It seems that we American people are fast arriving at a day of decision... A day for declaring ourselves... A day for being for or against something... A day to stand up and be counted, so to speak... A day to cease being neutral and uninterested in things about us... But rather a day to awaken, stand erect and be counted... In this world of high speed, in which we are now living, our sons and our daughters are going to be called upon to make decisions... On the spot decisions. Young college students just fresh out of the home nest, will be called on for a "yes" or a "no" in many an important decision...

What then... Have we as parents given them a background befitting the occasion... Or have we been neutral parents uninterested in the world about us... Tech students recently made a decision... rather than demonstrate against our country or pull that draft card burning act. They instead are sending Christmas Cards to our fighting forces in Viet Nam... and to Washington backing our stand against Communist in Viet Nam. I'm proud Tech students have stood up for our country... and proud they have found some small way to show our kids overseas their appreciation... Yipee for Tech...

NOSIN'

Speaking of Tech, its seems there's a local woman, Mrs. E. C. Hudson who has likewise found a way to stand up and be counted... But in a different manner... She has dyed her gloves, scarf, and slip all red so near that of the Red Raiders'.

Grain Crop Brings $2,356,795 Into Local Area

This year's tremendous grain crop brought in approximately $2,356,795 into the Earth-Springlake area, according to the nine grain buyers in the Earth, Springlake, Dodd, and including one elevator in the Sunnyvale community.

These elevators have taken in over 1,384 car loads of grain weighing approximately 138,635,000 pounds.

This year can be marked down from the grain grower's standpoint, especially in North Lamb County, as one of the best years in the history for area grain growers as far as the yield per acre is concerned.

This year's crop, although the acreage has been cut down as much as 20 to 25 percent in the past 15 years, can be rated as one of the best in the area because of the over-all average yield of approximately 6,500 to 7,000 pounds an acre, in comparison with 3,000 to 4,000 pounds an acre yield 15 years ago.

According to grain buyers in the area, a grain grower can grow approximately as much on a 50 acre plot today as he could in early 1950 on a 70 acre plot.

These increased yields are a result of improved seed, fertilization, and the farmers increasing knowledge over the years about when and how much to irrigate grain. These advanced improved combinations have brought yields up 60 percent in the past 15 years, which have resulted in this over whelming amount of grain grown in this area.

HONORABLE WALTER ROGERS, U. S. CONGRESSMAN

Congressman Walter Rogers To Visit In Earth Friday

The honorable Walter Rogers, U. S. Congressman from the 18th District, and soon to represent the newly reorganized district which will include Lamb County, will be honored with an informal get acquainted coffee at the Earth Community Building Friday, November 19 at 10 a. m.

Everyone is invited to come by between 10-11 a. m. to meet Mr. Rogers. This is the first time Mr. Rogers has visited Earth in an official capacity. Mrs. M. E. Kelley will introduce Mr. Rogers.

There is no stronger advocate in the United States Congress for the full development of America's natural resources than Walter Edward Rogers, now in his eighth term as U. S. Representative from the 18th Congressional District--the Panhandle of Texas.

Long before he entered Congress in 1951, as a lawyer in private practice in Pampa, Texas, in the heart of the vast Panhandle oil and gas fields, Walter Rogers was a specialist in the intricate body of Federal and State law affecting petroleum resources.

Congressman Rogers' counsel is often sought by House colleagues on ramifications of proposed legislation affecting oil and gas. Among the hard fight he has staged affecting oil and gas matters is one for which his objective has not yet been realized; The battle to free producers of natural gas from Federal controls.

Congressman Rogers is a member of two important standing committees of the U. S. House of Representatives--the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce and the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

As a member of these committees, both of which exercise jurisdiction over the nation's energy resources, Walter Rogers is chairman of the Commerce Committee's Subcommittee on Communications and Power and chairman of the Interior Committee's Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation.

