Zero Hour Is Near --

Hitler Moves Up 100 Divisions

Nazis Take Offensive On Some Fronts

Russians Continue Blasting Forward In Many Sectors

By The Associated Press Adolf Hitler was reported moving 1,500,000 fresh troops into the eastern front today as signs multiplied that the Fuehrer was preparing to open his long-heralded spring offensive for a climactic struggle involving nearly 12,000,000 German and Russian soldiers.

Stockholm dispatches said 12,000 German troop trains had moved eastward in the last three months. London quarters estimated that about 4,500,000 Germans and 7,000,000 Russians were massing for the great battles already beginning to take shape along the 2,000-mile Soviet front.

Indications that "zero hour" may be near for the German drive were seen in recent communiques reporting next offensive thrusts, after months of stressing the bitter defensive nature of German operations. Thus, today's bulletin from German field headquarters reported that "in an attack of our own," Nazi motorized troops dislodged Russian forces from positions northeast of Orel, 200 miles below Moscow.

Yesterday's communique also noted "our own offensive operations" elsewhere on the front. London military observers said they expected Hitler to aim his heaviest blows against Marshal Semenov's forces on the southern front, in an attempt to break through the 400-mile line between Orel and Tuganrog and seize the oil-rich Caucasus.

There remained the difficulty, however, of halting the Soviet juggernaut, and Hitler's field headquarters again acknowledged powerful Russian attacks were continuing in the Ukraine, on the Moscow front and in the northeast around Leningrad.

All these, the high command said, were "beaten off in stiff fighting." Soviet dispatches reported new Russian attacks again Kharkov, Russia's "Leningrad" in the Ukraine, and said defenders of long-besieged Sevastopol in the Crimea were counterattacking.

LONDON, April 1 (AP)—Red army men of Sevastopol, veterans of a 150-day siege, were reported counterattacking today in a Crimea preliminary to vast spring engagements which London observers expect to involve about 4,500,000 Germans and 7,000,000 Russians.

New York's Santa-Claus-On-The-Bench Makes Things All Okay For Lovers

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—The judge wants his penny back. Not for himself, of course, but for the boy whose only crime, said the judge, was falling in love.

Back of that O. Henryish statement is another story concerning whimsical Chief Magistrate Henry H. Curran, catch-as-catch-can philosopher and knight-errant of the New York bench.

Before the chief magistrate last week came a youth charged with a statutory offense against the girl he said he loved. Indignant at the charge after he had investigated the circumstances, Curran set ball at one cent, forked over the penny himself, and solved the case by sentencing the happy young lovers to lifelong matrimony.

Allied Bombers Blast Jap New Guinea Bases

Rubber Fuss Carried On In Hearing

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—President W. B. Farish testified under questioning today that officials of the Standard Oil company (New Jersey) had not disclosed the full process of manufacturing synthetic rubber to a civilian representative of the Navy when the latter inspected Standard's plant in 1939.

This disclosure caused Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) to assert in a hearing before the senate defense investigating committee that any layman such as he could not "avoid the inference that an official of Standard was instructed to steer the Navy official away from a knowledge of the manufacturing process."

Testimony on the incident came after Farish, replying to charges made last week by Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold that Standard had stifled synthetic rubber production in this country because of cartel agreements with the German dye trust, told the committee that Standard had turned its information about synthetic rubber over to the munitions board in 1939.

Four Join Army At Local Station

Four enlistments were reported through Sgt. Troy Gibson, U. S. Army recruiting officer, here Wednesday.

They include Morris E. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Davis, Lamesa; Harmon L. McCormack, son of Oliver McCormack, Snyder; Alex G. Crawford, of Mountair, N. M.; and Curtis D. Waldron, son of Mrs. Annie Waldron, Loraine. All were enlisted in the U. S. Army, unassigned, said Sgt. Gibson.

Optimism Grows That United Nations Can Hold That Island

MELBOURNE, Australia, April 1 (AP)—United States and Australian bombers, operating in the face of heavy tropical storms, struck destructive new blows at two Japanese bases north of this continent today.

A communique said it was believed six enemy planes were destroyed on the ground, six others were damaged and many fires and explosions were touched off by Australian bombers which attacked Koepang, on Timor, while an allied force scored numerous hits with heavy bombs on an airdrome runway at Salamaua, New Guinea.

This continuation of the aerial offensive by Australia's defenders came on the heels of an official recapitulation listing 33 enemy planes as put out of action in three days. Four were reported destroyed, 11 probably destroyed and 11— including four flying boats machine-gunned in a previous raid on Koepang— as damaged.

All these attacks were made without loss to the United Nations' air forces. There was growing optimism among Australian observers that the Japanese now can be held off in New Guinea although they were cautious not to over-emphasize the enemy's recent withdrawal from the inundated Markham valley.

Nevertheless, they said, the withdrawal means that Japan's hold now is confined to the narrow coastal strip where her position may be made precarious. The vital point, in these informants' view, is that the Japanese now cannot disperse their planes—which was seen as a prime goal of the march into the valley.

The arrival of the wet season, which lasts three months, was accepted as the chief cause for the withdrawal, but it was believed also that heavy air blows struck at the invaders' shipping and planes were another factor. The New Guinea correspondent of the Sydney Sun, citing the Japanese failure to raid Port Moresby for the last six days, declared that the invaders had been forced on the defensive in that area.

Great Migration Begins --

Japanese Leave Coast Cheerfully

LOS ANGELES, April 1. Five hundred Japanese—from doll-like babies to elderly shopkeepers—limbed aboard a special train today for the government's new internment center at Manzanar.

The greatest mass movement in the nation's history was officially under way. By the time the evacuation is over, six weeks or so more, the government estimates that 120,000 Pacific coast Nipones will be relocated in inland areas, here to pick up the trades of their interrupted when bombs fell without exception, the evanescent

New Draft Registrants To Get Calls

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—Selective service headquarters announced today that men who registered February 16 would be immediately classified and some probably would be inducted into service in May or June.

There had been some confusion as to whether the February 16 registrants would be integrated with men who registered prior to that date or be called after exhaustion of all previous registrants but today's announcement said:

"Local boards throughout the nation were instructed to start classification at once of the several million men who enrolled on February 16 and to prepare to fill the army's June call for men, and possibly the May call with these registrants and registrants from the first age group."

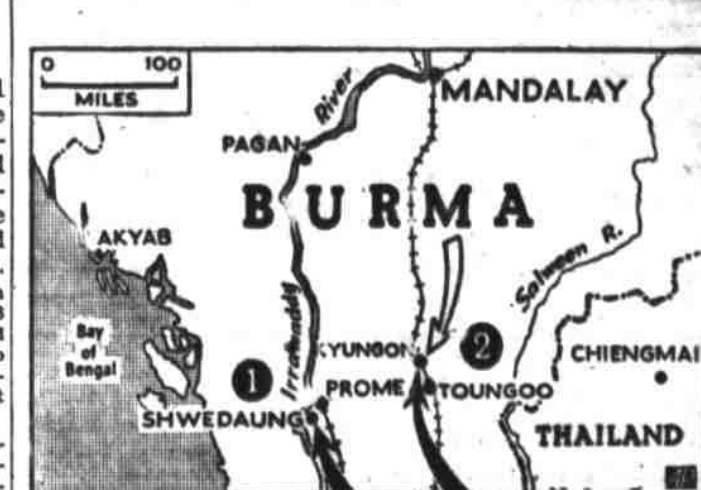

The announcement explained that men who registered Oct. 16, 1940 and July 1, 1941 constituted one group which was referred to in the memorandum to local boards as the "first age group" with those who registered Feb. 16 being referred to as the "second age group."

