

Are You Cheating Your Children?

You may be cheating your children without knowing it.

Last Monday, June 23 a meeting was held for the purpose of appointing committees for raising funds and planning a Kindergarten for this community. Only eight people attended the meeting and many of those present did not have pre-school age children who would benefit from a Kindergarten program.

There is no reason why the surrounding communities can not establish such a program. Other communities of our size and even smaller have kindergartens. They are not so costly that we can not establish pre-school training for our children. Those children who enter our public schools after attending Kindergarten are far ahead of those who did not attend. They are socially adjusted to group work and higher authorities other than parents. They have been exposed to number, reading and writing concepts and other creative experiences which many children need before entering public schools.

Don't cheat your child. Education is a very valuable possession in our rapidly changing world. This education should begin in the early years of a child's life. This is not a degradation to parents. Parents do much to teach and prepare children for school, but much more is offered in group learning and classroom situations offered by Kindergartens.

Expenses are involved in Kindergartens, just as in public schools. The cost will not be so great that your child can not attend.

How many parents say "no" to a piece of candy or gum or even a new toy or game occasionally. Those are temporary investments, lasting only a short while. Investments made for education and knowledge can not be taken away. Are you cheating your child? Will you pay the price for your child's education?

The organizational meeting has been rescheduled for Monday June 30, at 4:00 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall of the United Methodist Church.

If you are unable to attend the meeting, let your interest in the Kindergarten be known by calling Mrs. Charles Parish, 257-3783 in Earth, Mrs. Ed Dawson, 986-2623 in Springlake or Mrs. Bryan Dutton, 956-2221 in Lubbock.

Can Earth Support Industry?

The Earth Chamber of Commerce met at noon Friday, June 20 for a luncheon and general meeting.

Following the luncheon, Dave Cavitt introduced the speaker who was Bill Thompson, manager of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce. The topic for discussion was Industrial Expansion.

Thompson began his speech by passing out cards and asking each person present to name the two greatest assets and liabilities of the city of Earth. The most frequently named assets were water and the fertile land in our area. The greatest need was "unity" or people who would work together for the benefit of the community and not for individual glory and power.

He then continued an open discussion on how communities embark on industrial expansion programs. The first step is to have sound financial backing. Banks or finance companies should provide leadership in obtaining money for use in an expansion program.

If Banks fail to support people when opportunities for expansion come along, progress is halted. Progressive Banks are necessary to work with other authorities before a community can grow and expand.

Authorities say that 1500 towns in Texas will cease to exist by the year 2000. Many say, "This can happen in some places but not here." They can't sit back and let a town die or citizens can make sure of every asset and make a town grow and prosper. What will the citizens of Earth do?

Thompson further added examples from the industrial growth in Hereford. He stated that Dolly Textile is the only industry, presently located in Hereford area that is not related to the agricultural and cattle industries in the area. Hereford has taken one main industry, agriculture, and developed it in many ways. This is another key to success in Industrial Expansion. A community must "zero in" on a suitable industry. One that would be most profitable for the area involved. The most profitable for this area would be one based on agriculture rather than hoping for textiles and corporations such as General Motors to establish industry here. Once an industry is found, acquire land and people who are willing to work.

Grain crops would be more profitable if farmers would pool resources to build large feedlots, feed their own beef and process it themselves. The price of grain would increase at a projected estimated, 5-10¢ per hundred.

P. A. Washington questioned the feasibility of bringing large outside corporations into the area to build feedlots. Thompson stated that large corporations are not necessary to the success of industrial growth. It would be more profitable for a community to install local lots rather than have profits flow out of the community into large outside corporations. However, if finances would not permit local lots, corporations should be invited as a means of keeping industry in the area.

Feedlots keep the Missouri Beef Packers and the Wilson Company in business. New and more feedlots would be even more profitable.

Thompson created a discussion by asking Perry Martin, President of the local Chamber, What the goal for Earth is? Martin replied that the community was in the process of organizing an Industrial Board. This Board would be responsible for making major decisions for an industrial expansion program and deciding which industry would be most profitable. Thompson stated that such programs need support from farmers. Martin commented that the Earth Chamber had a fair percentage of farmers among the members but needed more.