The Communications and Power Subcommittee has jurisdiction over the adequacy of petroleum, natural gas, and electric energy resources for the needs of the nation's expanding economy and its defense; the adequacy, promotion, regulation, and safety of facilities for extraction, generating, transmitting, and distributing these resources; the development of synthetic liquid fuel processes; the regulation of security issues and control of natural gas pipeline companies; and the administration by the Federal Power Commission of statutes which it administers.

The Irrigation and Reclamation Subcommittee has jurisdiction over irrigation and reclamation matters, including water supply for reclamation projects and easements of public lands for irrigation projects, and acquisition of private lands when necessary to complete irrigation projects; interstate compacts relating to the apportionment of waters for irrigation purposes; the multiple purpose development of water resources (including power dams) and policies related to them; water rights; and the saline water program. In addition to his subcommittee chairmanships, Walter Rogers serves as a member of two other subcommittees of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, the subcommittee on Mines and Mining and the subcommittee on Territorial and Insular Affairs.

Who Wants To Take A Modern Math Course?

The possibility of a modern math course for adults being taught at Springlake-Earth School, may become a reality if enough adults in the area are interested in taking the course.

The fee for the course will be $2.00. This small fee will be applied as a salary for the class instructor.

The local P. T. A. is willing to sponsor the new math course if enough people in the area are interested in taking it.

The P. T. A. of necessity needs to know your desires. They want to know when you think would be the most desirable date and time for the course.

Anyone interested in the course may contact the High School office, 257-4321 or call P. T. A. president, Mrs. A. E. O'Hair at 257-4227.

Gravel Found In Maintainer

The city maintainer is currently being repaired by local mechanics at a cost of approximately $325.

According to Eldon Parish, local Alderman, the condition of the maintainer, which was found to have a hand full of gravel in its motor was discovered last week when city employees were working on the oil seals after finding them leaking, making the discovery of gravel in the motor. Parish said he didn't see how the gravel could have gotten into the motor by accident, but perhaps it could have possibly been so. He said they have no clues as far as he knows, no one is investigating.

The cost of the maintainer was estimated at $18,000 or $20,000 when new.

Wolverine Squad And Coaches Wonder Who? What? Why?

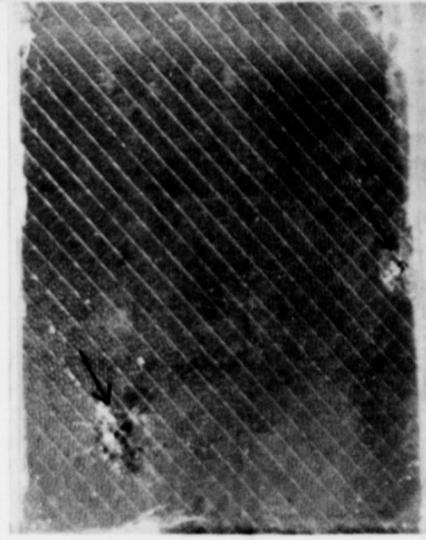

The entire Springlake Wolverine squad and their four coaches hit the deck Friday night at Farwell, during the half time, when what seemed to be 4 or 5 shots fired from a gun, hit the side of the brick building with two hitting the dressing room window leaving holes in the thick wire enforced translucent window of the Wolverines dressing room.

The local coaching staff, three of which had been in the Army were of the same opinion, that these were gun shots, according to head Coach Danny Smith, who as soon as it ceased rushed to the door to see a pick-up driving down the road, the only activity that could be seen near the Wolverine dressing room.

A quick check of the two or three automobiles parked near by found them to be unoccupied. The room was immediately searched for slugs, but none were turned up, according to Deputy Sheriff Tom Atkins of Farwell, who along with Sheriff Charles Lovelace was called in on the case.

Further search on Saturday among the litter of tape and papers on the dressing room failed to turn up any slugs, and the 12 by 12 foot room, according to Farwell School Superintendent M. W. Roberts, showed no marks on the brick walls.