"The war department," the announcement said, "has indicated that beginning June 1, 1942, regulations will probably call for men of both age groups."

The memorandum said that local boards which had not completed mailing of questionnaires to registrants of the first age group should continue to mail them but "at the same time the local board will proceed to mail x x x questionnaires x x x to registrants of the second age group in sufficient numbers to insure the filling of the June call (estimated not to exceed the call of February, 1942) entirely from the third registration, if such action is required."

Local boards were directed to proceed to complete classification of registrants of the first age group and "at the same time" proceed with classification of those in the second age group "in sufficient numbers to insure the filling of the June call x x x entirely from the third registration, if such action is required."

Chinese Surrender Toehold In Burma

Battle thickens in Burma—British and Indian detachments have maintained a strong line despite a Japanese penetration at Shwedaung (1), about 10 miles from Prome, end of the railway from Rangoon.

Chinese reinforcements were reported to have captured Kyungon (2) in southward drive (white arrow) intended to help other Chinese at Toungoo. However, the persistence of the Japanese drive (black arrow), and failure of the reinforcements to arrive have caused Chinese to surrender Toungoo.

Cripps Plan Gets First Rejection

NEW DELHI, India, April 1 (AP)—The Sikh all-party committee, one of India's minority groups, issued the first flat rejection today of Britain's offer to post-war dominion status for India.

The Sikhs, a Hindu warrior caste, rejected the plan as submitted by Britain's special envoy, Sir Stafford Cripps, on the grounds that it would leave them at the mercy of the Moslem minority in Punjab province.

As a result, the Sikhs were expected to make common cause against the Moslems with the Mahasabha, organization of Hindu extremists, whose rejection of the offer already had appeared certain.

The decision of the All-India congress party probably will be issued today and the opinion was widely held that the potent, ardently nationalist movement would spurn the British terms.

A last-minute glimmer of hope was seen, however, in a joint statement of Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and Dr. Mukund Ramrao Jayakar, spokesmen of India's non-party leaders, who said "it would be a tragedy if the Cripps mission failed, for it would produce a keener sense of disappointment and frustration and provoke antagonism which in our opinion would be disastrous in this hour of crisis."

British Hold Line Before Oil Fields

Chinese Retreat From Toungoo Only When Ordered To

WITH THE CHINESE ARMY ON THE TOUNGGOO FRONT, March 31 (Delayed) Toungoo was abandoned today by the fierce fighting remnant of the Chinese garrison which held out there through five days of terrific air and ground assault and then battered a way over fields of Japanese dead to rejoin troops which their American commander, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, personally led to their relief.

Not until ordered by radio to retreat after Stilwell's forces proved unable to crack the Japanese line 12 miles north of the town did the garrison fight its way from its shallow machine gun holes and rifle pits in the eastern outskirts of Toungoo.

The Chinese crossed the Shwungun under almost point-blank fire, cutting a bloody swathe through the invaders' lines, and scattered in the wooded hills northeast of the town whence they made their way north to the main Chinese line. Despite the battering they withstood as they forced the Japanese to pay in blood for every inch of the town, the garrison had shown no sign of surrendering.

The fight they put up made the battle of Toungoo the fiercest of the Burma campaign so far. The Chinese garrison had been cut off for a week from all supplies except one ammunition canister which slipped through the Japanese lines.

Since Sunday it had been apparent that the Chinese relief drive down the road to Mandalay from the north could not reach the beleaguered troops, and it became a question of how many of the trapped troops could be saved.

NEW DELHI, April 1 (AP)—British and Indian detachments cut off from Prome by a Japanese wedge across the road at Shwedaung have battled their way back to the main British line in a rearguard fight which left the invaders' forward forces badly mauled, a communique declared today.

Indices Of Business Up In March

Postal receipts and building permits were up slightly during March, records showed Wednesday.

During March building figures ran to $11,812,000, a gain over the $4,200 in February and compared with the $13,810 for March of 1941.

Bulk of the March construction was for new residences and amounted to $5,810 for nine new homes, ranging from one room huts costing as little as $20 to six-room structures listed at $3,000.

The total compared with $5,229,716 in February and the first quarter's business of $19,902.53 was a good $1,029 above the total for the same period for 1941.

Labor Dispute Goes To National Board

HOUSTON, April 1 (AP)—To the national war labor board today went a controversy between the Shell Oil company of Houston and the Oil Workers International, a CIO affiliate, after the two parties failed to agree on a proposed contract.

The union's contract with the company expired six weeks ago. It was extended after a conference with Joseph B. Myers, U. S. labor conciliator.

Marriage Ban On Officers Lifted

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The navy abandoned today its rule that officers of the navy and marine corps may not marry during the first two years after they receive their commissions.

Word of the change was dispatched to all ships and shore stations and ended the ten-year-old prohibition for the duration of the war.

March Tire, Tube Quota Exhausted

Quota for March tires and tubes was completely exhausted Tuesday in the final session of the month by the Howard County Rationing board.

Tom Rosson, board clerk, added that quotas for April have not been received, but that in event they are received by Tuesday, next regular meeting date, the board would continue its study of some 150 applications now on file for 200 tires and 200 tubes.

Police Don't Like False Alarms

Police made a hurried call to a well known cafe at 2:17 a. m. Wednesday to quell a reported disturbance, a good old fight and a few other things.

When they got there they found the place devoid of these conditions, but later located a man who knew something about it. Gladly, he reminded officers that April Fool's Day was at hand.

Drivers Licenses Up For Renewal

AUSTIN, April 1 (AP)—State police today reminded motorists with driver's licenses numbering from 900,001 to 1,350,000 that the permits will expire June 30 and should be renewed as soon as possible.

The time for renewing licenses numbered 450,001 to 900,000 expired with the end of March.

Hours Unlimited On Road Projects

AUSTIN, April 1 (AP)—The state highway commission has authorized unlimited working hours on all road projects.

First made applicable to certified war road jobs, the order was extended to all work.

Cantatas And Anthems To Be Featured

Christ the Lord is risen to the joyful cry that will resound Easter Sunday morning from the choirs of every Christian church throughout the land. And this year more than ever before the promise of the New Testament takes on new meaning.

The share and sorrow of the crucifixion, the dark hours while He lay in the tomb, and then the miracle of resurrection will be revealed in cantatas, hymns and anthems, some new and some old. Local churches will observe Easter Sunday morning with special song services that will feature soloists for members of the choir.

WOMEN Get 2-Way Relief

Periodic distress due only to functional causes is relieved for many who start 3 days before "the time" and take CARDUI as directed.

CARDUI has another important use: as a tonic to stimulate digestive juices. That's probably the reason it so often improves digestion, helps build up run-down women, and so relieves their periodic functional distress! Try CARDUI!—adv.

Mrs. R. E. BLOUNT has got herself in a jam. Seems that the photostatic copy of certificate of title is necessary to obtain a new license and the Blount home is being torn wall from wall trying to locate the blamed thing. Just where it has gone to, Mrs. BLOUNT would like to know. Getting another one takes a lot of time it seems.

A familiar figure around town, it was good to see Mrs. JIM ZACK grinning at us from a store window the other day. She has been in Lubbock for some time but is here visiting with her mother, Mrs. N. BRENNER for awhile.

Bumped a ride with LANE HUDSON, who was going on about his new calf which is named "Opal Marie" so he says. That's a lot of name for a little calf to live up to but LANE says she can make the grade.