Farmers need to be made aware of Earth as a marketing place for products grown in the area. Everything the Hereford Chamber has done is primarily for the farmer. This should be so in Earth.

Washington continued in the discussion by asking about the need for railroads in developing feed lots and cattle industry for this area. Would it be profitable since Earth lacks railway transportation?

The need for railroads and the as feedlots since both created offensive odors.

Gene Templeton added that people do not like the smell and would raise land prices so high that it was difficult to acquire suitable locations.

Thompson jokingly answered "Convince people that it is filthy lucre and not an odor. He then related incidents of purchasing land. The Wilson plant and the Holly Sugar Refinery are located on land which was purchased through "dummy" buyers. It was bought in a man's name and then transferred to the companies. This may seem deceitful but many of these who complained are making large profits. Don't let petty grievances stand in the way of expansion.

In closing Thompson once again added that unity among 35-40 must exist before such programs can exist and that the group must work for the town as a whole.

Those present for the meeting were Jack Sanders, Larry Tunnell, Gene Templeton, Dale Riggs, Roger Haberer, Doug Parish, Perry Martin, Dave Cavitt, L. K. Anderson, Bill Bryant, Dutch Been, P. A. Washington, Mrs. Zou Wilson, Polly Middleton, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Kelley, Bob Harber, Neil Pounds, Weldon Barton, Bob Belew, Melvin Bock, Harold Miller, Aurelia Sanders, Mabry Greenshaw, and guests Larry Fuller, Southwest Public Service Manager and Bill Thompson speaker, both of Hereford.

Perry Martin reported that all present desired to make the luncheon and discussion a monthly event. Plans are being made and notices will appear concerning future meetings.

Lions Sponsor Exchange Student In Springlake Area

The Lions International is sponsoring a student exchange program through the summer months. The student visiting in the Springlake-Earth area is a lovely blue-eyed blond sponsored by her home Lions club in Ona, Sweden, of which her father is a member.

Anne Gustafsson, 17 year old Native of Ona, will be staying in the Earth Parish and Ed Jones' home while here. Anne is one of the 150 Scandinavian students who came to the U. S. in this program.

She is the daughter of Olle, Gustafsson an optician. She has two brothers, Peter, 22, and Mats 19, and her sister, Pia, is 12.

As most foreign visitors to Texas, Anne was anxious to see long-tall Texans displaying the usual cowboy, paraphernalia, hat, boots and horses. She also said she thought of cactus when coming to our Long Star State.

Anne began school at the age of seven, attending a beginning school where she was schooled for six years. She then attended the Realan School for four years. The Realan is a part of the public schools but is not compulsory. It is a free school, free in that there is a freedom of choice as to whether a student attends, which begins preparation for higher education.

Following the Realan school is the Gymnasium school which offers the subjects in Fine Arts such as languages, math, science and history. This is a preparation school for University work. Three years of study are required for entry into a Swedish University.

Vocational training schools are also open to student who desire to learn specialized skills. At one time, these special crafts were obtained through apprenticeships.

Anne speaks German, French and English as well as her Native Swedish language. English is a requirement in the public schools. She reported that she has to learn English for seven years. Other than languages, Anne is also interested in music and reading and enjoys playing table tennis and badminton.

Basketball, football and ice hockey are among the favorite sports of Sweden. They do not have competition among schools but rather an interannual sports program among various school organizations.

Sweden and the U. S. celebrate many holidays together, such as Easter and Christmas. However there are several celebrated only in Sweden. School is adjourned in the early spring for the Sport Holiday which involves snow skiing and skating. Swedish students also enjoy the teasing of April Fools' Day.

Mid Summer Celebration comes on the closest Friday to June 23. Everyone enjoys games, relaxation and the May Pole. The International Regatta-Sailing races are held in July.

When asked about protesting and rioting on Swedish Campus, Anne stated that protest marches take place but in the large towns, such as Stockholm, May 1 is set aside as a protest day, on this day persons air their grievances and let the reasons for protest be known.