Supt. Roberts said two boys had been questioned, but were believed to have had no connection with the incident. Supt. Roberts commented, "We have never had a thing like this to happen here before, and we are as anxious as anyone to solve this thing, however we know that 35% of our present student body would never be a part to anything of this nature, of course there may be a few who might do a thing like this, but they are certainly in the minority." Deputy Sheriff Atkins said Tuesday afternoon, "Several tests have been made, and these tests have eliminated the possibility of a gun being used, unless it might possibly have been a high-powered pellet gun or B. B. gun or perhaps even a slingshot." He said the other gun used in the test did much more damage, therefore eliminating these as the possible weapon used. He also remarked that the pick-up in question, which was suspected as perhaps being the vehicle carrying those responsible for the act, had not as yet been found.

Atkins went on to say, "It might be found to be an aftermath resulting from the Farwell bus being written all over Thursday night when the Juniors came over to play Springlake."

Adult Education Class In Progress At Local School

The local P. T. A. is currently sponsoring an adult education class. Since the emphasis for P. T. A. this year is focused on adult education, the group voted to begin the class at a recent meeting, and selected a class of Frank C. Laugach, "Each one, Teach one."

This course is one which has been used world wide for teaching adults, to read, write, and speak. The first level of this course gives the student a 500 word vocabulary.

In keeping with the name, "Each one, Teach one" each graduating pupil is expected in turn to teach another. This method of teaching can gravitate into a national program of learning.

Mrs. Lilly Wuerflein and Mrs. Norman Sulser are in charge of the present class which meets each Monday night from 7 to 9 p. m. The class at present is filled, as the enrollment had to be kept at a minimum, so that each student could be given individual attention and allowed to proceed at his own rate of ability.

There are eighteen enrolled in the class, with Carolyn Reynolds assisting Mrs. Sulser and Mrs. Wuerflein in the teaching. The only cost to the students is the textbooks, and for the convenience of the class, a nursery has been provided to care for their youngsters while parents are learning to read and write.

A greater number of adult workers are needed to instruct the eager adult students who wish to learn to read, write, and speak English.

In hopes of creating more interest in this work, a training day for adult leaders has been scheduled for Friday, November 19 in the First Baptist Church at Muleshoe. The training classes will begin at 10 a. m. and will continue throughout the day. Each one attending is asked to bring a sack lunch.

There is no charge for this training, and anyone interested is invited to attend this training day.

THIS ADULT EDUCATION CLASS, called the advanced group no. 1 is being instructed by Miss Carolyn Reynolds, faculty member of Springlake-Earth School. These new classes for Spanish speaking people were set in motion recently and are sponsored by the local P. T. A. They are being taught to read, write, and speak English. Front row from left to right, Miss Reynolds, Mrs. Juanita Cordao, Joe Reyes, and Felipe Cordao. Back row, Kitty Garcia, Andrea Olivias, Yariando Olivias, and Jose Olivias. Absent from the class were Mrs. Angela Cordao and Joe Castello.

Found this little poem recently. I like it... Thought you might enjoy the same.

I HAVE NO TIME

I have no time to find fault with others,
I have too many faults of my own,
While I myself must not know them,
I am sure that to others they are known.

I have no time for idle gossip,
You see it may all be a lie,
And soon the story will die out
If all will pass it by.

I have no time to listen to those who tell
Something to stir up strife,
Far better to tell the good deeds done,
And brighten the journey of life.

I have no time to be moody and lovely,
No time to be gloomy and sad,
It takes all my spare time planning
How to make others glad.

Information reported on these cards is used to set the yearly inventory of livestock and poultry on Texas farms. Postmaster Harold Miller explains.

Cards are distributed at random among patrons having livestock and poultry. "This means that not every box will get a card," Mr. Miller explains.

"This reason, it's important for everyone who gets a card to return it filled out so that the USDA can get a true sample of the State's livestock holdings". Facts and figures secured in this survey are the basis for the Texas and National pig crop report and inventories of the livestock and poultry on farms as of the first of the year. Stockmen and many others use this information in making business decisions.

Survey results will be widely distributed through Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service releases, newspapers, farm magazines.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

Christ in you, the hope of glory. (Col. 1:27)

Jesus gave us a gift - the knowledge of the Christ within us. If we just have a word knowledge of this power within, we are not full appreciative of it nor are using it fully. Jesus' gift was given freely to all. As we accept it, appreciate it, use it, we find that where we were weak we are now strong, where we once doubted we now have faith.

