Red River Dam Hearing Held Monday

DISCUSS FLOOD CONTROL, SOIL CONSERVATION

Facts in Regard to Project Presented To Army Engineer

Two hundred officials, landowners and farmers of a dozen counties of this section of the Panhandle attended the Red River Flood Control public hearing held by representatives of the war and agriculture departments of the Federal government at Childress Monday afternoon.

Lt. Col. S. L. Scott of Little Rock, Ark., district engineer represented the war department, and D. A. Dobkins of the soil conservation service, Ralph Justice and Jim Browning of the bureau of agricultural economics, and W. R. Doeter of the Fort Worth soil conservation office, represented the agriculture department.

There was not an adverse criticism voiced concerning building a dam across Red River, and many who will not be affected one way or the other endorsed the movement. Voluminous reports were submitted for the record, and stenographers took down all the oral reports.

Floods, erosion, irrigation, and water supply were discussed at length, and argument advanced as to the immense amount of good that would be accomplished by building a dam on the upper reaches of Red River.

Appearing at the hearing and speaking for the river dam were Whit Johnson, city secretary of Childress; Dr. Roy E. Barr, chairman of the board, and B. E. Tunnell, manager of the Upper Red River Flood Control and Irrigation. (Continued on last page)

W. S. Bennett Is To Be County Agent Of Oldham County

Assistant Agent Here Since February 1, 1937; Will Be Succeeded by Plainview Man

W. S. Bennett, assistant county agricultural agent of Hall County for approximately a year and a half, was last week named to succeed Ted Alexander as county agent of Oldham County, with headquarters at Vega. The promotion, effective May 21, was announced by Parker D. Hanna, district agent for the Texas Extension Service. Mr. Alexander had been appointed county agent of Potter County.

Mr. Bennett was transferred to Memphis February 1, 1937, from Pampa, where he served as assistant county agent, succeeding O. J. Walker here.

He is the son of W. E. Bennett, Randall County Hereford breeder and county commissioner, and is a graduate of West Texas State College. He will probably move his family to Vega within the next few days, it was stated.

Mr. Curry of Plainview will succeed Mr. Bennett as assistant county agent of Hall County. When he would assume his duties here, however, was not announced.

Medical Society Is To Have Meet Here

Memphis will be host to the Childress, Collingsworth, Hall County Medical Society Friday night of this week. The meeting will be held at 7 p. m. in the Triangle Room of the Memphis Hotel.

Dr. Hub E. Isaacs and Dr. H. K. Beall, both of the Beall Clinic in Fort Worth, have been secured by Dr. H. F. Schoolfield and Dr. W. Wilson to appear on the program. Dr. Isaacs will read a paper on "Modern Treatment of Prostatic Hypertrophy" and Dr. Beall will discuss "Some Very Useful Drugs, New and Old."

Dinner will be served promptly at 7 o'clock in order that the scientific program may begin early.

Memphis Is Airmail Station for One Day

Memphis had its first airmail plane this Thursday afternoon. The plane landed at 1 o'clock to pick up air mail that had been posted at the local post office. A number of citizens were at the landing field to welcome the plane and pilot.

Four planes were sent out from Amarillo to visit over 60 towns in the Panhandle to pick up air mail. The planes were to make the rounds and return with the mail to be put aboard both east and west bound airliners.

Mrs. C. E. (Fritz) Shankle, a noted aviatix and well-known Memphian, flew one of the mail planes from Amarillo to San Antonio Thursday, it was stated here.

The experiment may result in the establishment of Memphis as a regular air-mail station.

SHOWERS BRING NEEDED SEASON TO THIS SECTOR

Precipitation Since Sunday Amounts to About 2.5 Inches

Heavy showers in this section since Sunday have put water in lakes and ponds, filled hater furrows and terraces, made creeks and streams run like mill races, and soaked pasture and farm lands to the saturation point, and paved the way for intensive farming operations.

Sunday night .33 of an inch was recorded, Monday night 1.30, Wednesday afternoon and night .80, making a total of 2.43, according to J. J. McMickin's rain gauge. The rain in some parts of this area assumed flood proportions, while in other parts light showers were reported. The average, however, for the county is between 2.50 and 3 inches, according to reports.

Farmers are jubilant, since the rainfall has been sufficient for an excellent season for planting and aiding crops already coming up. Many have planted cotton and feed lately, while others were waiting for the usual May rains. Grass and wheat pastures will be greatly benefited.

The rains seemed to have been general all over Northwest Texas, with smaller amount of precipitation in the extreme northwest Panhandle.

The plaska sector did not receive very much rainfall until Wednesday afternoon when the heavy showers made the total practically as much as received at Memphis, J. T. Dennis stated.

$3,596 in Checks Arrives This Week

Twenty-seven government farm conservation checks have been received at the county agent's office here since last Thursday. The checks, amounting to $3,596.43, bring the total number received during the last two weeks to 1,421, with a value of $279,255.64.

The first group of checks received in Hall County this year came Saturday, May 7. By last Thursday 1,394 checks, amounting to $275,614.95, had arrived.

County Agent R. E. L. Pattillo estimated that over two-thirds of the checks for this county have been received. When the remainder of the checks will arrive is uncertain, he pointed out, though it is believed they will be here within the next few days or weeks.

Infant Daughter of Lesley Couple Dies

Lavern Rea, 2 1/2-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Booth of near Lesley, died Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock, May 18, at the family home.

Lavern Rea was born March 3, 1938.

Funeral services were conducted at Newlin Thursday at 11:30 o'clock by Rev. R. G. Brister, pastor of the Lakeview Baptist Church. Burial was in the Newlin Cemetery.

GOLF TOURNNEY OF GREEN BELT BEGINS MAY 23

Many Local Golfers To Enter; Memphis Claims Champions

At least ten top-class golfers from this city will enter the Thirtieth Annual Green Belt Tournament at the Cole Creek Country Club at Shamrock next week, according to present plans. Besides individual entries the Memphis Country Club will enter a six-man team to compete for the annual team trophy.

Qualifying rounds of 18 holes medal play will begin Monday morning at 8:00 with first round match play in all flights beginning Tuesday morning. Second round matches will follow Tuesday afternoon with quarter finals and semi-finals scheduled for Wednesday. Finals in all flights will be played Thursday, according to announcements from Shamrock this week.

A full entertainment program has been announced by Chairman W. H. Walker and will consist of a barbecue, stag smoker and calcutta pool Monday evening. Election of officers is to be held the same evening. Another feature of the program is the dance at the club house Tuesday evening.

Many Champions Memphis holds the honor of having furnished more Green Belt champions than any other club in the association, winning five times during the last twelve tournaments. Frank Foxhall, local champion and a strong bid at Shamrock, held the crown in 1929 and 1930 after succeeding R. V. West, also of this city, who held the honor position in 1928.

In 1932 Reginal Greenhaw was tournament winner at Childress and the late Thomas Hampton captured the crown the following year at Frederic, Okla. Fourteen clubs from Texas and Oklahoma are members of the Green Belt Golf Association.

Memphis Team Members Six sub-par golfers compose the Memphis team which will compete for the team trophy. They are: Frank Foxhall, O. B. Smith, runner-up in the local tournament last week, Ed Foxhall, R. S. Greene, Reginal Greenhaw, now working in Lefors but still playing with the local club, and Carl Harrison. These men will also qualify for individual play, as will Jack Walker, J. D. Webster, and Chas. Davenport.

Hedley Child Dies In Clarendon Hospital

A. A. Stewart went to Hedley Thursday of last week on account of the illness of his granddaughter, who died in a Clarendon hospital Wednesday of this week. The child was the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Stiles of Hedley.

Funeral services were held in Hedley Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock, with burial in the Hedley Cemetery.

