

Daylight Savings Time Begins Sunday

If you are an early riser, then Sunday is your day. This Sunday, April 27, we will lose one hour during the hours normally set aside for sleep. At 2:00 a. m. on this momentous day, the six-month boon to sun worshippers-known as daylight savings time-will once again come into existence. To keep up with the time, remember the little phrase, "spring forward, fall backward." In other words, in the spring the hands of the clock must be moved forward one hour, in the fall they are moved back. Sunday is the day all clocks must be moved up one hour, either before retiring Saturday night, or at 2 a. m. Sunday morning.

NOSIN... WITH POLLY

Eating good home cooking is something fairly rare for the Middleton clan since I seemingly have lost contact with the "Woman's World of Recipes" since the News-Sun has monopolized my world for the past 15 years.

This over-indulgence Ross and I may become members of the local TOPS Club.

Come this weekend our custom of dining will end and once again we'll go back to the quick fried foods and easily prepared dishes. Ross's mother will be going back to Oklahoma. We of course have enjoyed her visit-and now that she has all the curtains made for the house, cloths mended, dresses shortened and buttons on shirts, she feels she must go back home. "Moins" are special people. They can somehow squeeze an enormous amount of living into an average day. They are the only creature on Earth that can cry, when they're happy, laugh when they're heart-broken and work when they're feeling ill.

At this point in life, I am little more than on speaking terms with my kitchen, as my time at home is quite limited and like everyone else, cluttered with a numberable quantity of chores. This past three weeks have been an exception of the rule. We have devoured delicious home cooked food in amounts befitting the proper fit to suit to justify the body size of the Jolly Ole Green Giant. For Fire Truck Followers Beware!

Curiosity seekers and persons in the habit of following fire trucks enroute to a fire, take heed.

At the Monday evening meeting of the Earth City Council, commissioners decided that the state law prohibiting unauthorized persons to follow emergency vehicles will be strictly enforced.

LONG ON PROFIT

G-4697 is a medium maturity high-yielding, strong-standing hybrid producing grain of excellent quality. Yields of 179.5, 175, 154, and 143 bushels per acre have been recorded in 1968 in Castro county. G-4697 produces uniform wide leaves and girby ears. Excellent threshability is reported. Plant early for highest yields and superior standability.

G-4333 is a short season high-yielding, strong-standing, single cross which established top yield records in 1968. At Tullia 185 bushels per acre was chalked up and 147 bushels per acre made at Dimmitt. G-4333 is very attractive with uniform stalk and ear height. It responds to higher plant population and narrow rows where fertility and water make top yields possible and does unusually well under average conditions. G-4333 has out-yielded competitors in this early maturing category. Be sure to plant G-4333 in 1969.

G-711AA is a full season high tonnage silage hybrid with good grain content. G-711AA was the highest yielding corn silage hybrid in the High Plains Research Foundation tests at Halfway, with 39.05 tons per acre at 70% moisture. G-711AA tends to have higher protein content than many hybrids. This well known top yielding silage hybrid with many 30 ton yields to its credit is hard to beat. If you are planning for silage you should be planting G-711AA.

The Gay Nineties - Theme Of Eighth Grade Banquet

Walls of Red and White Crepe paper streamers forming a cathedral effect, excluded the outside world as members of the eighth grade class and their guests relived the Gay Nineties at the annual Eighth Grade Banquet Saturday night.

Approximately 100 class members and guests were present at the Springlake - Earth School cafeteria at 7 p.m. when the festivities began.

David Hanson, class president, served as Master of Ceremonies. Steve Hay gave the Invocation and the guests were welcomed by Brian Sanderson. Bill Mann, superintendent of schools gave the response.

The dinner was served by seventh graders: Kevin Alexander, Pat Hedges, Dickie Bradley, Evan Hamilton, Mario Salas, Donnie Henderson, Thomas Clayton, Allen McClure, Hal Wood, Jimmy Coker, Lonnie Wilson and Scott Lee. The waiters were introduced to the crowd by David Hanson.

Immediately following the dinner banquet guests were taken into the Gay Ninety era via song by a barbershop quartet from Lubbock. The men included in their presentation several of the best loved songs of the '90's. The quartet was composed of Curtis Jarratt, tenor; Gene Pasmore, bass; Jack Hall, baritone and Gene Gaspard, lead.

