STUDENT IN REVIEW

By Linda Starkey
 Our student in Review this week comes from 7B, which is Mrs.
 Lott's homeroom. He has attended Springlake Schools for seven years. He participates in football and weightlifting.
 His hobbies are building model cars.
 His teachers say
 The most valuable things come in small packages. Raul is a good human example of this, for certainly he is a valuable asset to our Junior High. In describing him you could use such words as obedient, industrious, courteous, and loyal.
 He is dependable and a very good student.
 He is well liked among his classmates and is very dependable.
 He is a very quiet, seriousminded young man. He always has his work done properly.
 He was on the B-honor roll all three six-weeks and also the semester.
 His parents are Mr. and Mrs.
 Julio Cortez who live one and one half miles from Earth.
 Our Student in Review is Raul
 Cortez.

Oilton Bows To Springlake

The Springlake Junior High
 eighth-grade girls were bowed to Thursday night, January 26th in the Springlake gym by Olton. The score last standing was 20-6 with Springlake as winner. The guards did a wonderful job in keeping the Olton forwards from scoring but 6 points. The guards were:
 Marilyn Coker, Peggy Upchurch,
 Pruda Kay Sanders, Joan Sanderson, Aline Powell, and Janis Layman. The forwards were: Beth Dent, Donna Watson, Brenda Townsend, Beverly Kelley, Oketa Pollis, and Alice Jaquess. At one point in the game, the forwards played as guards, and the guards played as forwards.
 The Springlake Junior High
 girls played Olton again January 30th at Olton. The public is urged to attend this game.

Jrs. In Sudan Tournament

The 8th grade girls were in the Sudan Basketball Tournament Jan.
 16, 20, 21. The girls played Muleshoe their first game on Monday night and were defeated 20-10.
 They played Olton their second game and won 33-15. Then they played for consolation, Saturday and was defeated 25-13 by Morton.

Springlake Downs Olton

The 8th-grade boys basketball team beat Olton, 25-21. The game was played Thursday night in the Springlake High School gymnasium. In the second half one of Olton's boys shot and made two points for Springlake.
 Gayle Sawyer and Thomas Gregory were the high point men. Each made ten points. David Glasscock scored two points and John Patterson scored one point. The other two points were scored by one of the boys from Olton.

VICTORY OVER OLTON

The 8th grade boys basketball team defeated Olton, 22 to 18. This was the second game the boys played in the Sudan tournament.
 The game was played Saturday morning at nine at Sudan. The boys stayed at Sudan to eat lunch so they could play again at two.
 The boys were trying for the consolation.

MR. PHILLIPS SPEAKS TO SEVENTH GRADE

By Helen Phillips
 Mr. Phillips, minister of the Church of Christ in Earth, spoke to both seventh grade, classes
 Thursday on what tobacco, alcohol, and narcotics do to a person spiritually and morally. He began his speech by reading a passage out of the Bible, 1 Cor. 6:19-20 and 1 Cor. 3:16-17. He told how people would not respect you as much,
 and it was just a bad habit that was very hard to break in smoking or drinking. All of the children enjoyed his talk very much, and I think everyone gained something from the talk.

EDITORIAL: NOTICE TO ATHLETES

By Peggy Stansell
 Does Springlake Schools have an Enthusiastic Athletic Program? Athletic programs in a high school contribute greatly to the physical development of the students and to the spirit of the student body. Enthusiastic athletic program, properly controlled, can be a tremendous asset to a high school.

A well rounded, challenging athletic program depends upon a number of factors. For one thing, the Board of Education and the administration must be convinced of the advantages of such a program and enthusiastic about it. The student body, coaches, and players must be well co-ordinated, and a favorable community climate must be maintained.

The Athletic field offers an excellent laboratory for character study. The athlete must learn the importance of following the coach's instruction. Respect of authority is a fundamental trait that must be developed by every athlete.

Experience teaches that many teams who have been physically undisciplined have "gone the second mile" in their training program, self-discipline, and mastery of the fundamental skills of the game to become champions.

The players on any team must learn to accept defeat without whining and victory without boasting. Heartbreaking defeats teach humility. The greatest athletes are humble.