Talked with SARA REIDY who was suffering with a crick in her neck. All you had to do to lose SARA in the conversation was to get out of her direct line of vision. She couldn't turn her head around for anything.

Mrs. J. S. LAMAR was proudly showing a clipping from a Fort Worth paper of her twin daughters, JUNE and JANE. Seems she was as surprised as anybody when someone showed her the picture. One of her friends had sent the photo to the paper.

The choir will sing "Behold the Veil of the Temple Was Rent in Two," followed by a solo by Mrs. R. D. Urey. "He Was Wounded for Our Transgressions."

The choir will sing "The Wondrous Cross" and the number, "In the Tomb the Savior Lay," will be given by the women's voices in four parts. The intermezzo will be played by Mrs. C. W. Norman at the piano.

Part two will include the chorus number, "As It Began to Dawn" and a soprano solo by Opal Douglas. "He Is Risen." DeAlva McAllister will sing "The Easter Bells Are Ringing" and the chorus will close with "Hail the Victor." Sunday night special music will be "The Lord's Supper" sung by DeAlva McAllister.

Special music for the Sunday morning ritual service at the First Methodist church will be the anthems, "As It Began to Dawn," directed by Mrs. G. H. Wood. Wanda McQuain will have a soprano solo part.

Sunday night the young people's junior choir will furnish the music. Wesley Memorial Methodist. The familiar Easter hymns will be featured in the Sunday services at Wesley Memorial Methodist church.

St. Thomas Catholic Mass in Honor of St. Florian" by V. H. Nowakowski will be given at St. Thomas Catholic church Easter Sunday morning. The choir will sing "Kyrie" and the "Gloria" with Anna Mae Lunsbrey taking the solo part. Margaret Shirley will sing the solo part of the "Credo." Mrs. Francis Carroll and Mrs. Lunsbrey will also have solo parts. The choir will sing the "Sanctus" and Mrs. Carroll will sing "Benedictus." The choir will have the "Angus Dei." The offertory will be

"Regina Coeli" by Labat with Mrs. Shirley taking the solo.

St. Mary's Episcopal Hymns both told old and new of the Easter season will be sung by the congregation Sunday morning at St. Mary's Episcopal church.

A special Easter anthem will be furnished by the choir at the Easter Sunday morning service at the First Christian church. Although in other years, there has usually been a cantata presented, the choir will just give a special anthem this year. Herschel Summerlin will direct the choir.

Presbyterian Church Directed by Mrs. Bruce Frazier, the First Presbyterian church choir will sing two special anthems Sunday. "Now Christ Is Risen" by Fred Holton and "An Easter Song of Praise" by Edward Norman will be the special numbers. The choir will also sing the responses.

East 4th St. Baptist Special morning music by the choir at the East 4th St. Baptist church will be "Day of Resurrection" by John of Damascus. "Coronation" by Oliver Holden will also be sung by the choir and the congregation.

"Christ Arouse" by Robert Lowry will be another choir and congregation selection. A girls chorus of twelve voices will sing "Christ Is Risen" by Henry Carey. Written in three part arrangement prepared by Mrs. Lee H. McCoy, the number will also be directed by Mrs. McCoy. Evening choir special will be "One Day" by Charles Marsh and sung by the choir. Baptismal service will be held. Flower arrangements will be made by the Dorcas class taught by Mrs. R. J. Barton. Lee H. McCoy will direct the choir.

Mount Rainier has snow all the year around.

Pat Murphy Takes Teaching Job At Odessa

Colleagues Hope Vic Ghezzi Will Be On Hand For Atlantic City Play

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 1 (AP)—There was a general jubilation among the men who make up the National PGA tournament when they got word today that the national classic would be held this year at Atlantic City—and the first word among most of the professionals was "will Vic be there?"

Vic is the handsome pro who won the PGA championship last year at Cherry Hills in a thrilling final match with defending champion Byron Nelson.

Ghezzi is exceptionally popular with his fellow club swingers in a sport that is famed for its good fellowship. Now he is in there pitching for Uncle Sam. It is Private Victor Ghezzi, Fort Monmouth, N. J.

Fort Monmouth is only a few counties away from the Seaview club where the PGA meet will be held May 25-30 and all the pro hope Ghezzi will be able to get a furlough for the week-long match play tournament.

Tournament manager Freddie Corcoran said he was not sure whether Ghezzi would be able to get away. Ghezzi told Corcoran last night that he hadn't been playing much golf but that he was in great shape. "I'm praying I'll be able to defend the championship this year," Ghezzi reported.

Ghezzi, as defending champion, would not have to play in the two 18-hole qualifying rounds May 25 and 26.

Gene Sarazan, three-time winner of the PGA, also suggested that Corporal Ed (Porky) Oliver of Camp Dix, N. J., be brought down to Atlantic City for the tourney. Chances for getting the soldiers furloughs were considered good because the entire net proceeds of the event will go to the Army and Navy war relief funds.

Trustees May Select Coach Monday Night

PAT MURPHY

Definite action on the naming of an athletic instructor for Big Spring high school for next year is likely to come soon, in the wake of an announcement that Pat Murphy has severed connections with the local system.

Murphy departed Wednesday for Odessa, where he is to assume a post as coordinator of diversified occupations work.

The silver-haired mentor had made it known some months ago that he would retire from coaching activities, and he had devoted his time since to training in the instruction of diversified occupations work. Formal submission of his resignation had been withheld, however, until the opening in his chosen field occurred in Odessa.

Supt. W. C. Blankenship announced Murphy's move to Odessa, and said trustees, meeting next Monday, would authorize release of his contract, which was on a one-year basis.

The board may go ahead immediately with election of a successor, although this is not a certain prospect. Several applications have been submitted, and at least one prospect has been interviewed.

Some trustees have advocated a change in the school's physical education setup, and this proposal may be considered along with appointment of a new coach. It has been suggested that a director of physical education be named—a man who would coordinate and direct all physical training in all the schools—and devote his time to PE and coaching work instead of dividing time between football field and classroom. Murphy has done teaching work in addition to directing the grid teams, while others have retained to direct physical ed. classes and coach other branches of athletics.

There has been no definite decision from the trustees.

They have, however, agreed to acceptance of Murphy's resignation, with regrets. Pat has been coach here for five years, establishing a favorable record with his grid teams and making himself a popular and respected tutor. Particularly has his work been out-

Pampa Meeting Due To Settle Baseball Issue

Final disposition may be made tonight of the West Texas-New Mexico baseball franchise now resting in Big Spring.

From Milton Price, president of the WT-NM loop, came an announcement that a meeting will be held in Pampa tonight, at which time a decision will be reached on whether Pampa will acquire the Big Spring franchise.

Indications are that the deal will be closed, and quick approval of the transfer is expected to come from other WT-NM members.

The franchise transfer has been hanging fire for a couple of weeks, with Dick Ratliff and associates in Big Spring standing ready to complete a sale when some cash enters the picture. Pampa sportsmen have been working on a plan to meet the Big Spring proposition, and were expected to perfect it tonight.

Since the sale has been in the air, Ratliff has not pushed efforts for organizing his club. His early plans for continuing a ball club in Big Spring took a setback when an expected hookup with a major league club fell through. Ratliff and others here hold the franchise which formerly operated in Lamesa.

Pacific Coast League Starts Play Thursday

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1 (AP)—Braving war time restrictions, organized baseball takes its first step of the 1942 season tomorrow—the opening of the Pacific Coast league season.