Of American food, Anne says that American eat more salad. She said she enjoyed them especially with thousand island dressing and Jello salad which she had never eaten before. She also enjoyed Tuna fish sandwiches and home made ice cream as first time treats.

After spending four weeks and enjoying a five day tour of the U. S., Anne will return to Sweden and continue her education. She is interested in becoming a Medical Doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Fanning and Mrs. and Mrs. Johnny Williams were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Ida Allen.

Farmers Not To Blame For Higher Food Prices

College Station, --Don't blame the farmer for higher food prices. In fact, explains Dr. Win. E. Black, Extension economist at Texas A&M University, farmers are the consumers' best friend.

The American agricultural industry, he points out, continues to produce more than commercial markets will absorb at prevailing prices and they can do even better if the situation should warrant.

This unparalleled production has kept food prices from rising higher than they are while the prices received by the farmer have averaged no more, most often considerable less, than those of 20 years ago, says the economist.

But, he adds, the food marketing bill has more than doubled in the last 20 years. And there are lots of reasons. The increased population has upped the volume of food marketing by more than one-third. Marketing services have jumped by

Does Earth Measure Up?

There's no handy yardstick to measure community progress. But if you want some guidelines as to how a city or town is rated, here is a questionnaire which is frequently used to determine just how a community rates in the minds of its residents.

Answer "yes" or "no" to the following questions and see how Earth stacks up. By the way, if you can answer "yes" to 30 or more of the questions, chances are you live in a town of which you can be proud.

Here we go:

15. Fire insurance rates are low for your type of town?
16. Service, veterans' and women's clubs team up on projects?

17. There's active, well-organized, 4-H, Boy and Girl Scout groups?
18. A modern hospital is within the trading area?
19. All streets are paved and sidewalks are in good shape?
20. There's a hotel or motel you'd enjoy if you were a visitor?
21. It's easy to find parking space in the business section?
22. There's at least one restaurant which serves outstanding meals?
23. The sewer extension program keeps pace with new housing?

one-half because consumers want and are getting more sorting, grading, trimming, packaging, processing and storage, more built-in conveniences and they are eating more and more away from home.

He also noted that labor costs account for nearly half of the total food marketing bill--have doubled. New plant and equipment costs along with transportation, materials for packaging, interest, rent and taxes keep climbing as do production costs for the farmer. Our agricultural producers, he emphasized, are striving to meet this price-cost squeeze by producing more at lower cost and are today the most efficient producers in the nation. They too are pushing hard for more efficient marketing and product promotion.

Black says, "Consumers continue to be favored by increasing incomes while farm income lags. Despite higher food prices, consumers spend less of their incomes for food than any time in history and are getting the best, says the economist.

For comparison, consumers might ponder these figures, suggests Black. For all items except food, the cost has increased 42 percent; transportation is up 60 percent; housing 42 percent; rent 52 percent and medical care 86 percent while all food, including eating away from home, has increased about 37 percent over the past 20 years, says Black.

It's Black's contention that consumers should be ever grateful

Jehovah's Witnesses Invited To International Assembly

Jehovah's Witnesses from this area have been invited to attend an eight-day International Assembly to be held in Kansas City, Missouri, July 18-25.

According to local representatives, some 36,000 delegates will attend the gathering at Kansas City's Municipal Stadium. Although the majority of delegates will come from the Midwest, some from Germany, Venezuela, India, Peru, Mexico, Korea and Canada have sent requests for accommodations to Convention Headquarters.

The Kansas City assembly is one of 7 such meetings in the United States this summer, with 25 scheduled in various countries around the world. They all have the theme: "Peace on Earth." The conventions major address, "The Approaching Peace of a Thousand Years," reflects their belief that true peace will come to this earth in the near future. It will be delivered by N.H. Knorr, president of the Watch Tower Society, the organization which directs the worldwide activities of Jehovah's Witnesses.

There are today nearly 1-1/2 million Witnesses in 200 countries of the world and their ranks are increasing at the rate of 1,200 new active members each week.

