A sample of households in this area will take part in the Federal Government's annual survey on education to be taken the week of October 20-25, by the Bureau of the Census.

Percy R. Millard, Director of the Bureau's Regional office in Dallas, said that interviewers will visit homes to obtain information about the number of school years completed by household members. There will also be questions about the number of children attending nursery school or kindergarten. Questions on education will be in addition to those asked regularly in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor.

The survey provides a continuing measure of conditions in the labor force. The August survey found the nation's employment situation little changed from July. The unemployment rate was 8.4 percent, after declining from the second quarter recession peak of 8.9 percent. Total employment was 85.4 million in August.

About 68,000 households across the country, scientifically selected to represent a cross section of American households, take part in this monthly survey. All information provided the Bureau is confidential by law and can be published only as statistical totals in which no individual or household can be identified.

Interviewer who will visit households here is Rosemary McNeese of Amherst.

OCTOBER 31 DEADLINE FOR SALES TAX

Comptroller Bob Bullock has reminded the 230,000 retail businesses in Texas that October 31 is the deadline for filing their quarterly sales tax returns.

"It's only a few days away and any return filed after that time means nothing but problems for us and for the taxpayer," Bullock said, noting that tardy reports can carry financial penalties.

Reports due October 31 cover the July-August-September quarter. Forms for the reports were sent to all sales tax permit holders by Bullock's office in September.

"Late reports are usually nothing more than oversights but that doesn't keep them from being a problem anyhow," said Bullock.

Any retail merchant with questions should contact the nearest field office of the Comptroller's Department, Bullock said.

"Monumental, isn't it, dear!"

3 MEN DIE Former Area Man Dies In Gas Plant Explosion

A 12-inch pipeline ruptured and exploded at an El Paso Natural Gas processing plant early Monday morning, killing three plant employees and injuring three others.

Among the dead was James (Jimmy) E. Lockey, 49, the shift supervisor, a former employee at the El Paso Natural Gas plant near Earth. Lockey was employed at the plant here from 1958 to 1968. He transferred from here to the plant near Wassan, Texas. He has been supervisor at the Goldsmith plant for approximately two years, and resided in Odessa according to Ed Townsend of the local El Paso Gas plant.

Others dead were identified as James C. Fife, 25 an oiler and Robbie J. Carpenter 45, a plant operator.

The injured were Virgil Faulkner, 49, suffered second-degree burns over 40 per cent of his body and was taken to Medical Center Hospital in Odessa, about 50 miles away.

Also taken there was Mike Arthur, 23, who suffered smoke inhalation and a broken foot. Employee Harold Frymier, who suffered cuts, was treated and released.

The explosion sent shockwaves ripping through the small town of Goldsmith located about a mile from the plant. Flames from the resulting fire could be seen for miles in this flat, semi-arid area of West Texas.

Windows were knocked out in a 300-yard radius of the explosion, which occurred about 12:30 a.m.

Roy Bradley, who is currently employed at the Goldsmith plant, and a former employee at the local plant near Earth, said the plant crew had just changed shifts at midnight. He said that Lockey, shift supervisor and two other men had just come on duty and walked out to the scrubber when the explosion took place.

The three badly charred bodies were found near a gravel bank.

The ghostly occupants of this haunted house know very well. In fact, they refuse to move because they enjoy their comfort so much. What's causing the comfort they've become so accustomed to? It's the electric heat pump. The heat pump provides cozy warmth in the winter and just right cooling in the summer with just one unit. One temperature setting keeps the un-earthly residents in heavenly comfort throughout the year...and it'll do the same for you and your family.

$1,817,818⁷⁰ Budget Approved By Commissioners

A budget totaling $1,817,818, 70 was approved for 1976 by the Lamb County Commissioners when they met Friday for the Special Budget Hearing and Tax Evaluating Hearing. They also took care of other business matters on the agenda.

The budget for next year is based on an assessed value of $46,000,000 with that figure based on approximately 25 percent of the true or market value of the property assessed. The proposed county tax levy is 85 cents on each $100 of evaluation, the same tax levy now in effect.