The class prophecy was presented through the special talents of Peter Hurcose, the Mystic, alias Kevin Anderson. Mr Hurcose displayed his talents of foretelling the future merely by touching either the individual's person or an object belonging to that individual.

The Top Hats were next to perform, presenting a song and dance routine to Sweet Peggy O'Neal and Bicycle Built for two. The trio included Sharla Haberer, Becky Littleton and Camille Haberer. They were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ted Wilson.

The beautiful Flora Dora Girls panormined and performed a dance routine, centering their attention on Bryan Sanderson, Larry Thomas and Berry Pittman. The Flora Dora Girls are otherwise known as Brenda Roberson, Denise Morgan, Julie Cleavinger, Chris Dent, Susie Temple and Jan Cleavinger.

Miss Tisa Haberer of Plainview, formerly of Springlake, was introduced as the Mystery Guest. Miss Haberer sang a popular tune from the musical hit, Oklahoma, "I Can't Say No." She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Larry Tunnell.

Within the walls of crepe paper the Gay Nineties theme was carried out with white balloons bearing a picture of a bicycle built for two, which hung across the ceiling.

The head table was covered with a red and white checked cloth and was centered with an arrangement of daisies. Banquet tables were also covered with red and white checked cloths and were centered with hurricane lamps.

Favors included top hats and clear plastic slippers filled with nuts.

Sponsors of the eighth grade class are Mrs. Buddy Hedges, Mrs. Dwayne Fryar, Charlie Burns and Mike Purcell.

Poison Ivy Can Be Controlled

College Station. --Poison ivy, a bothersome and dangerous pest, is about to make its full spring showing, and homeowners should be ready to control it.

G. Q. Hoffman, Extension range brush and weed control specialist at Texas A&M University, warns that the plant is found in nearly all areas of the state and grows more readily along streams and in shady places.

"All parts of the poison ivy plant are toxic, particularly the sap. A small amount of the toxic agent called 'urushiol' can cause skin inflammation. The toxin is easily transferred from one object to another by pets. Smoke from burning poison ivy plants will also carry the toxin, the specialist continued.

There are three varieties of the plant which grow in Texas, and the most common one has three glossy green leaflets with smooth margins. The other varieties, Hoffman explained, have lobed or toothed leaf margins which resemble oak leaves and are called "poison oak."

Hand chopping, grubbing or mowing is not as effective as the use of a herbicide in a spray solution. He pointed out that the best control chemicals are ammonium sulfamate (amamate), aminotriazole, 2,4,5,-T, silvex and 2,4-D. All are absorbed through the leaves and stems of the plant.

"Amamate, yellow crystals that dissolve readily in water, may be the safest for overall use because when sprayed in solution on plant foliage will kill grasses and other unwanted vegetation. One pound of amamate crystals mixed in one gallon of water with two tablespoons of household detergent should be used in a knapsack hand sprayer or a sprinkler-watering can. This method of foliage coverage will control seedlings and sprouts this spring while the plant is making its most rapid growth," Hoffman noted.

Poison ivy, treated with this amimate solution, will begin to turn brown within 24 hours, but it usually takes several weeks to kill the plants completely. Two or more treatments are needed at six to eight week intervals to control all regrowth and kill all plants.

Large poison ivy plants growing or climbing or shade trees can be controlled by cutting the stem near the ground and covering the freshly cut surface with amimate crystals. Tops of the old stems should be pulled from the tree and destroyed.

Amimate is corrosive to metal and wire fences and the metal containers should be thoroughly washed following spraying. The chemical is a contact killer on grass, but is safe to use around shrubbery if the solution is not sprayed on the foliage.

All herbicides should be used with care and in accordance with the container label, Hoffman said.

Iron Chlorosis Can Cut Sorghum Yields

College Station. --Iron chlorosis of grain and forage types of sorghum can reduce yield if the condition is severe.

"This iron deficiency is characterized by a yellowing between the leaf veins and often occurs on calcic spots or high lime soils containing free calcium carbonate," says Dr. Charles D. Welch, Extension soil chemist at Texas A&M University.

