General Telephone Company Rate Request Still High

City Council Still Working For A Compromise

General Telephone Company released a news item which appeared in The Earth News two weeks ago. The Earth City Council wishes to make this reply to further inform the public of the actual figures in volved in the telephone meeting.

As far as the City Council is concerned, all proposals relating to the Extended Area Service through Big Square and Lutzville have been approved. Since the E. A. S. and the increased rate proposal are two separate items.

However the Telephone Company will not accept these proposals as two separate items.

Also the telephone company will not accept these proposals until the City Council approves an additional rate raise.

Their requests are, including charges of thirty cents to sixty-five cents for E. A. S. as follows:

Present monthly rate, business: 1 party service $6.25, 2 party service $4.75, extension $1.50.

Proposed monthly rate, business: 1 party service, $10.50, 2 party service, $8.50, extension, $1.50.

Present monthly rate, residence: 1 party service, $3.50, 2 party service, $2.00, extension, 75c.

Proposed monthly rate, residence: 1 party service, $5.50, 2 party service, $4.50, extension 75c.

After studying the 1954 financial statement of the General Telephone Company, the City Council proposed, in a meeting with General Telephone Company officials, June 1, the following compromise rates, which include E. A. S. charges:

Business: 1 party service $8.75, 2 party service, $7.50.

Residence: 1 party service, $4.75, 2 party service, $3.75.

These proposed rate increases were to take effect only when E. A. S. is connected to Earth exchange. General Telephone Company would not accept these rates.

These rates are comparable with increased rates in surrounding towns.

The Earth City Council is ready for a reasonable compromise with the General Telephone Company, and is anxious for the completion of the Extended Area Service.

Plans Completed For Barbecue and Rodeo Parade

The Earth Riding Club will sponsor a barbecue, free to the public on Thursday, July 28th. Plans for this event were completed at the club meeting Monday night. This barbecue is an annual affair held each year in cooperation with the Earth Rodeo, and all citizens of Earth and surrounding vicinity are cordially invited to attend.

The menu planned for this year will consist of barbecue, beans, potato salad, pickles, onions and stewed apricots. The Baldrige Bread Company has graciously offered to donate plenty of good fresh bread. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Starkey, owner and operator of the Starkey Steak House, will prepare most of the food. They plan to close their cafe on the 28th and devote the entire day in preparation for the large crowd expected at the barbecue. The club members shall also help with the meal by each bringing a large bowl of potato salad.

In previous years and this year, the club has been approached with the idea from the public about bringing covered dishes. Since the barbecue is for the enjoyment and entertainment of the community, anyone desiring to help make a success and take part in this affair by bringing a covered dish, are welcomed to do so, and each contribution will be most sincerely appreciated by the club.

The Earth Elevator has offered the use of their warehouse in which to serve the barbecue. The Riding Club accepts this kind offer with many thanks. And through the courtesy and generosity of the Joe Simpson Hotel, the visiting Riding Clubs and Sheriff's posse shall have rooms 6, 7, 8, and 9 in the new hotel reserved for their convenience between the hours of 12:00 noon and 7:00 p.m. on the opening day of the rodeo. NOSIN'... WITH POLLY

Everyone in Earth and Springlake is so proud to know that Marshall Kelley has proven strong enough to withstand every, and is improving every day. We all are thankful for this. —nosin'—

You don't think we get tired here at the Earth News every Wednesday night, from about 6 a.m. then you should know. About that time we're hoping we can complete production of another issue of the paper and we are trying to restore our brain cells with education, conversation, sorta on this or that. For instance Red come up with a little bug he had found on his floor about 4:00 a.m. and asked what kind of bug it was. I went to sorta look at the bug, which looked very ordinary to me, with a sorta hungry look. I said it's just a little "bug," and he said "no, it isn't a meetin' bug" (I BIT) I asked is a "meetin' bug?" answer come, "Oh, Earth is thickly populated with MEETIN' BUGS, they're the ones that meet every Wednesday at the Earth News." —nosin'—

Please forgive this column this time. Cause I got a chance to go and just couldn't resist.

There is nothing new about pulleys. This gadget can be tossed in any garage compartment of any size you've forgotten that old class lesson about the pulley. You can multiply your lifting strength three or four times by using pulleys. So with just a few pulleys, you can lift your car to change a tire, load your boat, or that giant boulder into your rear garden.

Another new invention now on the market is a new kind of grip to end all toenailing. It's a framing anchor to hold in other timbers where they meet, without the need of anything or otherwise.