How to make a holiday last all year long

"How often do you call Long Distance to friends or members of the family?"

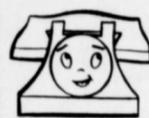

"Well, I expect to make some calls on Thanksgiving and maybe on Christmas."

"Why wait for a holiday or special occasion to call — that's the old fashioned way!"

"How come? Is the phone company having a sale just now?"

"No, not that. New low-cost long distance rates are now in effect all day Sunday and every night after eight — so now for a dollar or less, you can keep in touch more often."

"Say! That's a good idea! Tonight I'll make some important calls I've been putting off."

Damp, Foggy Weather Slows Cotton Harvest

The South Plains cotton harvest was interrupted by the damp, foggy weather last week, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the U. S. D. A. Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock.

The U. S. D. A. Classing Offices at Lubbock, Brownfield and Lamesa classed only 37,000 samples during the week ending Friday, November 12th. A large part of this cotton was harvested during the previous week.

The harvest was resumed on Thursday and sample receipts at the three offices increased on Friday.

Grades of the cotton classed at the Lubbock office were better than those of the previous week. Sixty-three per cent of the cotton was in the White grades and 37 per cent in the Light Spotted grades. The previous week 55 per cent of the cotton was classed in the White grades and 45 per cent in the Light Spotted grades.

Middling made up 20 per cent of the total classed at Lubbock last week. Strict Low Middling Light 34 per cent, Middling Light Spotted 26 per cent and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 10 per cent.

Average staple was also better than that of the previous week. The staple average was 31/32 of an inch compared to an average of slightly better than 15/16 of an inch the previous week. Forty per cent of all cotton classed at Lubbock during the week was 31/32 of an inch and 27 per cent was 1 inch and longer.

Micronaire continued to decline. Seventy-three per cent of all cotton "miked" in the Lubbock office was in the desirable category of 3.5 and better. The previous week 79 per cent was in this category.

The Consumer and Marketing Service of the U. S. D. A. reported increased trading in the new crop cotton at slightly lower prices. Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities were: Middling 15/16-27.65, Middling 31/32 - 28.25, Strict Low Middling 15/16-26.45, Strict Low Middling 31/32 26.95, Middling Light Spotted 15/16-26.65, Middling Light Spotted 31/32 - 27.15, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 15/16 - 25.90 and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 31/32 26.30.

Prices paid farmers for cottonseed ranged from $45 to $50 per ton.

CALLING ALL HOME MAKERS By Wilma Taylor THE FOCAL POINT

Your living room should be built around a "focal point", as the decorators like to call it.

In plain language, this means the room should be built around some outstanding piece or group of furniture, or some "center of interest", but there should not be more than one focal point.

Your focal point may be an eye-catching mural on a wall (and the colors of this mural could be picked up and used throughout the remainder of the room).

Or, it could be an entire wall grouping of pictures or paintings but two large walls of pictures would be pointless.

A focal point could be an unusual cocktail table, a sofa and chair grouping, a brightly colored large plant, (real or artificial) or a gold carved framed mirror to name just a few.

The important thing to remember is that the focal point must be sufficiently outstanding and attractive to use as the center of interest.

If you'd like some ideas for your living room, come in and talk it over with us. There is no obligation.

HESSTON V-22 COTTON HARVESTER

all over harvesting costs less
...pays more

Because of its low capital investment, minimum operating costs, ability to harvest more cotton from the field than spindle pickers or hand pickers, and ability to operate in ranker-stalk and higher-yielding cotton than strippers, the economical advantages of Hesston V-22 Brush Harvesting are equally important to small and large producers.

In a controlled test at Cordele, Ga., a Hesston V-22 harvested 813 lbs. of lint from 40 rows of cotton while a spindle picker harvested only 730 lbs. of lint from 40 rows. The V-22 produced approximately 11% more lint and approximately 16% more seed—1525 lbs. compared to 1285 lbs. from the spindle picker.