Military officials are standing pat on their 5,000 crowd limitation, but temporarily have approved night games. Games may be cancelled at any time without notice.

Rice Owls Win Opening Game

By The Associated Press

Rice today leads the Southwest conference baseball chase, the Owls having won their season opener yesterday from Baylor, 3 to 1.

Jimmy Pendaris was the Owl pitcher. Manuel Garcia, on the mound for the Bruins, went the distance, held the Rice batters to six hits and struck out nine; but faulty team play took the game away from Baylor.

The Aggies are in second place, though they lost yesterday to Southern Methodist, 14 to 8.

The Mustangs, with two won and two lost, are tied for third with Texas Christian, the Horned Frogs having won one and lost one. Baylor occupies the next-to-bottom rung with one win and two losses, while the University of Texas reposes in the cellar, no wins and one defeat.

It's Very Complicated But Newsom May End Up With The Daffy Dodgers

ORLANDO, Fla., April 1 (AP)—There still is at least an outside chance that Buck Newsom—all 222 pounds of him—will be pawing the dirt of Brooklyn's Ebbets Field and "show-boatin'" as only he can for the fans of Flatbush this summer. That is where big Buck should have been all these years, instead of wasting his particular talents on the more sedate baseball centers of the American league.

If there is one thing the Washington Senators did not need it was another pitcher. They have been getting such exceptional pitching this spring both from their veterans and rookies that manager Bucky Harris, a born pessimist, vaguely suspects it is a "hiss-up of some sort." "Those fellows could not have improved that much since last fall," he insists.

But "Old Fox" Clark Griffith simply could not resist the opportunity to grab Newsom virtually on his own terms. Detroit was in a spot. It could not sign Newsom and could not get waivers on him, either from Washington or St. Louis. Buck, after a final vituperative talk with General Manager Jack Zeller, had angrily stripped his belongings from his Tiger locker at Lakeland and was on his way home to Carolina—or somewhere. So Zeller had to take what he could get.

And now, if things move along logically and no hitch develops, then should come the next move—Newsom's trade to the St. Louis Browns for a couple of players, perhaps Third Baseman Harland Clift and a utility infielder. The Senators are in sore need of both. Harris, his club practically wrecked when Cecil Travis and Buddy Lewis went into the service, has been reduced to the desperate expedient of trying to make a third baseman out of Roberto Estellella, the Cuban outfielder who is built like a barrel. And to make matters even worse, Roberto's right arm is down with the mumps.

When, and if, that deal goes

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

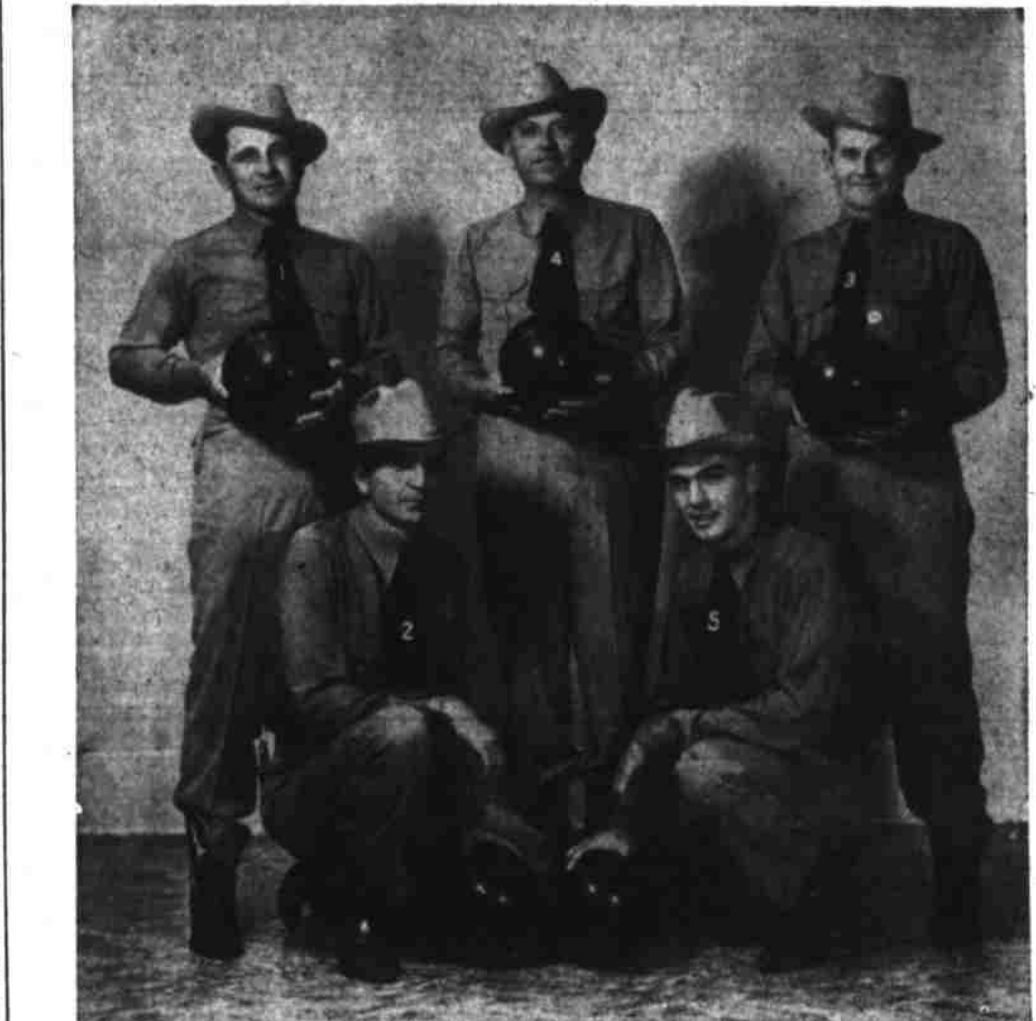

NEW YORK, April 1—The Yale committee apparently is still busy trying to find a satisfactory football coach who is looking for a new haven... Latest report is that Jess Neely of Rice, who has been visiting around his old South Carolina hangout, slipped away for a conference with the Yales... The New York commission's decision on the Louis-Simon short count is about as easy to understand as the double talk scribes accuse General Phelan of using... Seems when Eddie Joseph counted ten it was all over but the shouting... Out at French Lick Springs, Ind., they've discovered the solution of the caddy problem. Frank "Pop" Combs, who took up a bag-toting at the age of 79, is 85 now and is training for the midwest amateur next month.

Short sport story— Coach Ray Ride of Case is out with the first football "hard luck" tale of 1942... Bob Callaghan, varsity end, played all through last season without doing any damage to an old shoulder injury. The other day he hurt it in a bridge game and will be out for good... Seems another card player, least on Bob's shoulder, is rising from his chair and something slipped out of place.

Sportpourri— The Senators hardly had written in Bobo Newsom's name on their roster before the baseball scribes started trading him off to other clubs... One story is that he'll go to the Browns, another is that the Dodgers will get him... At least, they're sure Clark Griffith has been trying to pry an infielder loose from Brooklyn... Bill Terry and Branch Rickey had a confab at Jacksonville, Fla., Monday, reviving the story that the Cards will get Johnny Mize back from the Giants and then peddle him to the Yankees at reduced rates... Jimmy Carroll, the heavyweight who had Golden Gloves fans excited, will pass up the National A. A. U. boxing championships at Boston and will turn pro after a few more fights hereabouts.