When nailed along the top of the end of a timber, they can be nailed to an abutment, but also to the top of a timber. This makes it easy to make a positive joint between a rafter and headers or trim. The stairs are stronger because of the lack of notching or possibility of splitting by nailing.

In addition to the strength and adequate nailing, these grips offer a big advantage in time saved.

Over Four Million Acres Are Irrigated On South Plains

More than 4,000,000 acres of land is being irrigated by 33,537 wells on the High Plains of Texas. This and other facts are presented in the annual irrigation survey by R. V. Thurmond, and Ralph L. Jones of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The reports, made yearly since 1949, show the tremendous expansion of irrigation in the area. The first report showed that 12,478 wells were being used to irrigate 1,711,000 acres on 9,925 farms. By May 1955, the number of irrigated farms stood at 17,699; the number of wells at 33,537 and the irrigated acreage at 4,017,548.

From May 1954 to May 1955,

5,554 wells were added and the acreage irrigated increased by 390,425. The greatest increase in the number of wells during the seven year period was 6,268 added from May 1952 to May 1953. The increase in the area irrigated rose by 598,094 acres.

Hale County with 3,700 wells is the leader in this category. These wells supply the water to irrigate 470,000 acres. The 3,000 wells in Swisher county supply the water for 480,000 acres. The report shows Hockley county with 33,550 wells; Lubbock with 3,300 and Lamb county with 2,800 to rank high in the area.

Butane is used on 15,447 wells while natural gas powers another 11,881 pumping plants. A majority of the wells, 24,779 had a pumping lift of more than 125 feet and 17,592 were shown with a pumping capacity of under 700 gallons per minute.

Bible Words for Today

PHILIPPIANS 2:1-5—"So by all the stimulus of Christ, by every incentive of love, by all your participation in the Spirit, by all your affectionate tenderness, I pray you to give me the utter joy of knowing that you are living in harmony, with the same feelings of love, with one heart and soul, never acting for private ends or from vanity, but humbly considering each other the better man, and each with an eye to the interests of others as well as to his own. Treat one another with the same spirit as you experience in Christ Jesus." (Moffatt)

Too many men are at war with themselves. In too many families, communities, and nations, there is strife. The world itself struggles for peace. The secret of harmony lies in these words. "Treat one another with the same spirit as you experience in Christ Jesus." In that spirit, men do not act for private ends or from vanity. They have an eye to the interests of others as well as to their own. They maintain the spirit of love and act for the common good with one heart and soul. Men who have tried this find that it works.

Air Force Announces Attractive New Grade Adjustment for Vets Reenlisting

All veterans of the Earth-Springlake area, regardless of former military affiliation, who have been discharged since July 1951 and who possess a skill needed by the Air Force can now reenlist with an attractive grade adjustment, it has been announced by T-Sgt. Otto Havins, local Air Force Recruiter.

The reenlistment program is part of a new policy designed by the Air Force to benefit the veteran and also insure the procurement of the much needed prior service technician. In addition the policy allows veterans the theater where he would like to serve.

In the past, one of the drawbacks to reenlistment was the 90 day after discharge time limitation. For veterans who possess skills which are needed by the Air Force, that time has now been extended. From time to time the classifications of the specialties will be changed depending upon the needs of the Air Force.

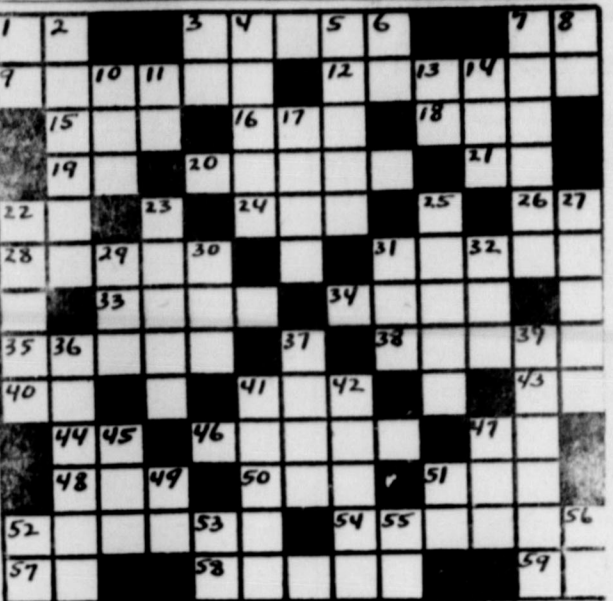

For skills presently classed as surplus, grade determination will depend mostly on date of separation. Veterans reenlisting with a surplus skill will be offered the opportunity to train in a specialty of their choice which is currently on the needed list.