The 1975 budget gives elected officials a 10 percent raise in salary and reflects a $25 to $30 a month raise for most court house employees.

In other action, the Court transferred $30,000 from the general fund to the officers' salary fund, approved the quarterly reports of various departments, and approved the monthly reports of various offices and departments.

Action on a request from the district attorney was tabled concerning Lamb County paying $72.49 per month toward travel expenditures for the attorney's special investigator. Applicants for a secretary's job were discussed and three applicants were interviewed, but no action was taken.

Tax Assessor-collector Herbert Dunn presented the Court with a recap of the Lamb County tax roll for their approval and signatures. The total assessed value of property was evaluated at $48,427,375, with the total amount of taxes collected totaling $483,931.40.

Bill Powell from the South Plains Community Action central office in Levelland reported and asked for support on a planned winterization program. The winterization program calls for small minor repairs to the homes of elderly and low income persons. Caulking, insulation, new window panes, filling of cracks and such work which would reduce utility costs would be done through the Man Power and Green Thumb Programs.

County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson met with the Court to present the statement of act which will be presented to the attorney for Jack Yarbrough concerning a petition pending hearing in district court.

Billy Gunther with the Texas A&M Agricultural Extension and Experiment Station met with the court. Jimmy Kuykendall, assistant county agent is leaving his position in Lamb County effective October 15. Gunther told the court a replacement for Kuykendall probably couldn't be made until another group of qualified graduates got degrees from college this term.

Court members will be attending a County Judges and Commissioners meeting in McAllen this week, so there will not be a regular second Monday session.

MCA To Study Propellant Effect On Ozone Layer

Contracts amounting to over $500,000 for research into the impacts, if any, of fluorocarbons on the earth's atmosphere have recently been signed by the Manufacturing Chemists Association (MCA).

The seven new projects, which bring to a total of 17 the number of major fluorocarbon research projects currently being administered by MCA, are part of a broad, ongoing program to test the hypothesis that these compounds are a threat to the stratospheric ozone layer.

Such concern has been expressed by some scientists who predict that fluorocarbons, which are used as propellants in some aerosol spray cans and in air conditioning and refrigeration units, may deplete the earth's ozone shelf—a layer in the stratosphere that protects the earth from ultraviolet radiation.

The MCA research program is supported by 19 companies from the U.S., Australia, Canada, England, France, Germany, Italy, Japan and the Netherlands, and currently involves a financial commitment of more than $1.1 million. There are also a number of smaller consulting projects currently in progress. Companies supporting the research expect to spend about $5 million during a three-year period to develop enough scientific evidence to define the impact of fluorocarbons on the atmosphere.

More Public Workers

There were almost 14.7 million civilian public employees in October 1974, an increase of 529,000 (3.2 percent) over the same month in 1973, according to the Bureau of the Census.

The increase is accounted for almost entirely by state and local governments, where employment totals rose from 11.4 to 11.8 million (3.9 percent), while the number of federal civilian employees rose only to 2.9 million.

For Parents

If you have small children, put plastic insert plugs in all floor-level electrical outlets when they are not in use. This will prevent children from inserting something metallic into the outlet and receiving an electrical shock.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

BY: BILL WELDON

DISTRICT CHAMPIONS! The words not only have a nice ring but carry a prestigious connotation in the football crazed world of Texas. As other high school teams in every nook and cranny of this giant state vie for that coveted title, the "Green Machine" begins its own quest for the trophy when it travels Northward to battle one of its most hated rivals, the Vega Longhorns.

All the long, hot practices during two-a-days and the grind of preparing each week for a pre-district foe are now but a fading memory. The lessons learned during those times, the techniques worked on each week, the endless drills for timing all will play a part Friday night in determining who takes the big step toward the championship.

While the Wolverines have been spasmodic during the pre-district warfare, the experimentation of players in different positions and the use of younger players in key situations may help the team depthwise in case of injury as it begins the long trek to the district title.

The Wolverines have developed a fine running attack, and proven that they are blessed with an unusual stable of running backs that are interchangeable in different positions. The quarterback slot is proven depthwise, but still must show that the leadership quality is there to guide the team through district unscathed.