65 Pupils Are to Graduate Here

Sixty-five Memphis High School seniors will end their high school careers when baccalaureate services are conducted Sunday evening, May 22, and commencement services held Tuesday evening, May 24.

Baccalaureate services will be held at the High School Auditorium at 8:15 o'clock, with Bishop H. A. Boaz of Fort Worth preaching the baccalaureate sermon. The program for the services is as follows:

Processional, March from "Tannhauser" by Wagner, Miss June Seago; invocation, Rev. E. C. Cargill, pastor First Presbyterian Church; scripture reading, Joe Findley, minister First Christian Church; prayer, Rev. J. William Mason, pastor First Baptist Church; anthem, "Send Out Thy Light" by Gounod, choir; baccalaureate sermon, Bishop H. A. Boaz; benediction, Rev. B. W. Taylor, pastor Church of the Nazarene; recessional, Marche Pontificale by Gounod, Miss June Commencement exercises will be held at 8 o'clock at Cyclone Stadium, weather permitting. Otherwise, they will be conducted at the High School Auditorium.

Dr. Harry L. Kent of Texas Technological College will give the commencement address. Following is the program for the exercises:

Music, High School Band; processional, "War March of the Priests" by Mendelssohn, High School Band; "Ciribiribin" by Pestalozza-Wallis and "The Invitation of the Bells" by Planquette, combined choruses of Junior High and High schools, directed by Miss Mary Foreman and Miss Mary Helen Hardin and accompanied by Miss Mary Helen Lindsey; presentation address, Dr. Harry L. Kent; presentation diploma, Tommie M. Potts, president of school board; recessional, High School Band.

Hall Farmers Are Urged To Poison Grasshoppers Now

May Obtain Poison Bran From Turkey, Memphis or Estelline Poison Plants

Farmers in Hall County are being urged to get grasshopper poison from either of the three plants now in operation at Memphis, Turkey, and Estelline. Recent rains and warm spring weather have caused the 'hoppers to hatch in increasing hordes, it was pointed out, and unless immediate steps are taken to poison the insects, very serious damage to crops will result.

The mixture is composed of two gallons of cheap grade syrup, one-half gallon sodium arsenate, one-half pound bran, and enough water to make a crumbly mash, according to County Agent R. E. L. Pattillo.

The farmer is expected to furnish the syrup and one-half the bran or bran substitute; the federal government is furnishing the sodium arsenate and one-half the bran. Any farmer may obtain as much of the poison as he needs, providing he furnishes his allotted share of the mixture, at any one of the three plants.

INCIDENTS OF CHILDHOOD COME TO Old Landmark Being Removed

MEMORY'S EYE AS HOUSE IS RAZED

The old two-story house built by B. F. King, one of the first settlers of the county, in 1891 on a farm now owned by Mrs. Alla Boswell is being torn down. The place is located two miles southwest of Memphis.

Max King, who was born in this home, tells some amusing, touching and otherwise interesting stories about that part of his life spent there.

Max's father, B. F. King, came to Hall County in 1890, and built the home in 1891. There was only one other farm home between town and the King house. That house was built by Dr. M. D. Forgy, father of George Forgy of this city, and is now occupied by John C. Wilson and family. At that time there were not many houses in the city limits.

County Court Is Opened This Week

County court opened its May term here Monday of this week, and adjourned for the week Wednesday, after the docket had been called. However, any routine business that may come up during the remainder of the week will be taken care of.

Cases disposed of in the first week were as follows: Hamilton, Fitzgerald, and Grundy, a partnership, vs. J. E. Ryan et al, suit on note, dismissed at cost of plaintiffs.

J. P. Watson et al vs. W. R. Fulton et al, suit for debt and foreclosure of lien, dismissed at cost of plaintiff.

First State Bank of Memphis vs. A. R. Evans, suit for debt and foreclosure of chattel mortgage, dismissed without prejudice at plaintiff's cost.

Citizens Finance Corporation et al vs. O. D. Bray Jr., judgment for plaintiff subject to proof.

First National Bank of Memphis vs. Lyman E. Robbins, suit for debt, judgment by default subject to proof.

Jury cases will come up for trial next week. The jury list for the second week of court is as follows:

S. A. Ellis, H. B. Estes, Crump Ferrel, H. H. Flowers, George Forgy, E. R. Foster, E. S. Foust, W. B. Funk, H. S. Gardener, C. Gerlach, R. J. Gilbert, C. E. Gowan, Ben McElreath, Lester Grimes, Lee Guthrie, G. E. Hagemer, Robert Hanvey, and J. L. Harrell.

Amarilloan Speaks At Rotary Meeting

Guy Saunders, past president of the Amarillo Club, was guest speaker at Rotary luncheon Tuesday. He gave the history of Rotary, and included the objects and purposes of the organization for the benefit of the many new members of the Memphis club.

Visitors present were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brewer of Childress and C. T. Johnson, manager of J. C. Penney.

Erosion Control Methods Practiced In SCS Area by Farmers Profitable

Erosion control methods which farmers are establishing on their farms in the Soil Conservation Service area near Memphis can be seen to good advantage at this season of the year, according to J. T. Reese, camp superintendent. Contour cultivation, which simply means plowing level rows along the contour of the slopes rather than straight rows up and down the hill, can be seen on land of farmers cooperating with the Soil Conservation Service. When this method of tillage is used, each row forms a small reservoir which checks the flow of runoff water across the slope, Mr. Reese explains.

After each heavy spring rain, water may be observed backed up behind terraces and standing in the contour furrows on fields where soil and moisture conservation practices are being used, Mr. Reese points out. On straight-row fields, he continues, water usually may be observed in small lakes in low spots.

"Water held upon the land where it falls can soak into the soil and become available for growing plants, while that which runs off the slope to form small lakes, or into roadside ditches, becomes lost for vegetative growth in the area where it fell," says Mr. Reese.

Also, it can be observed at this season that the first green grass to appear in pastures is along the contour furrows where water has been held and allowed to seep into the ground to aid vegetative growth.

These are only a few of the methods which cooperating farmers are combining into a unified program of erosion control on their farms. The primary purpose of this work is to demonstrate for the benefit of farmers throughout this entire section how these methods are being adapted to conditions similar to those found on their farms, Mr. Reese says.

O'Connell Asks All To Help Put Old-Age Plan Into Effect

(Contributed)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Speaking over a nation-wide hookup, Hon. Jerry J. O'Connell, member of the House of Representatives from Montana, went militantly to the support of the General Welfare Act of 1937, HR 4199, otherwise known as the Townsend Plan. Rep. O'Connell made a forthright address showing that the plan is the way to recovery. Detailing how the Ways and Means Committee has kept the bill in a pigeonhole, he called upon his hearers to write immediately to members of that committee demanding action on the measure which, he said, means economic recovery to the people of this country. Rep. O'Connell, in part, said:

"Tonight I speak to you from the capitol of the richest country in all the world—a nation blessed with more natural resources than any other country under God's Heaven—a nation where there is more than enough food to feed every hungry and undernourished person—more than enough wool, cotton and fiber to clothe every man, woman and child—more than enough building materials in mine and forest, in mill and factory, to house every family in America in a modern home—where there are more than ten billions of dollars in gold, in government vaults out of circulation—where there are banks which have the greatest reserve ever held in their history."

"Yet, amid all this wealth, amid these modern machines and God's abundance of natural resources, the United States today faces the most critical period of history. Destitution, desperation, despair, want, hunger and misery stalk the land. One quarter of the American people lives at a standard far below the point of comfortable existence, living in poverty with inadequate clothing, in miserable houses without adequate medical care; living a life that is one of gradual starvation. There are over eleven million unemployed people in this nation clamoring for the right to work. There are eight million old people, two-thirds of whom are entirely dependent, clamoring constantly for assistance. There are more than five million young people unemployed and out of school who marched on this Capital land demanding the necessary appropriations to provide part time jobs for the youth of this land.