Many teams make excellent beginnings but falter when the going gets tougher. These teams would be great ones if they would develop their powers of endurance. The athlete learns that the finish judge is never at the 50-yard line but at the goal line or the finish tape.

A player never gives up in spite of the keen competition, penalties or bad breaks. He gives his best at all times, regardless of the odds. He remains loyal to his team and endeavors to wear his school colors proudly.

In the final analysis, the real winner is the one who tries his very best at all times. He will push ahead in the heat of battle.

TWIRP WEEK BEGINS

By Glenda Williamson
Starting February 4, the boys of Springlake High School will get to save their money and let the girls pay all the expenses for a change. This revolution in dating is called Twirp Week.

Twirp Week is being sponsored by the Springlake FHA Chapter for the purpose of raising money for chapter projects. Twirp Week will begin February 4 and will end February 11 with a Sweetheart Banquet. During this week the girls will take the boy's place and perform all the duties he normally does on a date.

The rules for Twirp Week states what a girl must do to ask for a date, what to do on the date, and how the date must end. Rules for this unusual week are:

1. Girls have to ask the boys for a date during this week.
2. Girls have to buy a license to ask a boy for a date. The license costs ten cents.
3. Boys have to buy a license to refuse a date; if they have no license they have to go with the girl that asks them. This license is also ten cents.
4. Girls have to pay for all expenses during the week.
5. Girls have to drive their own cars, if not they have to drive the boy's car at all times. (Girls with no license are exceptions.)
6. Girls have to go after the boy at his house and walk him to the door after the date is over.
7. Girls have to open all doors and carry all books for the boy. In this case the boy has to have the refusal license to ask the girls to carry their books and open the doors.
8. Girls have to buy the plate for escort at the banquet.
9. Boys have to buy the girl's corsages they are going to the banquet with if they want one.
10. Girls have to buy the boy's buttonnere for the banquet if he wants one.

11. Girls have to be in FHA before they can attend the banquet.

12. Both boys and girls have to buy license if they are not going to go with anyone during the week.

13. Boys and girls who break any of these rules have a fine of ten cents to pay before they can receive their report cards for the following six weeks.

This is surely going to be a hilarious week and also a very unusual one. The FHA Chapter hopes everyone will enjoy this week and the chapter feels that it will be a great deal of fun for everyone that participates in it.

ASSEMBLY FEBRUARY 4

By Janette Ray

Monday, January 30, the High School and Junior High were honored with the presence of Dr. Forrest Feezor and Carlos Gruber, the evangelistic team from the First Baptist Church.

Carlos Gruber, who is from Latvia, played the Latvian National Anthem on his violin. Since Latvia is now overrun by the Communists, the people are not allowed to sing their National Anthem. Rev. Gruber sang "America" in his native tongue and also in his adapted tongue, Portuguese. Hearing these songs made us realize that we are truly fortunate to live in a country like America.

Dr. Feezor's subject was "The best teacher of Dr. Feezor's talk is experience. Someone has said that fools learn from no other teacher than experience. Dr. Feezor also spoke on the influence of habits. He admonished as young people not to start any habit that will hurt us. A habit starting out is like a cobweb but soon becomes as binding as a cable.

TEACHER INJURED

By Joan Gover

Mrs. McCaskill was injured Thursday Jan. 26 in the third period Chemistry class. The class was generating hydrogen chloride gas when she noticed that the generator set up by Ross Morris and Bobby Sloan was not set up properly. She noticed that the end of the thistle tube was not submerged in the liquid of the generator. While attempting to lower the thistle tube into the liquid, the thistle tube broke; the top of it cutting the palm of her hand. The tube, which is about one fourth inch in diameter, was thrust into the middle finger. As the thistle tube was removed, we found the end of the tube was still filled with flesh from the hand. Emergency treatment was administered by the school nurse. Later she went to the doctor where she received a tetanus shot. Mrs. McCaskill said that her finger became numb and did not hurt. She looked at the boys and girls in the class and wanted to laugh, because most of them were pale, but instead of laughing she insisted that they go back to their generators to prevent the escaping, irritating gas.

The doctor said it would be some time before the finger would heal.