In addition to United States conventions, by the end of this year 17 principal cities in Europe, the Far East, Australia, New Zealand and Mexico will have hosted a "Peace on Earth"

Musical Drama "Texas" To Return To Palo Duro June 27 - September 2

Canyon. -- The yawning chasms of Palo Duro Canyon are haunted each summer with the forgotten voices of pioneers who settled the Texas staked plains. On June 27 the musical drama "Texas" will return to its theatre under the stars, staged against a 600-foot backdrop of rock and boulders. The show runs through September 2.

It began four years ago in 15,000-acre Palo Duro Canyon State Park. The Texas Pioneers Heritage Foundation wanted to "pay tribute to the brave men and women who had the courage to settle a hard and bitter land, once called uninhabitable, and make it prosper."

In Pioneer Amphitheatre, nestled in a corner of the canyon, the stage was set.

Foundation members found the playwright, Paul Green, a Pulitzer Prize winning author who had scripted "The Lost Colony" and "Stephen Foster Story" for outdoor productions.

Palo Duro Canyon is a showcase arena as big as all outdoors where travelers pay $4, $2, 75 and $1.75 to watch professional and local actors relive the struggle to find a home in the West.

"Texas" begins at 8:55 p.m., nightly, except Tuesday, when a muted trumpet echoes sadly down the canyon walls at sunset, and two horsemen ride slowly to the shadowy rim 600 feet above the theater.

Lighting and stereophonic sound ricochet down the cliffs as a prairie fire rages, as people fight searing winds, dust storms and blizzards.

In a circle of light against a darkened wall a cowboy on a palomino drives an unseen herd of tape-recorded bellowing cattle to market. The first train, also unseen, whistles mournfully in a rancher's dream. A thunderstorm explodes.

The canyon itself, quieted by day, becomes alive with song, dance and laughter. Its heritage was a proud land with proud people, working hard and finding simple pleasures in hoe downs and "plum pickins" and "fiddle sawing."

The Texas Tourist Development Agency reports that the musical drama "Texas" was chosen for two years as one of the nation's top 20 summer events by the National Association of Travel Organizations.

Housecleaning Can Jeopardize Your Tax

College Station, -Although another income tax deadline has come and gone, the necessity to keep all supporting documents has not, reminds Extension Home Management Specialist Linda Jacobsen.

A recent Tax Court memo emphasized this when deductions for various expenses were denied a company because no proof was available. Tax returns may be inspected as far back as three years; six years if gross income is understated by more than 25 percent, the Texas A&M specialist says. And if you've committed fraud, the IRS can go as far back as it cares to and take action, she says.

Clearly mark those records which you want to retain, Miss Jacobsen says. These include, of course, your books of account and inventory records, certain correspondence, paid bills and other back-up material necessary to establish gross income, deductions, credits and other items on your tax return.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mann of Chico, Mrs. H. L. Cannon of Opelousas, Louisiana, Brenda Blair and Erin Russell of Hill-shoro were guests in the Thurman Lewis home during the past week.

Mutual Fear Between People And Snakes

Fear of snakes will keep many would-be campers at home this summer even though statistics show that in the United States more people are killed or seriously injured in their bathtubs than by snakebites, reports the Texas State Department of Health.

In the past 10 years in Texas, there have been just 31 deaths attributed to poisonous snakes. Snakebite deaths were most frequent among the young or old.

An unreasoning fear or ignorance may cause more harm than an actual snakebite. For example, a man who once trod on a rattler still wakes up screaming in the night. And a hunter, spiked by barbed wire, thought he had been bitten by a snake and very nearly died of shock.

True, these are extremes. But if you do regard the snake as a vicious and cunning creature with a deep-seated hatred of man, you are mistaken. Instead, it is timid and retiring. The earth-bound reptile will react to man as it would to any big and threatening creature, but it much prefers to slide unobtrusively away.

Poisonous snakes of the U.S. include the rattlesnake, copperhead, cottonmouth, moccasin and coral snake. One of the most prevalent in Texas is the rattlesnake.

Should you encounter a rattler, the safest thing to do, usually, is to remain perfectly still or edge gingerly away. Don't run. You only excite the snake, making it more apt to strike in self-defense. On the other hand, don't assume that it will shake its rattles as a signal of attack when coiled. A rattling tail indicates nervousness rather than a sign of aggression. And, a rattler may strike in any direction from any position.