"Day in and day out, the old people of Montana write to me asking how they can possibly pay their grocery bills, their medical bills, their rent, their fuel and their clothing bills. Most of them have an income under our grossly inadequate Social Security program as low as $8 a month and not higher than $30 a month. What is true of Montana, is true of the nation. This is not a pretty picture, but it is a true one and it cries out to the American people demanding a solution, demanding relief, demanding that Congress face the facts and legislate accordingly.

"I find there is one real road to recovery and that is the Townsend National Recovery Plan, embodied in HR 4199, and known as the General Welfare Act. The Townsend National Recovery Plan provides for a two per cent tax on every transaction made in the United States. This tax would be collected by the Federal Government and distributed back into the channels of trade by the payment of an annuity to the aged citizens of this nation above the age of 60. The revenue derived shall be prorated and paid to these annuitants with a maximum monthly annuity of $200 provided.

"To make sure that this money circulates and stimulates the production of goods and commodities as well as their distribution, it is made compulsory that the annuity must be spent each month. This is a simple, economically sound measure to restore the buying power of the masses of our country. By the payment of this annuity, more than one and one-half billion dollars worth of goods, commodities and services will be purchased every month, over and above present monthly figures.

"This is the increased purchasing power, all leading minds of this nation have been seeking. It is a program which forces money into circulation, opens up new jobs for labor in every class of society, provides purchasing power for all people and an annuity for those who are past the age when their services are no longer required. It will wipe out relief rolls, poor houses, and public charity. It will abolish poverty, reward labor and, at one fell swoop, will destroy the control which a handful of international bankers yield through a monopoly of the money and credit of this nation."

Disabled Veterans Preparing Poppies For Distribution

Local Legion Auxiliary To Distribute Flowers Here On Poppy Day, Saturday, May 28

World War veterans who advanced through the poppy studded fields of France during the drives of 1915 would be in familiar surroundings at the Poppy Day headquarters of Chas. R. Simmons Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary at Memphis this week. The headquarters is blooming with a profusion of poppies as members of the Auxiliary are preparing the flowers for distribution on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 28.

The poppies, made by disabled veterans at Legion, Texas, are being unpacked, counted and arranged for the women who will offer them on the streets to be worn in tribute to the World War dead. They are fashioned from bright red crepe paper with wire stems and resemble as closely as possible the poppies that grew among the trenches, shell holes and wooded crosses of the battle front in France.

Making the poppies has given employment to many hundreds of disabled veterans during the winter and spring. Poppy manufacturing centers were operated by the Auxiliary in forty states, either in government hospitals where the work is used as a valuable occupational therapy treatment, or in convalescent workrooms for disabled men outside of the hospitals. More than ten million of the little flowers have been made.

Members of the Auxiliary are busy this week with final preparations for Poppy Day. Volunteer workers who will distribute the flowers have been divided into teams and each team assigned a specific location in the city. Special badges will identify these women as bona-fide American Legion Auxiliary workers and give assurance that the entire amount of all contributions made for the poppies will go to the welfare work of the Legion and Auxiliary.

SINGING AT BRICE

The Brice class will have an all-day singing Sunday, May 29, at Brice, and everyone is invited to bring well-filled baskets and make a day of it, according to an announcement made this week.

Torn From Homes by Tornado, Electric Refrigerators Still Provide Ice, Food Protection

FOLKS who spend good money for a refrigerator are buying a specific Service. In addition, their purchase should give them a guarantee of Safety. The folks who many years ago bought the two electric refrigerators pictured above bought both Service and Safety. A recent tornado in a small West Texas community proved this point. Buildings crumbled around them and the wind tossed them into the street like a fretful child discarding a toy. But—these electric refrigerators operated perfectly when picked up and connected to an electric socket the following day. That IS Service! There was no damage resulting from refrigerant fumes. That IS Safety!

Beth Lofland Becomes Bride Norwood Lipscomb Saturday

The marriage of Miss Audrey Beth Lofland, daughter of Mrs. John Lofland of this city, and Lloyd Norwood Lipscomb, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. N. Lipscomb of Lubbock, took place Saturday afternoon, May 14, at 4 o'clock at the home of the bridegroom's parents, 1419 Broadway.

Dr. Lipscomb, pastor of the Lubbock First Methodist Church, read the impressive ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends before an improvised altar arranged in front of the fireplace formed of palms and flowers. Tall white cathedral tapers in silver candelabra burned on either side of the floral arrangement on the mantel. The entire home was attractively decorated with spring flowers.

The wedding party entered the room to the strains of the Wedding March from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. Mamie L. Neal, who also played "I Love You Truly" as a pre-nuptial solo. Preceding the bride and bridegroom were the maid of honor, Miss Betty Daie West of this city, a Tech student, and the bridegroom's attendant, Merle Jones of Amarillo. The bride wore a white tulle gown with a light blue sash and carried a large bouquet of pink roses. Her attendants wore blue dresses with pink accessories. She wore a corsage bouquet of cream rose buds.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held. Refreshments were served from a lace-covered table, centered with a large bowl of blue and pink sweet peas. White lighted tapers burned in crystal holders on each side.

The bride has lived in Memphis all her life. She graduated from the Memphis High school with the class of 1933. Attended Texas Tech in 1936 where she was a member of Las Vivaranchas social club. Later she attended the Western Union School of Telegraphy in Fort Worth.

Mr. Lipscomb is a graduate of the Amarillo High School, a former student of Amarillo Junior College, and McMurry College at Abilene. He received his degree from Texas Tech in 1937 and while there was a member of Los Camarados social club.

Mr. and Mrs. Lipscomb have gone to Denver and other points of interest in Colorado on a wedding trip. Later they will be at home in Amarillo where Mr. Lipscomb is employed with the International Harvester Company.

READER — Martha Jean Parks, one of the Memphis graduates to receive honorable mention, was presented in dramatic recital Tuesday evening.

Culture Club Has Final Meeting Of Club Year

"A Day with the Poets" was the topic chosen for the final meeting of the club year for the Woman's Culture Club, Wednesday afternoon, May 18, held in the home of Mrs. Claud Johnson on Tenth street.

The beautiful flowers placed throughout the rooms reminded one of the breath of spring and seemed a fitting place for such a program.

With the quotation in mind from Voltaire that "Poetry is the music of the soul," the members responded to the roll call with their favorite poems. The historian for the year, Mrs. W. L. Wheat, recounted the story of the club from its organization to the present day. Concluding the program was the installation of officers by the president.

Preceding the program the business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. R. L. Madden, during which time Mrs. Conly Ward and Mrs. L. B. Madden were elected honorary members of the club. It was also decided that $5 be donated to the Carnegie Library.

The hostess carried out the club colors in the refreshments, consisting of two courses, a delicious salad plate and orange sherbet with decorated cookies.

Members present were: Mrs. Irene Beckett, Mrs. R. E. Clark, Mrs. Roy Fultz, Miss Vera Gilreath, Mrs. D. A. Grundy, Mrs. C. L. Hamrick, Mrs. A. W. Howden, Mrs. R. L. Madden, Mrs. D. J. Morgensen, Mrs. T. B. Rogers, Mrs. G. W. Sexauer, Mrs. J. C. Wells, Mrs. J. A. Whaley, Mrs. W. L. Wheat, and two guests, Mrs. Ira Phelps and Mrs. B. Webster.

1913 Study Club Meets With Mrs. Lesley Foxhall

Mrs. Lesley Foxhall was hostess for the 1913 Study Club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Robertson street.

