, officials of the various lending institutions of the area are most optimistic about the prospects of this year's crops, saying that the rains fell at the proper time and that the general conditions look good. "One of the most favorable things about this year's crops is the lower cost of production, and the smaller amount of capital needed to get the crop in and up," one banker said.

Aten admitted the need for rain is reaching the critical point, but said if we get a good inch or inch and a half rain within the month we will be in good shape. Grain, which suffers from the heat more the total acres in cultivation. "In fact, when the final figures are in, and the harvest complete, I think we will find the hail got less than one per cent of the county's crops, that is of course to date, we could still get some more turbulent weather," Aten said in closing his comments on the crop picture.

The Albert Lindley family leaves next week to vacation in Yellowstone National Park. During their absence, the pulpit will be filled by Rev. R.H. Campbell on August 7 and 14.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wuerlein the last two weeks is Miss Dewanda Terhune, Comanche, Okla. She is the niece of Mrs. Wuerlein.

than others, is the most severely hit. Observers in the dry land area are beginning to feel the effect of the searing heat and no rain combination that is causing the sorghum crops to burn at the bottom and stunt the growth of the plant. In the irrigated areas all crops continue to prosper with estimates on grain production running up to 9,000 pounds per acre.

Aten said that if we get a rain by August 20, it can help our county make more than the estimated bale, plus figure, otherwise we will have to stay with that.

"At this time it looks like only one percent of the total grain acreage is in any trouble, and this amount can be helped by a good soaking rain," Aten stated.

One of the confusing things in most of the stories about the cotton picture is the talk of, to which Aten said most were mis-statements.

"There was a number of acres hit hard by hail, but only about half of them were planted. The only thing that got hurt on the lay-out land was grass and weeds. The cotton that suffered hail damage has been replanted and if we get a rain in the next month the late planting will not hurt at all." The ASCS man went on to say he realized that some farmers were hit by hail, especially grain crops, which could not be replanted but pointed out this did not constitute a large percentage of

231 Countians Carry Out Contracts

Two hundred and thirty one land owners and operators are carrying out or have carried out contracts under the Great Plains Program here in Lamb County. Thirty five contracts were signed this past year and assistance in excess of $60,000 was set aside for use of Lamb Co. Land owners and operators for conservation work on their farms.

The objective of the Great Plains Program is to carry out a planned program which will help to minimize the climatic hazards and to protect your land from erosion and to remain productive for future generations. The Soil Conservation Service will provide trained technicians and engineering assistance to you for developing a more efficient irrigation system, controlling outside water and establishing grassed waterways and parallel terrace systems. Lamb County has been one of the most active counties in Texas in participation in this program. Because of the interest, some $50,000 in federal funds are currently available to Lamb County.

File your applications early as it is anticipated that cost-share funds will be depleted by late fall. Applications are being taken at the SCS office, located in the Lamb Co. Court House. If you have been wanting to make some changes on your farm but felt you were a little short of funds, perhaps this program will furnish you with the needed technical assistance and the money to protect your farm from erosion and to keep it productive.

Interplanting Row Crops Demonstrated By Seven Farmers In Cooperation With Research Foundation

The High Plains Foundation Farming System of interplanting row crops is being demonstrated by seven farmers on the High and South Plains in cooperation with the High Plains Research Foundation. Loyd Langford, Associate Agronomist on the Foundation staff, is working with these farmers in displaying the effectiveness of this farming system of two rows of cotton, a blank row and two rows of grain sorghum, forage sorghum or castrobeans. Each of the seven farms demonstrating the High Plains Foundation Farming System has a 4' x 8' sign identifying the farmer and the High Plains Research Foundation.

These demonstration areas of the High Plains Foundation Farming System are being observed by neighboring farmers. Data from these demonstrations will be reported on each farm in the 1966 Annual Research Report of the High Plains Research Foundation. The report will include agronomic, quality and irrigation results achieved by each farmer.

The farmers cooperating with the Foundation in these tests are as follows: Ed Wuerflein, who farms northeast of Muleshoe in the Pleasant Valley Community, has cotton interplanted with grain sorghum; Carl Sanderson, north of Earth, has 75 acres of cotton interplanted with castrobeans; Eldon Golike, southeast of Littlefield, has two different varieties of cotton interplanted with grain sorghum and cotton interplanted with forage sorghum. In this last system, the forage sorghum and blank rows can be used as diverted acres without penalty.

Neil Landrum has a 126 acre dryland interplanted field one half mile south of Whitharral. This is a demonstration of Paymaster III cotton and waxed Kaffir grain sorghum. Owne Benn, on highway 84 just north of Abemathy, has an interplanted field of cotton and grain sorghum. Ewald Quebe, at Cereal north of Aiken in Floyd County, has a 95 acre field of cotton interplanted with castrobeans. Delton Stone, two miles north of Heckville in Crosby County, has cotton and grain sorghum interplanted.

The High Plains Foundation Farming System of interplanting cotton with grain sorghum and/or castrobeans can be seen at the Tenth Annual Field Day of the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, on Thursday, September 8, 1966. Field scale planting of this system is a part of the J. Frank Triplett Research and Demonstration Farm program. The farm is eight miles west of Hale Center and five miles north of Cotton Center. Don Staggs is the Farm Manager.