Iron deficiency usually is observed early in the season soon after emergence, and spots and irregular patterned areas are most common. The crop tends to grow out of the condition as the soil temperature rises, but it often is seen on a second growth of forage sorghum.

If land has a history of producing sorghum with this disorder, Welch advises trying a foliar application of 2 1/2 percent iron sulfate, commonly called copperas. The principle involved is to get iron into the plant through the leaves.

Prepare the solution by dissolving 10 pounds of iron sulfate in 50 gallons of water.

According to Welch, the light blue or blue-green solution will become yellow and less soluble after prolonged exposure to the air.

A wetting agent of detergent should be added to insure good coverage of the leaf surface. Welch said that approximately 20 gallons of the wetting solution per acre should do the job. The first application should be made within 10 days after emergence if plants show severe deficiency. Another application should follow in about two weeks. Should yellowing continue or occur later in the season, a third application may be necessary.

If zinc or other micronutrients are included in the treatment, slightly reduce the iron concentration to prevent leafburn from too much salt. If applying micronutrients, Welch advises using only those that are lacking, and in amounts that will meet plant requirements.

WINNER OF CITATION MERIT AWARD, Miss Aurelia Sanders was winner of a Citation Merit Award at the Regional XXI Citation Exhibition of the Texas Fine Arts Association held in Amarillo April 20-May 4. Miss Sanders work, entitled "Crater Lake" will be included in Region XXI's exhibition in Austin.

Aurelia Sanders - Mrs. Alair Exhibit In Amarillo Art Show

Two local artists, Mrs. Tommy Alair and Miss Aurelia Sanders, displayed their talents at the Eighth Annual Regional Citation Exhibition, Region XXI, Texas Fine Arts Association in Amarillo.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Amarillo Fine Arts Society and scheduled to run April 29 through May 4.

The local artists were among 147 exhibitors entered in the show. Miss Sanders received a Citation Award for her work entitled "Crater Lake." As a recipient of the award her painting will be included in Region XXI's exhibition in Austin.

This annual Citation Exhibition is held to enable artists of Region XXI to be represented by a regional exhibition in the State Citation Show slated for July and August at the Laguna Gloria Museum at Austin. The exhibits in Austin will be judged and may be awarded first and second place. The paintings are also judged individually and may be awarded Juror's Citation, Circuit Merit, or both. Such pictures are exhibited throughout the state and abroad in TFAA Circuit Shows.

The awards for the Region XXI Exhibition were presented Sunday. Judging was held previously by Dr. Emilio Cabellero, Chairman, Department of Art, West Texas State University.

Mrs. Alair and Miss Sanders are members of the Dimmitt Art Guild, the Amarillo Fine Arts Society and the Texas Fine Arts Association. Mrs. Alair is a member of the XIT Study Club in Springlake and Miss Sanders the Town and Country Study Club.

The exhibit is open to the public Monday through Saturdays 11 a. m. - 5 p. m. and 2-5 p. m. on Sundays, and is located at 605 Polk Street, Amarillo.

MUF Discusses "Being Myself"

Marsha Dawson presented a program for the Senior High MYF Sunday evening entitled, "Being Myself." The group met at the First United Methodist Church in Earth.

The main trend in the program discussion was concerning where the influence of parents and friends is ended and the feelings of the individual considered in making decisions.

The group discussed going to the district retreat this weekend. It was decided that none could attend due to a conflict with the Junior-Senior Banquet. Thirteen members were present.

Girl Scouts Meet For Recreation

Girl Scout troop 178 met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Wilson Lewis.

The Scouts enjoyed an afternoon of recreation followed by refreshments of Coke floats at the Wolverine Drive In.

Refreshments were provided by Terry Smith.

Mrs. Freddy Kemper and Teresa Glascock met with the group.

Present were: Ruth Street, Judy Herriage, Karen Kemper, Jennifer Templeton and Quency Lewis.

Party Line

Sunday dinner guest of Mrs. R. S. Cole were James Martin and Greg of Hereford; Mrs. Alice Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bills and daughters of Denver City and Frances Davis, following lunch they visited with Raeman Cole who is a patient in the Amherst Hospital.

"This will really be a showcase of the music camp with the better students performing. Often this is a great inspiration for those who haven't practiced as much," Dr. Smith said.