The president, Mrs. Byron Baldwin, presided during the business session. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. R. S. Greene and others for contributing to the district federation programs. The incoming president, Mrs. T. J. Dunbar, completed her committee appointments as follows: Education, Mrs. Marion McNeely and Miss Mary Helen Hardin; membership, Mrs. Mac Tarver, Mrs. Jessie Jones, and Mrs. Carl Harrison; civic and finance, Mrs. Byron Baldwin, Mrs. R. S. Greene, and Mrs. Margaret Morgan; legislative, Mrs. Lon Montgomery and Mrs. Orion W. Carter; federation counselors, Mrs. Lesley Foxhall, and Mrs. T. M. Harrison; flowers, Mrs. Raba Harrison, Mrs. Carl Harrison, and Mrs. Dunbar; social, Mrs. D. L. Kinard, Mrs. R. C. Walker, and Mrs. H. E. Tarver.

The afternoon program closed the club year. Mrs. Lon Montgomery, the leader for the subject, Good Will Day, discussed friendship of Nations. Miss Harlin and Mrs. H. J. Gore reviewed the book, "Phantom Crown" by Bertita Harding.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mrs. Byron Baldwin, Mrs. M. J. Draper, Mrs. T. J. Dunbar, Mrs. H. J. Gore, Mrs. R. S. Greene, Mrs. Raba Harrison, Mrs. T. M. Harrison, Mrs. Carl Harrison, Mrs. Jessie Jones, Mrs. D. L. Kinard, Mrs. Margaret Morgan, Mrs. Lon Montgomery, Mrs. H. E. Tarver, Mrs. M. G. Tarver, Mrs. R. C. Walker, Mrs. G. D. Beard, and Miss Mary Helen Hardin.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Turner have returned from Lamesa where they spent several weeks.

Delphian Club Has Vacation Luncheon Program Tuesday

The Delphian Club closed the 1937-38 club year Tuesday with a vacation luncheon and program at the home of Mrs. F. W. Maxwell.

The vacation idea was carried out in the table appointments. Each table was centered with dolls to represent a foreign country. Unique place cards were miniature suit cases with Delphian 1938 inscribed on one side and Rome on the opposite. The tag contained the name to mark each place.

Mrs. J. H. Smith acted as toastmaster at the luncheon when the following program was given: Stunt, "The Ozark Hill Billies"; vacation poems were read by Mrs. C. A. Powell; dance, Chinese Girls; play, "The Fatal Quest."

After the luncheon games furnished entertainment until club time.

Mrs. Hal Goodnight, club president, presided over the business session. Mrs. Cleron McMurry was leader of the program on "Among Those Present." "My Hobby" was given by the club members, each answering roll call with their hobbies. Mrs. J. W. Stokes read a poem, and "Riding Your Hobby" was given by Mrs. O. R. Goodall.

At the close of the program Mrs. Goodnight installed the officers for the coming year: Mrs. R. A. Cole, president; Mrs. W. C. Davis, first vice president; Mrs. A. Anisman, second vice president; Mrs. C. Partain, recording secretary; Miss Frankie Barnes, corresponding secretary; Miss Maud Milam, treasurer; Mrs. Z. A. Moore, press reporter; Mrs. R. C. Lemons, parliamentarian; Mrs. R. H. Wherry, timekeeper.

Wherry, Mrs. Tom Draper, Mrs. Horace DuVall, and two former members, Mrs. Harry Womack of Talco, and Mrs. V. L. McGlocklin of Iran.

Legion Auxiliary Has Annual May Day Luncheon and Election of Officers

The American Legion Auxiliary met Friday, May 13, at 12:30 o'clock at the Legion Hall for their annual May Day luncheon.

The T-shape table was laid with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of poppies to represent a May pole dance.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Mamie VanPelt. After lunch the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. C. C. Dodson. A salute to the flag was given and the preamble was read in unison, followed with a prayer and 30 seconds of silent prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and reports of the different committees given. 750 poppies were reported for Poppy Day on Saturday, May 28.

The nominating committee, Mrs. D. J. Morgensen, Mrs. L. L. Doss, and Mrs. W. S. Gooch announced the following officers to serve for the coming year: Mrs. John Deaver, president; Mrs. Allie D. Weaver, first vice president; Mrs. Elmer Prater, second vice president; Mrs. H. B. Gilmore, secretary; Mrs. W. S. Gooch, treasurer; Mrs. Mamie VanPelt, press reporter; Mrs. J. E. Roper, chaplain; Mrs. Lonnie Edmondson, sergeant at arms.

Invitations were read from the Post and civic clubs in Pampa inviting the Auxiliary to attend the convention to be held in Pampa on May 21-22. Mrs. Morgensen and Mrs. Weaver were elected delegates.

At the close of the business session the program followed: Roll call was on table etiquette. A poem, "Universal Mother" by Grace Noll Crowell was read by Mrs. Morgensen. A vocal solo, "Mother McCree," Mrs. Mac Tarver, with Mrs. Edmondson accompanying. The poem, "Home" by Edgar A. Guest was given by Mrs. Doss. Mrs. Wheat gave the Auxiliary history for the year, and Mrs. VanPelt gave an article on Child Welfare. Closing prayer, Mrs. W. Wilson.

After the program a time was spent making poppy wreaths to decorate the soldiers' graves Memorial Day.

The following registered in the guest book: Mrs. Mac Tarver, Mrs. H. W. Stringer, Mrs. C. C. Dodson, Mrs. L. S. Edmondson, Mrs. W. S. Gooch, Mrs. B. B. Smith, Mrs. J. E. Roper, Mrs. Allie D. Large Crowd Sees Bicycle Race Here On Last Thursday

Jack Drake and Wayne Lowry Win First Prizes in Junior And Senior Divisions of Race

Memphis' first bicycle races attracted an estimated 2,000 spectators and 23 entries on the square last Thursday afternoon.

About half the cyclists in both the junior and senior races dropped out before they had made the sixty laps around the inner circle of the square, which constituted the ten miles.

Considerable interest was caused by the only out-of-town entries, three boys from Parnell, who rode into Memphis from their homes on their bicycles.

Wayne Lowry was the first to come in, a lap and a half ahead of his nearest competitor, in the junior division, and was awarded the $5 first prize. Jerry Doss and Lloyd Bartley received $3 and $2 prizes, respectively, for second and third places. Earl Jeffries came in fourth.

Jack Drake took the lead in the senior division after the first lap and kept it all during the race. He made the ten miles in 38 minutes, coming in two laps ahead of Billie Fred Rasco in second place. Tom J. Landers, who kept in second place for nine miles, was nosed out in the last mile to get third place. Edith Boots Maxwell, the only girl in the race, came in fourth, but was a leading contender for second and third place during most of the race. The same cash prizes for first, second, and third places were awarded as in the junior race.

A public address system was used to announce the entire race.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reeves and daughter Josie Mae of Vinson Okla., spent Monday in Memphis. Mr. and Mrs. Reeves were among early residents of Memphis. They were here to attend the funeral services of little Ervin Leroy Jeffries.

Dams Are An Aid To Good Farming

Dams are an aid to good farming. Big dams form reservoirs and stock ponds. Thousands of little dams across gully channels reduce the cutting power of runoff and permit the growth of protective vegetation.

More than 2,800,000 farm and rangeland dams have been built under the supervision of Soil Conservation Service engineers in the past three years, according to Chief Engineer T. B. Chambers. About 3,500 of the larger dams provide nearly 80,000 acre-feet of storage space—enough to hold about 26 billion gallons of water.

All the dams, both gully control and water conservation, have a distinct value for upstream flood control and for storing rainwater against drought periods, according to Chambers. He points out that water held on farms and ranches lightens the load that river channels are forced to carry in flood time. Furthermore, much of the retained water soaks into the ground where it can be used by growing plants.