The offensive line has been ineffective on occasion, but has shown that when settled it can control the line of scrimmage. Against Vega the receiving corp may play an important part if the running game is not moving or just to keep the Longhorns off balance. No doubt Vega will try and pressure the Wolverines into throwing the ball and for the offense to be consistent and balanced the passing game will have to be improved to allow the Wolverines to move the ball.

The defense has proven itself over and over during non-district warfare, really experiencing only brief periods of mental letdown. But in a tight game even that could be fatal. The defense will have to employ its killer instinct a full 48 minutes and force Vega into mistakes, giving the offense both good field position and the opportunity to score quickly. If any one fault stands out in the defense so far, it is probably a case of over-aggressiveness which has resulted in mistakes or penalties at inopportune times. Vega brings a tradition of winning into Friday night's contest, having either won or tied for the title three of the last five years. While not blessed with an unusual number of quality football players, the Longhorns will be tough in key positions and in the leadership department.

The offense has shown the ability to score points while using three formations. Probably the Longhorns will use the Wishbone and Power I sets more frequently but have tried the veer attack on occasion. Look for Larry Richardson (5'9", 145 lb. Senior), Larry Kirkland (5'9", 140 lb. Senior) and either David Doshier (5'9", 165 lb. Junior) or Kevin Montgomery (5'9", 145 lb. Senior) to carry the ball as Vega relies mainly on a ground attack and uses the pass sparingly.

Vega's weak link this year has been the defense which has given up an unusual number of points. Led by Gerald Berry (6'2", 240 lb. Senior) an all state pick, the Longhorns basically use the 6-1 but will change to a split six on occasion, depending on situation and score.

It goes without saying that the winner of this contest will be in the driver's seat for the district crown. The Wolverines must be hungry and angry Friday night if they are to take that first step in the race for the title. Vega will remember last year and be itching for revenge, as it kept them from winning the championship outright. If the Wolverines can overcome mental mistakes and play with intensity for a full 48 minutes, then they will have an all important victory.

Arthritis Cure Diets Won't Cure, Says Specialist

Trying "arthritis cure diets" won't help the arthritis sufferer feel any better, Mrs. Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist, says.

No special diet or specific food will cure arthritis, because no food causes it, she said.

Mrs. Sweeten is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Arthritis is a chronic inflammatory process of unknown origin which causes discomfort and pain of the joints.

"And extensive research has failed to show that the absence or presence of any food or vitamin will either cause or cure any form of arthritis," she explained.

Trying to alleviate the pain, many arthritis fall victim to food faddists or self-appointed "arthritis experts" who advocate bizarre diet plans for quick, miraculous cures, she said.

"And even though medical authorities say these diets are ineffective, one survey revealed that almost 2.5 million people have tried some special diet or miracle food to relieve their pain.

"Estimates show that Americans spend over $250 million each year on quick remedies for arthritis."

Mentioning specific so-called "arthritis cures," Mrs. Sweeten said that one claim has been "you can eat your way into arthritis and then eat your way out again." She said this is as absurd as saying that by eating oysters a person can increase his sexual potency.

Other claims advocated using cod liver oil with orange juice and honey with vinegar.

"Careful examination of people claiming arthritis cures by fad diet reveals that they were only self-diagnosed arthritics who never had the disease to cure," the specialist said.

An arthritis sufferer can save himself much disappointment and frustration if he will accept the basic nutritional fact that no special diet or vitamin will cure arthritis.

"It is true that patients with arthritis, particularly the rheumatoid type, often do have decreased plasma levels of vitamins, as do patients with many other chronic diseases. And vitamin supplements will correct this deficiency, but this has no effect on the disease itself.

"Many experiments relating vitamin levels with arthritis, especially Vitamins A, C, B-complex, D and E, have been performed. All show that no anti-rheumatic vitamin is necessary for the arthritic patient, because a nutritionally-balanced diet provides all the essential nutrients and energy any person needs," she said.