In applying first aid for snakebite, make the victim lie down as soon as possible and apply a constricting bandage above the bite. The pulse in blood vessels below the bandage should not disappear, nor should the bandage produce a throbbing sensation. Loosen the bandage for a few seconds every 15 minutes. If possible, apply ice packs to the bite and get the victim to a physician or hospital.

If a lengthy interval seems likely until antivenin can be given, make cuts cautiously through the skin into and just above the presumed venom deposit site, avoiding tendons, and apply suction.

BY MARY LEE

Those kooky clothes may be on the way out of fashion. At least, top-rated designers now showing their collections in New York seem to have returned to sanity; that is, they like pretty feminine clothes again. The grotesque, the clumsy, and the Halloween costume will take a back seat for fall and winter.

Even peep-show fashions are on the wane. Suddenly more dresses add jackets or vests; tunics top pants; jumpers team with blouses; scarves muffle necklines.

Soft suits with belts or pleated skirts are frequently shown. And in dresses, black jersey, wool crepe, velvet or satin often show up with long sleeves and easy skirts.

As for hemlines—well, any length goes. Coats, suits and evening gowns are longer, while daytime clothes are often above the knees. But there is a stronger feeling of wearing a skirt at whatever length you like best—and without looking like a "square."

Mrs. W.D. Martens' niece, Mrs. T.H. Schumpert of Lubbock is visiting with her this week.

Mrs. Chester Kelley's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Largent of Houston have been visiting in Earth this past week.

Mrs. Lois Sandal spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Lucy Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Campbell were in Memphis, Texas over the weekend visiting with her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. W.F. Tate and Mary Lou visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. B. Campbell.

Donnie, Melanie and Weston Davis of Miami, Florida are visiting this week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ceatley.

Harp Reports Build-up Of Greenbugs In Plains Area

Greenbugs, the small insect that damaged grain sorghum in 1968 are now building up in large numbers. GSPA Executive Director, Elbert Harp, reported that farmers throughout the High Plains area are reporting some damage and a few are spraying.

Harp stated that, "We are not recommending that all fields be sprayed at this time, but we do think farmers should be checking their fields to see if they do have a dangerous number and continue checking them regularly." The greenbug seriously damaged thousands of acres in 1968, cutting the yields sometimes over 50%. This was the first severe damage to grain sorghum even though they have hurt wheat and barley for many years. Information about the type and amount of spray may be obtained from the local county agent.

Study Shows Sharp Drop In Purchasing Power

Washington, D.C... A noted financier once said about money, "It's called cold cash because we don't keep it long enough to get it warm." This statement is even more true nowadays with higher taxes, increased Social Security deductions, and inflationary trends taking bigger bits out of take-home pay.

Finance Facts, a monthly newsletter on consumer behavior published by the National Consumer Finance Association, shows just how quickly money comes and goes.

The newsletter points out that a man who earned $5,000-$10,000 in 1949 would now have to earn about 60 per cent more today, to maintain the same purchasing power.

A married couple with two children and a $5,000 income in 1949, paid $344 for Federal income and social security taxes, leaving $4,656 in net income. To have the same purchasing power in 1969, this couple would need $8,100 before taxes. Prices have increased 50 per cent and $2,306 has been lost through inflation. Social Security deductions have increased from $30.00 to $374.49, and combined with the Federal income tax, the total of these two types of taxes at current rates would be $1,138 this year.

To equal the purchasing power of a $10,000 income in 1949, the married couple with two children would need $14,920 in 1969.

Students Return From Washington Tour

Jimmy Littleton and Dee Ann Brock recently returned from a tour of Washington, D. C. They won the trip after winning an Oratory Contest, sponsored by Bailey County Electric Co-operative.

The following is a travelogue of activities of the two. On Friday June sixth, 74 youth from over the entire state of Texas gathered in Waxahachie with 7 sponsors and a registered nurse to begin the greatest eleven days of our lifetime. Following an evening of fellowship we turned in early to prepare for leaving the following morning for Washington, D. C. Three days later after stopovers in Memphis and Knoxville, Tennessee, we arrived in Washington, D. C. Immediately after supper, we left to tour three national monuments, which left us deeply impressed. An interesting note is that there are 898 steps to the top of the Washington monument and we climbed them all! (Needless to say, we rode the elevator down).