Today's guest star— Art Edson, Oklahoma City Times "Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, has been tabbed "rookie of the year" by tabulating baseball writers. Musial shouldn't be too impressed, for last year's rookie of the year, Lou Novickoff, turned out to be a howling success—at Milwaukee.

Odds—and some ends— About a year ago, Billy Davidson, former N. Y. U. athlete, earned $2,100 in one month writing sports articles for magazines. The next month he earned $21 as a buck private... Official count on Greg Rice's victory string, according to his old schoolmate, Charlie Callahan, who has been checking up, is 40 straight. That doesn't include the times when Greg ran two miles against a couple of guys who went one mile each... The museum of the city of New York is running a special exhibit of casts of the fists of famous fighters. Abe Simon probably thinks he saw them all in the ring Friday night.

Travellers, Too are members of the Big Spring Independent Bowling team, just back from a trip to Columbus, Ohio and the American Bowling Congress tournament. While the Independents—or "poor boys," as they have been called—do not have the average possessed by the crack Cosden team, which also made the Columbus trip, its members occasionally was warm with some scintillating shooting. This weekend they do a little more travelling by journeying to Highland for a try at honors in the West Texas-New Mexico Bowling league tourney, and later will go to San Antonio for a round of rolling. Cosden's team also will make the two trips, according to current plans. Pictured above are, front row, left to right, Jack Y. Smith and Kelly Neville; rear row, left to right, Hiram Brimberry, V. A. Merrick and Harry Lester. (Bradshaw Photo).

Notes From The Training Camps

LAKELAND, Fla., April 1 (AP)—The release of four players to Beaumont of the Texas league brings the Detroit Tiger squad to within one man of the number to be brought north next week. Manager Del Baker says that either Bob Patrick or New Harris, both outfielders, will be assigned to Buffalo.

HATTIESBURG, Miss., April 1 (AP)—Among the 3,000 soldiers from Camp Shelby who watched the New York Giants suffer their fourth defeat in five starts against the Cleveland Indians yesterday was eke Bonura, erstwhile first baseman. Bonura sat on the bench with his former teammates and received a collection of bats and balls for his camp nine.

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 1 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians picked veterans Al Milnan and Mel Harder to continue the club's mastery over the New York Giants today but much of the team's interest was centered on outfielder Jeff Heath. He eluded home runs in the sixth and ninth innings yesterday to keep abreast the National leaguers single handed until Manager Lou Boudreau and pitcher Clint Brown combined for a tenth inning run and a 3 to 2 victory.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., April 1 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phils go into Virginia next week with a record of beating every minor league team they met in Florida this spring. They assure themselves of this distinction yesterday by downing Rochester of the International circuit, 5 to 4, in 13 innings.

Beginner Makes A Hole In One

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 1 (AP)—Tommy Mason, Commercial Appeal copy boy, stopped by the newspaper's sports desk and said, "By the way, somebody said I ought to tell you, I made a hole-in-one."

Tommy, who's played golf three times, didn't know the kind of club he used. Asked if he made the course in par, Tommy wanted to know what par meant.

FLASH PREVIEW OF "Lady in a Jam"

Headliners in this new Universal comedy are Irene Dunne, Patric Knowles, Ralph Bellamy, Eugene Palette.

Convinced by her behavior that his ward, Irene Dunne, is unbalanced, Eugene Palette arranges for her to be psychoanalyzed.

When the psychiatrist, Patric Knowles, appears, she thinks he is applying for a job as her chauffeur and promptly hires him.

With Knowles in charge she goes West to visit her grandmother, who puts them both to work in a worthless goldmine.

When Knowles fakes a gold strike, Miss Dunne is courted by Ralph Bellamy, a fantastic cowboy who hopes to marry her.

Later the mine proves to be rich in mercury and, wealthy once more, Miss Dunne returns to New York to marry Knowles.

MEET THE STARS WITH VIC BOESEN

John Emery, whom you'll remember as the heavy in "Here Comes Mr. Jordan," comes naturally by his ability to act convincingly. His family, on both sides, have been actors for generations. On his father's side, they go back to 1740. Each successive generation has taken to the stage just as son follows father in the Swiss clock-making craft.

However, it appears that each paternal Emery has tried to break the habit with his son. John's father had to run away from home in order to get on with the tradition. He nearly defeated his purpose, however, when, in a scene which called for him to shoot the leading man, the gun jammed, forcing him to the resourceful alternative of whacking the other over the head with the butt of the pistol.

It should be mentioned also, apropos of nothing, that his father had the distinction of being probably the only man in the world to have traded an autographed copy of "David Copperfield" for a bag of marbles.

Like his father before him, John also had to fight to carry on in the work that was good enough for his ancestors. He was supposed to become a soldier, and to this end went to military school. When he finally faced his father to announce what his father had told his grandfather and his grandfather had told his great grandfather, it was to hear himself scornfully laughed at.

But the laugh merely strengthened his resolve, and in the years since, there is scarcely a major theatre in the country strange to him. He can tell an anecdote about any theatre in any city of the nation. He has been leading man to such bulwarks of the profession as Ethel Barrymore, Minnie Maddern Fiske, Katherine Cornell, Gertrude Lawrence, Tallulah Bankhead, who, though they found that marriage and career didn't jell, is still a staunch friend.

Hollywood opened to him for his portrayal of "Hamlet," with a part in "The Road Back." He had wanted to try pictures, but when he saw himself on the screen, the one thing that makes it possible for an actor to see himself as others see him, he fled the road back to New York.

By means of considerable cajolery, the town finally was able to lure him back to its fold, and his picture work has gone along rather well, except that he has shown an affinity for trying on to pictures that come to all manner of doleful ends. There was "Heart of Darkness," for example. He grew a beard for this and underwent the medieval tortures of a strict conditioning regimen, only to have the picture called off. Columbia signed him for a comedy and in a picture that was cancelled even before shooting began. We'll see John next in "Ship, Ahoy," unless the lookout has made a mistake.

Fashion Scene

By MARGARET McKAY

There are many deft new touches in wardrobe originality this springtime, so for one column I will give you a flash communique of these dozens of "little things" that contribute variety and sparkle to the fashion front.

There are crisp taffeta suits in checks with saucy sailors of straw or matching taffeta—the Chinese influence still goes on, even to the slacks suits—a number of slacks suits are side-saddle draped tunics. Visor-caps are back with a bang. Michele Morgan was wearing one up at the Santa Barbara Biltmore for sports. Then there are the visor-caps worn on the back of the head with colored snoods dripping down the back. Jean Parker introduces a novel idea in a circular skirt with bolero coat—the skirt is pulled up on one side and caught at the hip by a bow... the color tangerine and bright green for frocks or sun clothes as being worn by Ginny Simms. Smart Trick Department Winner should be Paulette Goddard with her flowered snood idea for hats. Of course John Frederica designed it, but Paulette dared to wear it first. It's a snood of sheer black net with cut out scarlet felt flowers sprinkled here and there in the net. It's tied on head with a black velvet ribbon nestling behind her forehead curls. Betty Grable followed up with a wool-knit snood of turquoise with tiny bows of turquoise velvet tied in the loops. A scarf tied in Ascot fashion under her suit of beige gabardine was made of the same combination, snooding and velvet bows. Claudette Colbert advocating the Dutch boy dress. The skirt is full at the top and shaping in toward the bottom, with short jacket and three-quarter sleeves. It's a take-off on the typical Dutch windmill kids we used to see in children's books, during our "Hansel and Gretel" days.