Dams used in the Soil Conservation Service program range in size from simple sod bags placed across gully channels to large rock-masonry structures. Plans and specifications are drawn by Service engineers, but most of the construction work is done by CCC enrollees or by farmers cooperating in the erosion-control program.

CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
A word of sincere appreciation to all school teachers of our town and the surrounding communities because of their fine work during these past months. To my way of thinking public school teachers as a rule are fine noble people whose great work day by day tell out in young life in the years to come.

Congratulations and very best wishes to all high school graduates of 1936, and to other students now being promoted. Don't fail to let the church have its rightful place in your life work.

We shall look forward to next Sunday with great interest in our service. And then the baccalaureate sermon in the High School Building at 8:15 by Bishop Boaz. Our churches will all close for that special service Sunday night.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Sunday School is a place for the training and study of how to live the Christ-like life. Do you go to Sunday School?

We have set the goal at 500 for Sunday in our Sunday School. Help us reach that goal and help yourself by being present.

Bishop Boaz will preach at the morning hour and there will be no evening service at our church.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
The pastor will be home in time to bring the message Sunday morning. We think it will be of interest for you to hear what he has to say. Instead of the evening preaching service, everyone will attend the baccalaureate services at the high school building.

As summer approaches we must continue the work of keeping up the interest in the Sunday School and B. T. U. as well as the other services of the church. The attendance has been good, but we need you. Come to B. T. U. at 7 p. m. Sunday evening and then attend the services at the high school. The Brotherhood prepared a splendid program for the prayer service last Wednesday evening. Attend this week, you are always welcome.

Friends Meet For Forty-Two Party
A group of friends met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith Friday evening for games of "42."

At the conclusion of the games refreshments were served Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Crouch, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Tidwell, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Phillips, Mrs. Clarence Stockton, Mrs. D. C. Mitchell Mrs. Odell Rountree, Mary E. Tidwell, Mr. and Mrs. B. Bidwell, and Mary Smith.

Mr. Robert Cummings and son Robert Frank arrived in Memphis Monday from the Medina Valley for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Goffinett. They came on account of the illness of Mr. Goffinett.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Martin attended a meeting of the Underwriters Association at the Blackstone Hotel in Amarillo Thursday last week.

A. W. Hogue of Dallas, state manager of the Business Men's Assurance Company, was the main speaker at the convention and made a talk in the interest of life insurance. Mr. Martin is the local representative of the B.M.A.

Mrs. L. D. Sanders and son J. R. and Burl Springer spent Sunday in Wellington visiting with Mrs. Sanders' relatives.

Contouring Makes Greener Grass in This Section

where it falls and allow the moisture to soak into the ground where it is available for grass growth. Farmers observed this spring that the first green grass appeared along the furrows where additional moisture had been available. Where this practice was in use last year, the farmers also observed that the grass growth was much heavier along the furrows and that it remained green longer than that on untreated areas.

Tests made on a contour furrowed portion of the C. E. Weymouth ranch near Amarillo last year revealed that moisture penetration had been increased one hundred per cent. Buffalo and blue grama grass were increased 189.2 per cent by weight on the treated area.

Two and a half times as much buffalo and blue grama grass was produced on the contour furrowed pasture of H. J. Walker at Vega

Contour Farming in Memphis Area Is Profitable, SCS Superintendent Says

Contour farming in the wind erosion area of the Southern Great Plains except on the very sandy soils, is more profitable regardless of whether the land slope is steep or slight, farmers are finding from experience, according to J. T. Reese, camp superintendent of the Soil Conservation Service demonstration project located near Memphis.

In areas of steeper slopes, farmers are finding it much easier to pull their equipment around the hillsides on the contour level rather than up and down the hills. Experience shows that in areas of steep slopes, contour farming results in lower fuel costs, less strain on the equipment, and that repair bills are lower, the Soil Conservation official points out.

In the more level areas, farmers have found that contour farming costs slightly more than straight-row methods, Mr. Reese says. In such areas, the slight slopes have little bearing on fuel costs, while the increased number of machinery turns, and the working out of corners and point rows take slightly more fuel and time.

However, the experience of many farmers has proved that this slight increase in farming costs is far more than offset by increased yields resulting from conservation of soil and moisture. Experimental data show that a one-third increase in crop production ordinarily may be expected as a result of contour farming.

The greatest immediate value from contour farming comes from the conservation of moisture. Mr. Reese points out. Rows on the contour not only retain a large per cent of the runoff water, but also reduce soil losses as a result of the reduced rate of runoff.

"It is difficult to estimate the full value of contour farming over straight-row methods in the Plains area, but experience shows that in this section of low rainfall, conserved moisture often means the difference between a profitable crop and a complete failure," says Mr. Reese.

as was produced on nearly untreated areas.

The density of buffalo and blue grama grass was doubled during the second year after contour furrows were constructed on a 250-acre pasture of R. B. Wisman near Channing.

K. J. Thorne found that the grass production was tripled on his 300-acre pasture near Memphis within two years after furrows were constructed, although 1936 was a year of scant moisture.

After a 1.32-inch rain last spring, Henry Helfenbine, cooperating with the Soil Conservation Service in the Perryton area, observed that the contour furrows on his 160-acre pasture were standing full of water. Tests showed that moisture had penetrated 52 inches in the furrows and 13 inches three feet below the furrow. On untreated areas, the penetration was only eight inches.

Various types of tillage implements are being used in pasture furrowing. Excellent results are being obtained by use of the three-row lister with the middle bottom removed. This practice leaves a strip of undisturbed sod between the furrows and hastens resodding of the furrows.

Grazing control on contour furrowed land is essential to obtain a good vegetative cover, the Soil Conservation Service points out. Where pastures are contour furrowed, not only is a heavier growth of grass developed, but a seed crop is matured which may be expected eventually to develop a thicker and heavier sod.

ADVANTAGES OF SOIL SAVING

A DRIVE throughout the farming districts of Hall County last week-end, following earlier rains, revealed the best proof of the value of erosion control methods as established by the Soil Conservation Service.

Where the contour methods of tillage were used, each row formed a small reservoir which checked the flow of water. This was especially true of slope fields, where under old methods of cultivation little of the annual rainfall is retained. On straight row fields the water was usually found to be standing in the low places only, while the rows along the crests of the slope were washed away completely.

The runoff water in the road side ditches was much heavier in the areas of straight row fields and all this water was being wasted to useful vegetation.

It must be pointed out, however, that not all these contoured fields withstood the wear of water erosion. A few of them proved inadequate to the runoff water, but in most of these cases the slopes were of such nature as to call for terracing in the first place.

Terrace and contour methods of soil erosion control will do much for both land and crop. To see it just after a rain is to believe it and to practice it is to prove it.

ANOTHER PARTY IN POLITICS

AN UNEXPECTED sun spot, in the form of another national party, has appeared on the face of 1940 prospects. About every election year, of late, the two leading parties have found unexpected and unwanted opposition. This time it is the National Progressive Party.

In other years the Democrats and Republicans have been able to win out over what little opposition the other party offered. Sometime the result is likely to be as unexpected as the appearance of the other party. The Republicans are lacking in leadership and the Democrats are somewhat divided.

It is not at all impossible, though perhaps not probable, that sixteen years from now "another party" will yield the political power over American freedom.

GOOD FARMING ADVICE BY A FARMER

DURING more recent months The Democrat has devoted much of this column to the problems of farming in Hall County. Each time that diversification has been the hinted subject this newspaper has hastened to remind that it claims no rights to dictate to the farmers. Farming, of course, is a familiar occupation and subject to this newspaper, since its existence depends indirectly, if not directly, upon the success of the farming population, and The Democrat believes it should continue as a medium through which ideas and thoughts are presented to the hundreds of farm readers.