Sgt. Havins said that since this reenlistment policies completely that all veterans should be aware of the many new benefits, he will be in the Earth - Springlake area each Monday afternoon, or can be contacted at Room 292, Post Office Building in Lubbock, in the event any veteran has any questions regarding their status under these new provisions.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cowley have as their guests, Mrs. Cowley's mother and sister, Mrs. Janine Doughty of Martha, Oklahoma and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Graham of McAllen, Texas.

Let Us Reason Together
By W. E. IRVINE

IS CONSCIENCE A SAFE GUIDE IN RELIGION?

Many times we hear people say, "Well, I'm satisfied with my religion. My conscience is clear, so leave me alone and allow me to go my way." It is important that man's conscience be clear, but it must be in harmony with God's word. Just because a man thinks he's right does not make it so even though his conscience is clear.

Saul was a man of great zeal even before he became a Christian. He persecuted the church, consenting unto the death of Stephen and doing all within his power to defeat the Cause of Christ. But doing all things contrary to God's will, he THOUGHT he was doing right. He said after his conversion, "I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth." Acts 26:9. He was sincere and did all these terrible things in GOOD CONSCIENCE according to his statement in Acts 23:1 "Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day." Yes, he put Christians in jail, consented unto their deaths and persecuted the church, and did all these things in GOOD CONSCIENCE. Would he have been saved if he had died while still persecuting the church? He did all things in good conscience. He THOUGHT he was right.

We know Saul would have been lost, because he was in sin, even though he THOUGHT he was right.

"The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, But he that is wise hearkeneth unto the council." Prov. 12:15. We must hearken unto the council of God in all things. We must obey Christ, not our own thoughts. "Though He were a son, yet learned he obedience through the things which he suffered. And being perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey Him." Our salvation hinges on whether or not our conscience is clear. Our conscience must be in harmony with God's law. Have you compared your religion with that of the New Testament lately? You better.

Picnic With Cook-Out Spaghetti

IT'S picnic time! The Browns, the Smiths, and the Thompsons, too, are packing baskets with "fun foods" and trotting off to the picnic grounds . . . or maybe just to the back yard. At this time of year any excuse will do for moving meals to the outdoors.

Cook-Out Spaghetti makes the picnic as much fun for Mom as it is for the kiddies. She can prepare the spaghetti at home and tote it to the picnic in a casserole, wrapped in newspapers to keep it hot. Or the gang can gather round the campfire and take turns stirring the spaghetti in a big black kettle.

The recipe is as easy as 1-2-3. Just brown ground beef, green pepper, and onion; then blend in canned spaghetti and seasonings.

In case bad weather keeps the crowd indoors, Cook-Out Spaghetti will make it seem like a picnic just the same. For it's fine fare with carrot sticks, pickles and olives, fresh fruit, and chewy browned marshmallows that taste equally good toasted in the fireplace or over a campfire.

Whether your "gang" numbers 4 or 24, take a vacation from cooking, and plan a picnic with Cook-Out Spaghetti soon!

Longer Harvest Season This Fall As Result of Rainfall

One of the longest harvest seasons in recent agricultural history seems to be in store for Lamb County farmers, according to reports from farm observers and agricultural experts.

Most observers feel that barring an extremely early freeze, the harvest season this fall will run a full three months if not longer, compared to the six weeks to two months harvest in recent years.

Basing their estimates on the spring planting, farm experts say that cotton will begin maturing early and will continue, barring an early freeze, for three months or more.

A good bit of cotton was planted in April around Fieldton, and northward toward Springlake and above the sandhills. Some hail and rains caused part of this extremely early cotton to be replanted in May and June. Some farmers have been forced to replant three and four times.

A peculiarity of the replanting this spring has been the cause of the replanting. In springs of recent years, many farmers have had to plant twice or more, but it was generally due to having the young plant and seed blown out or sanded out by drouth conditions. This year the general complaint has been that early plantings have either been hailed out or washed out. One farmer observed that he had been washed out three times, and his cotton was going to be very late this fall for harvest.

Rains, despite the damage they did in some places, are generally conceded to be beneficial rather than detrimental. Because of the rains, the prospects for a bumper fall crop are the best since 1919, most farmers feel, despite their natural pessimism.

County Agent Dave Eaton reported that the insect threat is still light, but warned farmers that warm weather and high humidity were ideal for insects, and urged farmers to be on the alert for thrips and fleahoppers in their fields.