Health Careers Program To Be Presented At S-E

The Texas Health Careers Program will present a Health Careers Assembly for Springlake-Earth High School on Thursday, October 23, at 10:30 a.m. The unique presentation by John Haddad, Assistant Director of the Texas Health Careers Program, is designed to introduce exciting career opportunities in health care to all students.

With ever advancing technology and research the health care field offers great employment opportunities to people with a diversity of education and training. By 1980 it is projected the health care industry will employ more than any other single industry in the United States with the exception of Federal and state government.

The Texas Health Careers Program is a project of the Texas Hospital Education and Research Foundation and was begun in 1964 by the Texas Hospital Association because of a severe shortage in all health manpower categories. During the past seven years the Texas Health Careers Program has presented over 2,300 assemblies to more than a million Texas high school and junior school students.

English II Students Write About "Litter Birds"

Mrs. Linda Hill, English II teacher at Springlake-Earth recently asked her class to write poems, themes are what have you, concerning the litter American people strew across the country apparently without being aware, and of the effect their unthoughtfulness may have on the country and future generations.

The top six themes will be published. The three judged first, second and third respectfully are Vicki Freeman, Daneen Wilson and Oralia Bustos. Honorable mention went to Clint Dawson, Susan Clayton and Kareen Hulcy.

"DIRTY BIRD"
By: Vicki Freeman

There's a certain type of bird, Who's awful as can be, He goes and throws trash everywhere; And it's nature who pays the fee. He never thinks of others, He thinks he's really cool, He really isn't very smart, He's just a great big fool. So, if you ever see him, He'll laugh and throw trash constantly;

You'd better keep your eyes on guard, Could be he looks like you and me.

"THE DIRTY BIRDS NEST"
By: Daneen Wilson

What you see here is a Dirty Bird's nest. It belongs to a very large pest. He puts his trash where it doesn't belong-in yards, roads, rivers, and ponds. He pollutes the air and covers the ground with things we care not to have around. And yet, when we think where we've left our cans; where we've left our papers; where we've left them to stand, we really can't complain about the Dirty Bird's mess for we have formed our own "Dirty Nest." It doesn't look pretty as you can see by this nest. So, let's try to stop it and work for the best!

"THE DIRTY BIRD"
By: Oralia Bustos

HI, I'm the Dirty Bird here to tell you about the bad way they treat me over at Springlake and Earth. They pick up all the trash I throw and try to kill me everywhere they see me. So I came here to visit you. Hope you like me and treat me better than they did. I also hope that I could meet each and everyone of you in person. Aren't you gonna give me a big welcome.

"DIRTY BIRD"
By: Clint Dawson

A dirty bird is a thoughtless, uncaring birdbrain. He flies around dropping all sorts of trash; cans, paper, left-over food. He doesn't think about what he's doing. He doesn't realize how wasteful and ugly it is. He doesn't care how our highways and countryside look. A dirty bird would never stoop to pick up a candy wrapper or a beer can. He would never save his trash for some lonesome trash can. Some people may wonder who could be so careless. Only a thoughtless, uncaring birdbrain would. Like you and me. Come on birdbrains, let's pitch in and clean up.

"LET'S STOP THE DIRTY BIRD"
By: Kareen Hulcy

The Dirty Bird has been littering our beautiful country side for a number of years and it's about time WE stopped him. It's going to take every single one of us. I think that it should start right here in our own community of Springlake-Earth. But we need to get everyone in the whole state of Texas involved to get this terrible bird evacuated. It needs to be stopped now before it gets any worse. PLEASE help us to stop him, before he stops us.

"DIRTY BIRD"
By: Susan Clayton

I am the Dirty Bird. Everyday I hide on the side of the roads and highways all over the world, just waiting until no one is coming. Then I throw out my trash. I scatter it all over the roads and ditches. It makes quite a mess. Every now and

Insight Into Child Abuse

How would it feel to be physically abused by an angry parent for something you didn't do and don't understand?

Mrs. Dorothy Powell, County Extension Agent, pointed out that everyday hundreds of young children are abused by parents or guardians who are unaware of the seriousness of their actions.