MARGARET McKAY

BEST DRESSED GIRL OF THE WEEK: Ida Lupino stopping in at the Seven Seas for cocktails with Husband Louis Hayward wore a smart afternoon frock of fuchsia crepe. The back-dip curve of the jaunty buttoned peplum jacket was repeated in the hemline of the full flaring skirt. Yarn embroidery (which is good this season on bright-colored crepe-dresses) was in exotic island floral pattern, splashing hues shading from tropical pink to black-purple and was placed at the high collarless throats. Her fuchsia calot was also yarn-trimmed.

Your Questions

Q. From Norma Jean Laney, Albuquerque, New Mexico. Can you give me a brief biography of Roy Rogers?
A. Roy was born Leonard Slye on November 5, 1912, at Cody, Wyoming. He is of American-Irish-Indian descent, is 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighs 165 pounds, has blue eyes and blonde hair. He came to Hollywood in 1932 to sing on the "Sons of the Pioneers" radio program. A movie talent scout saw him and signed him for a role with El Brendel in a series of shorts. But it wasn't acting; it was singing and Roy wanted to be an actor. Five years later he got his break—a role in a Gene Autry picture. From then on he became a fixture at Republic Studios, where he still is.

Reviews of Previews

The preview of a Cecil B. De Mille picture is always an event in Hollywood, but when it is combined with the Anniversary of filmdom's best-known producer's 30th year in the industry and the fact that Paramount Pictures—through whom his pictures are released, open a new Paramount Theatre in Hollywood to show his latest opus, that folks is no longer an event: it is a milestone in Hollywood history.

Which all adds up to the fact that "REAP THE WILD WIND," starring Ray Milland, John Wayne and Paulette Goddard was the top film of last week's Hollywood preview parade.

No fewer than six cameramen worked on this spectacle, which uses as a base Thelma Strabel's Saturday Evening Post serial—and with the aid of Technicolor the word spectacle is an understatement.

The story dates back a hundred years, when railroads were unknown and the life-line of American commerce was the fleets of American sailing vessels which circled the world. The locale is the Florida Keys, through whose treacherous channels these vessels passed, always at the mercy of coral reefs and the sudden squalls and hurricanes of those waters. Wrecks were a factor always to be contended with, and the "Reapers" of the title were the wrecking crews who grew wealthy on the salvage of the ships which came to grief. That barratry would enter into such a situation was inevitable, and it is upon that premise that this colorful action film is based, and in true De Mille formula for two hours this melodrama will grip and hold you.

A galaxy of Hollywood's top players support the three principals, but your reviewer's vote for acting honors goes to Lynne Overman, who steals every scene in which he appears; and he's in plenty. Fine too is Walter Hampden; and Robert Preston, in a small part, is also tops. With the wealth of feminine beauty available at Paramount it is needless to say that the lovely Paulette Goddard has definite competition in the persons of Susan Hayward and blonde Martha O'Driscoll, who are both capable and exceedingly easy on the eye.

"REAP THE WILD WIND" is entertainment for the whole family and a guaranteed escape from the grimness of a war-torn existence.

"KLONDIKE FURY," starring Edmund Lowe, ably supported by Lucile Fairbanks, Bill Henry, Ralph Morgan and a hand-picked cast, is the third sure fire picture from a new Hollywood producing team, the King Brothers. It's a tight, well-knit story of a master surgeon who tries to escape from himself and his doubting colleagues after an unsuccessful operation. How he restores his own faith in himself, saves a boy's life and wins the girl makes for screen entertainment that every movie goer will enjoy.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's revival of "RIO RITA," with Abbott and Costello in the top spots, is musical-comedy done in the best screen manner. Never have these two versatile comedians been given such lavish production, and with a modern version of the well-known story done by Richard Connell and Gladys Lehman the two stage a veritable riot of fun and nonsense, all done against a background of tuneful music beautifully handled by Katherine Grayson and John Carroll. Instead of border bandits, the modern version gives us Nazi spies in a Texas resort town, and the manner in which Messrs Abbott & Costello can mix up the over-efficient Nazi is a joy to behold; that is, if you're not rolling in the aisles or doubled in two at their sassy antics.

WITH REED JOHNSTON

Was this something I was telling you once before, or did you read in your history book about Marie Antoinette—she was the Queen of France, and some fun, fellows—who advised the bread-hungry populace to "let them eat cake." That would have been okay with the boys in the back room, of course, except for the fact that they had no cake, but Paramount has cake, or at least knows where to get some, and they were feeding it to the populace one day this week for a scene for "The Forest Rangers"—in Technicolor.

To be specific about it, Fred MacMurray was called upon to feed a piece of cake to Susan Hayward, and while Miss Hayward was working on her piece of cake, Rod Cameron was also having to deal with one of the same. This was nice cake, I hasten to add, but apparently it had been prettied up so much for Technicolor that the important item of tastiness had been omitted from the recipe.

"What's this stuff made of—rubber or sponge?" asked MacMurray.

"What do you care?" inquired Director George Marshall. "You don't have to eat it!"

"Yeah, but I have to feed it to her," MacMurray said, meaning Miss Hayward.

It should be unnecessary to say that Miss Hayward is a good clean feeder, dainty in her eating habits and mighty nice to look at, too; but as I say this cake was made for Technicolor and not for table purposes, which Miss Hayward was obviously made for. And in this scene she was required to bite down on the morsel with gusto, then look over Mr. MacMurray's shoulder and do a double take as she spied Paulette Goddard appearing in the doorway. So Miss Goddard stepped in precisely on cue, all the lines were spoken exactly according to the script, and everything went off smoothly—except that when Mr. MacMurray held out the cake for Miss Hayward to snap at it, a large hunk fell off and festooned the front of her ensemble, also designed for Technicolor and very pretty, too.

"Hold it," she said. "I'm crummy again."

Well, if you are as pretty as Susan Hayward you can say a thing like that and everyone knows you are joking, so we all laughed good-naturedly while they squared off for another take without the crumbs.

So with Miss Hayward all brushed off and looking like new again, the scene was photographed once more and promptly okayed by the director. And as they set up for the next shot everyone looked relieved when a property man stepped forward, picked up what was left of the cake, and carried it out to the place where they keep those things till they need them again.

Director Gregory La Cava is kidding the pants off movie cowboys in his new film, "Lady in a Jam." In one scene there's a barroom brawl with the cowboys using water pistols instead of sixshooters. Visiting the set, Eddie Cline, the veteran comedy director, said to La Cava: "A fine thing. When I have my actors shoot water pistols, or seltzer water or throw peas, you call it slapstick. But I suppose now that you're doing it, it's art." "Sure it's art," dead-panned La Cava, "we shoot a thin stream of water and then backlight it."

KEN MORGAN'S HOLLYWOOD KEYHOLE

This week we bring a parcel of good news to you who appreciate the old school American humor in motion pictures. Contracts have not yet been signed but all negotiations point to Lum and Abner and Fibber McGee and Molly, a couple of pairs who are religiously followed on the radio by thousands every week, signing a new deal at RKO Studios. The former team has completed two pictures and the latter's initial celluloid offering was previewed in Hollywood last week. Success of these two ventures justifies their return. With Kay Kyser and the Scattergood Baines series already under contract to RKO, the additions prove the studio's faith in the public's taste

Pacific War Council In First Meeting To Map Strategy

Seven Men To Carry Burden Of Planning

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—Upon seven men organized as the Pacific war council devoted today the gigantic task of working out the strategy of the United Nations for victory over Japan.