Weekly Cotton Crop Report Shows Need for Moisture

Weather conditions during the past week have been favorable for growth of cotton, although high winds damaged the crop in some localities. Temperatures ranged up to 100 degrees most days during the week.

Dryland cotton south and west of Lubbock suffered for lack of moisture, with some reported dying in parts of Bailey, Cochran, Yoakum, Gaines, Terry and Lynn counties. Cotton on unirrigated land in Bristoe, Crosby and Floyd counties made satisfactory progress. Irrigated cotton made good progress, with blooms showing in any of the earlier planted fields.

This report on conditions of insect infestation is based on records from 29 of 25 counties. Sixty-one reports were sent in, with records on 142 designated fields. Most of these records were made in Cochran, Crosby, Bailey, Hale and Lubbock counties.

Aphid infestations were generally lighter than during the previous weeks. Farmer county had heavy populations in a few fields.

Thrips infestations were reported as light to medium in a majority of fields over the area. Heaviest infestations were found on cotton in Bailey and Cochran counties in rather large numbers, along with fleahoppers. In some of the earlier planted fields in Crosby and Lubbock counties, insecticides used for control of the fleahoppers will give good thrips control.

Fleahoppers increased in numbers a portion in some fields, while in others there was little change in infestation from the previous week. Heaviest infestations were reported from Crosby, Bailey and Lubbock counties. While a majority of the more heavily infested plantings have had insecticides applied for control of the insects, some untreated cotton showed definite damage in excessive shed of tiny squares. Timely control of the fleahoppers will insure maximum set of early fruit.

Bollworm activity was indicated in reports from Bailey, Garza, Lynn, Cochran, Crosby, Howard, Lubbock, Mitchell and Terry counties. Low egg counts with occasional small worms, were found in a good number of fields. While none of the counts indicated a need for control, presence of the insect call for close and frequent checks of fields so that control of any damaging infestations may be effected as they appear. Small worms are more easily controlled, and form damage may be kept at a minimum with timely insecticide applications.

Spotted garden webworm damage to cotton has been reported in Lubbock and Lynn counties.

Lygus bugs have been found in small numbers on cotton in Cochran and Lubbock counties. Cotton near legumes should be watched for the appearance of this insect.

Grasshoppers continued to cause damage to cotton along fence rows in Bristoe and Swisher counties.

On some reports there are shown low to high infestations. We feel sure that a large number of fields have been checked. If we could have an indication of the number of fields checked and a breakdown of per cent infestations found in various fields, it would help us in making this report.