The Wellington Leader has been reproducing a series of articles, submitted by various farmers, on the subject, "What Can Collingsworth County Produce Profitably in Addition to Cotton?" In one of these articles a number of suggested crops for various kinds of soils are named. The proper preparation of the land, the cultivation of the crop and its marketing are discussed, but the most impressive part of the article is to be found in the following lines:

"And some of these crops will be more profitably marketed through livestock, such as good cows, good hogs, good chickens, good mule colts, and good mares."

The Democrat takes this Collingsworth County farmer to mean that diversification without livestock would be a very unprofitable business . . . and that is good farming advice by a farmer.

CLAUDE'S Comments

J. C. W.

Tomie Potts was in East Texas last week. He picked up an East Texas paper which had the slogan, "The News covers Blank County like the morning dew." He also noticed that the whole country there is wet with dew each morning, which led him to suggest that The Democrat run a slogan, "The Democrat covers Hall County like an April dust storm."

The Charles Goodnight Memorial Fund is half complete, is the word received here this week. When a sufficient amount is raised a contract will be let for a marker of Texas granite at Goodnight's grave in Goodnight, and a bronze plaque will be placed between the graves of Colonel and Mrs. Goodnight. The burial plot will be inclosed with a six-foot iron fence. People all over the Panhandle are making contributions to the fund, and Hall County, with but one or two exceptions, is not responding to the call. Mr. and Mrs. John Deaver last week made a contribution of $5. Surely, there are others in the county who wish to have a part in this fine movement. S. S. Montgomery or The Democrat will receive contributions to be forwarded, or check may be mailed direct to Mrs. Harold D. Bugbee, memorial fund treasurer, Clarendon. Don't neglect this privilege.

Honest Bill Miller, editor of the Spearman Reporter, takes occasion in that publication to advocate a worm camp to fill the orders of all fishermen of the Plains country when lakes dot the landscape of the Panhandle. He asks, "How can we have a fish fry without fish, and how can we have fish without worms to catch them with?"

The hearing at Childress Monday developed some mighty good argument in favor of building a dam across Red River just over in Briscoe County. The U. S. Army engineers who conducted the hearing and later visited the proposed dam site seemed to be impressed with the proposition, and it is hoped by proponents of the movement that a favorable report will be sent to the Federal Government authorities, which may lead to the building of the dam.

The May rains, usual at this time of year, have set in and reports received from different sections of this country indicate the rainfall has been general. Farmers are jubilant over the splendid planting season, and the streets of Memphis may be almost deserted for a few weeks due to the fact that planters are being run at full speed all over this section of country.

One cannot help but wonder why it is necessary for a candidate for state office to employ a band of musicians and a press agent in making a campaign. When an office doesn't pay a big salary, it makes one look askance at such tactics. Voters want facts and not entertainment when choosing officials to direct governmental affairs.

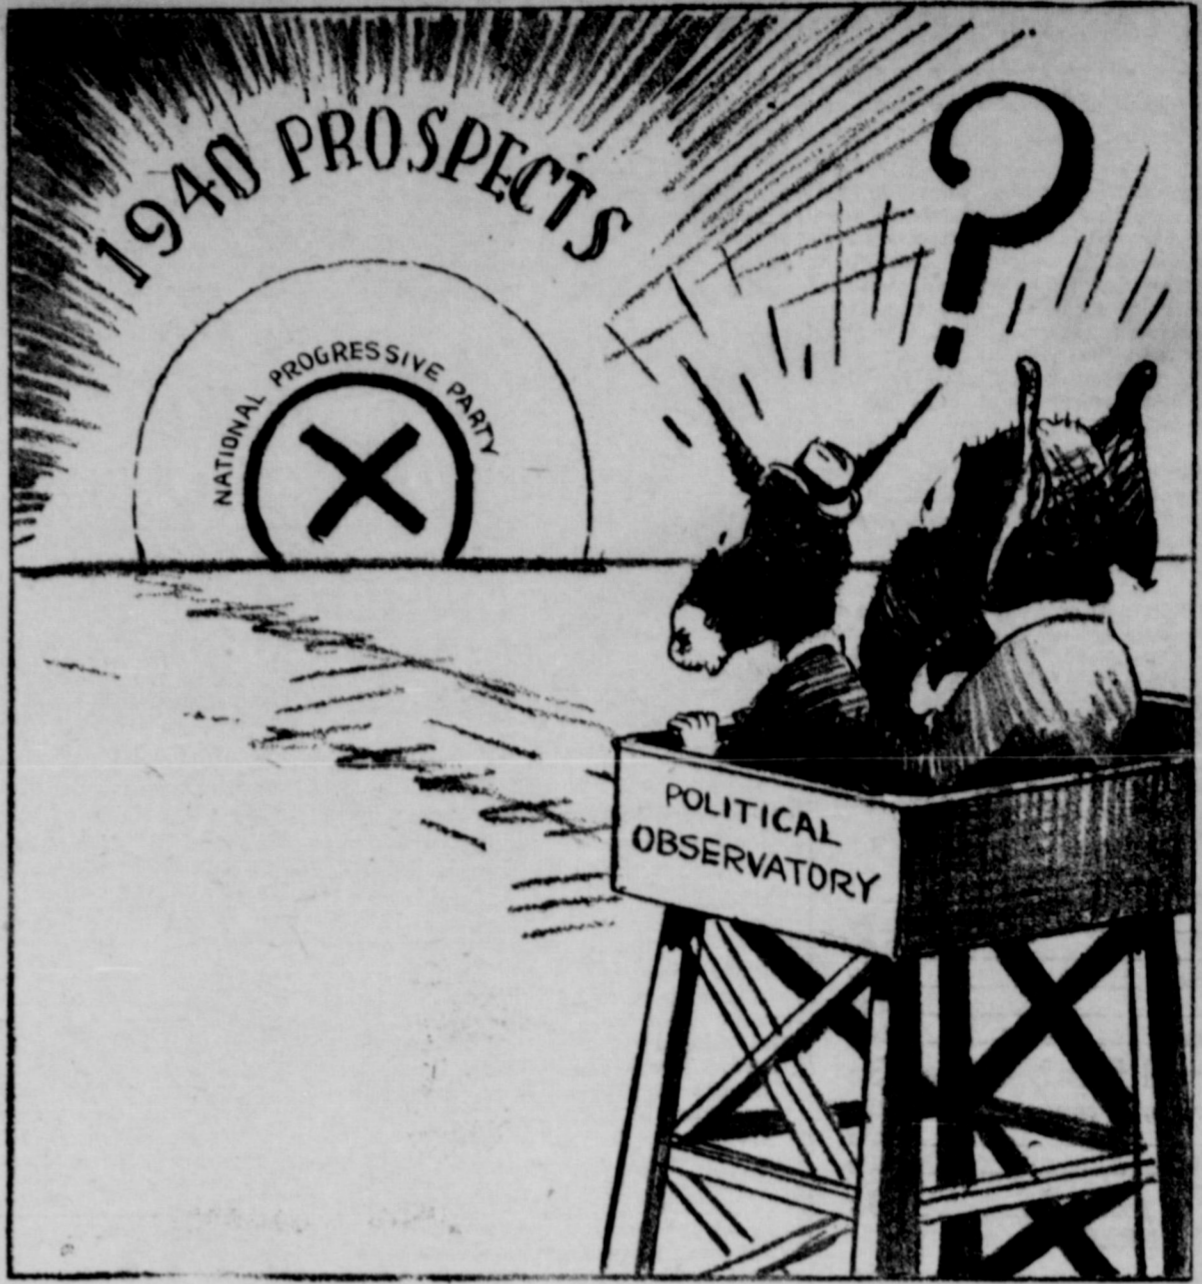

Bill Phleguer of West Main street went to the post office the other day and found a letter in his p. o. box addressed to "P. O. Boxholder, Memphis, Texas." He took it to the window and said, "Here is a letter to Mr. Boxholder that was put in my box. I don't know any Boxholders, but I do know Ralph Householder—maybe it was meant for him."