The camp will conclude June 8 with a grand festival in Waco Hall on the Baylor campus. All groups will participate - band, orchestra and chorus, with pianists featured as soloists. This concert will be open to the public.

Baylor music faculty members who will assist with the camp are Donald L. Moore and Gene Smith, band; Daniel Sternberg and Bernard A. Smith, orchestra; Lino Bartoli, string orchestra; Euell Porter and Kenneth Howard, chorus; and Larry Vandlandingham, stage band.

Conducting workshops will be Roger Keyes and Carolyn Willis piano; Robert Markham organ; and Mary K. Alexander, harp; String teachers will include Bartoli, violin; Patricia Wienandt, viola; Lev Aronson, cello; and Michael Ard, bass.

Graduate students in music also will help with the camp program.

Campers participating in the All-State Solo Contest in Austin will be permitted to leave the camp for that purpose.

More than 5,000 students have attended the camp since it was started in 1958. About 250 to 300 students have come each summer from Colorado, Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Dr. Smith said the camp has grown since it was originated by Mrs. Nadine Durby, a former member of the Baylor music faculty, and Dean Daniel Sternberg. "The philosophy hasn't radically changed," he said, "and the underlying purpose still stands."

In explaining reasons for conducting the camp, Dr. Smith said, "the idea behind the camp was to acquaint high school students with Baylor and the School of Music. We want to show them our excellent faculty and attempt to influence the talented music student to attend Baylor."

The director said in a general way most of the outstanding Baylor music students have attended the camp.

Although methods may change, subject matter does not, Dr. Smith said. The first few years of the camp only orchestra, string orchestra and chorus were offered. Subsequent areas added were band and piano and organ workshops.

The workshops are the most recent addition to the curriculum program. "The students don't participate in group activities but do a lot of individual practicing," he said.

Complete information on the camp is available from Dr. Smith in the Summer Music Camp Office, School of Music, Baylor University, Waco, Texas 76703.

Veteran's Widows Eligible For Educational Assistance

A veteran's widow entitled to GI home loan benefits is automatically eligible for the newly created widow's educational assistance from the Veterans Administration.

But the reverse is not necessarily true, the VA reminded today.

Only unmarried widows of World War II, Korean Conflict and Post-Korean veterans who died as the result of military service are entitled to VA home loan guarantees.

However, unmarried widows of veterans who served at any time since the Spanish-American War and who died as the result of military service are eligible for VA educational assistance up to a maximum of 36 months.

In addition, the wives of veterans who are permanently and totally disabled because of service are also eligible for the educational benefits, which amount to as much as $130 a month for full-time training.

Eligible widows of World War II veterans have only until July 25, 1970, to use their GI home loan entitlement. The entitlement of eligible Korean Conflict widows expires January 31, 1975, with eligible Post-Korean widows having 20 years from their husband's death in service, 20 years from the veteran's discharge, or March 3, 1965, whichever is later, to use their entitlement.

Widows and wives, eligible for educational assistance, have until November 30, 1976, or eight years after their husband's death or VA finding of permanent and total disability, whichever is later, to complete their education or training.

Accent on Health

An annual inspection is routinely required for all motor vehicles in Texas, but the human body doesn't get the same consideration.

Most adults go along year after year without seeing a doctor unless they become sick or have an accident.

The Texas State Department of Health says most people fail to realize that if a regular inspection is important for a car, it is absolutely vital for the human machine.

You may have some early disease and not even know it. Unless this hidden condition is found and treated, chances are it will become more serious and more difficult to control.

A regular check-up by a doctor is a good opportunity to get sound medical advice on your needs, based on his professional evaluation of your state-of-health. You may need medical advice about the food you eat, the exercise you should take, and other habits which can help or hinder you in your search for good health.

Even if you are already under treatment, perhaps it has been too long since your last visit to the doctor. Your condition may have changed for the better or worse.

Perhaps your regimen needs to be changed or your medicines-if you are taking any need to be readjusted in dosage of kind. Not all medicines are to be taken indefinitely.

Also, new diagnostic aids and medicines are now available which the doctor may want to prescribe.

Perhaps you had an illness and overcame it. It is possible the condition could recur.