Most of the reported cases of abuse occur to children under 3 years of age, who are unable to defend themselves, she said.

Child abuse happens in all economic levels and cultural groups in our society. Usually one parent inflicts the injuries and the other parent passively accepts the situation.

Once a child is abused, chances are he may be again. Lashing, bashing, scalding, burning, shaking, kicking, biting or suffocating a child are some of the kinds of physical abuses which cause serious injury or death, the agent explained.

But parents can also abuse a child emotionally by failing to provide the love and affection the child needs or by restricting his social experiences outside the home. And it's difficult for a person who has sustained continual abuse as a child to become a good parent once he's grown, she noted.

Incidences of abuse often occur during a time of crisis when parents are under a great deal of stress.

If the parent is unable to talk about or deal effectively with his emotions, the child may become the scapegoat. Although the incident is often short lived, the damage is permanent.

Abuse also happens when parents hold unrealistic expectations for the child. Harsh punishment becomes the way they teach the child to behave in a desired manner, even if he is too immature to act as expected.

And in some situations, an immature and inexperienced mother may injure the child because he can't provide the affection she seeks. Mrs. Powell said.

Older People Keep Learning

Why all the talk nowadays about learning and the older person?

"Because one of the greatest resources of all older Americans is the individual capacity for continuing personal development," Mrs. Vivian Blair, family life education-aging-specialist explained this week.

This is the critically important factor for success in many new services for this age group, the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, noted.

"Also, learning can make adjustment to new life styles easier and add exhilaration to new leisure interests.

"Older people can learn to care for their own health problems and help others in their group. This is more important now than ever as costs continue to rise for improved health and other services to the aging," the specialist added.

"Learning can help older people become better consumers. They can make better use of facilities such as libraries and museums, along with learning better nutrition, health maintenance and keeping up with current legislation, art, music, religion or job training."

Some learning programs are operated entirely by older people themselves or older volunteers. In any sizeable group of older people, almost any talent is likely to be available, Mrs. Blair reminded.

"If all printers were determined not to print anything till they were sure it would offend nobody, there would be very little printed."

PLAINVIEW HOSTS RWD Arts And Crafts Festival October 17-19

The Plainview Rotary Club and the Llano Estacado Museum of Plainview, will co-sponsor the Running Water Draw Arts and Crafts Festival October 17-19. The Festival, to feature over 100 artists and craftsmen from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, will be held at the Hale County Agricultural Center in Plainview. Visitors to the Festival will find a variety of arts and crafts for sale, including oil paintings, watercolor, pottery, macramé, metal sculpture, dip and drape dolls, acrylic-painted ceramics, silk-screened T-shirts, handcrafted and handpainted jewelry, decorated candles, woodcarving, needlework, leathercraft, and handcrafted musical instruments.

One artist offering musical instruments for sale will be Stinson Behlen of Slaton, Texas, whose hand-made Southern Highland dulcimers have been displayed and demonstrated at festivals throughout the state for many years. Other artists who will offer their work at the Festival include Ruth Barnett, Hale Center; Ted Bell of Floydada; Charles Kiel Berg, Albuquerque, New Mexico; Jon Birdsong, Amarillo; Bernard Vetter, El Paso; and L. D. and Mary Cheatham, Lubbock. With 120 artists participating, there will be quite a variety of artwork available for purchase as visitors to the Festival take heed of the Festival slogan, "Buy something original for Christmas."

"Christmas in October" will not be the only theme of the Festival. It is also a recognized Bicentennial Committee event, and, as such, will be another way to celebrate the Bicentennial year. Gwen Reed of Hale Center, will illustrate the 200-year theme when she demonstrates the spinning and weaving that has been part of the American heritage from its beginning. Visitors to the Festival will also enjoy the entertainment provided nightly by local vocal groups. Plainview square dance clubs will perform Friday and Saturday nights from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. and from 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. Sunday. Visitors will be able to refresh themselves at several concessions throughout the Festival.