Owls Fly By Wolverines

By Elisa Acevedo

January 27, 1961 Hale Center Owls met Springlake Wolverines at 7 o'clock Friday at Springlake gymnasium. Hale Center girls won over Springlake girls with the final score 48 points for Hale Center 25 points for Springlake. High point girl was Miss Lewis with 12 points followed by Julia Chance 7, Carolyn Gregory 4, Linda Oden 2.

The A team Hale Center boys had a close call. The Wolverines were playing ball. They played a close game, at the end it was matter of seconds who would win, but the final score was Springlake 37, Hale Center 38. High point man was Sandy Sanders with 15 points, followed by A. M. McGowan 11, Hal Hudson 9, Ronnie Dent 6, Bobby Sloan 3, Dale Dent 2.

Wondering Wolverine

By Patti Mann

Question: At what age do you think a person should be able to vote?

Cherly Foster: Twenty-one is the right age because when you are older you are more mature and you understand politics better.

Bob Lawton: Eighteen is plenty old enough because it has been tried in Georgia and as far as I can see it has worked there, so why not Texas?

Raymond Jenkins: Twenty-one, because a person eighteen is not qualified to make the decisions for our country.

Kay Sanders: At the age of eighteen you have to face the responsibilities of an adult so you should be able to vote, also.

Jimmy Baldwin: Twenty-one. Most of the kids at eighteen don't know what is going on in politics.

Hal Hudson: I think eighteen is the age to vote because at that age you can fight for your country and you are held accountable for what you do as an adult would be.

Camilla Wheatley: I think twenty-one because on the average the people under twenty-one are not mentally capable to vote.

Sandy Sanders: I think eighteen is old enough because most kids that have just graduated out of high school know more about politics than some men who have been out twenty years.

Eddie Crocker: If you are old enough to fight at eighteen, you should be old enough to vote.

Darrell Barlow: I think we know what is going on at the age of eighteen well enough to vote.

Stacie Evans: I think that twenty-one is a sufficient age because I know that I won't be ready much sooner than that age. I think, though, that at eighteen I could be more able to vote for president than for senate and local because you are more informed in the presidential election.

Some say that if you are old enough to fight for your country's rights you are old enough to vote, but you have been fighting for what you think is right since you were six or seven.

band. Also the awards committee gave a report on recommendations for earning awards for the band. Mr. Hemphill, band director, explained the new grading system in band.

We are proud of the progress of our band and are looking forward to next year with approximately 76 in the Wolverine band and 80 in the cub band.

Cub Scouts Have Pack Meet Tuesday

A pack meeting was held by the Cub Scouts Tuesday afternoon at the Earth Community Building.

Den II led the opening ceremonies of the Pledge to the Flag and a song, BE A CUB. In the program that followed, Kelley Earl O'Hair of Den IV gave a report of important facts concerning Venezuela. Den II carried flags of various South American countries and wore Ponchos made by mothers of the boys. The boys each gave an important fact concerning the specific country he had studied during the month of January. Den I had a report on Argentina given by Michael Berry with the remainder of the Den demonstrating the use of lariats, South American style, made of various colors. The 8 boys were attired in South American cowboy apparel, including vests, hats, sashes and silver spangles on their jeans. Den III had no program as there is no Den mother for this group. One boy was present from Den III.

Johnny Dale McNamara received his Bobcat pin. There were no other awards.

Den I displayed salt maps of South America, lariats, hats and vests made by the group.

Den II also had a display of salt maps, South American flags, lariats and Ponchos. C. L. Berry cub master gave the benediction.

At the business meeting that followed the program it was decided to have a Blue and Gold Banquet for the next Pack meeting to be held on February 28, with each family bringing a basket lunch, plates and cups for their own family. Frank Jackson to furnish drinks. Also, it was decided that Pack 114 would sell tickets to the Scout Circus to be held at Lubbock on March 10 and 11, rather than participate in the Circus performances.

February 6-12 will be National Scout Week, but no special program has been planned by the Pack except the Cubs are requested to wear their scout uniforms to their respective churches on Sunday, February 12. The theme for the month of February is "Genius Night."

Mrs. James Lackey has taken over as Den Mother of Den IV. Mrs. Weldon Barton is the new Den Mother for Den I assisted by