Gathering two bales per acre in fourth gear and getting a bale every eight minutes was "the most fantastic thing ever experienced" by Roy C. Frazier of Midland, Tex. "The Hesston V-22 is the only machine I have seen in this area that will strip shoulder-high irrigated cotton."

"Prior to this year," reminds Charles McCollom of Roosevelt, Okla., "we have used as high as 150 hand pullers in our cotton. This year we bought two Hesston V-22 Cotton Harvesters and have only two hands in the field. It used to cost us about $800 a day for hand labor, but only about $2 per bale now. These machines will more than pay for themselves this year alone."

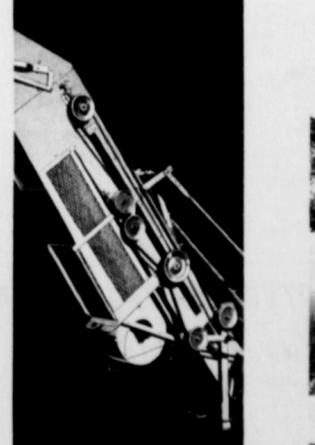

Charles McClure of Burkburnett, Tex., figured the V-22 paid for itself and a three-bale trailer the first season. "We did not have a single bumpy bale all season," he recalls.

University of Arkansas research reports approximately 23% more lint and 20% more seed per acre were harvested with the Brush Harvester than with a spindle picker. On a per acre basis the Brush Harvester took 10 minutes less time, with a return of $14.36 more net profit.

"I have handled from 1/2-bale per acre to two-bales-per-acre cotton with the Hesston V-22," says Tom Teel of Mountain View, Okla. "In fact, I harvested one field of skip row cotton that two strippers pulled out of because they couldn't handle the big stalks."

According to test conclusions of Oklahoma State University agricultural engineers, based on two years of data from presumably normal growth, yield, and harvest conditions, once-over brush harvested Acala 44 returns the producer $17 to $20 per acre more than harvesting twice with a spindle picker.

POSITIVE CROP DELIVERY through the elevator is provided by smooth, simple belt drives. A single round belt drives the elevator, eliminating the need for a gear box. Elevator is hydraulically actuated for raising or lowering either from the tractor's 3-point hitch or optional hydraulic cylinder. Alternating rubber belt cleats and metal finger cleats on the conveyor belt assure positive, yet gentle conveying of all the crop. Elevator is hydraulically raised or lowered to increase maneuverability and control in close quarters or on turns.

Our Fiesta De Venta (Special Holiday) To Mexico City

By Wilma Taylor

We were an excited couple when we were notified by officials of Southwestern Public Service Company that we were winners of the Fiesta de Venta trip to Mexico City. The trip was a reward for outstanding sales effort in the field of electrical appliances during the past seven months.

We left Lubbock Sunday on American Flyers Charter Airline along with some 105 other dealers, salesmen, their wives, and our hosts from Southwestern Public Service.

Our arrival into Mexico City marked the beginning of a four day fun-filled holiday in this city so strangely unique with all its charm and sparkling activity, contrasting cultures add to the fascination. With so much to do, we began the holiday.

We were met at the airport and transferred to the lovely Prado-Aliffer Hotel where we were greeted with a welcome party, and an opportunity to mingle with our fellow travelers. A musical background (Mexican orchestra) was provided here, and we found this atmosphere almost everywhere we were to go. Later this evening, we were free to explore the city.

Sunday at 9:30 a. m. we attended the Folklore Ballet in the beautiful Palace of Fine Arts. This was an outstanding theatrical production with colorful costumes, expert dancers, and exquisite settings. The theme was the folk dancers of the various regions of Mexico. It is one of the greatest sights of Mexico, and left us breathless.

After lunch, we left the hotel by tour busses for the Arena to watch the famed and spectacular bullfights. The vivid color and stirring music of the huge arena, which seats 50,000 persons, combined to make this an exciting afternoon. A superb dinner, followed by an entertaining show, completed this active day.