One big advantage of a complete physical examination at regular intervals is the knowledge that you are in fit physical shape. If you have an illness, it is comforting to know that everything possible is being done to keep it under control.

There is no set schedule of how often you should have a check-up, but it should be regular. Let your doctor set the schedule for you. At the end of the examination he can suggest the time for the next check-up.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin has also been invited to speak but has not yet indicated whether he will be able to attend.

The Ginning Laboratory is the fourth of its kind in the U. S. and the first to be located in Texas. It consists of a complete ginning system, a machine shop and several offices.

According to Roy Baker, Engineer in Charge, it is hoped the facility will lead to new and improved methods of handling, drying, cleaning and packaging machine stripped cotton.

Yields And Use Major Factor In Feed Grain Picture

College Station. -- Two major economic trends have largely dominated the feed grain situation in the United States during the past 20 years, reports a Texas A&M University Extension economist.

John G. McHaney lists the trends as the 6 percent annual average increase in per acre yield of feed grains since 1954 and the 3.5 percent increase in the annual rate of their use.

During the period from 1949-1953, domestic use and exports of feed grains were virtually in balance with production. But, he adds, production and use, since, have not stayed in balance and in some years large carryovers resulted. The yield of feed grains in the nation is now about double that for the 1949-53 period but total use, including exports, has increased by only about 50 percent.

The disparity between yield and total utilization has made necessary the diversion of considerable acreage from feed grains to soil-conserving uses. The current feed grain program has as its objective the diversion of 37 million acres.

The sale of feed grains in Texas, mostly grain sorghum, annually accounts for approximately 12 percent of cash farm receipts, says McHaney. Its production in both Texas and the nation is big business and means much to the economy.

The abundant supply of feed grain in Texas along with an efficient range cattle industry, feeder calves, have been major factors in the rapid expansion of the cattle feeding and meat processing industries in the state, he notes.

Local Pastor Leads Revival In Grand Prairie

M. B. Baldwin, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Earth, conducted revival services at the Shady Grove Baptist Church in Grand Prairie, April 13-20.

Christ Our Only Hope, was the theme of the revival. During the course of the services there were 16 professions of faith, 4 by letter and one by statement, and 83 rededications.

God is our refuge and strength.—(Psalms 46:1).

When we need the added strength, God is there to give it. When we need healing, God is our healing. When we need courage, God is our courage. When we need faith, God is our rock, our strong foundation in whom we can trust.

For yield power where it counts, Texas grain sorghum producers have been choosing Pioneer varieties year after year. Such Pioneer hybrids as 846 have been breaking yield records from the top of the Panhandle to the South Plains. Besides popular 846 here are five other top performers from Pioneer:

This new full-season hybrid frequently yields above the five-ton level with plenty of water and ample fertility. Texas A&M tests and farm reports show 828 to be one of the highest yielding hybrids you can plant.

820
An old reliable, 820 has been a favorite on the high plains for six years, turning in some of the top yields in Texas year after year. This full-season variety is medium height with outstanding stalks and roots.

845
Another new Pioneer brand hybrid, 845 is a medium-maturity variety that yields with most full-season varieties. In the 1967 Texas A&M performance tests, the highest official yield for any variety, any maturity and any test was recorded by 845—a whopping 10,570 pounds per acre.

848
This medium-maturity hybrid rates exceptionally well for standability and easy harvesting. Short, uniform plants have very strong stalks and roots. Open heads are loaded with heavy, red grain. An outstanding yielder for its maturity.

866
A medium-early hybrid, 866 yields along with many later varieties. Its uniform height and good head exertion make it easy to thresh. 866 performs well under dryland or irrigated conditions.

Pioneer has many other high yielding grain sorghum hybrids. Pioneer also has performance-proved seed corn hybrids for grain and silage. See your Pioneer dealer now and pick the variety that's best for you.

Insect Control Should Be Part Of Spring Cleaning

College Station.--The protection of clothing and many household furnishings during the summer months against insect cleaning job.

Extension entomologists at Texas A&M University say two of the most destructive pests of fabrics in the home are clothes moths and carpet beetles. The beetles are more abundant in most localities and often do the damage blamed on clothes moths. The larvae of both pests feed on anything containing wool and other animal fibers. The adults do no damage, explain the entomologists.