Their efforts were expected to produce the first complete unity of war planning since Japan cracked the ring of allied defenses in the southwestern Pacific by overwhelming Singapore and the Dutch East Indies.

President Roosevelt, who announced formation of the council Monday, called the other members to meet with him at the White House today in their initial session and while official word was lacking as to the first work to be undertaken Mr. Roosevelt himself has described it as imperative that the United Nations in the western Pacific "consider together" high policy for the war's successful prosecution.

Summoned to the meeting were Viscount Halifax, the British ambassador; Dr. Herbert V. Ewart, Australian minister of external affairs; Walter Nash, New Zealand minister to the United States; T. V. Soong, Chinese foreign minister; Alexander Louden, minister from the Netherlands, and Hume Wrong, Canadian legation counselor, representing Canada in the absence of Canadian Minister Leighton McCarthy.

It was authoritatively predicted that the council here would virtually assume supreme direction of the Pacific war policy, whereas a somewhat kindred body in London, with only British commonwealth representatives, would gradually cease to function.

The Washington council makes its appearance on the world scene at a critical period in the Pacific conflict when Japan's next major move is still uncertain and preparations for an eventual allied offensive are only beginning to take shape. Military and naval experts see in the present situation, however, various definable factors certain to enter into all considerations of high strategy.

Paramount among these is the necessity of keeping communication lines open through the Pacific to New Zealand and Australia and through the Atlantic and Indian oceans to India and China. This means holding in check an enemy already in a position to menace those supply routes.

Another important factor is the necessity of preventing further Japanese territorial conquests to add to their gains from the China sea campaign, especially conquests of areas useful for future allied offensive operations. These areas include Hawaii, the great Pacific fleet base; New Zealand and Australia, which already have been turned into allied bases; India, with its vast wealth, great manpower resources and supply routes to China; and China itself, where it is hoped to develop air bases from which to bomb the industrial heart of Japan.

New Income Tax Credits Are Proposed

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The treasury has proposed three liberalizations of the present family expense deductions in computing individual income taxes.

Randolph Paul, tax adviser to Secretary Morgenthau, told the house ways and means committee that "in view of the increases in tax rates which the present situation necessitates" these changes would be desirable:

"1. Medical expenses—a deduction should be allowed for extraordinary medical expenses that are in excess of a specified percentage of the family's net income. The amount allowed under such a deduction should, however, be limited to some specified maximum amount.

"2. Credit for dependent children—the credit for dependent children should be revised to allow a credit for children between the ages of 12 and 21 who are in attendance at school.

"3. Additional credit where wife works outside the home, additional household expenses usually are incurred which are not present where the wife is able to devote her full time to the maintenance of the home. For this reason, it is suggested that an additional credit be provided as follows: There should be allowed as a credit against the tax upon the family an amount equal to 10 per cent of the wife's earnings. Such credit, however, should not exceed $100. A similar credit should be allowed where a person occupying the status of head of the family, such as a widow, works."

PT Boats Demonstrate Value In Maneuvers Around Panama

AT SEA OFF PANAMA, April 1 (AP)—One of the mightiest forces serving in the joint air, sea and land defense of the Panama Canal is the fleet of patrol torpedo boats—PT boats—now operating in the waters off Panama.

These pint-sized battle-buggies are the razzle-dazzle units of the Navy's attacking force, and they have true high-scoring power as proved by the results turned in by the tiny group operating with General MacArthur in the Philippines.

The mosquito fleet of the Panama sea frontier now is on daily battle maneuvers, and correspondents have just been permitted to see the performance of these mighty mites in tropical waters.

There's no question about razzle-dazzle performance. The PT boats have speed, drive, swing, change of pace, power and deception. They zig-zag deceptively, then drive in hard on their target.

One target for a simulated attack in the day's maneuvers was a coastwise freighter.

Foam flying, the vessels of the mosquito fleet converged on the target ship, and it was easy to picture how these shifty little runners maintain the attacking edge in any combat. They can feint more cumbersome enemies into position for an attack, and then speed in—the tiniest sort of target—to loose their torpedoes.

The men that run these PT boats off Panama are confident of their craft in the extreme. They are totally unafraid—equally full of daring.

Forsan Youth Had Part In U. S. Victory

JOHN CAMP ADAMS

Back in Hawaii again after a "mission" is Lt. John Camp Adams, a bombardier on one of Uncle Sam's fighting ships.

Where he has been, not even his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Adams, Forsan, know. They can only surmise that perhaps he was in the southwest Pacific, perhaps under the command of Maj. Richard Carmichael, another Texan acclaimed for his heroic feat of commanding a squadron of eight heavy American bombers on a raid on Japanese shipping that sank two ships, left four afire and beached another.

Lt. Adams was at one time with Maj. Carmichael and it is possible that he participated in the victorious New Guinea action.

Although he has never told his parents anything about his units, they have surmised his assignment to the Carmichael command in the early days of the war. Lt. Adams was aboard a flying fortress, one of the flight that put into Pearl Harbor just at the moment Jap aircraft swooped down for the surprise attack which opened the war. Later it came out that Maj. Carmichael also was in that group, presumably in command.

The plane in which Lt. Adams was riding, headed the formation and sat down so quickly on the field that the ship skidded in on its belly because there was no time to let down the landing gear. Picture of the plane was in the Dec. 29 issue of Life magazine. Other ships landed on a nearby beach. Although machine-gunned, the crews—with exception of one killed and some others shot in the legs—made it to safety.

Of the historic incident, Lt. Adams wrote his parents that when he arrived "things were really buzzing." Later he could give some of the details of his experience.

He called his parents in February to advise them that they needn't expect to hear from him for two or three months. From him there was nothing else. Later they learned that he had gone on a "mission," and that could cover any part of the globe.

Last week Lt. Adams was back in Hawaii, for he advised his parents just as soon as he could.

A graduate of the Forsan high school, he also took his degree from Texas Tech and then started work in petroleum engineering at Texas University when the national emergency arose. He dropped his course and enlisted as an aviation cadet, being the last of 25 cadets who washed out on pilot training. His eyes were not quite good enough for the rigors of piloting, but they were plenty good for bombardier work. His practice grades were exceptionally high at Barksdale and at Albuquerque.

Now he may be having a chance to try his wares on some real targets—and perhaps accounting for some of those Jap ships and material.

PROJECTS APPROVED
SAN ANTONIO, April 1 (AP)—Authorization for seven WPA projects, including one outlined national defense project for the construction of hangars at the San Antonio municipal airport, was announced here today by W. P. Drought, state administrator. Expenditures involved amounted to $317,504 in WPA funds and $141,853 in funds to be supplied by other government agencies.

Dick Adams In Constable Race

J. A. (Dick) Adams, long time resident of Big Spring, announced Wednesday that he would be a candidate for the democratic nomination for the office of constable of precinct No. 1 in the party primaries this summer.

Adams came here in 1929, is a home owner and a man of family. Prior to moving to Big Spring, he had many years experience as a peace officer and said that he was "confident that his practical experience qualifies me to serve to the best of my ability in the office I now seek."

He added that he would do his best to contact all voters of the precinct between now and primary time to personally express his hope for consideration at the polls.

"Let's Take Good Care of it ... We Want it to Last!"

Families are taking better care of their electric appliances. They know that a "stitch in time" may save money later on, or may even save an appliance difficult to replace.

Keeping your present electric cleaner in good repair will help to conserve vital metals needed for war production. Use a little oil on your cleaner according to the manufacturer's directions, and handle it carefully so that it will last longer.