Monday we toured Mexico City. Among the many sights were the flower market, the Presidential Palace, Chapultepec Castle and Museum of History, down the beautiful Reforma Boulevard, the handsomest street in Mexico and one of the most beautiful in the world. We viewed the U. S. Embassy, Social Security Building, National Lottery, leather and glass factories, zoos and amusement parks, the fancy shopping section and restaurant area and the Lomas residential area where there are thousands of beautiful mansions of wealthy Mexicans. Luncheon at the lovely Chipp's Restaurant was a rewarding event. This afternoon was for our leisure and gave us time to view the merchandise in some of the shops we had been anxious to visit. Dinner was served in the swank Pocolare Restaurant, the "Millionaire's Hangout".

Tuesday at our leisure we packed for our return home and had breakfast on the Mezzanine of our hotel. We departed Mexico City at 2:30 p. m. and arrived

THE LOCAL JUNIOR STAGE BAND entertained members of the local P. T. A. when they gathered for a monthly meeting Monday night. The stage band is under the direction of Dean Foshee.

HOBBIE COFFMAN, NO. 20, the speedy halfback for Farwell, went to the left side and broke into the open for a 65 yard touchdown run. No. 14, Johnny Schell of Farwell, blocked out Doug Messer, no. 20, enabling Coffman to go all the way.

Wolverines End Season With Victory Over Farwell 20-6

The Springlake-Earth Wolverines closed the football season in grand style Friday night, defeating the Farwell Steers 20-6. The game had all the earmarks of excitement that these two old rivals have had throughout the years, and during halftime someone really did things up in a big way. However I'm sure that school officials of both Farwell and Springlake-Earth would just as soon leave it to the grid iron battle, instead of the incogitable thing that occurred at the Wolverine Dressing Room during halftime. The first quarter of the game was a defensive one, with both teams unable to move the ball any great distance, and punting was a big factor. Early in the second quarter Jerry Don Sanders broke over left tackle and scampered 84 yards before being brought down on the six yard line. On the first play, Messer handed the ball to Sanders again, and Sanders bulled his way over for a touchdown, the try for extra point failed and the Wolverines took the lead 6-0.

This lead did not hold for long as Farwell came roaring back and the speedy little halfback Hobbie Coffman broke into the open and set sail for a 65 yard scamper and a touchdown for the Steers. The try for extra point failed when Floyd Henderson broke through and blocked the kick for extra point.

With sixteen seconds left to play in the half, Jerry Don Sanders went over from twelve yards out for his second touchdown of the night. Messer on a keeper play fumbled the ball just before hitting the end zone, and the score at halftime was Springlake 12, Farwell 6.

Defense played a big factor again in the third quarter with both teams unable to reach pay dirt.

The only score of the second half came with six minutes and thirty eight seconds left to play in the game. Again it was Jerry Don Sanders, playing from the fullback position, diving in from the one yard line. A pass from Doug Messer to Logan Armstrong was good for the 2 points and the Wolverines came off the field with a 20-6 victory over the Farwell Steers.

This week all eyes will turn to the basketball courts where the Wolverines and Wolverettes will be getting ready to start the season off in grand style. Let's go all the way this year with basketball.

DOUG MESSER moves to the outside on a keeper play that picked up twelve yards on a first down early in the fourth quarter. Jerry Don Sanders, no. 24, leads the way, but Messer was brought down by no. 82, Larry Gregory, the senior end for Farwell.

Tech-Arkansas Game To Be Televised

LUBBOCK, November 15--- Texas Tech makes its biggest run yet at a share of the Southwest Conference football championship when the Red Raiders tackle the defending titlists, the Arkansas Razorbacks, at Fayetteville Saturday.

Since Tech brings a 5-1 SWC mark into the game against Arkansas' 6-0, the best the Raiders can do is tie the Hogs for the title. In that event, the Raiders would go to the Cotton Bowl at Dallas January 1. For the season Arkansas is 9-0, Tech 8-1.

The 'Gator Bowl at Jacksonville December 31 will likely get the loser.

Game time for the regionally-televised (NBC) contest is 1:30 p. m. The Humble network will carry the broadcast.