The larvae of the clothes moths are white with a brownish-black head. They are about one-half inch long and can be found developing in a silken feeding tube or a hard protective case often on fabrics. Carpet beetle larvae crawl about and often are found on cotton goods or other things on which they do not feed. They are carrot-shaped, golden to chocolate brown in color with tufts of very long hairs at the tail end of the body. They may reach almost a half-inch in length, say the entomologists.

Both feed on wool, mohair, hair, bristles, fur, feathers, and down. Household articles commonly attacked include blankets, comforters, rugs, carpets, drapes, pillows, hair mattresses, brushes and upholstery.

The use of preventive measures is recommended by the entomologists. These include the application of protective treatments to susceptible articles, practicing good housekeeping and when needed, spraying insecticides on surfaces over which the insects are likely to crawl.

Paradichlorobenzene crystals or naphthalene flakes are effective

NEATEST STUDENTS IN SPRINGLAKE-EARTH HIGH SCHOOL, Marian Dawson and Danny Parish were selected the neatest students in Springlake-Earth High School for the fifth six weeks. The selection was made by the student council in their regular meeting last week.

ive against both pests provided the container in which the articles are stored is absolutely airtight. The mere odor of the chemical does not repel the insects. Oil-solution insecticides containing DDT, methoxychlor, Strobane or Parthane are fine for protecting clothes and blankets. Rugs and carpets may be treated with a 5 percent DDT oil-solution every 12 to 13 months, using 1 1/2 to 2 quarts of spray on a 9 x 12 rug. Special attention should be given to the parts of a rug or carpet under furniture not often moved and around heat registers and under radiators, emphasize the entomologists.

Furs should be stored only in commercial facilities where they will receive professional care and can be insured against damage.

The entomologists recommend a spray containing 2 percent chlordane, 3 percent premium grade malathion or one-half percent diazinon for the treatment of surfaces over which insects may crawl. These and other recommended sprays may be purchased in ready-to-use pre-sprayed containers or as liquids for application with a hand sprayer. All hard-to-clean places should be sprayed. Closets may be treated after clothing has been removed. The entomologists advise cleaning the home often enough to prevent the accumulation of lint, dust and hair. Close attention should be given to rugs and carpets, drapes, upholstered furniture, closets, cracks, baseboards and moldings and Rotolene, if possible, of rugs and carpets is suggested since insects usually feed under heavy furniture where cleaning is difficult. Woolen articles in the home which are not worth protecting should be removed since they often harbor infestations which can spread. The vacuum cleaner, say the entomologists, is the best tool for doing most of the necessary cleaning.

Some Items Purchased As "New" May Be Used

College Station, -- An item you bought as "new" may really be a refurbished used good.

Miss Linda Jacobsen, Extension home management specialist with Texas A&M University, reports complaints are being made to the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) on products ranging from tools and appliances to phonograph records and ball point pens.

A common practice for distributing these "used" items is the offer to furnish a prospective buyer with an item for inspection and trial use for a specified item, generally at no charge.

If the consumer decides not to buy the merchandise, it is replaced in the firm's inventory for resale as new, Miss Jacobsen explains.

The FTC maintains that failure to disclose to the consumer the previous use of merchandise is a deceptive practice. If further cites mail order houses and credit card organizations which promote such sales through their extensive mailing capabilities as sharing in the deception.

If you have any doubts as to the "newness" of an item, question the seller or call your local Better Business Bureau, recommend the specialist.

WATCH NEXT WEEK FOR "MORE MONEY EVENTS"

Did you know that Benjamin Franklin designed a coin? One side showed a sun glowering at a sundial under which these scholastic words appeared: MIND YOUR BUSINESS, rounding the curve at the left was the word FUGIO, and the curve at the right gave the date 1787.

The reverse side depicted a 13 link chain loop, in the center of which these words stood out: "WE ARE ONE" - representing the 13 original colonies. Records show that this coin, pegged as "Fugio" was short-lived. Soon after issuance, the demise of this first one cent piece followed.

In 1866, the U. S. Government issued fractional currency in 50 cent denominations. It was a small bill, measuring only 4-1/2" by 2-1/4". A big "50" appeared in the center.