The Democrat is publishing the pictures of the 1938 graduating class of the Memphis High School. The paper has given freely, during the years the class members have been attending Memphis schools, column after column of publicity concerning the activities of the school and the individual students. I have watched most of these class members ever since they entered school right on down the line to their graduation, and have rejoiced with them when they won honors and made good grades. Now, they have come to the end of their high school days, and I wonder how many of them will enter college and strive for higher learning? I also wonder if all of them will be successful citizens of their community in the years to come; or if they will expect the joys and necessities of life to be laid in their arms! I congratulate each of you, and wish for you opportunities to be of service to your fellowmen in the years to come.

The old time newspapers were produced just to satisfy those subscribers in the immediate territory. Now, newspapers must be published that will bear comparison with others produced hundreds of miles away.

The school authorities are all hot and bothered. Monday night following the rain and after the school program was concluded, a number of autos were driven across the plot of ground that had just been planted to grass and left their tire prints deeply cut into the soft earth. Of course no one did it purposely! They didn't know the ground was loose and freshly planted in grass.

An Unexpected (and Unwanted) Sun Spot

Paragraphs Culled from The Democrat's Exchanges

Reasonable Conclusion

The Paducah Post believes that after a person has been on this earth about fifty years he reaches the conclusion that the real trouble with this world is that there are too many things to buy and too little money to do it with.

Gettin' Acquainted

Bob Wade, of Spur and Jayton, has taken lease-charge of the Turkey Enterprise. Last week's issue of this Hall County paper carried the following as a statement from the new editor-manager: "If I have seemed a little slow in getting around to see you, just mark it up to my inborn timidity, and to the fact that I am by nature a slow person. In other words I don't seem to have that happy talent of being able to walk right in among strangers and start making a nuisance of myself. Just give me a little time and I'll probably wind up by being the biggest pest that ever hit town in a long time."

No Job for Hypocrite

It must be horribly annoying to be 100 per cent anything—patriotic, healthy, religious, civic-minded or even cultured. Especially "cultured." Along about this time of the year when I see a little boy with torn clothing and dirty face and hands I envy him—until he gets home when I know someone will try to reform him. The only task of the good is to set a good example.—J. C. Estlack, Donley County Leader.

The Dalhart Texan says that students who are now graduating need to understand clearly that the hardest part about making good is doing it ever day.

What's to be Done?

The Floyd County Hesperian wonders what is to be done about the fast-fading markets for Texas cotton. This question is bothering the master minds of the state, who realize that Texas welfare as a cotton producer is bound up in the situation. Texas, more than other states, needs the export markets, for, we are told, 90 per cent of the cotton produced here goes to foreign soil. Nine out of 10 bales of cotton this state produces is exported.

One advantage a bachelor has over a married man, he can put his socks on from either end.—Scurry County Times.

Sell 'Em for Cash

"With the whole world, apparently, preparing for war, America seems to be the only nation likely to profit by it. No nation ever made a profit out of taking part in a war, even if it won the conflict." The Claude News editorializes. "Unless nations seeking to buy arms are actually at war, there is no reason why this country should not sell them whatever weapons they want to buy—provided they pay cash for them."

Heavy Wheat Loss

Wheat loss due to hail this year has been one of the greatest in the history of the county. Reports set the loss in the neighborhood of seven per cent of the total crop. It is estimated that there are about 80,000 acres of land in the county on which wheat is planted. It is reported that between 130,000 and 150,000 bushels of wheat were lost on account of hail. According to those figures, wheat on between 6,000 and 7,500 acres of land has been completely destroyed.—Foard County News.

From Trail Dust

Age suffers most by the ruse served at vanity feasts for those who do not relish the more substantial viands of truth.—Douglas Meador in the Matador Tribune.

40 Years Old

With an estimated attendance of between 7,500 and 10,000 persons, Hereford Wednesday observed its fortieth birthday with one of the largest pioneer celebrations in the history of this county. Organized delegations from Amarillo, Dalhart and Clovis came here for the occasion, which started Wednesday morning with a gigantic parade and closed Wednesday night with two dances.—Hereford Brand.

Spring! Hail! Blooey!

"Signs of spring, 1938" notes J. C. Smyth in the Scurry County Times. "Grass luxuriant. Trees abloom. Young gardens sprouting. Early roses. Wheat almost ready to wave. Then a heavy freeze. Snow and ice withered everything. Spring weather again. New leaves, new flowers, new stems and twigs. Then hail like big marbles. Blooey! But we still have a wonderful season."

Candidates—Box Suppers

Word comes that the box supper, that rural institution which thrives in political years, has taken on a somewhat harsher tone, so far as the candidates are concerned. The new order of things is that the boxes are sold first, before the candidates are invited to speak. This puts more pressure on the bidders. The candidate who doesn't pay a top price for his box faces the possibilities that the chairman will carelessly overlook him later in the evening. Formerly the arrangement was for the candidate who felt that his remarks hadn't gotten over so well could repair the situation by bidding extra high for his box. Box supper promoters, like the League of Nations, have gone realistic. Result, buy first and then speak.—John Gould in Wichita Times.

Charlie Guy (The Plainsman to you) in the Lubbock Avalanche says, that girl on Broadway says, with the exception of world unrest, a four-year old garden hose can break out in the most places.

Jots in Jest

SU-LIN, the baby panda "clown" who died in the Chicago zoo, is remembered as one foreign entertainer who lived up to advance notices.

War is no fun, report American volunteers in Spain. Most people wouldn't have to cross the Atlantic to find that out.

One hockey player is said to have 400 stitches in his body. Presumably they have saved 3600 others.

New Department Is Planned for School Curriculum

Part-Time Training To Be Offered Here

A new department is being added to the Memphis high school curriculum to begin with the school term next fall. The department is to be a part-time training in vocational education, according to Superintendent W. C. Davis.

The coordinators supervise and correlates the school work with practical experience of part-time students, who will spend two consecutive periods in the study of information directly related to the occupation in which training is being received. Two other periods the students will take academic subjects. The other half of the day the students will work in some business or training station.

It was pointed out that many boys and girls finish school and cannot go to college. They are not prepared to take their places in business, so they do nothing. About 7.2 per cent of the students in the fifth grade in 1925-26 never entered college. So schools should offer something to aid them in taking their places in life. The federal government recognized this and passed the Smith-Hughes Act which makes industrial training possible.

People of Panhandle Should Erect Goodnight Monument, Patrick Says

It is a duty of the Panhandle and its people to erect a fitting marker at the grave of Col. Charles Goodnight, often called "the first citizen of the Panhandle," W. H. Patrick of Clarendon, chairman of the Goodnight Memorial Fund, stated.

"The things that engage our time and attention in everyday life make us prone to overlook at times, the finer things that go to make us better citizens—and those who have gone before, paving the way that we might enjoy living in a fair land we call our own," Mr. Patrick said.

"Charles Goodnight came to the Panhandle in 1876, blazed the trail and experienced, with his wife, all of the attendant hardships of a pioneer of that time. He died on December 12, 1929, and is buried at Goodnight. To the present date his grave is not even marked.

"Every resident of the entire Panhandle, and all of those who had the privilege of knowing this wonderful character, should revere their conscience by making at least a small contribution toward erecting a suitable monument and provide for its care in the years to come.

"It was my pleasure and privilege to have known Mr. Goodnight for the last 40 years of his life and I was granted the honor of having been made the chairman of an association to see that a too long delayed duty we owe him is discharged. To date we have received about $460. Our goal is $1,000 and I feel confident that citizens of the Panhandle feel as do members of the committee—that we all have a responsibility and that our goal may soon be reached.