Your cleaner will work better and you can finish cleaning more quickly if the dust bag is emptied regularly.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds -- Saroyan Arrives

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Something can't be done in the movie air. Events of tremendous importance are at hand. Dynamic new genius is with us. We have William Saroyan.

M-G-M by Mr. Louis B. Mayer. What is there now that wasn't during the Mayer tenancy is a player piano. Mr. Saroyan is a friend for player piano, and a collector of rolls. He is sad about the decline of the player piano. Some of the people in neighboring offices are sad about the player piano, period.

SHOW BOAT

By ROBERTA COURTLAND

Chapter 24 New Offer Melissa said swiftly, anxiously, "Oh, Randy, darling—please don't mind so much. I don't, honestly—I don't mind a bit."

ly, "It burns him up to have anybody behave as though you weren't the equal and then some of the saucy little girls that flip around in the society set. Randy's pretty hip on his own reputation, too. He goes through life believing that people think he's hand-in-glove with Satan himself, when as a matter of fact people who know him think he's just about the squarist little shooter in these parts."

something to say—"The man smiled. "I don't think you'll find it a waste of time to listen," he assured her, and guided her to a small table for two where he drew a chair out for her. When she was seated, he asked at once, "Miss Marlowe, had you ever thought of going on the air? Radio stuff?"

Cong. Mahon Among Those Calling For Positive Action

This newspaper has taken occasion, in recent editorials, to assert its views regarding the need of national leaders to take whatever steps that are necessary to put this entire country—and all its people—on an all-out war production basis.

American people. . . They want legislation sufficiently drastic to stop strikes in national defense industries. As far as I am concerned, they ought to have had it long ago, and they are going to get it now. Effective action today will mean much to the cause of unity and national defense."

Mr. Speaker, in my opinion it will be an outrage if this House votes to recess before voting on legislation effectively suspending the forty-hour week, speeding up production, and eliminating industrial graft and excess profits. Effective legislation should be passed immediately, not speeded up production, and eliminated MacArthur and his man did not take a recess. They did what was necessary and they did it without delay or hesitation. "This Congress can do no less. . ."

Washington Daybook -- Tire Stories Compete With Pat And Mike

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—Donald Nelson's WFB and Leon Henderson's OPA are the sources of more tire stories than you can shake a wrench at. Just a few culled from the crop of the last few days are:

Illinois: In a small town (pop. 2,100) the mayor was curious to know how many of his neighbors were hoarding. He called in the man who read the gas meters in the town. He asked him to make a check of the tires stored in basements. The meter man grinned and said he already had and that he had counted 186 tires hidden away in that village. The mayor calculated that probably was less than half the hoarding going on in that town. He called in the man who read the gas meters in the town. He asked him to make a check of the tires stored in basements. The meter man grinned and said he already had and that he had counted 186 tires hidden away in that village.

Can't Catch Mickey

LOS ANGELES, April 1. (AP)—There's no getting ahead of Mickey Rooney.

Invited to lead a band between fights at a charity boxing show last night, Mickey left his coat at his ring-side seat.

When he returned, his wallet was missing. Mickey just grinned. There wasn't any money in the wallet.

Products With Strange Names Used In Synthetic Rubber Manufacture

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Invisible gas and water-clear liquids are the main stuff for making the synthetic rubbers whose odd names appear on current pages.

Seven of these are in a race to produce America's tires, and an eighth looms as the dark horse in the hearings of the senate defense investigating committee.

Buna S is a German rubber whose American patents were acquired by Standard Oil. It is made of butadiene and styrene, the latter a liquid from coal tar. It has been called the most expensive of all the tire synthetics. It is the rubber which American chemists are informed has been Germany's main product since this war began.

Trailer Tintypes

They reached the River Queen; and as Randy let her out of the car, he said curtly, "I've just remembered some business I've got to attend to. You run along and rest up for tonight. I'll see you at supper."

Black Mood Melissa subsided, but she was frightened, terribly frightened, and she shivered a little, despite the mildness of the afternoon, and drew the lovely fur about her slim shoulders. She didn't quite know what she feared; she only knew that some darkness, some evil shadow threatened her happiness. And she didn't know how to fight it.

From the River Queen there came a cheerful hail and she turned to see Alice there, waving to her, greeting her gaily.

Supreme Court Reverses Self In Midland Case

AUSTIN, April 1. —The court of criminal appeals today reversed its former ruling and affirmed a two-year sentence given W. P. Thurmon, Jr., in Midland county for murder in connection with the highway death of Elmo Hays on Dec. 21, 1940.

The case was reversed on first consideration by the appellate court which ruled that the state erroneously charged an automobile collision which resulted in Hays' death occurred on state highway 1 in Midland county. The defense had claimed the road was U. S. highway 80 and the variance in numbers made the charge fatally defective.

On reconsideration, after the state had asked for a rehearing, the court said evidence showed that 1 and U. S. 80 in Midland county was not only the same highway but was known by either number.

The reversal judgment was set aside and the trial court judgment was affirmed.

World Wheat Supply Large

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP) — Despite two successive short war crops and prospects that 1942 production may be smaller yet, the world may have a larger supply of wheat this year than ever before, the agriculture department said today.

This is because the surplus existing in the world's four leading exporting nations — the United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina — is the largest on record.

The department said that present prospects indicated a total 1942 crop for most of the world of around 3,850,000,000 bushels, or slightly less than was harvested last year. This figure compares with the record crop of 4,326,000,000 produced in 1932. Russia and China are excluded from the world figures because inadequate information has been available.

The world—again exclusive of Russia and China—is expected to have a carryover of about 1,590,000,000 bushels of old wheat when the 1942 crop is harvested. Of this amount, only about 175,000,000 bushels were expected to be held by countries other than the United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina.

Many Laxatives, but few are Leaders!

Year in and year out, spicy, herbal BLACK-DRAUGHT has been a best-seller among laxatives in the Southwest. The reason? It's agreeable and easy to take. When taken as directed, its action is usually punctual, thorough and gentle. The tonic-laxative element which helps tone lax intestinal muscles is probably its most important asset. Next time, try BLACK-DRAUGHT!—adv.

About "once in a blue moon" you add a quart

Authorities insist: CHANGE OIL FOR SPRING. And you can insist on this oil that outlasted five other big quality brands by far. Not one came nearer than 58% of its mileage!

DOWN where the desert slew gold hunters—down where 100° heat is "cool"—down in Death Valley six cars streaked. All were alike... all ran till wrecked. All started with 5-quart fills of oil—locked in. All conditions were alike—certified. Five cars—five boasted brands of oil—went as dead as the cattle skulls in the sands, while the other oil still had quarts to go!

That was Conoco Nth motor oil; which can refill your crankcase today with the Nth degree of mileage and engine endurance. Changing from weakened Winter leftovers to Conoco Nth gives your engine OIL-PLATING for Spring. And OIL-PLATING is closely fastened all over inner engine parts as if "magnetized" against all draining back down to the crankcase. Bonded in place—even on straight-up surfaces—even overnight—OIL-PLATING can cut down the raw rubbing of precious parts during starting and running.

That's all against hollowing out your engine till it eats 'oo much oil, and may demand replacements that are getting scarcer. But another big thing is to keep the oil itself in shape. And Conoco Nth oil—at a popular price—comes to you with Thiobane inhibitor... the modern synthetic developed to check or inhibit effects that would otherwise degenerate your oil.

The science of it is a long story, but the mileage is a thousand times longer, and Death Valley proved it. So can you by changing today for Spring, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company