The following morning we laid a wreath of yellow roses on the grave of the late President John F. Kennedy during a typical Washington down pour. We then proceeded to the National Archives Building where we viewed the Constitution, Declaration of Independence, and the Bill of Rights. Afterwards we went to the National Wax Museum where we saw vignettes of our Nation's history - the signing of the Constitution and silent drill team. This was one of the most impressive sights of the entire tour.

DEANNE BROCK AND JIMMY LITTLETON are pictured as they visit with Congressman Bob Price in his office in Washington, D. C., on June 12.

presented by the Marine Drum and Bugle Corps and silent drill team. This was one of the most impressive sights of the entire tour. Wednesday morning we attended the Rural Youth Day program sponsored by National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA). One of the highlights of this program was a quiz show composed of youth from the various states represented at the meeting. It was hosted by Washington T. V. personality Mac McGarry.

That afternoon over 1000 youth representing electric cooperatives over the country met at and joined the changing of the guards at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Representative Jake Pickle took us on an extensive tour of the Capitol. That afternoon we were again guests of Representative Bob Price. He then gave us a time to ask questions which he attempted to answer. After a lively question and answer session, we attended a Coke party given by Senator Ralph Yarborough. Senator Yarborough addressed us on the merits of a college education and the usefulness of Jr. colleges in this program. That evening we took a leisurely cruise down the Potomac River to the lovely Mt. Vernon and back.

Friday morning found us at the office building of NRECA where we were treated to a Coke party and film of the operation of the NRECA. We went from there to the fascinating Smithsonian Institute Complex where we spent the remainder of the day.

We arose early Saturday morning to begin the long trip back to Texas. Sunday morning we held devotional services on Lookout Mt. in Chattanooga, Tennessee. Monday night at Texarkana, Texas we enjoyed a last night's tacky party. Tuesday evening we arrived back in Earth very tired and glad to be home, but saddened by having to leave the friends we had made.

For all the glory of the city of Washington, the Capitol, the White House and the Monument one statement made by a National Park Ranger at the Jefferson Memorial remains in our hearts. He said that the monuments were not to the man, not particularly to the deeds they had done, but to give incentive to all Americans to live up to their responsibilities. It was truly a great experience, the education and the national pride which we gained were indescribable, but for all this, the greatest part of our trip was the friendships we made. In eleven days of living together we molded ourselves into the name we chose for ourselves - THE PRIDE OF TEXAS.

We were privileged to go on this trip and our sincerest thanks goes to the Bailey County Electric Cooperative who made this trip possible.

Financial Facts

By Norian Dudley

Coins are works of art. To Augustus Saint Gaudens goes an accolade. He designed what is regarded as the most beautiful United States coin. It is the twenty dollar gold piece and bears his signature. His three letter monogram is below the date, with one letter atop another. The "S" is unrecognizable without a magnifying glass.

Perhaps the most active United States coin designer was Charles Barber. His engraving years began with 1892 and continued until 1915. He designed the dime, quarter and half dollar of that period.

His signature is a small "B". It is placed at the cut-off line of the portrait.

Anthony de Francisci designed the Peace dollar in 1921. His

The Dollar That Keeps BOUNCING BACK

There was once a dollar all crisp and new, spent in a store by someone like you.

Someone thinking of their home town, Who wanted the dollars to stay around.

The store gave the dollar to farmer Brown, who had brought some of his produce to town.

The farmer's car needed tires and repairs, so he went to another place for his wares.

'Course they never kept it but spent it for parts, Do you realize what this really starts? A chain of reactions that gladdens our hearts.

The parts man put it back on its way, For his wife he bought a dress that very day.

So the clothier was able to fix the store, That kept the dollar going some more.

Then the carpenter had something to do, Someone benefited - maybe you!

For gas or drugs it could have been spent. We'll never know which way it went.

But here's one thing we know is true, It's terrific what your dollars will do.

Can we count on you to do your share ??? It builds our Community everywhere.