Contributions may be sent to Mr. Harold D. Bugbee, treasurer, Goodnight Memorial Fund, Clarendon, or to S. S. Montgomery, who is the member of the memorial fund committee for Hall County.

Bishop H. A. Boaz Speaks Here Twice On Next Sunday

Opens Bishops Crusade Here 18 Months Ago and Will End Campaign Sunday Morning

Bishop H. A. Boaz of Fort Worth will preach two sermons in Memphis Sunday. He will preach at the First Methodist Church Sunday morning, and give the baccalaureate sermon at the high school auditorium Sunday night.

Rev. Boaz spoke at the Methodist Church here 18 months ago to open the Bishops' Crusade, and his sermon here Sunday morning will close the crusade campaign.

The first part of the Bishops' Crusade campaign was a church-wide movement to pay off the general missionary board's debt, and the second half had to do with commemorating the 200th anniversary of John Wesley's experience.

The results of the crusade felt in the church at large was the payment of the debt and a general deepening of religious experience, according to Rev. Orion W. Carter, pastor of the local church, who stated that locally the church met its part of the debt climaxing the campaign with a banquet last year, the Sunday School has increased better than 50 per cent in regular attendance, a large number of members have been added to the church, and the attendance has increased at all church services.

75,000 Texas Farm Families Have No Poultry Flocks

Florida and Mississippi Only States Having Less Chicken-Owning Farmers

A total of 75,126 Texas farm families, or 15 per cent of all farm families in the state, do not have a poultry flock, according to Geo. P. McCarthy, poultryman of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College. McCarthy's statement is based on the 1935 agricultural census.

Among the southern states, only Florida, with 30.7 per cent of her farms without chickens, and Mississippi, with 15.4 per cent poultry-less farms, rank below Texas.

Texas compares favorably with other southern states with her average of 48 chickens per farm on the farms that have poultry. Only Oklahoma, with an average of 50, exceeds Texas in the list of southern states. Representative states from other sections of the nation show Kansas with an average of 97, Oregon 61, Ohio 87, and Maine 55. These figures, McCarthy stressed, include commercial flocks.

"The nutrition experts of the Extension Service tell me that the average farm family of five needs a flock of 50 hens," McCarthy pointed out. "Certainly we would like to see more hens on all farms in the state and we would also like to see higher and more efficient production."

The average hen on Texas farms produced less than 63 eggs in 1935, the year of the census. Meanwhile in 1935 the 3,926 demonstrators, including 1,092 adults, 1,352 4-H club boys, and 1,584 club girls who kept records and cared for their flocks under the direction of county agricultural and home demonstration agents, had an average production of 170.8 eggs per hen.

The 1938 average was the highest that has been recorded since Extension Service poultrymen began the demonstrations in 1930. In 1935, while the average production over the state was 62.4 eggs per hen, demonstrators' flocks produced at the rate of 159.7 eggs.

Indian Ruin Being Excavated in Upper Panhandle Section

Ancient Dwelling Place Contained About Forty Rooms, Excavators Say

West Texas State College for two months has been excavating an ancient Indian ruin on Antelope creek northeast of Amarillo. This work has been made possible through the cooperation of the Works Progress Administration.

These ancient ruins show a definite relationship between the Pueblo culture of the southwest and the Plains culture of the east. Evidently they were inhabited prior to the coming of Coronado and, as indicated by the evidence at hand, about the year 1300 A. D.

The ruin now being excavated contains about forty rooms. These were constructed in such a way that the walls were about eighteen inches thick and were neatly plastered on the inside. The rooms were covered by means of cottonwood logs and a thatch consisting of brush and mud. There were no windows, and the doors did not exceed three feet in height. Generally there was a fire pit in each room. These rooms were rather large as compared to those of other Indian ruins and generally about 20 feet square. The floors were paved with packed clay.

The people who inhabited these ancient villages in West Texas practiced agriculture, as indicated by numerous specimens in their refuse heaps. They were also great hunters. Numerous bones of buffalo, deer, bison and antelope are continually being brought to light, indicating that in addition to their diet of corn, beans, squash and tomatoes there was also an abundance of wild game.

They constructed the first apartment house in the Panhandle of Texas. Their rooms were well made and durable.

The pioneer work along this line, carried on by Floyd B. Studer of Amarillo, has added much to our knowledge of these ancient Texans.

Sponsors of the project intend to reconstruct several rooms from one of these ruins in the local museum. This will be a habitat reconstruction in life size. The purpose is to depict a home life scene showing a typical family group representing the Indian life of the Texas Panhandle of about the year 1300 A. D.

Following the hearing the army engineer and assistants, accompanied by the Flood Control committee, visited two proposed sites for the dam, which are west of Red River bridge in Briscoe County. While not committing himself, Col. Scott is evidently impressed with the proposition and it is believed will report favorably to the War Department.

JERRY SADLER

Candidate for R. R. Commission Speaks

Jerry Sadler, candidate for state railroad commissioner, condemned alleged inequalities of commission practices, in an address delivered in Memphis Saturday afternoon. Sadler, 30-year-old Longview attorney, contended that "It is not a crime to be a young man."

The candidate, on a dawn-to-midnight whirlwind 2,000 mile West and North Texas tour, said rail rates on farm products must be lowered so that the producer's dollar will not only be larger but will go farther in purchasing necessities. He favored increasing freight rates on luxuries to offset the reductions on necessities.

Sadler, country-reared, self-educated and claiming to represent people of independent thought, said monopoly threatens the very existence of home owned industries in Texas. He urged small business men, farmers and working people to "Put Sadler in the saddle and I will ride the broncho of monopoly. I will boot him and spur him in the flanks and, if necessary, I will pull the bridle off and hit him over the head with it. And I won't pull leather."

Sadler was accompanied by a band and publicity man, and loud speaking equipment.

District Commander Inspects CCC Camp

Air Mail Service, Celebrating 20th Birthday, Has Become 'Big'

TWENTY years ago on May 15 an airplane took off from Potomac Park in Washington D. C. before a throng of spectators including President Woodrow Wilson. The plane soared into the sky picked up speed until it reached 75 miles an hour and headed for Philadelphia. Its cargo—the first mail carried on a government air route.

This year beginning May 15 the Postoffice Department celebrates National Air Mail week and co-operating in the celebration are state governors, civic and fraternal organizations, veterans' groups and the aviation industry.

The air mail service has grown from an infant enterprise which handled 713,000 pieces of mail its first year to a business which last year carried almost 200,000,000 pieces.

The first route, a distance of 218 miles, was an experiment its success prompted the government to establish a transcontinental route. The first leg from Cleveland to Chicago was set up exactly one year later and September 1920 operation began on the last leg from Omaha to San Francisco.

But the so-called transcontinental air route was only partly by air for no planes flew at night and the mail went overland by train in the hours of darkness. The combined air-rail service clipped 22 hours off the best time possible by an all-rail route.

This was not enough of a time-saver, however, to give air mail much advantage over the considerably cheaper first class mail. There was talk of discontinuing air mail flights. Instead, the Postoffice Department took a new step forward—night flying. A skeptical public said it couldn't be done, but the department did it.

In 1921, a plane carrying air mail took off from San Francisco and landed 33 hours later in New York City. The distance from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Chicago was flown by night—over a route illuminated with spectacular bonfires.

By 1923 beacons were being installed and airports were being equipped with radio stations to broadcast weather conditions, as a further precaution. In 1924 the Cheyenne-to-Chicago leg was completely beacon-lighted for night flying, and a regular transcontinental schedule was

The decade from 1925 to 1935 was one of great expansion for the service. New lines were established, stops added to existing lines and feeder routes set up. Today the original 218-mile air mail system has expanded to