The A-C- All Crop Harvester

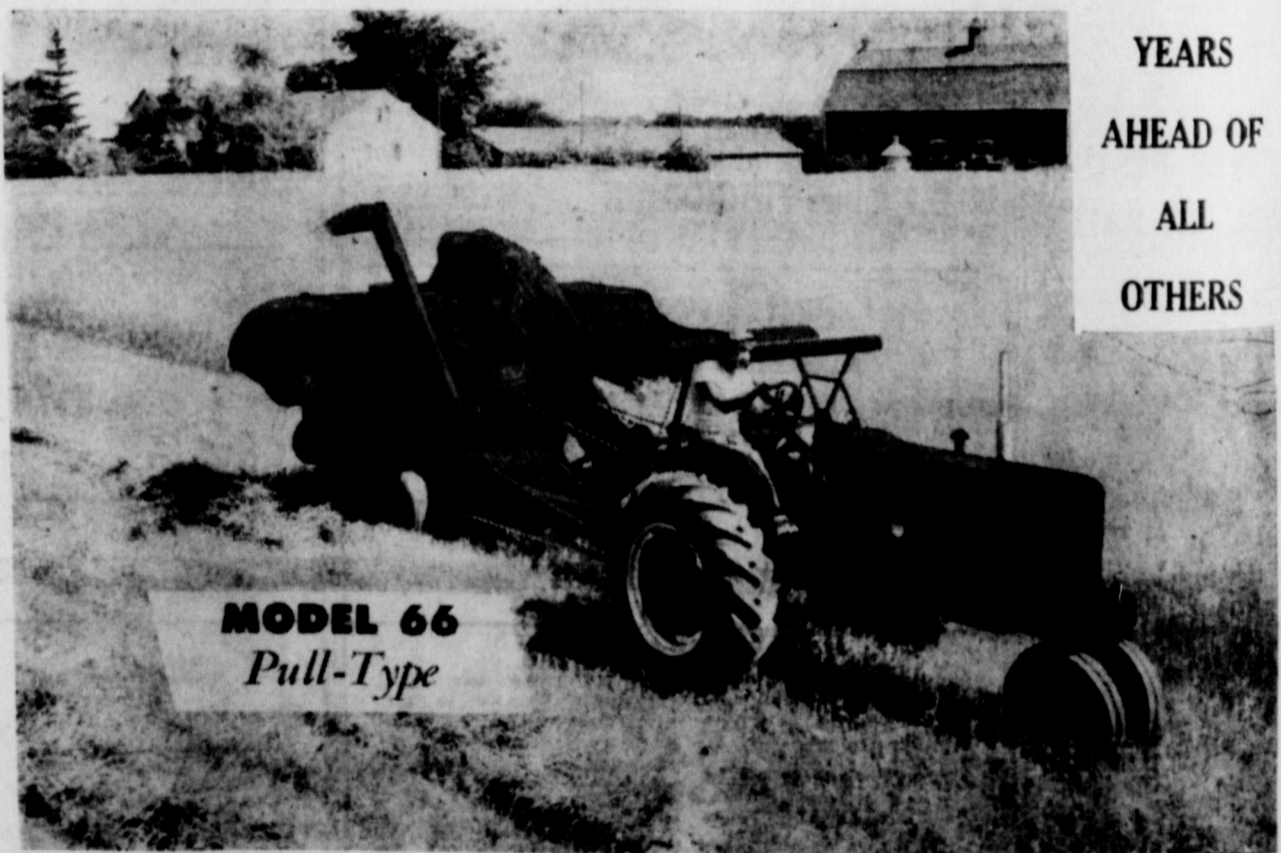

In The Beginning...

It started with the introduction of the Model 60 back in 1935 - the first ALL - CROP Harvester . . . pioneer of home - owned, owner - operated combine harvesters in the now popular "6 - foot - and - under" class.

It was first to bring the advantages of combining to family farms everywhere, and has grown steadily in favor through the years.

Today more farmers own ALL - CROP Harvesters, and harvest more crops and more acres than are harvested with any other make . . . convincing proof of the ALL - CROP's outstanding performance and greater dollar - value.

Parr wants the higher courts to vacate an order setting his trial for July 18, and to stop proceedings until the Appeals Court reaches a decision.

Also, he wants the case heard in Laredo. Originally it was scheduled for Corpus Christi, then moved to Austin.

Parr has denied the government's charges that he failed to

SCHOOL SQUABBLE

A 1,000 - name petition was presented to Dr. J. W. Edgar, State Commissioner of Education, urging him to cancel certificates of the 110 teachers who struck in the recent school row in Irving.

Filing the petition were Clifford J. Moore and Donald O. Starret, president and director, respectively, of public affairs at Irving.

They were advised by Dr. Edgar to have an attorney file a brief, supporting their contention, and if he decides he has jurisdiction, then each of the teachers involved will be granted individual public hearings.

Irving teachers struck in protest against the firing of Dr. John L. Beard as Superintendent of the old Irving school board. When the district was abolished, and a new one created, the new board rehire

Dr. Edgar ruled earlier that the Irving school board did not have proper cause for canceling Dr. Beard's contract as superintendent.

ITS THE LAW IN TEXAS...

THE DEBT IS OUTLAWED
John hadn't made any payment on an open account of his grocery bill for two and one-half years. He was not a dishonest man, but was just a poor manager. After several years, the groceryman sued for the bill.

John's attorney interposed the defense of the statute of limitations, and the groceryman was denied judgement. Yet there was no question but that John owed the money. One may ask why the law permit such a defense as the statute of limitations, or outlaw an otherwise valid claim.

The groceryman slept on his rights. He should have acted sooner. The courts cannot be used for processing stale claims. Proof of such claims is more difficult. One litigant might wait for the only adverse witness to die, and then sue. Memories grow dim and sometimes modified to fit one's etched views. So the law says it is no injustice to force a litigant to act within a reasonable time, whereas if he doesn't, justice is more likely to happen.

Practically all actions have time limitations. With some it is very short, as some claims against municipalities must be given within ten days after the accident. On the other hand there is a 25 year limitation applying to some types of claims involving rights to real property.

Even criminal actions must be brought within a certain period, usually two to three years. An exception is a murder charge, which may be brought at any time.

Lawyers use the word "laches" in certain cases to indicate that the litigant slept on his rights and should be denied relief since "equity aids the vigilant."