The Festival will be open to visitors from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. daily, with admission costing adults $1.00 and students 50¢ daily. A three-day Festival pass will be available for $2.50 for adults and $1.00 for children. All inquiries concerning the Festival should be directed to Dr. C. Gwen Morris, Box 20, Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Texas 79072. The Festival, sure to be an important area event, is expected to be repeated yearly.

Rattlesnakes Have Certain Habits

A veteran reptile authority here suggests that hunters and others who frequent the outdoors learn to avoid rattlesnakes by knowing their habits.

Joseph Laszlo, head of the San Antonio Zoo's reptile garden, says rattlesnakes have set patterns of activity, which can be anticipated, depending on the weather, time of day and season of the year.

He points out rattlesnakes take to cover during extreme hot and cold weather, but can be expected to be on the move at any time of day or night when the surface temperature ranges between 70 and 88 degrees.

Laszlo cautions laymen to be especially alert in the early evening when the sun goes down, the rattlesnake's favorite time to search for food.

He warns that even when not moving rattlesnakes still may be encountered, particularly in dry country, lurking under cactus, Mesquite bush or tree, in high weeds or grass, behind a fallen log, in a roadside ditch, fence line, hedgerow or on a rocky ledge.

"Hikers and others who find it necessary to walk in these places should wear stout leather boots, knee-high leggings or snake-proof pants, and should never sit or climb without first checking the area carefully," Laszlo suggests.

He recommends that hunters use a flashlight in going to and from their deer stands in the early morning before daylight and in the evening after dark.

He also notes that where rats, mice and rabbits are plentiful, it is almost certain rattlesnakes will be in abundance, too. Despite every precaution, a number of unwary laymen become snakebite victims every year. Fortunately, a San Antonio physician and surgeon has pioneered a new technique for first aid in the field, using crushed ice over the wound in place of the more painful "cut and suck" ordeal.

The ice cools the venom, without freezing the injured member, and slows down the poison until the victim can be brought to a proper medical facility.

The new first aid measure, which has been popularized by San Antonio's Emergency Medical Services technicians, has led to the introduction of a new first aid kit, named "Snakebite Freeze," which contains chemical ice packs for use where ice is not always readily available.

The kit, which can be stored in hunting vehicles and camps, now is available at pharmacies, sporting goods stores, farm and ranch outlets or from Ameri Laboratories, 307 Nakoma, St. Antonio, Texas 78216.

Reduce Homemaking Efforts, Change Standards

Homemakers can reduce time and effort spent on household work, if they are willing to make a "standard" shift, Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, a family resource management specialist, says.

"Often, a family must adjust its standards to meet changing situations. For example, they may decide that the second paycheck and personal satisfaction of the employed homemaker are more important than daily vacuuming," she explained.

Mrs. Chenoweth is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Another approach to reducing household work time for the homemaker is sharing family responsibilities. And sometimes this means accepting the standards of the person to whom a job is delegated. If children make the beds, they may not look quite as neat as if the homemaker made them, but they'll be made."

Reorganizing chores is another way to ease the homemaker's load. She suggested washing sheets and putting the same ones back on the beds to eliminate time spent folding them.

"This may mean the beds stay unmade longer on laundry day and the sheets wear out sooner, but the homemaker saves time."

"Each family has to make decisions about what satisfies them," she said.

HATS WITH BRIMS are gaining popularity as the weather cools. They provide balance for the longer, fuller skirts being worn now.

CORNER CATCHER

The only center pivot in the world that hits the corners.

In a typical quarter section where a regular center pivot is irrigating 132 acres, you can now do about 150 acres. But the new Valley Corner System isn't limited to squares. Irrigate both ends of a rectangle. Irrigate odd shaped pieces of land too. It's the answer to getting valuable productive land that's been wasted, back under center pivot irrigation.

For flood irrigators, it's also the answer to automatic water and labor saving center pivot, without wasting valuable acres. No monitoring, no labor problems, no night work. But you have all the advantages of precise irrigation and fertilizer application through the system, that produces higher yields than ever before. It's a simple concept, precise in operation and engineered with quality of all Valley-built Center Pivots.
